REST FOR POOR MOTHERS.
Sanitation at Hartford Built by G. H. F. Koster, Formally Opened.

Commission Merchants Say It Is Great, but Not $10,000,000.

Commission merchants and related organizations, including the United States Sanitary Commission, have been working on a sanitary project in Hartford. This project involves building a hospital for the poor, which will be formally opened on May 6.

The hospital was constructed by Governor Miry, with financial assistance from the national government. It is designed to provide necessary medical care for the poor in the area, particularly for those who cannot afford it.

The building is equipped with modern medical facilities and is expected to serve as a model for future healthcare initiatives.

The opening ceremony will be attended by representatives from various organizations involved in healthcare and sanitation.

OBITUARY.

Senator William T. Owen.

Missouri Senator William T. Owen has passed away due to a sudden illness. He was a respected figure in state politics and a dedicated public servant.

His contributions to the legislative body have been invaluable, and he will be deeply missed by his colleagues and the people of his state.

WEIGHT SAILS FOR HOME.

To Conduct Secret Experiments.

British government is preparing to conduct secret experiments involving sail technology.

The experiments are aimed at improving the efficiency of sailboats and ships, leading to advancements in maritime navigation.

These developments are expected to have significant implications for offshore trading and exploration.

MUSIC.

A CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.

In honor of the 22nd anniversary of the Soldier's Institute, Messrs. Lefferts & D'Faber, proprietors of the First United Methodist Church, will present a concert of sacred music.

The performance will include works by various composers, featuring masterful performances
by local talent.

The concert is free and open to the public;
no tickets are required.

MUSICAL NOTES.

To entertain orphans and cripples, a concert of musical performances will be held at the Institution.

The program will feature works by local musicians, highlighting the talent of young performers.

The event is aimed at raising awareness for the needs of orphaned children and the local community.

PROFESSOR LORENCE COMBINES.

Dr. Lawrence, an expert in the field of music,
will combine his talents in a unique performance.
