Nativism defeated Henry Clay! The Patriot tries to disprove this by showing that the greater part of the Whig loss from 1840 occurred in Counties where the Natives ran no tickets! This is as though a man who had shot his neighbor through a window were to say, "I didn't kill him I was never inside of his house!" The few votes that Nativism brought to Mr. Clay were obnization, while the thousands on thousands turned schole Whig ticket, and nothing but the Whig ticket. against him were every where.-Even in this City, Clay was beaten twice as much as Harrison; but wherever there was an Adopted Citizen, there Nativism burt Mr. Clay. We were canvassing in South East, Putnam Co. in October, and there learned that the only citizen of that town born in Ireland, who had always before voted Whig, had turned round on account of Nativism, and went for Polk Wright & Co. Tioga County (very small) gave 255 majority against Harrison and 549 against Clay, though the Abolition gain was but 85. The loss, and more 400, was caused by the defection of Adopted Citizens on account of Nativism and the Philadelphia Riota. In one township, having about fifly Irish voters who generally divided about even, and who had not proclaimed any change of sentiment, notice was taken, and of twenty uniform Whigs at previous Elections, only one voted the Whig ticket apparently. On counting the ballots, one Whig vote on the outside was found to have the Loco Foco names inside, and every body knew who must have voted it. In Buffalo, the fine German Company of 'Harrison Guards' was unanimously for Clay on the 1st of October, and attended

The Convention Ballots. The Albany Evening Journal directs our attention to an opinion of the Secretary of State and Attorney General with respect to the several ballots to be voted at the Election to-morrow. The Journal of Commerce, in announcing that the Editor will not support the Loco-Foco ticket because it is wholly incompetent, declares that he will made sustain the whole Native ticket except for Register. On this point, the Journal says :

On this point, the Journal says:

"Who shall be Register? This is a question of more importance than is generally imagined. Not because the office is lucrative and will enable the incumbent to dispense some patronage, (the public care nothing about this,) but because the safety of all our land titles requires that it should be filled by a man of inclingence, faithful ness, and established respectability. An error committed in recording a deed, may be fatal; the removal of maps filed, and not recorded, may create embarrassment; the obliteration of a record may produce injury; and the recording of a forged deed, as in the case of Mr. Rapalye's large estate, after his death, may give to some fraudulent party, possession and right to property belonging to others. Every clinen is interested in electing to that office a substantial citizen,—one who will preserve the records, appoint clerks who are steady and competent men, and watch those who would affect the integrity of the records. It has become notorious at Tammany Hall, that before the nomination, many of the officers are parceled out by the candidate among a set of politicians, who are expected to secure his election in order the control of the candidate among a set of politicians, who are expected to secure his election in order the control of the candidate among a set of politicians, who are expected to secure his election in order the control of the candidate among a set of politicians, who are expected to secure his election in order the control of the candidate among a set of politicians, who are the property and the property and the property are the property at the test of appointment the candidate the property and the pr Franklin, the Whig candidate for Register, is a man of well known character, possesses the confidence of the community, and is in every respect qualified for the office. Mr. Hufty, the American Republican candidate, is said to be a very worthy man, but the nature of his business has not made him familiar with the proper forms of papers to be recorded, nor are we aware that his qualifications for the office are in any respect superior to those of Mr. Franklin. We therefore shall vote for Morris Franklin for Register, and we know of several members of the Democratic party who will do the same.

PLUMP AND PLAIN .- A Southern Editor makes

the following frank announcement: "We shall not support any man for office short of Ten Dollars, besides his annunciation fee. That's what the lawyers charge for attending to an assault and battery case, which is a light and lovely occupation compared with that of editorially attending to a candidate's case, to say nothing of the awful wear and tear of conscience in this peculiar branch of our business."

Wo for the Loco-Foco candidates in our City if this man were one of their Editors! How could a man of 'conscience' support Jonathan D. Stevenson & Co. for so little as ten dollars a head?

Gentlemen: Your very interesting and flattering letter inclosing the resolutions of "the friends of Free Discussion in Philadelphia," has been received. I have read the resolutions with care, and conceive that you are strictly within your line of Constitutional and moral duty, in thus giving utterance to the sentiments of free-born men.

But, as no offence goes annunished, she is reaping the fruit of her sorry policy, by the unjust and disgraceful wars in which she has been compelled to engage—by taxes which have been imposed upon her by the immense capital which has been swallowed up in Southern bankruptcy—by the hanging of citizens without trial by jury and with law-by the imprisonment of her seamen-by the expulsion of, and insult to ker Embassadors-by the denial of justice in the national courts of justice lastly by the impudent seizure and forcible abduc we have already set forth and endorsed 'Constitution,' as we have already stated. There is no question about the people of this Union being in all respects a Notion. It is true that the States, to a certain extent, are sovereign, in the sense that Counties of States exercise some independent powers under the general permit of the State are some and the states are some that the States are premacy. But it is also true that the States are farther sovereign than the National Constitution allows them. If that be the case then it is plain that, person, is a right of old common-law inheritance; it is guaranteed to us by the National Constitution, and there is power in the Congress of the United States to vindicate this right. I call upon them to do it. They owe me protection. I owe them alle-giance. Better far were it for me that I had been born a wild Arab of the desert, or an untamed Camanche of the West, than an American citizen, if the stern officer of the law, stands by and sees me murdered, whilst she strips me of the natural right of self-defence. By the laws of Nature I could proceed against the rebels of the 1sth with stratagem, poison, secret or open murder. But the law of the land will not allow me to do this. She exposes me to the attacks of enemies, whilst she strikes the weapons of defence from my hand. Is not this condition insufferative, ble? Look in your own wives and children. See your own hearth-stones desecrated—yourselves exposed to inevitable insult, injury and death, and then turn a deaf ear to my cause if you can.

If this be an unnecessary infliction of the Slave
Power, I call upon the Nation to relieve me. If it
