WOOD AND MR. PARROTT-SOCIAL TOPICS OF INTEREST.

Local society people have had numberless opportunities for enjoyment during the week just passed. Although Easter Monday was a day of severe storm and discomfort, the concert and dance of the Amherst College Glee Club was well at-tended by fashionable people, and the glee, banjo and mandolin selections were received in good favor. The Casino, in which the affair was held, was prettily decorated in the Amherst colors, pur-ple and white. Bunting of these colors was arover the windows, while an immense Japanese umbrella, with Japanese lanterns attached, hung from each of the chandeliers. Greens were also used in the decorations. The patronesses were Charles F. Abbott, Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman, Mrs. Frederic H. Andrews, Mrs. Albert H. Atterbury, Mrs. John T. Baker, Mrs. Irving H. Brown, Mrs. Rowland Cox, Mrs. John B. Dumont, Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, Mrs. Howard O. Fleming, Mrs. Alexander Gilbert, Mrs. George H. Goddard, Mrs. Frank Otis Herring, Mrs. Benjamin A. Hageman, jr., Mrs. Henry Lapsley, Mrs. William E. Lowe, Mrs. J. Parker Mason, Mrs. Samuel McCutcheon, Mrs. James Middledith, Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, Mrs. Joseph Reinhart, Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Mrs. George W. Van Boskerek and Mrs. Daniel T. Van Buren. As soon as the concert was over the seats were removed from the hall and an invitation dance was held. The committee charge consisted of Boardman Tyler and Fred W Goddard. A large number of the young people

Dr. Shannon was called by Prosecutor John S. Voorhees, who conducted the hearing on the part of the complainant. H. B. Cook immediately objected, on the ground that the proceedings were irregular. He was overruled by Judge Woodbridge Strong. Then George S. Silzer objected, contending that the Court had no jurisdiction, and engaged in a heated zer. "and I have a right to so characterize it. It now remains to be seen whether this Court has the nerve to stand by the laws of New-Jersey, or be dictated to. As counsel, I shall advise Dr. Shannon to refuse to make any statement."

Prosecutor Voorhees urged that the lawyer was going beyond his privilege.

"Are we to be gagged, in addition to being bull-dozed?" the lawyer responded. "I don't intend to be stopped. I have rights in this court, and I will stand by them."

Judge Strong repeatedly called Mr. Silzer to order. A. B. Cook interposed the remark that "We can't get justice in this court." Dr. Shannon was finally allowed to go on the stand. He testified that he considered the Mansion House his home, though he had not slept there for four or five months.

"Do you eat at the Mansion House?" asked Mr. Voorhees.

"Yes. I have had several meals there."

"When do you remember eating there?"

"Well, a few evenings ago I had a Weish rabbit there," replied Dr. Shannon. The proprietor testified that Dr. Shannon had no room or bed in the hotel, and was only a transient customer. He said that John Barbour, who also registered from the hotel, had only been there since Monday, and that F. M. Oliver, a brother of Charles Oliver, Democratic candidate for Alderman in the Fourth Ward, had gone security for his board. Mr. Barbour, Mr. Neas testified, would live at the hotel for "some time." Judge Strong reserved decision on the two cases. The other cases will be considered on Monday.

All the members, particularly the officers, are of that class known as "hustiers," and are wheelmen of undoubted ability, and to say that the new club will be a success is superfluous. It is the intention of the club to apply for admission to the L. A. W. and the Associated Cycling Clubs of New-Jersey.

The first club run will be held Sunday, April 20, and all unattached wheelmen are cordially invited to accompany them and are assured a pleasant trip.

What Wilson's scheme was the officials did not learn, but it is presumed he was doing the clerical work for the greengoods gang, and using the jail as his headquarters. The letters were replies to an advertisement inserted in the Sunday edition of a New-York paper, that agents were wanted for a safe, lucrative business at home, without capital. A chance was not afforded him to communicate with the prospective victims or deliver the letters to any of his gang. He received eighty-three letters during the week.

FOUND DYING ON THE CHURCH STEPS.

Orange, April 11 (Special).-Alfranco Brooks, & Memorial Hospital, where he died soon after reaching the place. There were no bruises or other signs of violence on the body, and the man appeared to have died from natural causes. Investigation showed that he had not apparently been drinking. Late this evening County Physician Washington made an autopsy, and found in the stomach a large amount of arsenic, which had evidently been taken with suicidal intent. Brooks was thirty-seven years old, unmarried, and lived with his parents in Peloubet-st. He was a member of Active Hose Company, and of the local lodge of the Knights of Pythias.
