Grilse Takes Roosevelt Cup-Other Results in Seawanhaka Corinthian Regatta.

Heeling to port in the fresh breeze until her glistening starboard bilge showed clear out of the water, the big sloop yacht Winsome, with her owner, Henry F. Lippitt at her wheel, swept across the finish line off Oyster Bay yesterday the winner in her class by a margin of 41 seconds from the Aurora, and by 2 minutes 3 seconds from the Istalena. The three sloops had covered a thirty-mile triangular course, every mile of which had been keenly contested.

It was the annual regatta of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club, in which twenty-nine yachts started. Many more had entered, but there was half a gale blowing from the southeast when the starting signals were given from Howard C. Smith's steam yacht Repose, at anchor off Mord's Neck, and many of the smaller deses were not able to cross the Sound in time to start.

The Istalena shipped a new bowsprit in place of the one sprung at the Atlantic Yacht Club race on Friday, and this delayed her start and that of the Aurora and the Winsome until 12:35 o'clock. At the signal they got away almost on even terms, with the Istalena slightly in the nakers were set to port at once for the run across the Sound of four and one-half miles to Greenwich Point buoy. there, they had a reach of four and three-quarter miles to Long Neck Point buoy, and a beat from there to the home mark of five and three-quarter miles.

They were timed here at the end of the first round as follows: The Istalena, 2:13:57 the Aurora, 2:14:30; the Winsome, 2:15:00 The Pynchon yacht led by 33 seconds. Her spinnaker was set to starboard this time while the two others kept theirs to port The Winsome gained on this round, and it was in the last leg of windward work that she obtained the lead that gave her the

The finish of these three was exciting They were approaching the line on the port tack. The Winsome had the weather berth, the Istalena was about a dozen lengths on her lee beam, and the Aurora double that distance ahead of the Istalena and off her lee bow. All three had to tack once to fetch the line. The Aurora went about first. Captain Lippitt held the Winsome on the port tack until he met the Aurora, then he put the Winsome about just as she had rossed the other sloop's bow, and came for Cincinnati, Sept. 3.—Pittsburg won an interesting game from Cincinnati to-day by a score of 2 to 0. Adams was in excellent form and allowed only four hits. Two decisions by the umpires during the contest, both of them against Cincinnati, served to excite the crowd to such an extent that the police escorted the umpires from the field after the game. The score

HOME RUNS WIN GAME

Long Hits by Merkle and Doyle Defeat the Phillies.

LARRY MAKES RECORD DRIVE

Lifts Ball Over Fence Into Broad Street, and Sphere Is Never Found.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—Although wet grounds interfered with the first game of a double header scheduled to be played here to-day, the Phillies and Giants met on a muddy battle ground for the second struggle, which resulted in a victory for the visiters. The score was 4 to 2. In spite of the conditions, which threatened to make accurate fielding impossible, both teams played errorless ball.

Otie Crandall and Stack, who were against each other on the mound, were in fine form and allowed few hits. Three of them were home runs, however. Doyle was credited with one of the longer drives ever made at the park. In the sixth inning he lifted the ball over the high right field fence into Broad street, and the sphen has not been found yet. Merkle droppe the ball into the left field bleachers in the second inning, while Magee in the ninta planted it in the same spot for Philadelphia's second run. Larry had something of a field day with the stick, and although Stack allowed only seven hits, three of them were made by the doughty second baseman of the visitors Merkle also showed that he has forgotten nothing of the art of timely hitting, while Crandall scored a run with his single in the Otie was a surprise to the Phillies in nore ways than one, and proved invincible Six hits were garnered off his delivery, and these were more or less scattered. In five innings Crandall retired the home nine in order. He fielded his position well, starting a double play in the sixth inning which nipped a promising rally of the Phillies in The stone wall defence which the visitors presented was impervious to the severest assault which the home nine could make. Bridwell was the star of the infield, making play after play with his usual brilliancy and accuracy, accepting eight chances without an error. Devlin and Doyle, however, were not far behind him in nifty playing: nearly every opposing batsman was forced to pay the price of a pretty clean single in order to get a life on first. After Devore had struck out in the first inning, McGraw took Josh out of the game and sent in Becker, the latter playing left field, while Murray went to right. The change was a good one. Doolin fell by the wayside in the second inning when he attempted to go from first to third on a single. Murray's sharp throw to Devlin caught him for the third out and retired the side just when the Phillies were threatening to pound Crand out of the box. The going under foot did not appeal to

McGraw as he scanned the wet grass when the game started. A close decision game

Grant, Luderus walked and Doolan singled to left. Moran followed with another hit
