WHAT THE EXPERTS FOUND.

SOME DISCREPANCIES AND "CLERICAL ERRORS"-THE RECORDS TO BE SET RIGHT.

The Bridge trustees yesterday ordered that exController Stelametz's bill of $600, for the services of an expert in making an examination of pertain books a few years ago, be paid.
Prosident Kingsley presented a report of the special committee appointed to confer with the directors of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company in regard to removing the station in Chalham-st. The report stated that several meetings had been heid, but no agreement could be arfived at on fair and reasonable terms. A motion was adopted that the counsel of the trustees be instructed to press the suit now pending against the Elevated Railroad Company for the removal of the structure.

Elevated Railroad Company for the removal of the structure.

For the committee composed of Mayor Low and ex-Mayor Grace, appointed in October, 1882, to examine the financial accounts of the trustees from the time the work was begun, Mr. Low presented a report setting forth that two expert accountants had been employed, W. H. Shearman and G. R. Turnbull, who had fully examined all the books, records, papers and vouchers of the trustees from April, 1867, to June 1, 1883. They made a full and detailed report, which was a comolete financial history of the Bridge, giving an account of all the transactions of the trustees. All apparent irregularities had been referred to and discussed by the committee, and the report fully treated of all these. Among the clerical errors were over-payments to contractors of $9.578 67, and defects in the records as to land titles and a number of discrepancies in the minutes of the trustees. The report recommended that to make the records be corrected. Attached to the report were the voluminous details of the examination of the experts. These were not read, but were ordered to be printed, as giving a complete history of all the transactions of the trustees, and giving any one an opportunity to determine the truth or falsity of the charges of irregularities on the part of the trustees.

THE ECONOMICS OF THE ADIRONDACKS. MEETING OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMMITTEE-DR, F, B, HOUGH'S SUGGESTIONS.

The—Du, F. B. Hough's Suggestions.

The committee for the preservation of the Adiroudack forests met yesterday at 1:30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce. Morris K. Jesup was in the chair, and Messrs, Humphreys, James and Coddington were present. The chairman presented the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Associated Press be requested to ask the press throughout the State to notify all parties holding the memorials of the Chamber of Commerce to return the same at the earliest moment to Box No. 1685, New-York Post Office, to enable the committee to arrange for their presentation to the Legislature without further delay.

York Post Office, to enable the committee to arrange for their presentation to the Legislature without further delay.

Dr. Franklin B. Hough, of Washington, D. C., was introduced to the committee and invited to take his seat among them by Morris K. Jesup. The chairman then presented the report of the committee of conference which had visited Albany. The address, the gist of which was published by The Tahanner on Friday last, was adopted by the committee. Mo ris K. Jesup now invited Dr. Hough to address the committee. His remarks, which were at great length, were illustrated by colored diagrams, one of which, showing the condition of various counties of this State, was studied with much interest by the committee. It showed the percentage of area of the several counties as reported in the census of 1875 under the headings of "Cultivated." In Woodland," or as "Unimproved Waste." The cultivated was painted red, the woodland green, and the waste brown. In many counties the green was a mere vestige. Dr. Hough explained that "unimproved waste." meant not only marsh lands and places naturally meapable of cultivation, but in many instances woodland which had been stripped of its trees. Selecting from all the counties those named in the act of 1883 in which lands were not to be sold as they reverted to the State from tax sales, he read the percentages of area of Herkinger, Hamilton, Fulton, Saratoga, St. Lawrence, Warren, Lewis and Franklin, and said that the measures taken by the State at that time were in the right direction, but it was not enough to meet the requirements of the case, which demanded a rational system of forestry, that should have among its duties the care of the public woodland, with a view to bringing its timber production to the highest point, and the dissemination of information throughout the State to impress upon private owners of woodlands the profits of an economic system of lumbering.

At the conclusion of the address, which had been bering. At the conclusion of the address, which had been eagerly followed by the committee, a vote of thanks was moved and seconded to Dr. Hough, and it was unanimously resolved that his remarks should be printed and disseminated among the friends of the Adirondacks, and the owners of woodlands in the belt of counties designated by the act of 1883. The committee then adjourned.

MISS PARLOA'S SCHOOL FOR COOKERY.

MISS PARLOA'S SCHOOL FOR COOKER!

A lecture was given yesterday at Miss Parloa's School for Cookery, No. 222 East Seventeenth-st. A chartrense of chicken with maccaroni and white mushroom sance and imperial pudding with strawherry sance were the subjects of the lesson. The lecturer took a good sized fowl for the chartrense, and separated the flesh from the bones. The meat lecturer took a good sized fowl for the chartrense, and separated the desh from the bones. The meat of the chicken was cut in small pieces and seasoned with salt and pepper. Fourteen ounces of maccaroni which had been placed in boiling water to cook three minutes was removed from the fire and cut on a board in half inch pieces. A mould thickly buttered was lined with these bits of maccaroni, which were set in closely together upright. Miss Parloa proceeded to make the gravy for the chicken, using half a cup of broth in which it was cooked, one cup of cream and salt and pepper. When the broth and cream boiled, she added half a cup of gelatine which had been soaked in a cup of cold water for two hours. The mould lined with maccaroni was then filled with the chicken and the gravy was turned over it gradually and the whole set in a steamer to cook for one hour.

over it gradually and the whole set in a steamer to cook for one hour.

Miss Parloa then made the imperial pudding. A half cup of rice had previously been put in cold water, and after it had come to the boiling point drained and cooked an hour in a quart of milk placed in a double hoiler. This rice, which was cooked, was removed from the stove and a cup of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, four taildespoonfuls of wine and half a box of gelatine which had been soaked two hours in cold water were all beaten into it. A pint of cream was now whipped to froth. While the cream was being beaten the pudding was set in a bowl of cracked ice to become thick, but was frequently stirred, that it might not become too stiff. When the cream was beaten it was at once added to the pudding and the whole was vigorously beaten. After this it was poured into ornamental moulds and set away on the ice to form. It was then turned on a glass dish and surrounded by a crimson sauce formed by a quart of whipped cream and a cup of preserved straw berries.

The lecture occupied about two hours.

THE TOMES TO BE ENLARGED.

Warden Finn said yesterday that the Tombs prison was not overcrowded, although it had been found necessary to send several prisoners every day to the Ludiow Street Jail, where their board is paid by the city. This overflow is caused by the new State-law prohibiting the warden of a prison from putting more than one prisoner in any cell. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment granted $90,000 to the Commissioners of Charities and Correction to enlarge the Tombs. The prison where the ten-days' men are kept is to be torn down and a much larger wing erected. When this isdone there will be no need of boarding out the prisoners. The Warden said that a transfer of prisoners was made to the jail until after 4 o'clock.

It was said at the District Attorney's office, that the over-crowding of the Tombs was not so much due to the number of prisoners who are awaiting trial in the Court of General Sessions, as of those who are serving short sentences. There are about 100 prisoners who are to be tried in the General Sessions. There has frequently been a larger number awaiting trial. Almost all the prisoners committed by the police magistrates to await the action of the Grand Jury have had the charges against them acted on by that body. THE TOMES TO BE ENLARGED.

A BOGUS MARRIAGE AND ITS SEQUEL.

The following marriage notice was published in this city on Saturday:
storm-Max-On January 10, at the residence of the Gride's parents, George E. Storm, of Tarrytown, to Miss Mand Max, of Jersey City.

It is alleged marriage was a bogus affair, gotter up for a sensation. One George Vincent was induce to assume the role of bride in proper costume, and George E. Storm to take the part of the groom. The couple started from Sing Sing for Tarrytown on Saturday evening. On arriving at Tarrytown they were driven in a back to the hotel of Joseph Smith in Main-st., where they were introduced to the host as man and wife. After partaking of refreshments, they were driven to the Vincent House in Broadway, and there took rooms for a short time. From there they were conveyed to the home of the groom, in East Tarrytown, where a large party of friends had assembled to greet them. At a late hour the party broke up, wishing the bride and groom joy and happiness in the future. Yesterday when the hoax became known to some of the guests who had been made sick by an undue indulgence in the good things furnished for the occasion, they applied to John J. Tompkins, a new, y appointed policeman of the town, to work up the case, and obtain a warrant for the arrest of the parties to the mock marriage for violating the laws of the State in personating a woman. in personating a woman.

REVIVING THE MERCANTILE MARINE. REVIVING THE MERCANTILE MARINE.
The Board of Trade and Transportation yesterday considered the "plan for the revival of the mercantile marine" submitted by the National Board of Trade. Of over 800 members, only fourteen were present when President Snow rapped for order fifteen minutes after the hour for meeting, but John Roach walked in a minute afterward, thus making a quorum. Six others came in later. Captain John Codman was the representative of the Free Trade Club, which had asked the courtesy of being represented at the discussion.

a quorum. Six others came in later. Captain John Codman was the representative of the Free Trade Club, which had asked the courtesy of being represented at the discussion.

The plan included four distinct propositions to be acted upon by Congress: The adoption of such laws as would permit citizens of the United States to purchase vessels abroad and place them under American register, but not to allow them to engage in the coastwise and inland trade; to admit free of duty all materials of foreign production to be used in the construction, equipment, repairs or supplies of American vessels emplo ed, or to be employed, exclusively in the foreign trade; to permit American shipbuilders to collect from the Treasury, where materials of home production are used in the construction and equipment of vessels built by them, an amount equal to the duty which would have been collected on imported materials; to give owners and masters of American vessels the right to engage their crews in any port, home or foreign, and for such time and at such compensation as may be agreed upon between the parties; and to aboish the three months' extra pay.

Captain Codman took a roll of seventeen closely written pages of manuscript, and began reading it. He charged Mr, Roach with making misstatements, adding that whatever virtues Mr. Roach possessed, "it is clear that consistency is not one of them."

R. B. Van Vlack, a ship-owner, called Mr. Codman to order. Mr. Roach declared that Mr. Codman to retred when he said that he (Roach) had failed to get contracts to build ships for foreign trade, One vessel built for the foreign trade was about to sail from his works, and he made a contract on Saturday to build four more for the foreign trade. He presented a substitute for the original resolutions which recognized the impracticability of reviving American shipping unless the prospective owners are placed on an equal footing with those of other nations in regard to the cost of running and cost of capital invested, and declared that wooden ships

WOMAN'S GOOD WORK FOR WOMEN.

WOMAN'S GOOD WORK FOR WOMEN.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian association was held at the building of the Association, No. 7 East Fifteenthst., yesterday afternoon. A large number of ladies interested in the work were present. Devotional exercises were conducted by the president, Mrs. Clarence E. Beebe. The secretary, Miss E. B. Fabian, announced the election of the following officers for 1884: President, Mrs. C. E. Beebe; first vice-president, Mrs. W. Hoffin, jr.; treasurer, Mrs. R. A. Brick; corresponding secretary, Miss E. B. Fabian; recording secretary, Miss M. L. Perice. After the reports of the chairmen of the several committees for past year had been read, the secretary read her annual statement. The following is an abstract of her report:

In the city of New York there are said to be 100,000 working women, and to some of these at least we have been able to lend a helping hand, in what ways the statistics of the several departments will show. The record in each room shows a larger number of applicants than hast year, and enforces upon us the necessity of increased accommodations. The whole expense of the association, including wages to teachers, house bills, printing etc. amounted to $10,73 86. To meet this sum, we had the annual subscriptions, $2,473, and the interest of a legacy and class fund, $450. The deficit of some $7,000 was made up by voluntary contributions and donations. After paying expenses we found a small sum on our hands which we have set aside as a nucleus for a building fund, to be used in calarting the reading and employment rooms. Of the $10,000 which we hope to raise for this purpose, $1,000 has aiready been subscribed. The Bible Class has a permanent membership of 524, and a transient membership of $33. The fresh air fund amounted to $504, and its necessary and classes we found; a small sum on our hands which we have set aside as a nucleus for a building fund, to be used in calarting the reading and employment rooms. DAMAGE BY ICE IN THE EAST RIVER.

DAMAGE BY ICE IN THE EAST RIVER.

The sinking of the schooner Haze by the ice jam of Sunday in front of the docks of the New-Haven Steamboat Company has been the cause of much aunoyance to the latter. One of the employes said to a Tubure reporter: "We have three berthsnorth side of Pier No. 26, the narrow dock between Piers Nos. 26 and 25, and the south side of Pier No. 25. The schooner sank so unfortunately that she not only blockades the Continental but also impedes exit and entrance at the north side of Pier No. 26. We transferred the freight and passengers of the Continental to the New-Haven, another of our boats, and the incoming boat, the Elm City, is docked on the south side of Pier No. 25. The schooner was from Perth Amboy, and belonged to the Pennsylvania Central, who have arranged with a wrecking company that will in all probability raise the Haze to-morrow."

On the deck of the Continental at the forward On the deck of the Continental at the forward gangway there was a knot of men looking at the schooner, whose booms were just visible above the water at dead low tide. One of them explained to the reporter that it was not regular ice in the river, but ice from the Jersey Flats, that had done the mischief. "You may guess," said he, "what a power it had, when I tell you that it tore the hawse-pipe out of the Jabez Howes, that was docked between Piers No. 27 and 28. The ship instead of being fastened with a hemp hawser, was moored with the chain cable of her best bower anchor. The chain cable couldn't part, and so dragged the whole hawse-pipe out of her."

"And what's become of the ice?" asked the reporter.

SUICIDE OF EDWARD HEATON.

SUICIDE OF EDWARD HEATON.

Edward Heaton, a lawyer whose office was at No. 49 Nassan-st, in this city, shot himself at his home in Ridgefield, N. J., on Saturday morning. His family were startled by the report of a pistol in the dining-room, and on going into the room found Mr. Heaton dead with a pistol in his hand and a bullet wound behind the right ear. On examination it was found that the bullet had passed through the brain and imbedded itself under the scalp on the left side of the head. He was forty-one years old, and a native of Kentucky. He leaves a widow and two children.

Pearce Barnes, a lawyer and a personal friend of Mr. Heaton, wasseen at his office, No. 49 Nassau-st, yesterday, by a Tribure reporter.

Mr. Barnes said: "I had known Mr. Heaton for some time. He had his office in this building for several years. He was a man of the strictest integrity in all his dealings. In his absence from the city on Friday—as I had known him for a long time intimately—he telegraphed me to take charge of some legal matters of his demanding immediate attention. He had been in low spirits for two or three weeks, and I believe that the cause of his rash act was temporary aberration of mind caused by overwork. As I knew something of his business I have been looking after his aftairs since his death, and from my knowledge of his business and my relations with him personally I am confident that he had no pecuniary embarrassments whatever. He studied law in Kentucky. He served in the artillery during the war and attained the rank of Major."

Mr. Heaton attended Yale College after the close of the war and was graduated in the class of '69 and was afterward tutor there for several years.

O'Brien was present and strongly urged the Aldermen to unite with the Tammany members and elect Mr. Kirk president, on the ground that there was no other way to break the deadlock. He asked the Aldermen if they would agree to his proposition. All, with the exception of Mr. Finck, declined to vote for Mr. Kirk. The Board balloted three times for president without any one receiving a majority of the votes cast. Mr. O'Connor on each vote received seven; Mr. Kirk seven; Mr. O'Neil six; Jachue one; Mr. Grant one; and Mr. Finck one.

STRIKERS RETURNING TO WORK.

The bark T. K. Welden, which arrived yesterday from Gonaive, had a narrow escape from being wrecked in a heavy gale on Tuesday. The seas broke over the vessel, sweeping the quartermaster from the wheel and breaking his leg, washed one of the sailors overboard, filled the cabin with water.

STRIKERS RETURNING TO WORK.

In accordance with the agreement entered into between E. S. Higgins & Co., the carpet manufacturers, and their striking employes, the latter all returned to work yesterday. The strike lasted nine weeks, and there were nearly 2,000 men, women and children engaged in it. It was against a reduction in wages of 10 per cent. The agreement provides that the differences between the firm and the strikers should be submitted to a board of arbitration consisting of representatives of the firm and of the strikers, the two to appoint a third. The strikers say that their demands will be that the lowest price for laborers shall be $1.75 a day, for weavers $10 a week, for pickers $8 a week and for spinners $9 a week. This will amount to an increase of about 7 per cent in the wages paid before the strike. They are willing, on the other hand, that the firm shall make a sca e for the higher paid workmen on a basis of 5 per cent reduction. They say that unless an arrangement is reached within two weeks the strike will be renewed.

THE MUSCOOT DAM PROJECT.

THE MUSCOOT DAM PROJECT.

The Aqueduct Commissioners yesterday heard arguments concerning the proposed construction of the Quaker Bridge dam, the enlargement of Croton Lake and the construction of a dam and reservoir at Muscoot Mountain.

John Jay, a resident of Katonah, said that the matter which the residents of that vicinity were chiefly concerned in was as to the extent to which the water would be drawn from the Muscoot dam. It would affect the health of the neighborhood. Chief-Engineer Church explained that the scheme did not contemplate drawing down the water at that point to any considerable extent.

Mr. Jay said with that explanation the residents of Katonah would be satisfied.

Robert L. Darragh, former Croton Water Commissioner, said that it seemed to him ridiculous to say that it was not intended to draw off this water. With the city growing rapidly, it was certain that this water would have to be drawn on.

Engineer Church explained that 32,000,000,000 gallons could be stored there, while really only 32.000,000 would be stored there, It was to be an auxiliary to the Quaker Bridge Dam Reservoir. In response to a question, Engineer Church said that an average of 500,000,000 gallons per day for six months of the year ran to waste from the Croton Dam.

William H. Webb said that he believed this dam would cost much more than the estimates given by the engineers. As a taxpayer he wanted more diff-

Mr. Church said in response to a question by Commissioner Spencer that he estimated the total cost of the Quaker Bridge Dam, cofferdam, bridges, cost of land, etc., at $5,000,000. About 1,800 feet below the proposed site of the dam a ledge of rock in the bed of the Croton River rises eighteen feet above the high tide of the Hudson River.

NEWSBOYS' HOME IN BROOKLYN.

The new building of the Children's Aid Society for a Newsboys' Home, in Poplar-st., Brooklyn, was formally opened yesterday with a reception and public exercises. It is a four-storied brick structure, well fitted in every detail for the work of caring for boys who are homeless and of providing a day school for girls, and instruction on the sewing-machine for those able to earn their own living. Many visitors were shown through the building by the superintendent, R. D. Douglass, and his assistants. In the evening public exercises were held in one of the boys' dormitories on the top floor, which was cleared of beds and fitted with chairs for the purpose, Michael Snow, president of the society, presided. A formal presentation of the building to the society was made by James P, Morgan, charman of the Building Committee, to which Mr. Snow responded. An address was made by the Rey, Dr. J. B. "An effort will be made in the present Congress," said William Currie, president of the Point Breeze Ferry and Improvement Company, to a TRUBENE reporter, "to obtain an appropriation with which to begin work on the proposed government channel, the survey of which was reported to the XLVIIth Congress by H. G. Wright, Chief of Engineers. This channel runs across the Jersey Flats from a point midway between the Central Railroad of New-Jersey and Eliis Island to a point at Constable Hook. This improvement, if carried forward, will open up a great part of the Jersey Shore—probably now almost valueless on account of its distance from the main channel—for the purposes of commerce. This is an improvement which should receive the approbation of all who desire the development of facilities for handling freight at a smal expense, Our company has been engaged in filling in the lands on the New-Jersey shore for the past ten years, and has reclaimed about 100 acres."

A VALUABLE RECORD FOR SHIPMASTERS A VALUABLE RECORD FOR SHIPMASTERS

The sixteenth annual record of American and foreign shipping, published by the American Shipmasters Association, is superior to any of the previous publications. The volume for 1884 gives a record of nearly 22,000 vessels of every class, size and nationality, and no vessel is rated until it has been submitted to survey according to the rules approved of the Board of Marine Underwriters. Two important features have been added—the international code of signals of every naval and merchant vessel of the world, and including yacht clubs, and finely engraved sections of iron vessels, illustrating the method of building and dimensions and strength of materials used.

LECTURE BY MR. MOSCHELES.
Felix Moscheles, the English portrait-painter, yesterdny addressed a select andience of artists at a Fourth-ave, studio on the subject of Portraiture, making his method visible to the eye by painting on the spot within the hour the oil portrait of a gentleman who came to listen. The talk was mainly technical, but being impromptn, was interesting to non-experts also. The portrait was unfinished; but it was strongly and vigorously laid out, and can be finished at another sitting.

TRUTH OF BIBLE HISTORY CONFIGNED.
The Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby delivered a lecture last night in the Seventh Presbyterian Church, at Broome and Ridge sts., on "Bible history illustrated by late discoveries." A large andence listened to the lecture, even the smaller boys showing an interest in the sketch of Assyrian and Babylonian history where it touched the history of the Bible during the 2,000 years and more prior to 600 B, C. Blackboard maps of the Bible lands were used to illustrate the lecture.

"SANDY" SPENCER CONVICTED.

Alexander R. Spencer was convicted yesterday, after a three days' trial in the Court of General Sessions, on a charge of violating the excise laws. An agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, who was in the liquor store called Spencer's Music Hail, at Nos, 390 and 302 Bowery, early on the merning of Sunday, December 3, estified that he bought gin and brandy, and that it was sold to him in the presence of Mr. Spencer. He produced in court samples of the liquor he had bought on Sunday. Judge Cowing reserved sentence. reserved sentence.

The sixty-first anniversary of the Woman's Brauch of the New-York City Mission and Tract society was held yesterday morning at the Home for Christian Workers, No. 129 East Tenth-st. The Rev. Henry J. Van Dyke, jr., conducted the services. The report of the treasurer, Miss Wright, showed the receipts from all sources to have been $13,158 92 and the expenditures 13,272 72. Mrs. Brown, the superintendent, read a detailed report of the work of the society. The Rev. William F. Eising and Mr. Van Dyke followed with short addresses.

LOCAL MINERALOGY AND THE GLACIAL PERIOD. At the meeting of the Academy of Sciences last evening in Colombia College, papers were read by B. W. Chamberlain, on "Field Work in Local Mineralogy," and Dr. John S. Newberry on "The crosive power of glacierice, and its influence on the topography of North America," Mr. Chamberlain described several excavations in the upper port of the cities in schick interesting municipalities. berlain described several excavations in the upper part of the city, in which interesting mineralogical formations have been observed. Dr. Newberry's paper was the one which heread last summer before the American Academy of Sciences at Minneapolis. It was designed to relute the arguments of those who claim that the so-called glacial period was one of heat, or that ice has had no crosive power.

WILL THE CABLE SUPERSEDE THE ROBSE-CAR?
The Rapid Transit Commissioners will resume their sessions to-day in Room No. 1. Transite Building. They all speak so bighly of the working of the cable road in Chicago that there is little doubt in the minds of the officers of the National Cable Railway Company that their system will be adopted. The route of the proposed road is the uppermost question at present. All who are interest d will have an opportunity to give their views on the subject at the public meetings to be held daily hereafter. Park Commissioner Viele, who accompanied the Commissioners to Chicago, brought home with him a specimen of the cable in use there, and expresses his confidence that cable roads will soon be in successful operation in this city.

Captain A. W. Richardson died on Sunday morning at his home, No. 247 Hooper-st., at the age of eighty-six. His wife, who was seventy-seven years old, was his constant attendant until she too was taken sick, and her death took place a few hours after that of her husband. Captain Richardson was for sixty years in the merchant marine service. JERSEY CITY.

Daniel Harper, of No 403 Henderson-st., was arrested at 3 o'clock yesterday morning while on his way to the Pennsylvania Railroad Ferry with a quantity of clothing tied up in a paper bundle. When he was searched in the First Precinct Station When he was searched in the First Precinct Station one silver and two gold watches with chains attached, some jewelry and $81 in money were found in his possession. When he was arraigned before Judge Stilsing for examination, his wife stated that at a late hour on Sunday night he announced his intention of leaving her and going away where she would never see him again. Mrs. Harper fearing that he might change his mind, even gave him her own gold watch telling him that he might be able to sell it and the proceeds would be or some assistance to him. Mrs. Harper smiled very sweetly when she was telling her story, while the prisoner looked very sheepish. Stilsing advised prisoner looked very sheepish. Stilsing advised him to return home and discharged him.

William Lindsay, in the Court of Special Sessions yesterday, pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in marrying three women. He was sentenced to five years in the State Prison.

the Grand Jury yesterday, laid particular stress on the recent terrible crimes committed in Queens County. Mayor Petry and City Treasurer Bleckmann have succeeded in disposing of the $257,000 worth of bonds, recently issued to take up the whole floating indebtedness of Long Island City. The sale of these bonds, and the consequent wiping-out of the debts incurred by the De Bevoise administration, place the city once more on a sound financial footing.

JAMAICA.—Henry Felton, age sixty, of Fortus Meadow, when driving across the track of the Long Island Railroad at the Willow Tree crossing yester-day morning, was almost instantly killed by an engine.

SMITHTOWN.—A company has been formed at Smithtown, and articles of incorporation filed, for the purpose of oyster planting in Long Island Sound. It has obtained possession of 1,000 acres of land under water, which it will plant with seed oysters as soon as the spring opens.

Oyster Bay.—Mrs. and Mr. Townsend, who were assaulted at their home on Monday evening of last week, are recovering rapidly. The Coroner will continue his examination to-day.

WITTE PLAINS.—An accounting by the executors of the estate of the late David Jones, the millionnaire brewer of New-Rochelle, was called for before Surrogate Coffin, of Westchester County. The executors in their accounting charged all the losses sustained in carrying the brewing and malting business, against the legates, on the ground that the business had been carried on in their interests. Counsel for the life tenants, Rutter R. Marsh, F. Woodward and R. S. Emmet, objected to the life tenants being charged with all these losses, cliaming that they should be charged against the principal.

. . An injunction was served upon the Board of Supervisors during their session at White Plains yesterday, restraining them from including in the annual tax levy of the town of Harrison any expenditures or payments for land taken or to be taken for the opening of Grayfield-ave., as it is opposed by nearly all the taxpayers of the town. The matter was referred to the Supervisor of Harrision, who has employed counsel. In the meantime the action of the Board on the levy was laid over.

MOUNT VERNON.—When a constant well to village lock-up yesterday morning to take the would-be robber of the post office before Police Justice William Meeks for examination, he discovered that the prisoner had escaped. Heleft a conspicuous notice in his cell to the effect that the authorities of the place were too green to hold him long.

YONKERS.—A brother of Thomas Fitzpatrick who was killed by Policeman George Smith, a short time ago, accompanied by a detective, arrived here yesterday in search of information as to the pedigree of Smith, and found, as they allege, that in 1873 three men named Smith, Word and Donohne were arrested by the Yonkers police in the act of burglary, Mr. Fitzpatrick, it is stated, fully identified the picture of Smith in the rogue's gallery as that of the one now on trial for the murder of his brother.

ON HATS IN THEATRES.

From The London Truth.

Anent this subject, there is a good story of Colonel Bateman, when lessee of the Lyceum Theatre. The "Colonel" had an assertive head of hair that stuck up like "quilis upon the fretail purcupine." One day he came into a theatre with his hat on. Some one behind tapped him on the shoulder: "Oblige me, sir, by taking off your hat." Off went old Bateman's hat, and up went the hair like a Juck-in-the-box. The remedy was worse than the disease. So there was another tap on the shoulder, "Thank you, sir, Very much obliged. But, please, as personal favor, put your hat on again." It may be that if the hadies took off their bonnets, the result would be equally disastrous. uid be equally disastrous.
