

Sportsman's Goods.

Sportsman's Goods.

Sportsman's Goods.

Sportsman's Goods.

Sportsman's Goods.

Sportsman's Goods.

Sportsman's Goods.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

For All Who Want or Hope to Own a Bicycle.

"The blood is the life." How to make and keep it pure is the daily endeavor of thousands. Add to good blood brown and muscle, then we have the perfect physical man...

"THEY WHO WALK MAY RIDE."

VICTOR SAFETY.

Messrs. A. G. Spalding & Bros. offer 100 Victor Safety Bicycles and 100 Credenda Bicycles on the easy-payment plan.

The machines are all new and perfect, and the offer is made for the express benefit of those of moderate means.

The machines offered require no introduction to the public. Both are well known, both have been fully tested, both have excellent records, both are thoroughly warranted.

This offer is the most liberal in the history of Bicycle Manufacturing. Messrs. Spalding & Bros. accept a small payment on either of the above-mentioned machines, deliver the bicycle, and allow you a year in which to pay the balance.

A bicycle with all modern improvements at a cost of not more than 39 cents per day is something that every one will appreciate.

The two hundred machines are for sale on the above terms at 241 Broadway. It is hardly necessary to advise an early purchase.

100 Victors at 39 cents per day. 100 Credendas at 26 cents per day.

SIMPLY THE COST OF A GOOD CIGAR!

Bicycle Sundries AT POPULAR PRICES. Bells, Horns, Lamps, Enamel, Oils, Lock and Chain, Bicycle Stands, Cycle Brush, Cyclometers, Wrenches, Uniforms, Luggage Carriers, &c.

CREDENDA SAFETY.

A. G. SPALDING & BROS., 241 Broadway, New York.

GENEROUS OFFER. A Rare Opportunity to Secure and Own Your Bicycle on Easy Payments.

It need not be told again that the Victor "makes the pace," or that the Credenda is "good as gold." Every wheelman affirms that fact, whether riding one of these popular wheels or some other make.

The Victor Bicycles are of the very highest grade. The very best material is used in their construction, and they are turned out from the best equipped bicycle factory in the world.

The Credenda Bicycle is not as high grade a wheel as the Victor. They do not belong to the same class. But the Credenda is a good bicycle. The improved 1892 model is superior in every particular to the model of 1891, from the groundwork up.

While some people can afford to pay 39 cents per day, everybody cannot. It is to meet this class of "Everybodies" that Messrs. A. G. Spalding & Bros. conclude to offer 100 Credenda bicycles on the very easy payment of 26 cents per day.

CORBETT'S SEASIDE EXERCISE

HOW THE CALIFORNIAN IS PREPARING FOR HIS FIGHT WITH SULLIVAN.

Looking in the Pink of Condition, with the Hardest Part of the Work Yet to Come - If Sullivan Doesn't Beat Me in Twenty Minutes, He Will Never Win. Said Corbett - Will Start for the Battle Ground on Sept. 8.

While the Hercules of the prize ring is endeavoring to remove from human gaze the layers of fat that cushion his bones, at Shinnecock Bay, the Adonis of the squared circle is also preparing himself for the great battle of Sept. 8 which will occur on Sept. 7. The prime object of Sullivan and his trainer is to wear off pounds of surplus flesh, while Corbett is intent only in keeping himself in a condition of health and strength. The methods of the two fighters are almost identical, but the objects sought are different.

TRAINER BILLY DELANEY.

SPARRING PARTNER JIM DALY.

bett, and the one now in use was presented to him by the Olympic Athletic Club of San Francisco. Corbett claims superiority for the bag by reason that a very hard blow is required to send it to the ceiling, and it returns with a velocity and force which makes it necessary for the puncher to keep on the alert and brace himself.

mook on the pleasant veranda, the muffled roar of the surf falls upon his drowsy ears like the applause of thousands, and he half faints as he is sleeping into the ring to meet the strong boy. This illusion is usually dissipated by the voice of his trainer requesting him to join in a little spin down the road for the purpose of getting up an appetite. Then he awakes to a realization of the fact that time has not been called for the chief event of his pugilistic career, and patiently resumes the routine of his preparatory work.

CORBETT SITS FOR A PROFILE SKETCH.

from the ocean continually rustle the leaves of the mulberry trees and keep down the temperature of the massive pugilist. Corbett's surroundings are somewhat more aristocratic. He occupies an ornamental cottage on the seashore at Asbury Park.

ocean side. It is very well constructed, and not only affords splendid exercise, but also unlimited sport. Corbett naturally does not indulge every day in all the features noted, but varies them. He does all his indoor work in the morning and walks during the afternoon, which is directly opposite to the system employed by Sullivan, who walks in the morning and takes his gymnastic exercise in the afternoon.

PULLING FOR MUSCLE.

throwing open of the gymnasium door, and the appearance of the tall figure of Corbett was the signal to about 200 persons in that neighborhood to start for the training ground.

CORBETT AT THE WRIST MACHINE.

heads. Included in the throng that watched the pugilist at work were half a dozen ladies, who took great interest in the proceedings.

THAT COMFORTABLE HAMMOCK.

the last few months. There is one thing quite certain, and that is, that barring accident, Jim Corbett will enter the ring on Sept. 7 next in shape to battle for his existence.

THE PECULIAR PUNCHING BAG.

ness at a time when he desired to be wide awake. Corbett does not believe in surfing his bag, as he thinks its effect is weakening.

THE EX-BANK CLERK'S CHIROGRAPHY.

W. A. Brady, Corbett's manager, said: "We do not claim that Corbett will knock Sullivan off the earth, but we insist we have an even chance. Here is Corbett, 25 years old, a born athlete in the nick of condition, and whose sparring is so good that he has never been hit in the face."

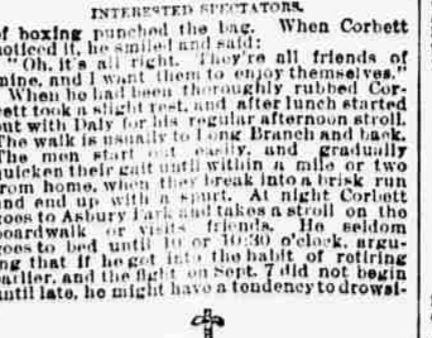

SEE.

an hour. The next thing on the programme was the wrist machine, which Corbett twisted up till the hands of the spectators ached through sympathy.

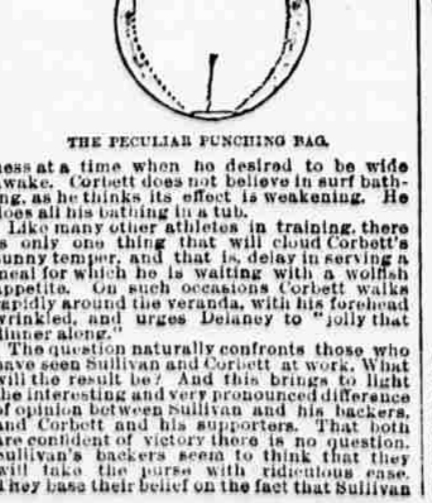

INTERESTED SPECTATORS.

of boxing punched the bag. When Corbett noticed it, he smiled and said: "Oh, it is all right. I've got all friends of mine, and I want them to enjoy themselves."

INTERIOR OF THE GYMNASIUM.

was no heavy slugging. Corbett showed his ability to keep his man on the jump.

INTERIOR OF THE GYMNASIUM.

is now in good health and strength, and seems certain to train into good condition. They hold that when the champion is in form no man can withstand his rushes. Sullivan has said that he will whip Corbett in twenty minutes, and that it is unnecessary for him to train very hard for the meeting.

STOPPED TRAINING TO READ A LETTER FROM AN OLD FRIEND.

A CORNER OF THE GYMNASIUM.

vent any ill effects as a result of the change of climate.

INTERIOR OF THE GYMNASIUM.

Sullivan easily whipped Kilrain, and Jackson will beat Kilrain. Corbett was a match for Kilrain. Sullivan is credited with the assertion that he would never fight a negro. He must have changed his views, since the trip took after his first victory over Paddy Ryan.

INTERIOR OF THE GYMNASIUM.

When asked what time he should start for New York, Mr. Brady replied: "We shall leave the station at Interlaken on Sept. 3 in a special train. Whether the journey will be made in one continuous trip or with stops has not yet been decided upon. We shall take sufficient food and water along to last a week, and use every precaution to pre-ship. The Californian was a clerk in the Nevada National Bank of San Francisco for six years, and he writes a round, shrewdly business letter as the accompanying document shows.

INTERIOR OF THE GYMNASIUM.

INTERIOR OF THE GYMNASIUM.