JAPANESE DIET OPENED.

Emperor Urges Co-operation to Meet the National Crisis.

Tokio, Nov. 30 .- The Emperor formally opened the second war Diet to-day. He rode through the crowded streets in a state coach, escorted by a troop of lancers and accompanied by the Crown Prince, his staff and some members of the imperial household, to the House of Parwhere both houses were assembled in the Chamber of Representatives. The diplomatic corps and many prominent government officials were present.

The Emperor ascended the dais, from which he read the following address:

We hereby perform the ceremony of opening the Imperial Diet. unce to the members of the House of Peers and to the House of Representatives:
That to our profound delight our relations with all neutral treaty powers are increasingly micable.

That we have directed our ministers of state to submit to you a scheme for meeting the extraordinary expenditure made necessary by the war, together with the Budget, for the thirty-eighth fiscal year of Meiji, besides other projects of law.

That our expeditionary forces have been victorious in every battle, and have repeatedly shown fresh proofs of their lovalty and bravery, so that the progress of the war is increasingly in our advantage.

That we call upon you to discharge your duties by harmonious co-operation, thereby promoting our wishes and ends.

Venezuela Refuses to Pay Cramps for Restaurador Repairs.

Philadelphia, Nov. 30 (Special).-The Tribune correspondent learns upon investigation that there is absolutely no truth I. the published reports that the Venezuelan gunboat Restaurador, which is un-dergoing repairs at the Cramp shipyard, has been sold to Russia. There is, however, an interesting story connected with the long stay which the Restaurador has made at the shipyard. It is that the government of Venezuela has about determined to bandon the vessel rather than pay the balance due to the Cramps for the completion of her repairs.

The Venezuelan engineer sent to superintend the work died in New-York, and the government left the matter in the hands of Captain Sanchez and the consul general in New-York. Now, neither of these men is a practical engineer, and didn't know exactly what needed, leaving the matter, therefore, in the hands of the Cramp naval experts. So the work was begun, Captain Sanchez and his crew enjoying themselves the while in Philadelphia. Three months passed, and yet the gunboat was not ready to return to Venezuela. Six months went by, and necessary repairs were uncompleted. But as the necessary repairs were uncompleted. But as the work continued the Venezuelan government was paying to the Cramps regular instalments as they became due until something like $75,000 had been paid; then President Castro, who is a clever financier as well as a soldier and statesman, decided to call a halt. He would pay not another "sucre," and recalled Captain Sanchez and his men. They sailed from New-York about a week ago, thirty-eight of them all told. As affairs stand now, the Restaurador remains at the Cramp yards, the work on her has been stopped and there is still due for repairs already made about as much again as has been paid. paid.

It should be remembered that President Castro is a man of decision; he has decided not to pay another dollar. Therefore it is difficult to say what will be the fate of the Restaurador.

Dr. Park said:

surd. Dr. Park said:

Aristol is a standard remedy used in the treatment of wounds. It is expensive, but I do not think that it is expensive enough to warrant the production of an imitation, for it would seem to be almost as costly to produce an imitation aristol that would deceive an experienced physician as it would be to make the real article. You can state that this report is all bosh. It is absurd. I know positively of my own knowledge that the aristol which was used in the treatment of President McKinley's wounds was genuine aristol and not an imitation or spurious product.

pastor of the Concord Presbyterian Church, of Carrick, who is a cousin of the busband of Mrs. Chadwick, to-day announced that he had mared Dr. Chadwick to the woman and that the wedding had taken place in Pittsburg eight

I married them at the Hotel Anderson here in February, 1846. Mr. Chadwick and myself were boys together and true friends. It was natural that he should hunt me up when he came to Fittsburg with his bride-elect eight years ago. He wanted me, as his old comrade, to perform the ceremony. I did this at the Hotel Anderson. The marriage was not a public affair, but took place quietly.

I have no doubt whatever that Mrs. Chadwick is entirely innocent of any charges which might be made against her, and I know and believe that she is a thoroughly good woman. I have always heard—and, in fact, I positively know—that Mrs. Chadwick is a very wealthy woman. Her credit is good in any place where she is well known. The Chadwick family also has always been in good repute. Never have I heard a word against the good name of Mrs.
