PLAYERS BUSY AGAIN.

ATTRACTIONS OF THE NEW SEASON AT THE CITY THEATRES.

A theatrical production of more interest than any in the last few months will take place at Daly's Theatre to-morrow night, when Richard Mansfield will present Joseph Hatton's play from Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter." Although the story is sombre and gloomy, assurance is given that the play shall contain a sufficient element of comedy. Mr. Mausfield's company is practically the same as when it was last seen here, and includes Mr. Andrews, Mr. Harkins, Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Burbidge, Mr. Griffith, Miss Cameron, Mrs. Brutone, Miss Glidden, Miss Markille and Miss De Grigman.

At Palmer's Theatre to-morrow night Henry E. Dixey will accomplish another Gilbert and Sullivan revival. This will be "Iolanthe," in which Mr. Dixey will have the part of the Lord Chancelor. Miss Plora Finlayson, who last season sang with the Bostonian in "Robin Hood," has been engaged for the Fairy Queen. Mr. Dixey's son will appear as the Lord Chancellor's train-bearer. The other leading parts will be taken by the singers who have recently been laund in the revived "Patience."

The popularity of E. H. Sothern is attested by the crowds which every night come to the Lycoum Theatre, filling all the seats and the most of the standing room. "Captain Lettarblair" will be continued till the end of Mr. Sothern's engagement and hereafter special Tuesday matinees will be given, in addition to the regular ones on Saturdays.

Comic opera will reign no more in the Cosine, but in its place will be seen a form of entertalament such as the music halls of Europe are putting forth. Rudolph Aronson announces that the first night will occur on Monday ovening, September 26. During the next fortnight, while the lower part of the house is closed, it will be thoroughly renovated and refurbished, and the final touches will be given to the Crystal Alhambra Court and smote room a the back of the parquet floor. This room will accommodate a large number of people, who can witness the performance while refreshments are served. The roof garden vaudeville entertainment will be continued urinterruptedly until the down stairs entertainment is ready. Next week's programme will include the "serpentine dance," by Lizzie Deriens Daly; musical arts, by Hamilton and Glynn; hat spinning and acrobatic feats, by the Girards; Spanish dancing, by La Granadina; songs, by Ottillie; character duets, by May and Cleaver and bird imitations, by Miss Mabel Stephenson. A concert will be given on the roof to-night.

The last nights of Charles Frohman's comedians a the Fifth Avenue Theatre in "Settled Out of Court' are announced. The fiftieth performance occurs next Thursday, when handsome sonvenirs will be presented to the ladies. They are said to be useful as well as ornamental. The advance sale of seats for the well as ornamental. last nights insures large audiences for the balance of the engagement.

Roland Reed will continue to play "Lend Me Your Wife" through the whole of his engagement at the Star Theatre. It gives evidence of pleasing the audiences which have all been of good size, and Mr. Reed impersonation of Captain Abner Tarbox is an inter-sting addition to the list of character parts.

As it was decided last week that Miss Johnstone Bennett and her fellow travellers might safely be at lowed to enter New-York, she is now playing the title part in "Jane" at the Standard Theatre in her old vivacious manner. The one-act play "Chums" is now added to the bill, and Miss Lottle Collins will sing "Ta-ra-ra Boom-de-ay" if the health officers shall ever decide that her doing so will be for the best interests of the city.

This week Herrmann's Theatre will be added to the ilst of places of amusement opened for the regular season. On Saturday evening the magician will be gin a long engagement in his little theatre, which has been made brighter than ever both inside and out. It will be Herrmann's first engagement here in three seasons. His programme will be varied and enterteining and will be divided into five different parts. He will begin with his tricks of magic, which will embrace a number which he has not shown in this city before. The second part will be a series of allegerical tableaus, illustrating "The Slave Girl's Dream." The third part will be devoted to "mysterious new black In the forth he will show the mystery "Strobelka." The performance will end with fents of legerdemain. He will, as usual, be assisted by Mme. Herrmann. The sale of seats for the engage ment begins to-morrow.

The 450th performance of "Wang" and the fiftieth of its present engagement at the Broadway Theatre will be given by De Welf Hopper and his company on October 3, with souvenir as usual. The children are still singing the "Baby Song" in the last act while the courts are getting ready to decide whether they ought to do it or not.

Sinbad's" 500th performance occurs at the Garden Theatre to-merrow night. Souvenirs will consist of Mrs. Louise Montague's portrait attached to a bouquet of American Beauty roses. There will be new songs, new steps and figures for the dancers and | They had been working on their plans for some time stage pictures. Eeginning with this week matinees

The attraction for the week at Hammerstein's Harlem Opera House is "By Proxy," which was written by Charles Klein, of this city, for presentation by Charles Matthews's company. The piece is new here, but it has had a run of seven weeks recently at the Boston Museum. In the company are A. S. Leipman, Harry Brown, Lionel Bland, Edward Emory, Charles Coyngate, Norman Campbell, Arthur Monell, Miss Leonora Bradley, Miss May Standish, Miss Josie Stoffer and Miss Adele Clarke.

Robert Mantell has decided to make "The Face in the Moonlight," which he is now playing at Proctor's
Twenty-third Street Theatre, the chief feature, if not

Island, is a feature of the excursion list to-day, and is the only feature, of his repertory for this season. He may, however, give trial productions of one or two pieces for use the following year. One of these is a one act tragedy called "Parrhasius," which he may present for a verdict before leaving New-York.

"Across the Potomac," the new play by Augustus Piton and Edward M. Alfriend which was first seen at Proctor's Theatre late last season, will hold the stage of the Grand Opera House this week. The company to present it includes Boyd Putnam, Matt B. Snyder, Henry Talbot, Charles F. Gotthold, Edward J. Morgan, Charles Nevins, Gustave Frankel, Daniel Jarrett, Malcolm Bradley, John H. Bunny, Miss Henrietta Lander, Miss Rose Snyder, Miss Vivien Edsall, Miss Ada Dwyer and Miss Harriet Aubrey.

McKee Rankin has one more week to remain at the Union Square Theatre with "The Kentucky Colonel." Several changes have been made in the play. The Lillputians will come to this house next week. They began their senson with the production of "Candy" in Philadelphia last Monday. It is said to have good music and good parts for the little

The appearance of the Academy of Music each night is suggestive of old times. It is long since anything has been able to fill this house as "The Black Crook" is filling it. The number of people at each performance is practically the capacity of the the only variation being in the number of those willing to stand for three hours or more.

There is no quarantine against farce-comedies and those willing to stand for three hours or more.

There is no quarantine against intro-comedies and they are again epidemic. There will be four of them in town this week. Robert Gayler, better known as "Bobby" Gayler, will present "sport McAllister, One of the 4co," at the Columbia Theatre, in all the glory that marked its performance at the Bijou Teseatre last season.

At the Bijou Miss Jennie Yeamans will continue to play "12 F. M." It has been improved since the opening, as farce-counciles always are. New special-ties will be added this week, as is also usual. Evans and Hoey make their first appearance at the Bijou Theatre a week from to-morrow night in "A Parior Match." The play will be presented with Mr. Evans as the Book Agent, Mr. Hoey as Old Hess, and Miss Minnie French as innocent kild.

There is yet, no interruption to the run of "A Trip to Chinatown" at the Madison Square Theare. Some time it will probably wear out, as all things do, but the rawages of time are not yet conspicuous. It is announced that the performances at the Fourteenth Street Theatre pals week will be the heat of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but the same of "The City Directory" in New-York, but

QUARANTINED AT PROVIDENCE.

THE NEW LINE FAR SOUTH OF THE OLD ONE-REPUBLICAN OUTLOOK IN RHODE ISLAND. Providence, R. I., Sept. 10 (Special).-Providence, on with other of the larger New-England cities is making vigorous preparations to ward off the cholera if possible, and to cope with the dread disease should it appear in this city. The old quarantine line was at Field's Point, but the city has spread out along both banks of the river to such an extent that it has been deemed wise to extend the lines five miles further south, the line now extending from Nayatt Point to Conimicut Point. Additional inspectors have been appointed, and with the assistance of the Police Department the fifth spots of the city are being cleaned up. There is great danger of the being cleaned up. There is great danger of the cholera appearing in the quarter inhabited by Polish Jews in Charles-st. Old tumble-down buildings are in a decidedly filthy condition, and the people of the city are looking forward with pleasure to the time when, by the proposed extension and widening of Charles-st., the obnoxious block will be obliterated

The word has gone forth semi-officially that ex-Mayor William S. Hayward Is to succeed Charles H George as postmaster of Providence, and that exof Pawtucket. Owing to the approaching announce terday resigned the position which he has held for years as chairman of the Republican Central Committee. Colonel Isauc L. Goff, who has served for about the same time as secretary of the ommittee, resigned at the same time, owing to the growing demands of his private business. The new chairman is Colonel Hunter C. White, sheriff of Providence County, and one of the brightest and most aggressive of practical politicians. Eugene P. Warner was elected secretary. Mr. Warner is judge of the Fourth District Court and Clerk of the Senate. He has previously served in the same capacity. Both thorouguly well versed in the art of conducting political campaigns to a successful issue, and their election augurs well for the success of the party in the approaching election.

The Fourth Ward Republican Club will open the campaign by a meeting and banquet at Gebb & Norton's Hall on Tuesday evening, November 20. Among the speakers expected are Senator Nelson W. Aldrich. the Hon. Adin B. Capron, Governor D. Russell Brown, who is a member of the club; Henry E. Tiepke, president of the Rhode Island Republican League, and the Hon. William G. Roelker.

One year of a weak-kneed Democratic Mayor has given the Republicans strong hopes of electing their candidate for that position, and consequently there is considerable quiet discussion as to the candidate. General Dyer, it is known, would accept the nomination, and mention of his name is favorably received. He was seriously considered last spring for Governor. He is at present the Adjutant-General, and has held that position for many years. His father, now de-censed, was Governor of Rhode Island. His son, Elisha Dyer third, is well-known in New-York City. General Dyer is a valuable member of the school Committee. His knowledge of the city and its needs, and his well-known courage and uprightness would meant make him an invincible leader of the municipal ticket. to-day. Ex-Mayor Smith is also being frequently mentioned for another term, and it is not believed that he would decline should the convention make it plain that it was his duty to accept. Mayor Smith frequently led the Republican party in this city, and his record is as clean as smilight.

OUTINGS BY TRON STEAMBOATS.

The special excursion up the Hudson by the Iron Steamboat Company's steamer Sirius, to Oscawana will no doubt be well patronized, as the landing-places are Pier No. 1, North River, West Twenty-third-st, an One-hundred-and-twenty-ninth-st., Rorth River. There will be time enough at the grove for amusement and a return to the city by the early evening. REPUBLICAN UNITY IN CONNECTICUT.

PLEASED WITH THE STATE TICKET-CONSERVA-TIVE ON THE QUESTION OF TOWN REPRESENTATION.

Hartford, Sept. 10 (Special).-The work of the Republican Convention this week was characterized by unfeigned willingness on the part of all candidates who had appirations for a place on the ticket to stand aside, if need be, in order that the best sentiment of the party could be represented in the nominations, and that harmony and a right spirit for the work of the campaign would not be disturbed. This was mantfested in the withdrawal of all the candidates for the second place, and the cordial agreement upon Colonet Frank W. Cheney, of Manchester, for Lieutenant-Gov ernor. The farming element was largely represented In the convention, as It always is in Republican conventions in Connecticut, and it pronounced itself thoroughly satisfied with the withdrawal of Dr. Bowen if Colonel Cheney could be induced to take the place. This he did after some consideration, and making sacrifices which no other man in the State could be sacrifices which no other man in the state could be called upon to make for the benefit of the party. For the office of Secretary of State there were two candidates—Colonel Mowrey, of Norwich, and Stilos Judson, 1r., of Stratford—Mr. Brandagee, who would have been nominated by acclamation if he had remained in the field withdrawing. Colonel Mograe's closed prethe field, withdrawing. Colonel Mowrey's friends presented him as from the eastern section of the State and not from any antagonism to Mr. Judson, who was named after a close ballot. Mr. Judson was one of the five members of the House special committee on the canvass of the votes in the election of 1890, and the party thus recognizes the position taken that committee, which was the basis of the Repub lican position in the State. Henry Gay, of Winches ter, the candidate for Treasurer, has been a candidate for the nomination in one or two conventions before He has served seven terms in the Legislature, and has uniformly been on the Pinance Committee. He is a thorough business man, a banker, and has by reason of his long experience a familiarity with State finances which will be of great value to the state in case of his election. Senator George M. Clark is a type of the energetic business man and manufactures of the smaller towns of the State, and has a great deal of what is known as "horse sense." His nomination for Controller to success the remarkable incumbent of the office, Nicholas Stanb, was a high compliment to his faitaful work in the Schute, where at every session he reminded the Democratic majority of the duty of the Senate to transact the business of the state, and uniformly moved the passage of some measure, which was, of course, immediately voted down. The members of the Legislature who were prominent in the work of the session were greeted with three cheers whenever they rose to make a nomination or move a resolution. There is not the slightest doubt of the units of the purty on State issues. It was never more manifest, and it never Governor Bulkeley had expected to second the nomination of Lieutenant-Governor Merwin, but matters took such shape that ex-Judge Elemer, of Middle town, was honored with that priviledge. however, the Governor did nrise to nominate Senafor Clark for Controller, he cordially indersed General Merwin's nomination, and he had a remarkthle welome, it being several minutes before he could be He made un address in which he reviewed n which over $1,500,000 of debt had been paid, and n which the State tax had been wholly removed. CUT HER THROAT IN A POLICE STATION.

A well dressed young woman walked into the police station in West Thirtleth.st. a few minutes before 1 p.m. yesterday; made some incoherent remark and drew a razor across her throat, inflicting a slight wound. The police took the razor away from her. She then said she wished to the because her mother in law had tormented her. The police thought she had not intended to kill herself, but also was looked up after the wound in her throat had been dressed. She said she was Maria Louisa Chorpeending, twenty-two years old, and had lived with her husband and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Redpath, at No. 130 West Twenty-second-st. It was learned later that George Chorpenning, the young woman's husband, was a stepson of the late James Redpath. He met his wife less than a year ago in a house in West Thirty first-st., and he married her in April. In her wayward life she had been her in April. In her wayward life she had been known as "Little Ruby." At one time she had been in a reformatory. She had been shot in the head once and stabled in the neck in a druhken fight. Efforts to reform the young woman after she went to live in Mrs. Redpath's house had only caused out bursts of passion. On Wednesday she ran away from the house, she sent two letters to her husband, telling him that "Jack" was taking care of her. Young Chorpenning would not disclose "Jack's" identity yesterday.

PHOTOGRAPHING THE NORTH STAR.

INTERESTING OBSERVATIONS WITH THE GREAT BRUSH PHOTOGRAPHIC TELESCOPE.

Boston, Sept. 10 (Special).—The north star was photo graphed last evening through the largest lens ever made for photographing stars. This took place in the vine-covered garden surrounding the telescop works of Alvan J. Clark, at the foot of Brookline st. The instrument used was the Brush photographi telessope, being manufactured by Mr. Clark for Harvard Observatory, the gift of Miss C. W. Brush. The great instrument occupies so much space that the to make room for the immense temporary frame work that held it in place. There are four photographing ses, two in diameter, and in front of these is the prism for photographing the spectrum of stars. Its thickest edge is three inches and the thinnest seveneighth of an inch in thickness. The lenses are all made of the finest kind of optical glass, and their average weight is 100 pounds each. The bed plate is ten feet four and a half inches, and its breadth is six feet. This swings on a great steel axle ten fee long and weighing 2,200 pounds. The wheel to which the clock work is attached, regulating the movement of the instrument to the motion of the earth, is five feet in diameter, and the gearing is exceedingly delicate and nitely adjusted. This afternoon the temporary apparatus and gear ing the great tube to bear on the position of the star to be photographed. The north star was chosen for the experiments this evening because it is so near the pole that there is not much motion to be over some by clockwork, and therefore it is a favorable object to test on parallel light. Mr. Clark has also in process of construction a telescope with forty-inch linses, which are four inches larger 'han the great Lick telescope, the largest in the world, which he made some years ago. It is for the University of South California, and will take about two years to complete. Mr. Clark has two disks in his workshop now, one of crown glass and the other fint glass. One he has had for more than a year, and the other about three months. Their exact dimensions are forty-one and a half inches. They dimensions are furty-one and a half inches. They will give a great deal more power than the Lick telescope, providing the atmospheric conditions are favorable. Mr. Clark is also at work upon an object-glass twenty-inches in diameter for the Chamber-in observatory of the University of Denvar, Col.

The weather was invocable for the experiment and the result was entirely satisfactory to Mr. Clark. He found that the spherical aberration was no greater than he had expected. There were ten exposures, and the photographs varied in size from the point to the head of an ordinary pin.

HE WISHES HE HAD KILLED SAULTERS.

W. PAWCETT, WHO STABBED THE MAN. EX-PRESSES NO REGRET FOR THE DEED.

John W. Fawcett, who stabbed Willis Saulters late n Friday night, at No. 95 West Houston-st., was ested early yesterday morning in the lodging-house No. 183 Grand-st. He was held at the Jefferson Market Police Court later to await the result of Saulters's injury. Instead of expressing any pentance, the prisoner said he wished he had killed uniters. Fawcett has been employed in the Department of Public Works, at Albany, and is fiftyyears old. He has been married twice, and hi second marriage caused his two daughters to leave ome. One of them, Mrs. Hardy, recently was doserted by her husband in this city. She went to live with Saulters in Houston st. A report that she cas being badly treated caused her father to come to New-York. He found her clone in her rooms on Priday evening. She said that Saulters, who was a clerk in the Marine Bank, had beaten and abused her, and she exhibited a lock of her helr which, she sald. Saulters had pulled out of her head in the morning before he left the house. Saulters put the lock of hair to his pocket and waited until Saulters entered the rooms.

An insulting remark by Saulters caused Fawcett to attack him with a penknife and stab him in the abdo-men. Saniters was in st. Vincent's Hospital yester day, and his condition was said to be critical.

SHE DIED AT THE AGE OF NINETY SEVEN.

Mrs. Elizabeth Van Horne, nee Van Fleet, died at the esidence of her son in law, Major William Himrod, No. 230 Union-st., Brooklyn, on Fridny, after a brief illness. She was in her ninety eighth year, and was one of the last surviving pensioners of the war of 1-12, who was the first wife of a veteran of that war. Mrs. Van Horne was been at Centreville, Hunterdon County, New Jersey, July 30, 1795, and was married to William C. Van Horne, a merchant of that town, in 1-14. She was a woman of wonderful vitality, and only last Monday entertained visitors at her son-inw's home. She was able to read without glasses, and although, owing to a fall which she received a few stringing, owing to a second or crutches, she was by no means helpicss. From 1815 to 1844 Mrs. Van Horne and her husband lived at Ovid, N. Y., where Colonel Van Horne was a prominent merchant. They then moved to Manchester, Mich., where he died in 1875. AS TO WHETHER A CONVICT CAN BE SUED.

The question whether a convict under confinement n a state prism can be sued was argued before Judge Pratt in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, yester day. It was in the suit for damages for false im-prisonment which Warren W. Foster has brought agadist Warden Frown, of Sing Sing Frison, Michael agalist Warden Frown, of Sing Sing Frison, Michael Y. Lane, a convict in that prison, and others, for having him arrested last spring, together with his client, B. H. Tathill, on a charge of obtaining a deed from Lane under false pretences. Foster and Tuthill were discharged by the Justice, and when they tried to serve the papers in their suits for false imprisonment, Warden Brown refused them access to the convict. Mr. Foster applied for a mandamus to compal Brown to give him such access, and the point wise argued yesterday. The Judge reserved his decision, but Mr. Foster's lawyer, Robert Payne, is confident that the mandamus will be granted. Warden Brown's havyers were ordered yof the same mind, as after the argument they offered to permit service on the convict if the motion were withdrawn. Mr. Foster's lawyers refused to agree to this.

RAILROAD INTERESTS.

A HUGE LOCOMOTIVE FINISHED. On one of the side tracks at the Grand Central station stood yesterday afternoon what the officials of the New-York Central and Hudson River Rallroad call the largest locomotive in the world. The railroad company in its efforts to attain speed and power in locomotive construction built the monster of steel and iron at its shops in West Albany. The locomotive was originally one of the large engines with driving wheels 6 feet 6 faches in diameter. The standard wheel is 5 feet 6 inches in diameter. As remodeled, it has driving wheels with a diameter of 7 feet and 3 inches, and the spread or distance between the axles of the wheels is 3 feet. The total length of lecomotive and tender is 30 feet and the top of the sand-box is about 15 feet from the rails. The tops of the smokestack and sandbox are nearly on a level.

The weight of the big muchine is 120,000 pounds. two-thirds of which rests upon the four driving-wheels. The cylinder has a diameter of 19 inches and a length of 24 tuches. In order to make up for the loss of power resulting from enlarging the size of the wheels, the steam pressure was increased. The firebox rests apon the frame and its door is placed at an angle. The locomotive is for service with the Empire State Express, and the officers of the road are confident that a period of record-breaking is at hand. The first run of the monster will take place on Monday, and before long it will have a chance to show its speed in a race against time.

THE CUTS IN TRANSCONTINENTAL BATES

Chicago, Sept. 10 (Special).-The passenger official of the Santa Fe Railroad system held a long conference to-day with Vice-President Springer as to what action should be taken by that road regarding trans continental passenger rates. It is understood that they agreed on a plan which will either bring the other lines to terms or result in a general reduction of tartifs eastbound from all Pacine Coast points, and especially San Francisco. The first move made will be to test the market and ascertain what tickets are selling at It is said that some of the roads are cutting the rate from $4 to $10 over their own counters in San Francisco and Los Angeles. If such is found to be the case and they persist in keeping up the demoralization, the Santa Fe will then make an open reduction of $10 or $15 a ticket between California and Chicago.

CAR-BUILDING WORKS TRANSFERRED.

Chicago, Sept. 10.-The plant of the old United States Rolling Stock Company, at Hegewisch, Ill., was to-day turned over to the United States Car Company a New-Jersey corporation. Work at the Hegewisch plant, which has been suspended since the failure of the United States Rolling Stock Company over year ago, will be resumed within thirty days, or as soon as the property can be put in good working order. The United States Car Company was put in possession on an order from Judge Gresham. The order permits the receiver, William C. Lane, to lease the plans to the new company for a rental equal to the amount paid in insurance, taxes and interest on certain of the mortgage bonds issued by the old concern. This amount the receiver estimates at $50,000 a year. The order was granted on the petition of the receiver, who claimed that the offer of the United States Car Company was a liberal one, inasmuch as the expenses were eating up the property, which being idle was rapidly decreasing in value. The order was not secured without a protest from the attorneys of the unsecured creditors, who claim that the new deal will freeze them out. They say that the United States Car Company is a concern created by the stock and bondholders of the old company for con-venience, and to freeze out the unsecured creditors

A UNIQUE CAPITALIZATION.

Chleago, Sept. 10 (Special).—It is announced by stockholders of the Chleago Great Western that Chairman Stickney is returning from Europe with all the money desired for additional expenditures. It is not known just what plans of extension are con-templated beyond the Sioux CEy and Omaha lines and the purchase of a suitable Kansas City terminal, but Chairman Stickney writes that he has secured the money he wants. In the reorganization of the Chiengo, St. Paul and Kansas City into the Chicago Great Western he induced all the bondholders to ex-change their security for stock. This puts the road forever beyond the power of a receiver, as the absolute owners will at the same time be the operators. The capitalization is unique in railroad history.
