THE TRIBUNE.

Foreigners—Their Interference in the Legislation of the Country.

To the Editor of the Tribune:

"Foreigners," says a modern historian, "were permitted to reside in Athens, but were excluded from having any share in the government, and a law was passed making it capital for them to intrude into the assemblies of the people."

* * * * The British agents are constantly presenting wrong views and perverting. They are bold and persevering and will thrust themselves where a modest American would never have the assurance to enter.—Letter from Washington on the subject of the Tariff, see Tribune for May 26.

The two extracts which I have thus placed in juxta-position exhibit a striking contrast between the state of things which existed among the most enlightened and liberal nation of antiquity and that which exists at this time in our own country. In reference to this contrast, I beg leave briefly to speak, and I trust I shall do so with proper decorum. The interference of Foreigners, (by which term I mean aliens, and no others,) who have taken up their temporary residence among us with no intention of becoming citizens, in the legislation and public policy of this country, has long been known and felt. Especially was this the case in respect to that great measure of humanity and justice, the Bankrupt Law. I assert, without fear of contradiction, that the dogged and unscrupulous opposition from this city, which at more than one period, bade fair to blast forever the hopes and prospects of thousands of our countrymen, proceeded mainly from the agency of Foreigners. And when at length the cause of humanity did triumph, and freedom was proclaimed to the captive, who among us were so intemperate and offensive in denouncing the law as these same Foreigners? But, not to enlarge farther upon this topic, let me come at once to another subject in which the prosperity of the country and the dearest interests of a large portion of her own citizens are not less deeply involved than in the former: I refer to a PROTECTIVE TARIFF. It is hardly necessary to remark that the interest of the Foreign Manufacturer prompts him to desire, not only free admission for his goods into the ports of this country, but also the total annihilation of the home producer. The Agent here is the mere echo of the Manufacturer abroad, whose smiles and favor are as the breath to his nostrils. Accordingly we find him straining every nerve to spread the specious but fatal theories of Free Trade. The public prints are subsidized and the fountains of popular instruction are thus poisoned. False issues are artfully presented, and cunningly devised and deceptive arguments are resorted to, to be wilder and mislead the public mind. But this is not all. With a perseverance that knows no rest, Congress is belaboured with memorials, petitions and documents. Nothing that can be effected by the personal attendance in Washington of brazen-faced representatives is left undone. In the language of your correspondent—"They are bold and persevering, and will thrust themselves where a modest American would not have the assurance to enter." Now, while I would express my unqualified disapprobation of the sanguinary usage of the Athenians, already referred to, I would in all seriousness submit two questions for the consideration of all parties: First, whether the voice of a Foreigner, who comes among us with the sole purpose of snatching a competency as speedily as possible, and, having done so, of turning his back upon us forever, is entitled to be heard in the halls of Congress equally with that of an AMERICAN CITIZEN? and, secondly, whether a little more modesty than it has been their wont to practice, would not better become these same FOREIGNERS?

AMERICANUS.

Important to Home Leagues, Agricultural Societies, Mechanics' Associations, and to the Friends of American Industry throughout the Country.

☞ The American Laborer is published on the first day of every month. The first number was published in April last. The whole work is to be completed in twelve numbers. The volume, when completed, will form a compendium of information connected with the Agriculture, Mechanic Arts, Trades and Commerce of the United States not elsewhere to be found in any volume.

THE AMERICAN LABORER will affirm and maintain the policy of encouraging and fostering by wise legislation the establishment and growth in our country of new or yet feeble branches of Industry, such as the Culture of Silk, the Manufacture of whatever fabrics of Wool, Cotton, Iron, &c. may be necessary for the supply of our own wants and to secure and perfect our Independence. It will demonstrate that the true and permanent interests of all, but especially of the Agricultural and Working Classes universally, will be infallibly and signally promoted by adopting and carrying out the Protective Policy, and that the Wages of Labor, the average price of its Produce, and the aggregate Product of the National Industry, will be surely and largely enhanced thereby. In short, this work is intended to form a complete text-book for the friends of Protection, and a thorough refutation at every point, of the pernicious fallacies put forth by the foreign and misguided American apologists for the policy of one-sided Free-Trade.

THE AMERICAN LABORER will be published monthly in a large octavo form, each number containing thirty-two large double column pages of closely printed matter. Each number will contain one great Speech, Report, or other convincing document, and a variety of shorter articles. The work will form one complete and comprehensive volume of 384 large and fair pages, and will be afforded to single subscribers for SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS each, three copies for Two Dollars, five copies, for Three Dollars, nine copies for Five Dollars, or ☞ TWENTY COPIES FOR TEN DOLLARS. ☜ Payment is required in advance, in all cases.—The lowest possible price has been fixed in order that its circulation may be rendered universal, should the work receive the approbation of the public.

☞ The July number will be ready for delivery on the first day of the month. The April, May and June numbers may still be procured. The following are the Episcopal Convention—Theatrical Row—New Clay Paper—Pickpockets.

Correspondence of the Tribune.

BOSTON, June 11, 1842.

This has been Anniversary week among the Episcopalians. The Annual Convention of the Diocese of Massachusetts assembled on Wednesday morning at Trinity Church. A large number of clergymen and lay delegates, from different parts of the commonwealth, were in attendance. The venerable Bishop GRISWOLD presided. The business of the Committee being suspended for Divine Service, morning prayer was read by Rev. Mr. Clinde, assisted by Rev. Mr. Lambert. The Convention Sermon was preached by Rev. S. Fuller of Andover. It was a practical and able enforcement of the duty of the Church to labor for the spread of the Gospel in every part of the world. The communion was then administered by the Bishop, assisted by Rev. Messrs. Watson and Clinde.

After Divine service, the Board of Missions presented their Report: from which it appeared, that a debt of $800, at the beginning of the year, and the appropriations for the year, amounting to about $1,500, had all been paid from the contributions of the churches, leaving the Board unembarrassed.

In the afternoon, Rev. Isaac Boyle, D. D., was re-elected Treasurer of the Convention; and Rev. T. Strong, D. D., Rev. Moses T. M. Clark, John Weart, and Charles Mason, of the clergy, and Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, William Appleton, and B. Howard, Esqrs. of the laity, were chosen delegates to the General Convention. The remainder of the afternoon was occupied in the reading of the parochial reports, which were of an encouraging character.

On Thursday morning the Committee was opened with morning prayer by the Rev. T. W. Snow. The Rev. H. W. Lee of Springfield was appointed preacher for the next Convention, and the Rev. A. H. Vinton, of Boston, substitute. The subject of Missions was then taken up, and after consideration it was voted to continue the Missionary Board, and that all monies, whether for Foreign or Domestic operations, be received and disbursed by them. The Diocese was then divided, for Missionary purposes, into four districts, in order that the work may be done more efficiently than is[sic] now.

The subject of appointing an assistant to the Bishop was brought forward, but the Convention voted itself perfectly satisfied with the amount of service which that venerable Prelate, notwithstanding his advanced age, is enabled to render, and that there was no need of appointing a helper.

Besides the official meetings of the Convention, there were other services of an interesting character. On Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. Milnor, of New-York, preached an able discourse in Grace Church; and in the evening the Rev. Dr. Eastburn, of New-York, preached from Eph. iv. 13. On Wednesday morning, at eight o'clock, a meeting was held at St. Paul's Chapel, at which addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Stone, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the Rev. Hobart of Iowa. On Wednesday evening a meeting was held at Grace Church, in aid of the Massachusetts Board of Missions. The Rev. Mr. Mason, Secretary of the Board, read a Report; after which addresses of a deeply interesting character were made by the Rev. Mr. Lee of Springfield, and the Rev. Dr. Eastburn of New-York. The latter spoke with great eloquence of the Liturgy, as containing the gospel in its truth and purity, and urging upon his brethren the duty of extending a knowledge of its doctrines and discipline. On Thursday morning, a deeply interesting meeting, in behalf of the General Board of Foreign Missions, was held at the Chapel of St. Paul's Church. Addresses were made by Rev. Drs. Milnor and Eastburn of New-York, and vigorous measures adopted to procure an accession of funds for foreign operations. In the afternoon a sermon was preached in St. Paul's by Rev. Dr. Stone of Brooklyn, N. Y., and in the evening another meeting for missionary purposes was held, at which the Rev. Drs. Milnor and Vaughn, of New-York, made able and eloquent addresses.

The Convention is said to have been the largest ever held in the State, and the meetings were all perfectly harmonious. The attendance of the clergymen from New-York added much to the interest of the occasion.

Last night there was quite a row at the Tremont Theatre. It originated in a personal quarrel between Johnson and Field, two of the actors at the Theatre. Several days ago, they had a brutal scuffle, and Johnson published a Card, which induced his friends to appear last evening and show their disapprobation of Field by hissing and stamping whenever he came upon the stage. He attempted to heal the difficulty by explanations, but without success. Cents, apples and eggs were thrown upon the stage, but no great harm was done to any body, of the merits of the quarrel, as it regards either party, I know nothing, and the public will doubtless care less.

It is said that some of the ardent supporters of Mr. Clay for the Presidency are taking measures to establish in this city, a new paper to be devoted to the advocacy of his claims.

This city and the routes leading to it are now infested with pickpockets. Yesterday morning two gentlemen from Marblehead were rifled of their pocket books, one of which contained $900; and on Thursday a gentleman had the skirt of his coat, which contained his pocket book, cut off at the Worcester Railroad depot.

We are experiencing to-day one of those sudden and severe changes incident to our climate. Yesterday was hot and sultry; to-day every body is shivering with cold, and overcoats and fires are indispensable to comfort.

ASSOCIATION;

Or, Principles of a True Organization of Society.

☞ The editorship of this column is distinct from that of The Tribune. Address letters, post-paid, to A. BRISBANE, Residence, 76 Leonard-street.

☞ Lecture.—A Lecture will be delivered This Evening, June 15, at the Lecture Hall of the FOURIER ASSOCIATION, 411 Broadway. Subject—Superiority of the principle of Association over the system of isolated households, or system which gives to every family a separate house.

System of Labor, or Organization of Industry.

No part of the mechanism of Association is more important than its system of Labor, and they who wish to understand our Doctrine should have a clear idea of the Organization of the Groups and Series,—the means by which Labor will be rendered attractive. We shall be concise in our explanations, but we will endeavor to be clear. Labor, or the exercise of Industry, is necessary to human health and physical development: Man can take exercise in hunting, fishing, riding, &c., it is true, but they are occupations with which but little thought and science are connected:—both of which he requires in addition to mere material exercise in order to enjoy real health and full pleasure. The pursuits of Industry are in themselves pleasing and delightful; the communion with all the beautiful scenes and creations of Nature,—with her material beauties and harmonies, strike chords in the soul that thrill with delight. In the occupations of Industry, all the Sciences,—Chemistry, Geology, Mineralogy, &c., are also necessary, and in addition, deep and active thought; thus the body is exercised, the senses are delighted, and the mind is active. Man, to enjoy happiness and health, must devote himself to Industry,—but to pursue it with pleasure, it must be rendered ATTRACTIVE.

To render Industry Attractive is the great practical object for which we are laboring, and as the system of the Groups and Series is the means by which we attain that important end, we see how necessary it is to understand it. We shall first give the Reader an idea merely of the practical construction of the Groups and Series, so that he may see exactly how Labor will be exercised, and every person will be paid for his work. We will afterwards explain their full properties.

But two systems of Labor or Industry have been devised and established on the Earth. The first is the Slave System, which makes use of the lash and other punishments to force Man to toil: the other is the system of Hired Labor, or Labor for Wages, which makes use of Want, Starvation and Anxiety for the future to attain the same end. Both systems are a disgrace to the political and legislative genius of Man, and both degrade and oppress the Laboring Mass, who compose the majority of Mankind. One system tortures the flesh,—the other the mind and wrings the soul with accumulated anxieties to impel man to it. How contemptible are our political controversies about constitutional trivialities, and how vain and shallow is our Democracy, which in view of the injustice and oppression that weigh down the poor and dependent Mass, sees and comprehends no higher Liberty than the Right to vote, or equality of Right before the Law. The Operatives of Europe are in a frightful condition, and the Working Classes with us are plunging headlong into the same state, as fast as the increase of population can carry them.

Thanks to the Genius of Fourier, a new System of Labor, or a new Organization of Industry, is discovered, which will dignify Labor and render it honorable and attractive, and which in so doing will free the Pariah, the Slave, the Serf and the Hired Laborer, and make of them independent and intelligent beings. In comparison with what it will do for the real Liberty and Elevation of Man, all the works and prating controversies of Politicians sink into insignificance.

The mere construction or mechanism of the Groups and Series is extremely simple, and it would not seem that they could produce the important results which we anticipate from them; but when we come to explain later their full properties, it will be seen to what great results they will lead. On looking at the numbers, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0, who would suppose the profoundest calculations of mathematical science could be derived from them? Great effects are often produced by simple agents.

We wish first to show that the system of Groups and Series will give to every person—1st. The profits of his or her Labor; 2d. The free choice of occupations; 3d. Exemption from all obedience to other individuals,—such as Employers, Overseers, Taskmasters, &c. Practical minds will desire first to see how these ends, which are the foundation of real Liberty, can be attained.

We explained in our last article the meaning of the term Group, and Series of Groups. A Group is a number of persons—seven, twelve, fifteen or more—united together for the purpose of prosecuting any branch of Agriculture, Manufactures and Mechanics, or Art and Science,—forming an independent body or corporation, subject to no control or dictation,—making their own Regulations and By-Laws,—and electing the most skillful and active as Officers. The members of a Group are equal and associated partners, who combine for the purpose of applying their Labor and Skill in a judicious manner, and so as to produce the most possible, and who divide the product of their Labor and Skill among themselves according to just and equitable laws, each receiving his part of the general product according to the time which he has worked, and according to the service which his Skill, Talent or Experience has rendered.

Some of the ties which unite persons in a Group are—feelings of friendship—desire of honorable profit—taste for its occupation: there are various others, which we will explain later. Man will naturally like the system of Groups when once established, because he is a social being, because he dislikes to be or to work alone, because his social feelings will find satisfaction in them, and because he can apply his efforts to much better advantage. Some objectors, whose souls are wrapped up in dollars and cents, in exclusive selfishness and personal vanity, will exclaim that they wish to work alone. Let them do so: we do not wish to disturb them: we address ourselves to true Humanity.

The members of an Association will join such Groups as they wish, participate in all their privileges and receive their share of the product. By this means, constant Employment and the fruit of their Labor will be guaranteed to all.

MUTUAL INSURANCE.—On Dwelling Houses and Furniture only, profits returned to the Assured. THE HOUSEHOLDERS' MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY, Office 46 Wall st., for separating the insurance of Dwelling Houses and Furniture from that of Stores and Merchandize.

It is well known that almost all the losses incurred in the business of insurance, are the result of the burning of valuable stores and costly goods.

This increases the expense of insurance to the household, and may possibly deprive him of the very security for which he pays his premiums.

The cash payments or premiums form a fund, which, after paying expenses and losses, is represented by scrip, and is issued to the assured in proportion to the amount of their insurance.

This Company is prepared to insure against loss or damage by fire, Dwelling Houses, occupied in whole or in part as such, Household Furniture and all Household Property ordinarily kept in dwelling houses. Every person insuring with this Company is entitled to one vote for each hundred dollars insured.
