ITALIAN GARMENT SHOPS.

Hideous Conditions Discovered Among Clothing Workers.

The State Factory Inspectors' Bureau, in East Thirty-first-st., is nearly overwhelmed with applications from Italian immigrants for licenses te manufacture clothing. From statistics now being gathered by the inspectors for the annual report of the Commissioner of Labor it would appear that the Italians are driving the Hebrews out of the clothing making business. Elizabeth, Mett and Mulberry sts. have become the banner shop districts in the city, and it is hardly inate to say that the clothing makers in these three short streets are exclusively Italian. The numbers of licenses issued by the State bureau for clothing shops in these streets are approximately as follows: Elizabeth, 1.031; Mott, 822; Mulberry, 630.

Every incoming steamer from Mediterranean ers, who, in two or three days, fairly overwhelm the license bureau with applications for a chance o finish trousers, coats and vests. The factory inspectors are turning in reports of some extraordinary cases of overcrowding.

Miss Anna C. Bannon, chief clerk in the Bureau of Licenses, which is under the direction of Daniel O'Leary, said:

Daniel O'Leary, said:

An Italian came here the other day for a license, and we held up his application until we could investigate his premises. His place was in Elizabeth st., near Broome. He had only two rooms, and in these the inspectors found that there lived four families. There were four husbands and their wives, with about three children to each family. The four families did their cooking over one stove. The license was refused. The Italians are steadily driving the Jews out of the clothing making business on the lower East Side. They seem to be able to live in cheaper rooms and to work longer hours. We are having some trouble with Italians who come and ask for licenses for members of their families. Formerly they used to get them. We found that some of these licenses were being sold by those who secured them. Now only those applicants who apply personally get licenses. Another case of overcrowding was found in Mott-st., where a man, wife and three children worked, ate, slept and cooked in one room 6 by 8 feet. The Commissioner has sent a picture of this room to the main office at Albany.

The Italians are spreading out from their strongholds in the streets named until now they outnumber other nationalities in Oak, Oliver and Roosevelt sts., and it will not be long, at the present progress, until they outnumber the Hebrews in Chrystie, Hester and Monroe sts. Other Italian quarters are growing with equal rapidity. The artificial flower district in Sullivan. Thompson, Macdougal, Varick and Carmine sts., is receiving large accessions every day. So fierce is the competition for a chance to earn a living that artificial violets now are being made at about four cents a gross. Miss Bannon

The artificial flower makers probably have the hardest time of any wage earners in the city. The work at the best is not at all wholesome, and tuberculosis is very prevalent. Our inspectors the other day ran across an Italian family where the father has been eight years in this country. He is thirty-four years old. He worked throughout the eatire six months' season at artificial flower making, and was assisted by his wife and two daughters nine and eleven years old. The four together made from $2$ to $5$ a week, and their total earnings in twenty-six weeks were $104, or an average of $4$ a week. There were also two younger children in the family, twin boys, three years old. There are a few of the old stock Irish families living in Ellzabeth-st, yet. An Irish woman, the widow of a Union war veteran, was in here the other day to get a license. She said that the Italians had become so thick that she could no longer make a living selling wood and coal, and she wanted a license to make clothes. In a few days she came back highly indignant.

"Here's yer license," she said. "Shure the boss only give me seven cints for finishin' a coat, and it tuk me half a day. Divil a bit will I wurruk any more for such wages, an' I'm movin' from Elizabeth-st., where I lived for thirty year."

One of the State inspectors was requested a few days ago to look up a Hebrew clothing maker named Klatz. His license could not be traced, and the office wanted information about him. Yesterday the inspector turned in a re-

"Dear Sir: We can't give you the address of Klatz, which gave us so much trouble by mov-ing, because Klatz is dead."

SYNOD'S WORK COMPLETE.

Reformed Church to Increase Fund for Disabled Ministers.

Asbury Park, N. J., June 10.—Fervent appeals were made to-day to the delegates attending the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America ey to help disabled ministers and their wives. The principal speakers were the Rev. Drs. George S. Bishop and Denis Wortman, both of East Orange, and David James Burrell, of New-York. Dr. Wortman is the financial agent for the Disabled Ministers and Widows' Fund, which is not increasing as rapidly as it is desired. The pernament fund now amounts to more than $77,000. Last year relief was given to eighteen ministers and thirty ministers' widows, the maximum amount allowed being only $180.

The synod, by resolution, insisted that all the churches make annual offerings to the fund, and fixed the amount to be raised at $10,000 for the current year. It also recommended that the permanent fund be increased to $200,000. The suggestion of the committee that the minimum yearly dues for membership in the fund be fixed at $25 and the maximum at $35 was turned over to special committee, composed of experienced elders. who are to devise a new insurance scheme and report to the next General Synod.

Dr. Burrell, in a forceful speech, directed at the elders present, insisted that the Reformed churches were not treating their ministers right. The elders should see to it, and that at once, that the churches pay their university bred ministers a salary at least proportionate to that they could nd in the law or in mercantile pursuits.

"The ministers of the Reformed Church are chosen for their natural equipment, and are bound to be college bred men. In any other vocation or profession the same men would receive three times. their ministerial income. This means that as a body they are free from mercenary motives, finding their stimulation in pure and simple devotion to their work for the work's sake. Put the ministry upon the mere commercial level of skilled mind work or handicraft and you would have a ministerial strike for an increase of wages within wenty-four hours."

Dr. Wortman warned the ministerial delegates that they might soon be asking for an annuity from the fund, since statistics showed that one minister in every eight is liable to become disabled. The tabled resolution enjoining ministers of the Reformed Church not to remarr; divorced persons excepting the innecent party in a diverce obtained on Biblical grounds was taken up to-day, and on motion of the Rev. Dr. James I. Vance, of Newark, was referred to a special committee, with instructions to report to the next General Synod. Dr. Vance said he took this action because he did not believe that a matter of so grave importance should be acted on hastily. President Wells, of Brooklyn, is chairman of this special committee. A resolution submitted by the committee on benevolent associations, denouncing Sunday newspapers and Sunday baseball and golf playing, was adopted, and the work being done by the American Sabbath Union was commended and the churches arged to contribute for the support of the same. Final adjournment of the synod was ordered this afternoon after President Wells delivered a fervent brayer for a spiritual baptism on all the churches, and the Reformed Church in particular. A vote of thanks was given The New-York Tribune for its accurate reports of the proceedings of the General Synod. ark, was referred to a special committee, with in-

Hugh McLaughlin, the veteran leader of the Kings County Democracy, expects to realize about 450,000 from three plots of ground, in Brooklyn, which he has held for more than a generation, and for the sale of which he is in negotiation with the city authorities. # SCENERY NOT MARRED.

George Notman Says Fire Did Not Hurt Keene Valley's Beauty.

George Notman, of Phelps, Dodge & Co., who has just returned from his camp at Keene Valley, in the Adirondacks, said yesterday that the forest fires did not get far enough to burn any of the summer cottages or other buildings in that valley. They did not come nearer than two miles to his own camp. "The rain, which lasted ports brings hundreds of unskilled Italian labor- from midnight on Sunday to 5 o'clock Monday afternoon," said Mr. Notman, "was almost continuous, and it seemed not only to put out the fires pretty effectually, but to make the wood so wet that any more extensive fires are extremely improbable. While a considerable extent of territory was burned over on the ridges near Keene Valley and back of them, I think the valley's beautiful scenery is not hurt. A vast extent of heavy forest is still untouched."

Netman took his family to his camp on Friday and left them there. There were some New-Yorkers waiting at Elizabethtown, afraid word to Mr. Notman, asking if it were safe to proceed, and on his replying that it was they also went to Keene Valley. Mr. Notman emphasized the self-sacrificing way in which the people of the valley fought the fires.

Asked as to the causes of the fires, Mr. Not-man said: "Of course, the excessive drouth made the woods extremely susceptible to fire. The blazes started in a score of places. Lumber-The blazes started in a score of places. Lumbermen or sportsmen may have been careless, the latter especially, with regard to making smudge and leaving it. I am sure the railroads had nothing to do with starting the fires, for there is no railroad within twenty miles of the places where they are said to have started. If I can judge the other fires from those near Keene Valley, I think the accounts of them were somewhat overstated."

NOT ONE BLACK TRACT TO BE SEEN.

Near Elizabethtown Damage Was Slight-Fires Have Been Exaggerated.

Lake Placid, N. Y., June 16 (Special) .- Despite the many sensational reports that have been sent out regarding the extent of the damage done by the recent forest lires, the Adirondack forests remain practically unchanged so far as their charm for summer visitors is concerned. In but one instance did the flames approach near enough to any of the big summer resorts to do any damage, when Adirondack Lodge was burned. Even in that case the reports of the affair were grossly exaggerated, since a resident of this place said to have met his death fighting the flames there actually lost his life through accidentally falling down a flight of stairs in another hotel miles away.

As a matter of fact, with this one exception, neither the Adirondack hotels nor the forests in their vicinity have been touched by fire. Reports from all points show the situation at each to be similar to that here. None of the big hotels have suffered, and the lovers of the woods now returning by each train find no change in the pretty walks, drives and shore nooks where they have passed so many pleasant hours in past seasons.

George L. Brown, Editor and business manager of "The Post and Gazette," Elizabethtown, N. Y., of "The Post and Gazette," Elizabethtown, N. Y., says of the situation there: "In view of the gross misrepresentations which have appeared of late in several New-York daily newspapers concerning Adirondack forest fires, their extent, damage, etc., I desire to make a brief statement—a slight correction. I shall speak of this immediate section, Elizabethtown, or "Pleasant Valley," as it was anciently known. True, we have had forest fires, but our beautiful hillsides have not all been burned over. The scenic beauty observable from this village in years gone by is still here to attract and charm. Looking in any direction from this village one cannot see a single black fire track. Our hills have not been burned over and the foliage hereabouts never looked more fascinating at this season of the year."

abouts never looked more lastmaning at this sta-son of the year."

The fires in the Adirondacks, while extensive, have been confined principally to State lands and the large unsettled tracts. While the loss on timber as been wellnigh beyond estimate, the loss on other property has been nominal.

STORM OUTDOES RAINMAKING.

Terrific Rain Anticipated-Professor Myers with Explosives Ready.

Paul Smith's, N. Y., June 10 (Special).—Professor Carl Myers, the balloonist, had nearly completed the preparations for an attempt to bring rain with explosives at Dr. W. Seward Webb's private park explosives at 101. W. Seward Webb's private park to-day, when a terrific storm passed over the local-ity and rendered his services unnecessary for the time being. There have been storms in many parts of the Adirondacks this afternoon, and if these continue and affect Nehasane Park as well as the other sections Professor Myers's experiments will be postponed indefinitely.

HEAVY RAINS UP STATE.

Lightning Storms and Drenching Rains Put An End to Forest Fires.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 10 (Special).-The heaviest rainstorm so far this season burst upon this sec tion early this afternoon. Drenching showers continue to-night. The storm was ushered in by almost continuous thunder and lightning and a driv-ing wind. The darkness was so dense during the better portion of the afternoon that it was found necessary to resort to artificial lights in dwellings The downpoor was hailed with delight, as it will extinguish what is left of the dangerous and threatening smouldering fires in the highland forests of the Adirondacks, and will refresh vegetation in the foothills.

Glens Falls, N. Y., June 10.-A terrific rain storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning visited this section late this afternoon. Several buildings in town were struck, and the belfry of St. Alphonsus's Church was damaged. A wedding party about to enter the church was delayed for over an hour. During the storm a teamster named Crowe stopped under a tree for shelter. The tree was struck by lightning and the horses knocked down, but the driver was uninjured.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 10.-The heavy downpour of rain which began this afternoon and to-night's showers will effectually subdue the smouldering forest fires in the heavily timbered sections of the Adirondacks.

HEAVY STORM IN PHILADELPHIA.

The city for nearly half an hour was rendered almost as dark as at midan nour was rendered almost as dark as at mid-night, and the storm raged for a full hour, hail accompanying the rain. Nearly two inches of rain fell. The sewers in various sections of the city were flooded, many telegraph wires were prostrated and trolley cars were blocked. The New-York Shipbuilding Company, in Camden, was forced to shut down because of the flooding of its electric plant, and the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks were under water.

Two Cases Were Among Most Favorable of Dr. Lorenz's.

The plaster casts on two of the patients operated on by Dr. Lorenz last December for congenital hip disease at the Hospital of the Society for the Relief of the Ruptured and Crippled, in East Forty-second-st., will be removed in about a week. Sherman H. Leroy, superintendent of the hospital, told a Tribune reporter yesterday that he would send out notices to-day to have the patients brought from their homes to the hospital. They are Adelaide Devereux. seven years old, of No. 334 East Seventy-sixthst., and Josephine Pratt, five years old. of No. 454 West Thirty-seventh-st. The former was admitted to the hospital on December 11, and discharged on January 27, and the latter was admitted on November 28 and discharged on January 28. These were two of the most favorable cases Dr. Lorenz operated on, the superin tendent said.

"The next morning after Dr. Lorenz performed these operations," Mr. Leroy declared, "we performed eleven operations on cases he would not touch. I will not discuss their success, although the percentage of our success with these operations, according to the so-called Lorenz method, is fully as great as Dr. Lorenz's, and he claimed only about 40 per cent. Dr. Whitman has been performing these operations for the last eight years, and Dr. Virgil P. Gibney, the surgeon in chief of this hospital, as well. These operations always are undertaken with a good deal of hesitation. The muscles and sinews have to be torn away. The socket is always partially filled up from growth, the bone is crude, and to go further on account of the fires. They sent | the difficulty is to keep the bone in the socket. In a number of cases after the cast has been removed the bone drops back into its former

> "Since Dr. Lorenz operated here we have per formed about thirty operations, according to the so-called Lorenz method, and of this number the casts have been removed from half. I should say that half a dozen of them may be said to be successful. Most of these patients are in good shape, but it is a question if the bone may not come out of the socket in some of the cases. The children are able to get about with little difficulty, although awkwardly. At the time of the operation the legs are sometimes placed at right angles, and afterward in time are gradually lowered toward a normal position. There is good evidence that there will eventually be a cure in a majority of these

"Last year we operated on nineteen cases, ourteen females and five males, according to the Lorenz method, and that was before Dr. Lorenz was known in this country. Eighteen of the patients were improved and are able to get around. The discussion in the press over Dr. Lorenz's operations has been beneficial in calling the attention of parents to their crippled children, and in bringing the children to the hospitals to be operated on. It also has caused people of means to contribute more largely to

Pleased with the Good Results from Honest Government.

President Tokaji of the German-American League, of Brooklyn, said last night that the sentiment in favor of another fusion ticket was growing steadily stronger among the German Americans of Brooklyn.

"The good results of the last fifteen month of honest government are becoming more and more apparent," said Mr. Tokaji. "The improvements in the streets and parks and the large sums secured for public works in Brooklyn are making real estate more valuable. The rank and file of German-Americans detest the Tammany system of bossism. They do not like everything that has happened in the municipal administration in the last year and a half, but they know honest men from thieves, and they are disposed to vote for the retention of honest men in office."
