OUR NORTH-EASTERN BOUNDARY.

Correspondence of the Portland Advertiser.

HOULTON, Sept. 17, 1841.

From Fredericton I took the stage for Woodstock, a distance of 65 miles. The route is entirely upon the banks of the river over a well-made road constructed by the Government. The banks of the river now become more hilly, but its bed is adorned the whole distance with very rich and productive islands, and in many places there are wide tracts of intervale bordering the stream, which afford fine crops of grass and grain. The principal productions upon this river are hay, potatoes and wheat; not enough wheat, however, is grown to supply the inhabitants with bread. A considerable quantity of flour is imported from the States, the price being about $1 50 a barrel above that of our markets: the duty is 40 cents, I think, a barrel. Potatoes are worth from 30 to 60 cents; this year the average is higher in consequence of short crops. The quality is superior to that of those raised in Maine.

Woodstock lies about 12 miles along the river, which is here 300 yards wide. It contains three villages, a population of 3,186 souls, and four or five houses of worship. Two of these are Episcopal, and there are societies of Catholics, Methodists and Presbyterians. The principal village is situated at the mouth of the Meduxnekeag river, which rises in Maine and flows through Houlton. At its mouth there is a fine lumber and flour mill, and other saw mills upon its course. The land in Woodstock is very excellent, abounding in intervales, and possessing large agricultural facilities, far exceeding my expectation. The road to Quebec follows the bank of the river 70 miles to the Grand Falls from Woodstock, and across the Temiscounta portage to the St. Lawrence. It is much traveled at the present time, and is the resort of lumbermen, who are now driven as far into the interior as the Aroostook, Madawaska and Lake Temiscounta, for timber, of which no supplies of the first quality are to be found nearer home. They depend upon that region for the principal portion of their lumber. This may be one reason that the New-Brunswickers are so very tenacious in their claim to the 'disputed territory;' it touches them in the matter of dollars and cents, which has a strong and direct tendency to inflame their public ardor. I remember that no longer ago than last year, the whole province was in a flame, and public meetings were numerously attended, because it was proposed in England to impose an additional duty of a few shillings on the ton of timber imported into Great Britain from the Colonies.

But notwithstanding all the loyalty of the provincialists, I do not think they want a war with the United States. The mass of the people dread it, and deprecate all hostile movements on either side of the border. They were fearful that the election of Gov. Fairfield might involve the countries in new troubles, and hazard the peace and happiness of both.

The ride from Woodstock to Houlton, 12 miles, is very pleasant and over a fine road; you cross the boundary line explored by Major Graham, within about a mile of the latter village. He has cut away the trees for the space of 20 feet, to enable him to see his stations at distant points. His line passes east of the old exploring line, and contrary to the survey of Bouchette in 1817, but corresponding to that of Featherstonhaugh and Mudge; he finds the bed of the Meduxnekeag where the line crosses it, about 500 feet lower than the land at the monument. His station is now at Bise Hill in the neighborhood of Mars Hill, from which he has a clear view of the station at Houlton, and can therefore easily and correctly draw his line between the two points.

There is an admirable view of Mars Hill from Houlton, apparently 20 miles distant to the north. It rises solitary and alone from its level base, a prominent landmark to all the country round; and the country in every direction is comparatively level, with an occasional detached elevation rising as that does from its own base, without any pretension to a chain or range of mountains or highlands to any quarter. So manifest was this that an intelligent Englishman in my company observed, "that he must confess that there did not appear to be any chain of highlands from that point."

To the west a little north, we had a fine view of Chasses mountain, 40 miles distant, on the Sebois river, rearing its elevated and pointed summit about 3000 feet above the level of the sea, and Kinadn a little south of west, the prince of Maine mountains, which presented its bold and strongly marked front to our eager observation 50 miles off, rising 5200 feet above the sea. It is the highest land except Mount Washington, east of the Rocky Mountains.

The barracks at Houlton contain at present but 200 soldiers; they are situated on a beautiful spot, commanding extensive views particularly on the north and west; the town lies in a valley below it, containing two churches and some pretty houses. The first frame house was built in the town 34 years ago by Mr. Houlton, a proprietor of the tract, who emigrated from Massachusetts, and planted himself in this wilderness to which there was no access except by the St. John's river, by which he introduced himself and family into his solitary residence. His children are now enjoying the fruits of their father's enterprise and spirit. Mr. Sheppard Cary has a very comfortable establishment here, and has recently erected at an expense of some twelve or fourteen thousand dollars, an extensive flour mill, which will enable him to supply the country around with flour of as good a quality as the wheat is capable of making.

The ride from Houlton to Bangor, 116 miles, is not very interesting until you draw near to the capital of this part of the country. The soil confessedly is much inferior to that upon the St. John, but by the genius, enterprise and activity of our people it is made to administer to the wants of a population as attached as any other to their home, and more increasing than that to which nature has been more bountiful.

☞ Our attention has been directed to the subject of Painting in Water Color—a branch of the arts which of late years has so much improved as to offer a fair rivalry to the more ancient method of Painting in Oil. The latter material being found inconvenient for the use of ladies, and tending materially to exclude them from a participation in the fascinating and useful accomplishment induced the artists of Europe to turn their attention to the improvement of that system of Painting in which Water is made the vehicle of Color instead of Oil, and the desired effect has been accomplished. In England, in particular, it has met with that extensive patronage, due to a useful improvement. Like the sister art of Music, it has there become a part of the education of every accomplished female, and many who learn it as such in time of affluence, turn it to a more substantial account in the event of misfortune. As showing the extent to which this art is now patronized, it may be mentioned that in London there are two exhibitions annually, confined exclusively to Water Color Painting, and another where the proportion of Oil and Water Color is about equal; and these altogether independent of the annual exhibition of the Royal Academy, and of similar exhibitions in almost every provincial city in the Kingdom. Several of the contributors to these Water Color exhibitions are ladies who take a very high station, and in fact rank among the best of the performers. Many of their pictures are of great value. Any subject may be painted in this manner as it is capable of the highest application of clair-obscure, and it seems the colors are as vivid and as durable as those painted in Oil. The Cartoons of Raphael have existed upward of three hundred years. Ancient illuminated manuscripts also prove the durability of Water Color.

The card of Mr. Somerville, an eminent English Painter and Teacher of Painting in Water Color, will be found in our advertising columns. As pupils advance, he will give instruction in the form of lectures on the higher branches of the art. For his style and execution, see Nos. 141, 142 and 179, in the exhibition of the Apollo Association now open at the corner of Chambers-st. and Broadway.

City Entelligence.

Reported for The Tribune.

COURT OF SESSIONS, October 13.—Before the Recorder, and Judges Lynch and Noah, and Aldermen Franklin and Vandervoort.

John H. Hoffman, indicted for keeping a disorderly house, at No. 37 Anthony s reet, pleaded guilty to the indictment with the privilege of putting in affidavits to prove that the nuisance has been abated.

John J. Morrison was tried for compounding a felony. The accused on the 31st July, made an affidavit at the Police Office, that on the night previous, he had been robbed of $288, in sovereigns and gold coin, by Catharine Young and Sarah Jones, who were arrested and indicted for the offence. On the 14th August the accused compromised and settled the whole affair for $100, which was paid by Catharine Young as she deposed to J. H. Morgan, for the prisoner, who gave a receipt therefor, and promised that he would not appear to prosecute. Catharine Young also deposed that neither she nor Sarah Jones ever stole any money or other article from the prisoner, and as no felony was committed, the jury, under the advice of the court, found a verdict of not guilty.

James G. Dow was tried for a nuisance in keeping a tea pin alley at the corner of Broad and Stone streets.—It was proved by numerous citizens that Bowling was carried on there as late as 12 o'clock at night, to the annoyance of the neighbors, and essentially disturbing the rest and repose of the citizens in that vicinity. For the defence it was proved that the establishment was as orderly and well conducted as any place of the kind in the city. Several neighbors also testified that the noise did not disturb them or their families. The jury found a verdict of guilty.

James C. Thomas was tried for a burglary in the 3d degree, in entering through the scuttle into the store of Frederick A. Lohse, No. 65 Liberty-street, on the night of the 3d or the morning of the 4th of August last, and stealing 40 musical boxes, worth $250. Officer Tappan arrested the prisoner, and obtained one of the stolen boxes from William McNamara, to whom the prisoner had sold it for $2 the latter saying he had purchased the box in Philadelphia for $8. The prisoner and his brother, on the 2d of August, had been in the upper part of the tall building in Little Green-street adjoining the store of Mr. Lohse, examining the room and pretending to want to hire them, the roof communicating. For the defence, Samuel Williams deposed that he sold the box for $6 to the prisoner on the day of his arrest, in payment of the debt of that amount. Williams swore he never was in the store of Mr. Lohse, while Mr. Lohse swore he was there the day before the robbery, pricing watches. The jury were unable to agree, and were discharged.

The witness Williams was arrested before he left the Court on a charge of perjury in swearing falsely on this trial, and was committed to prison.

CORONER'S OFFICE.—The Coroner yesterday held an inquest at the Alms House in the Park, on the body of an unknown man about 35 years of age, apparently a countryman, who was found dead at 1 o'clock yesterday morning at the foot of Vesey-st. and conveyed to the watch house. He was about 5 feet 6 inches in hight, very thin in flesh, with dark auburn hair; was dressed in dark grey dress coat, vest and pantaloons, black stock, cotton shirt, grey cotton socks, coarse boots, and had a large pruning knife and some tobacco in his pocket. Dr. S. Smith made a post-mortem examination, and found the lungs adherent to the ribs on both sides, and both lungs extensively diseased, tubercled, and the structure of them entirely changed. There were no marks of violence about the body. Verdict, died of disease of the lungs.

Commercial and Money Matters.

Wednesday, P. M

The sales of Harlem at the board to day were again large, reaching about 2,300 shares, closing at 15¾—an advance of ¼ per cent. Of United States Bank 275 shares sold at 5—a decline of ½. Delaware and Hudson improved 1 per cent. Mechanics' Banking Association ½. Mohawk ½. Paterson ½. Farmers' Trust fell off ¼

The sales of State Stocks reached about $36,000 without material variation.

A sale of 2,000 sovereigns was made at the board at $4 85½.

The sales of sterling bills to day have not been large—principally at 10 per cent. Francs 5 17½ a 5 18¾—mostly at the latter rate.

The Liverpool packet takes out only about $35,000 in specie.

The Committee appointed to examine the affairs of the Harlem Railroad are to make a report to morrow night to an adjourned meeting of the stockholders. It is rumored in the street that it will be more favorable than was anticipated, and that no censure will be cast upon the officers, excepting a lack of judgement in the conduction of the affairs of the Company. This, however, may be one of the stock-jobbing rumors circulated by the bulls to affect the stock, which is just now the principal speculative fancy at the Board. The reports that a greater number of shares has been issued than there was authorized will also, it is said, be disapproved. We give these items as the rumors of the day.

A portion of the Teas imported in the Akbar was offered at auction to day by Hoffman & Co. The Company was large, and a better feeling was exhibited than at the previous sales. Some chops Young Hyson sold at an advance of 1 to 3d per lb., and the entire sale supported the market. The country Young Hyson was stopped at 6d, and the Canton made at 4¾c, only one chop of the latter being sold. Nearly the whole parcel was sold.

The bills of the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of New-Brunswick, N. J. must be handed to the receivers previous to the 21st inst., or they will not be entitled to a dividend, and will be after that valueless.

By the official statement of the situation of the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Michigan, it appears that the circulation is $49,752

New-York Markets.

ASHES.—Pots are not in quite so brisk demand, and sales have been made at a shade less than $6 75. Pearls are selling at $8.

COTTON.—The market is improving. The sales to-day are about 1000 bales, at an advance in some instances of ¼ per lb. A parcel of low grade is reported to have been taken for the China market at ¼ advance.

FLOUR.—The market is still descending, and Genesee is freely offered to-day at $5 62½. The receipts are still large, and receivers anxious to sell. About five thousand barrels are going on board the Scotland, for Liverpool, and five thousand more on board the Wellington, for London; both are shipping from first hands. Holders of Southern are less firm, and it is offered at $6. The stock of Howard street is light. Brandywine Corn Meal $3 37½ per barrel; Jersey $3 25.

GRAIN.—A lot of 800 bushel Western Wheat sold at 120 cents for milling. Sales 3000 bushels Southern Corn at 61 cents, measure, and 1000 do in lots at 63 cents; 2000 do Jersey at 65½, weight; 1000 bushels Rye, at 65 cents at the boat. No Barley at market. Oats 48 to 50 for Northern.

THE NEW-YORK

WEEKLY TRIBUNE

IS PUBLISHED IN THE CITY OF NEW-YORK EVERY

SATURDAY MORNING

In Quarto Form on a very Large Sheet,

And afforded to Subscribers in the Country at

TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM.

☞ Six Copies will be forwarded a year for Ten Dollars: Ten Copies for Fifteen Dollars: and any larger number in the latter proportion. Payment in advance invariably required, and the paper stopped whenever the term of such payment expires.

THE TRIBUNE—whether in its Daily or Weekly editions—will be what its name imports—an unflinching supporter of the People's Rights and Interests, in stern hostility to the errors of superficial theorists, the influences of unjust or imperfect legislation, and the schemes and sophistries of self-seeking demagogues. It will strenuously advocate the PROTECTION OF AMERICAN INDUSTRY against the grasping and to us litigating policy of European Government, and the unequal competition which they force upon us; it will advocate the restoration of a sound and uniform NATIONAL CURRENCY, and urge a discreet but determined prosecution of Internal Improvement. The Retrenchment, wherever practicable, of Government Expenditures and of Executive Patronage, will be zealously urged. In short, this paper will faithfully maintain and earnestly advocate the Principles and Measures which the People approved in devolving on Whig Statesmen the conduct of their Government.

But a small portion of its columns will be devoted to purely political discussions. The proceedings of Congress will be carefully recorded; the Foreign and Domestic Intelligence early and lucidly presented: and whatever shall appear calculated to promote Morality, maintain Social Order, extend the blessings of Education, or in any way subserve the great cause of Human Progress to ultimate Virtue, Liberty, and Happiness, will find a place in our columns.

N.B.—Where ten persons club together, and remit $15 at one time in funds not over four per cent. discount in New York, the paper will cost but $1 50 per year.

It is believed that there is no paper in the United States devoted to literature and the entire Current News of the Day, which contains so much Reading Matter and is afforded at so cheap a rate as the Weekly Tribune.
