

NEW YORK CHURCHES THAT ARE BEING SMOTHERED BY SKYSCRAPERS

Last week's celebration of the 140th anniversary of St. Paul's, in Broadway, brought this feature of modern Gotham into peculiar prominence.

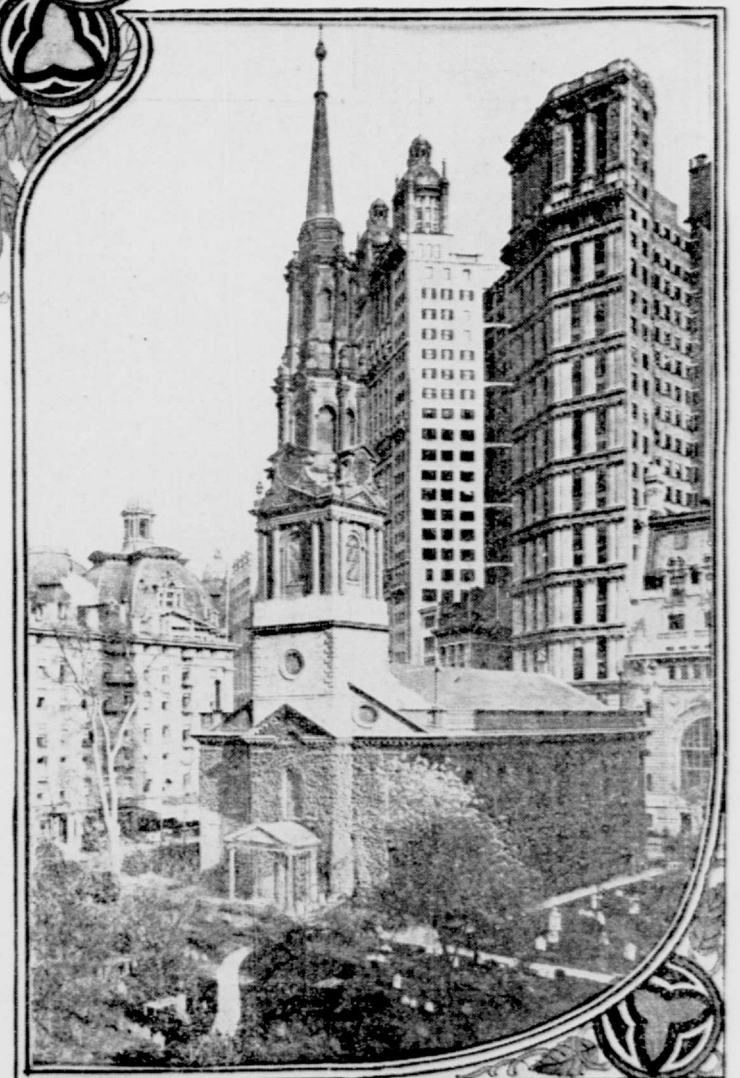

TRINITY CHURCH, IN BROADWAY.
The Empire Building at the left and the new United States Express Building in the rear.

DR. PARKHURST'S CHURCH, IN MADISON AVENUE.
Though brand new, it already has one skyscraper in the rear and another is about to arise on the vacant corner.

AN ANNIVERSARY CONGREGATION IN ST. PAUL'S LAST WEEK.

THE FRONT OF ST. PAUL'S.
She turns her back on vulgar Broadway. The Park Row Building and the St. Paul office building in her rear.
