

GOSSIP OF THE HORSES.

THE CODES COMMITTEE TO REPORT THIS WEEK ON THE GRAY BILL.

The horse racing and betting industry in New York at the stake. A concerted action among followers of the thoroughbred and the trotting horse means success.

Turfmen throughout the State breathed more freely yesterday than they have for a week past, and there was an expression of general relief when it was announced that the New York State Trotting Board had practically agreed not to back the Legislature to interject a licensing clause into the Gray Bill.

Something definite should be known about the Gray bill this week, and it will be well to wait the report of the Codes Committee.

At that meeting the members of the Codes Committee were divided into two factions, the one favoring the Gray bill and the other the Trotting Board.

The Trotting Board is not in a position to be able to back the Legislature in interjecting a licensing clause into the Gray Bill.
