AT HIGH WATER.

The Flood Plays Many Pranks. Rev. William Alexander Smith, prominent as the author of many works on Oriental Travel, has written an entertaining account of his experience in Kansas during the floods in 1853. He says: "We lived a full mile from the nearest point of the Saline river but when the river overflowed it sent a flood clear into our doorway and we were both our troubles and my feelings neighbors suffering sad experiences both from loss of life and property."

"We-wife and myself—had an experience quite unique in our lives. My wife for years past, and myself as well, had been annoyed, pained and worried so greatly at times by dyspeptic trouble as to take much of the joy of living out of life. "I had seen you so liberally spoken of and we suffered so much from coffee that one day, some months ago, I decided to try some Postum for ourselves. We liked its aroma and taste so we were satisfied from the start and we quit coffee."

"Gradually my digestive organs have grown healthier and stronger, my sick headache left me and both our troubles and my feelings were relieved. "But was this a result of the discontinuance of tea and coffee? "The flood came and found us out of Postum and shut off from all supplies in the village for 8 days. But we got hold of some left over tea and a little coffee and this we used as long as it lasted. This was the only respect in which our meals were different from what we had been using, but a change came over us. My wife thought I had more temper than grace while I, did not seem to appear to be the fully creature she was before flood days. She said she did not rest well and that made her irritable and on my part I suffered from indigestion, however, the night and day that would be caused by the best man to speak unadvisedly with his lips."

"Well, the clouds cleared away, the flood abated, dry land appeared and we made ready to visit the grocery store and my wife suggested that we needed more Postum. To tell the rest in a few words, when Postum came back the domestic atmosphere became more genial, in fact a normal one, our troubles and my feelings disappeared and there can be no doubt they were due to tea and coffee for they quickly yielded when Postum was used in their place."

ARREST CAUSES RIOT.

Mount Vernon Anti-Saloon League Detective's Knee Pinched.

An attempt of the Anti-saloon League's detectives, who are conducting a crusade in Mount Vernon, to gain entrance to Patrick Callan's saloon, at 4th-ave. and 2d-st., at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, caused a small riot, which was not quelled until two calls for police reserves had been sent in. Pistol shots were fired and a detective's knee was pinched. When the police arrived a crowd of two hundred persons had gathered. Callan was arrested by Chief Deputy William C. Dodge, who charges him with assault.

Chief Deputy Dodge and two of his men saw a light burning in the rear room at 2 o'clock. When the proprietor opened it Dodge tried to enter. Callan in closing the door caught Dodge's knee between the door and jam and held him prisoner. The detective cried for help, and his assistants freed their revolvers and blew their whistles. Dodge, reinforced by his assistants, tried again to open the door, while the patrons of the place put their shoulders against it to keep it closed. Dodge's knee was injured and he was taken to the station house in a coach. City Judge Simpson got out of bed and held court. Forth Corporation Counsel Marshall appeared for Callan, who was arraigned at 3 o'clock and admitted to bail until Thursday.

BOSS CANVASMAN HURT.

John Burke, assistant boss canvasser of Barnum & Bailey's Circus, was badly hurt and narrowly escaped death at Madison Square Garden yesterday. While one of the heavy cages was being warped down the runway into the zoological department in the basement the rope gave way and the big den fell down the incline, striking the wall. Burke was handling the pole and was caught between the cage and the wall. He was taken to Bellevue Hospital suffering from a badly mangled arm as well as internal injuries. Burke was the second man injured during the preliminary work of the show. The preceding night "Ed" Adams, a canvasser, was seriously injured at the unloading at Mott Haven, and was sent to the Lincoln Hospital. At Bellevue late last night it was said that Mr. Burke was suffering from a lacerated wound of the arm, but was doing well.

Crushed by Runaway Circus Cage at Madison Square Garden.

In the morning a number of laborers employed to transfer several hundred cartloads of dirt from the street to the hippodrome track refused to work until the rain ceased. An increase in pay only kept them at work another hour, and then they walked off, saying they would return to work as soon as the sun shone. Another force of men had to be obtained. None the less, the work of transforming the Garden into a circus amphitheater went on rapidly. It is expected that by tonight the track will be completed, the three rings and stages laid, the aerial apparatus erected and the framework for the sensational auto-bolide and quadruple chasm looping acts in place. The members of the circus company will report and begin their individual rehearsals this morning. There will be a general rehearsal on Wednesday evening, the night before the opening of the New-York season.

Jersey City Unions to Protest to Court House Commissioners.

The Hudson County Court House Commissioners, having charge of the creation of a new courthouse at Jersey City, on Saturday appointed James Billington, superintendent of construction of the new building, at a salary of $3,000 a year. Mr. Billington is president of the Building Trades Employers' Association, which in January ordered a lockout, and suspended building operations in Hudson County for three weeks. Mr. Billington's appointment is objected to by the Building Trades Union, and at a meeting held yesterday it was decided to send a protest to the Court House Commissioners. Several members of the union said that if the commissioners did not reconsider their action the trades union would probably refuse to work on the new building. Definite action in this regard was postponed until the result of the protest to the commissioners is known.

GRAVE FEARS FOR DR. BABBITT.

No improvement was noted in the condition of the Rev. Dr. Dean Richmond Babbitt, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, Brooklyn, yesterday. The gravest fears are entertained for him. Dr. Babbitt was operated on at St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn, on Friday. The fact that he has not rallied, as the surgeons hoped, shows that his constitution has been weakened, and unless there is some improvement within a few days he cannot recover.

IT WILL KEEP

It is not always necessary to use a whole bottle of Scott's Emulsion. What is left will keep. We have seen a bottle of our Emulsion three years old that is still good. What other preparation of cod liver oil will keep sweet and permanent for half that length of time? Scott's Emulsion is always reliable because it's always absolutely pure.
