Harvard Triumphs, Capturing Coveted Challenge Trophy

Crimson Junior 'Varsity Rows Down Union Eight at Henley.

VICTORY A POPULAR ONE WITH BRITISH

Leander Gives England Some Consolation by Winning Steward's Cup.

[By Cable to The Tribune.]

Henley-on-the-Thames, England, July 4.—The Harvard University junior 'varsity eight-oared crew won the Grand Challenge Cup on the Thames River here to-day.

Harvard led the eight of the Union Boat Club, of Boston, a crew made up of veteran Harvard oarsmen, over the line by a full length and a quarter, after a gruelling, hammer and tongs race all the way down the course. The time was 7 minutes 20 seconds. The record is 6 minutes 51 seconds, made by New College, of Oxford, in 1897.

For the first time in the history of this race, which has been well termed the "Blue Ribbon" of the rowing world, an American crew proved its superiority over the flower of the European and British oarsmen. It is the first time also that a British crew was not on the line to uphold British honor in the final heat. By its victory Harvard's junior eight takes a place with the only other American college crew that ever won at Henley—the Columbia four-oared crew of 1878, which captured the Stewards' Cup in that year.

Harvard won because the men preserved their perfect form throughout the entire race. The Boston men rushed out at the start, jamming the stroke up around forty to the minute, and in 100 yards had a lead of a quarter of a length. At the head of the island, which marks the first furlong, Union was going away, and flashing by the quarter pole was a full half length ahead.

Then the men seemed to go to pieces. The stroke shortened a bit, and although the beat was kept at 36, the shell lost its speed.

Lapped on the quarter, the Harvard crew refused to lose its form or speed. Rowing a long, driving 32 to the minute, the Crimson kept the boat smoothly. Every stroke was a winning stroke, and soon the lead of the club oarsmen was cut down. At the half-mile mark the boats were on absolutely even terms, and, despite the fact that Union rowed full three beats to the minute higher, they could not shake their opponents off.

Shortly beyond the five-eighths mark Harvard poked the stem of their shell a few feet into the lead, but, raising the stroke, the Union crew caught up. It was fight, fight, fight from then on to the three-quarter-mile mark.

Harvard jacked the stroke up two beats to the minute, and, pulling a beautiful 34, took the lead. Slowly at first, inch by inch, the college men went ahead. Union rushed out in another spurt, but this time it gained nothing. They were no doubt stronger, but strength could not hope to prevail against the wonderful form of the Crimson.

Wearing down to the one-mile mark, Harvard shot the stroke up another notch. The effect was instantaneous. Under the full pressure the crew raced off, and what had looked like rowing before now paled in comparison. In a few short strokes the Crimson increased its lead to a full length.

Coming down in front of the grandstand, both crews were fighting desperately, but Union was not up to the task in hand. Harvard raised the stroke again, and, adding another quarter of a length to its lead, swept over the line.

When the race was over Captain Saltonstall, bow oar of the victorious eight, and L. Curtis, the stroke, surrounded by the other members of the crew, received the Grand Challenge Cup from the hands of Lady Hamilton, who made a pretty speech of presentation. Each member of the eight received a gold medal bearing on the face a miniature of the cup, while on the reverse is engraved the date, with room for the name of the victor. The cup, according to the rules of the regatta, must be returned to Henley a month before the next Henley. The name of the Harvard crew, and the date of winning, will be engraved on the base.

The head wind that was blowing had prevented any chance of breaking the record or even of equalling yesterday's excellent time of 7 minutes flat, but it was a fine race to watch.

Harvard's victory was popular, as English oarsmen assert that it is a vindication of the English style, which they say Chanler took from Eton to America.

The only spark of glory for the disconsolate Britons was had in the victory of the Leander four-oared crew in the race for the Steward's Cup. But in this the joy of victory was tempered. The Mayence eight, from Germany, led right down to the one-mile mark, led by a commanding distance, when, to the disappointment of the crowd, the stroke oar quit. Leander paddled home alone.

Guiseppe Sinigaglia, the big Italian sculler, won the Diamond Sculls in commanding style. He defeated C. M. Stuart, of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, in hollow style. Sinigaglia had a close call, however. Soon after the start he was almost upset. Before he straightened out Stuart was well in front, and going well. Soon the Italian caught him. After that there was little to it, for Stuart was completely used up in front of the grandstand and had to be taken into the umpire's boat.

The historic river never made a prayer picture. Not a cloud marked the sky and the sun smiled all day. It seemed as if nature rejoiced at the chance of favoring the regatta after the wretched conditions which prevailed yesterday. It was tropically hot for those who sat at their ease in the gayly decked punts which were banked along the course eight deep.

It seemed as if every American in the country was at the river side when the crews paddled into position for the final heat of the Grand Challenge Cup, and the cheers that went up fairly rent the heavens. American and Harvard flags leaped from nowhere and added a touch of color to the scene that was almost barbaric in its brilliancy. Ambassador Page and his staff were detained in London by the customary Fourth of July reception at the American Embassy.

The Harvard crew entertained the Leander oarsmen to-night, while Union Boat Club entertained the other crews who participated.

Felton, assistant manager of the Harvard crew, announced that Harvard would not row at Hamburg. He explained that winning the Grand Challenge Cup was honor enough for one year.

BROOKES WINS THE ALL COMERS' TITLE

Defeats Wilding in Straight Sets in English Lawn Tennis Classic.

Wimbledon, England, July 4.—Norman E. Brookes, of Australia, won the all-comers' lawn tennis singles championship here to-day, wresting the title from Anthony F. Wilding, of New Zealand, the holder, in three straight sets, at 6—4, 6—4, 7—5.

Mrs. R. Lambert Chambers once more won the ladies' singles lawn tennis championship to-day by beating Mrs. Larcombe, the challenger, 7—5, 6—4.

The defeat of Anthony F. Wilding by Norman E. Brookes in straight sets means that the latter has again attained his highest playing form, for there is doubt whether any other player could have accomplished the feat, provided the great Wilding was himself.

The games score of the match, 6—4, 6—4, 7—5, indicates the closeness of the struggle for the title of the all-comers' singles championship of England. In the absence of any details of the match it must be taken for granted that the two Australians fought desperately through the three sets that the struggle lasted.

While Wilding undoubtedly regrets the loss of his title, he probably is gratified by the thought that his doubles partner, and the man upon whom much of the brunt of the international struggle for the Davis Cup will fall is playing in his best form.

With both Brookes and Wilding in first class playing condition, they will form a combination in the doubles that will be hard to defeat, and in the singles, too, the man who defeats either of the Antipodeans will have to show lawn tennis of the highest calibre.

WHITE SOX MOVE UP

Capture Two Games from Browns and Displace Them.

Chicago, July 4.—Chicago defeated St. Louis twice to-day, shutting out the Browns by a score of 9 to 0 in the afternoon game, after winning the morning game by a score of 4 to 3. Incidentally, Chicago moved ahead of St. Louis in the pennant race.

Ray Demmitt batted Chicago to victory in the morning game. The White Sox were held to five hits. Demmitt made three of them, one of which was a triple.

St. Louis fought hard, and forced Callahan to send three of his best pitchers to the mound to save the game. After the visitors had tied the score in the fifth, Demmitt singled, scoring Berger, who had walked, with the winning run.

The White Sox bunched hits off Mitchell in the fifth, sixth and eighth innings of the afternoon game, Fournier and Demmitt leading the attack. Cicotte pitched in fine form, and had support bordering on the sensational.

Flying Fairy Wins Brookdale Handicap in Record Time

Beats Good Field in Running Best Race of Her Career on Turf.

BIG CROWD ENJOYS SOME LIVELY SPORT

Kederis Set Down for Rough Riding in Great American, Won by Lady Barbary.

By HERBERT.

Flying Fairy, carrying the "red, white and blue thirds" of Captain E. B. Cassatt, won the Brookdale Handicap before ten thousand men and women at Aqueduct yesterday.

Those colors on the "Glorious Fourth" may have served as a "hunch," but the popularity of the game, honest, speedy mare had more to do, no doubt, with the wild shout which went up from the stand as she fought out the finish with H. P. Whitney's Borrow, to win by a full length.

Flying Fairy did more than beat a high class field. She picked up 114 pounds, followed a fast pace set by Meridian, stood off a determined challenge from Borrow, an added starter, in the last sixteenth, and ran the mile and a furlong in the fast time of 1:52, which equalled the track record established by Running Water, under 115 pounds, in 1906.

The performance was the more creditable as the track was still a bit cuppy in spots and hardly as light and fast as earlier in the meeting.

Flying Fairy had qualified previously to rank with the greatest race mares of the American turf, but she convinced the most skeptical yesterday in running perhaps the best race of her three seasons on the turf.

Davies, who knows her every mood and whim, did not make a mistake, and rode her with perfect judgment, while Simon Healy sent her to the post in perfect condition.

Borrow, the giant six-year-old which H. P. Whitney brought back from England last spring, appeared to be most favored in the paddock, but R. F. Carman expressed great confidence in Meridian, "Whitey" Langdon felt sure Charlestonian could win, while Flying Fairy, of course, and Ten Point had a big following.

Meridian suffered from an impetuous ride on the part of Kederis. He carried his field along to the first half in 46 seconds and turned the six furlongs in 1:12 a frightful pace for a mile and a furlong journey. It counted in the stretch, and the son of Broomstick tired so badly that he was all out to earn third money.

Charlestonian, winner of the Withers, conceded one pound to Flying Fairy according to the scale, and suffered nothing in defeat. He was a trailer for five furlongs, but ran up smoothly on the outside of his field around the turn and loomed up as a possible factor for a time. He lost ground, however, by bearing out in the stretch, and lost third money by a neck.

If any evidence was needed that racing had again approached its onetime estate the crowd, bubbling over with enthusiasm, furnished it most conclusively. The grandstand was all too small to accommodate the holiday throng, and even a few women were forced to stand or walk about the lawn.

It was by all odds the biggest crowd of the meeting, and the sport was of a kind to bring out the old roar at practically every finish.

Lady Barbary Wins Stakes.

R. F. Carman's Lady Barbary, an added starter, won the Great American Stakes like a high class filly. She was fortunate in missing a lot of bumping and crowding at the last sixteenth pole which ended any chance The Masquerader had, but might have won in any case as she was running strongly at the finish to capture $1,925, the lion's share of the purse, by two lengths.

Kederis, the jockey, was suspended for the rest of the meeting for the part he played in the rough riding. The

CLABBY WINS ON FOUL

McGoorty Outboxed by Opponent in Furious Bout.

Sydney, N. S. W., July 4.—Jimmy Clabby, of Hammond, Ind., won on a foul over Eddie McGoorty, of Oshkosh, Wis., in the eighth round of a hard fought bout here to-night.

Clabby's work was regarded by the crowd as a remarkable exhibition. Both men fought furiously and mixed it continuously. McGoorty could accomplish little, however, against his adversary's superior skill. He tried repeatedly to land left hooks, but usually was blocked. He was desperate when he committed the foul.

Much interest was shown in the bout and a great crowd attended. The contest was scheduled to go twenty rounds.

CHIP BEATS MURRAY

Knocks Out Westerner in the Fifteenth Round.

San Francisco, July 4. George Chip, of New Castle, Penn., knocked out "Fighting Billy" Murray, of Petaluma, Cal., in the fifteenth round here to-day.

It was Murray's fight until the eleventh round, when Chip planted a hard left on Murray's stomach. After that the tide began to run increasingly toward the Easterner.

TIGERS WIN IN TWELFTH

Wild Throw Keeps Naps from Scoring Double Triumph.

Detroit, July 4.—Detroit saved itself from a double defeat at the hands of Cleveland to-day by scoring a run in the twelfth inning of the afternoon game and winning by a score of 3 to 2. The Naps defeated the Tigers in the morning in a heavy hitting game by a score of 10 to 8.

Steen's throw in the twelfth inning, when he fielded McKee's bunt and threw wild in an attempt to catch Kavanaugh at third base, ended a splendid pitchers' duel this afternoon. Main was a little better than his Nap rival at critical times.

Consecutive hitting gave Detroit two runs in the second. Detroit errors helped Cleveland to one in the sixth and another in the seventh.

In the final inning Kavanaugh beat an infield hit, took second on Burns's single and tallied on Steen's error.

Harriman Trotters First in Two Races

Monroe, N. Y., July 4.—Averell Harriman captured two silver cups with the Arden Farms trotters at the matinee races of the Monroe Driving Club this afternoon, winning with Leonora and Elsie Gentry.

Pierre Lorillard, jr., of Tuxedo, won with his mare Notice B., and also received a silver cup. Many well known society people were in attendance. Mrs. E. H. Harriman was an interested spectator.

TO TRY JURY RIGS ON SHAMROCK

Designer and Skipper Are Well Pleased with Showing of Challenger.

[By Cable to The Tribune.]

London, July 4.—The Shamrock IV returned to-day to Portsmouth Harbor and has taken up moorings off the slip from which she was launched at Gosport, ostensibly to dismast and reduce to a jury rig for the voyage across the Atlantic preliminary to the America's Cup races.

Charles Nicholson, working in close collaboration with Sir Thomas Lipton; Mr. Burton, the Shamrock's amateur sailing master, and Captain Turner will try the boat under varying conditions with as many changes of rig as circumstances permit.

Some of her enormous lead keel has been removed with the idea of getting the best out of the vessel, but it is not yet certain that the tuning-up process has been completed.

Sir Thomas declares in an optimistic tone that he has at last discovered a boat capable of lifting the cup.

Mr. Burton and Captain Turner are equally confident. Nicholson has not said the last word on the matter yet, however, but he very nearly did on Wednesday afternoon, according to a story that has become known.

The Shamrock IV returned to Southampton water and was preparing to moor with the 23-metre namesake and the Erin of Hythe. The designer was speaking to some one when the foreboom swung around and struck him. It swept him off his feet and overboard. The skipper tried to assist him but too late. A great commotion ensued, but there was discipline, however, and a dingy was launched immediately. The pinnace of the ever watchful Erin raced to the rescue and picked Nicholson up none the worse for the accident. His arm was only slightly injured.

The eagerly anticipated time trials to-day only indorsed what was proved in the preliminary sail-stretching experiences on the Solent, that the new Shamrock is a remarkably fast boat which could easily give points to her 23-metre rival, though it was not proved which rig was best adapted to bring out her finest points. The light weather conditions that prevailed made it rather doubtful whether it would be expedient to restore the part of the keel that was removed to enable her to crowd on yet more sail.

The designer left this possibility open. The lead was taken off in plate fashion, in such a way that if it was deemed necessary to restore it the five tons could be replaced by the simple process of bolting.

The avowed intentions are to unship the big mast and prepare for the voyage across two or three weeks hence, and to engage in no further trials. The tests that have taken place were unmarked by the slightest mishap except for the accident to Nicholson.

Sir Thomas is believed to have a good sporting chance if nothing more when he finally tries conclusions off Sandy Hook.

AMERICANS SHINE ON ENGLISH TRACKS

W. M. Oler, Jr., and Homer Baker Win High Jump and Half-Mile Events.

W. F. POTTER BATTLES GAMELY IN HURDLES

Colors of the New York Athletic Club Wave in Triumph at Stamford Bridge.

London, July 4.—W. M. Oler, jr., and Homer Baker carried the colors of the New York Athletic Club to victory today in the high jump and the half-mile race, respectively, at Stamford bridge and wrested the championship titles from their British holders.

Baker won by two yards in 1 minute 54 2-5 seconds, only two-fifths of a second slower than the British amateur record.

W. F. Potter, of Yale University and the New York Athletic Club, also made a splendid bid for the 120-yard hurdle race. He won his heat easily, but in the final lost to the British title holder, G. H. Gray, of the Salford Harriers, by only two feet. James I. Wendell, of the New York Athletic Club, did not start.

Oler, with a magnificent effort in his last try, took the high jump title from B. H. Baker, of Liverpool. Both cleared 6 feet 2 inches. Then the Englishman failed thrice at 6 feet 2½ inches. The American failed twice at that height before he successfully negotiated it and won the title.

W. R. Applegarth, of the Polytechnic Harriers, in addition to retaining his title for the 100 yards took that for the 220-yard sprint, which he did in 21 1-5 seconds, equalling the record. C. W. Taylor, of the Surrey A. C., was second, and W. H. A. d'Arcy, of the Polytechnic Harriers, third.

J. C. Patterson, of the University of Pennsylvania, ran in one of the preliminary heats of the 100 yards in 10 seconds flat, but was later beaten by W. H. A. d'Arcy, of the Polytechnic Harriers, in the same time.

C. N. Seedhouse, of the Blackheath Harriers, won the quarter-mile run, his time being 50 seconds. A. P. Mitchell, of London University, was second, and Homer Baker, of the New York Athletic Club, third.

P. C. Kingsford, of the London Athletic Club, won the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet 3¾ inches. J. F. Simons, of Princeton University, was unplaced.

The championships comprised nineteen events. Three of these—the four-mile run, shot-put and discus throw—were decided yesterday, as well as most of the eliminating heats of to-day's contests. They included the 100, 220, 440, 880 and mile races, two-mile walk, mile relay, 120 and 440 yard hurdles, two-mile steeplechase, high and broad jumps; hop, step and jump; pole vault, throwing the hammer and throwing the javelin.

The entries totalled about 240.

Pennsylvania's time was 6:51.

The Detroit Boat Club finished third, the New York A. C. fourth, the Vesper B. C., of this city, fifth, and the Ariels, of Baltimore, last.

Philadelphia oarsmen won eleven of the fifteen races. The New York A. C. eight won the intermediate eight-oared shell race from the Vesper B. C., the latter being disqualified.

The Anacostia B. C., of Washington, finished first in the junior eight-oared race, but was disqualified for interference in the last quarter mile, when the coxswain steered into the course of the Undine B. C., of this city.

The New York A. C. also won the intermediate sculls quadruple race, beating out the Quaker City B. C.

Thomas J. Rooney, of the Ravenswood B. C., Long Island City, won the senior sculls race. John B. Kelly, of the Vespers, gave Rooney a hard battle for seven-eighths of a mile, when he touched sculls with his rival and fell overboard.

Leo Scharfe, of the Arundel B. C., Baltimore, won the junior singles sculls race.
