The Right to Refuse to Marry.

Believing in the recent marriage of the Rev. Dr. Francis J. Connolly, of St. Mary's Church, I would like to express my opinion on the subject. The marriage of a clergyman is a matter of the utmost importance to the welfare of the church and society at large. In my opinion, the right to refuse to marry is a fundamental principle of the Church, and it should be respected by all its members. The recent marriage of the Rev. Dr. Connolly has caused much discussion in the city of New York, and I believe that it is important that the Church should take a stand on this issue. The Church should not be afraid to express its views on matters of this kind, and it should be ready to support its members in the performance of their duties. The recent marriage of the Rev. Dr. Connolly has caused much discussion in the city of New York, and I believe that it is important that the Church should take a stand on this issue. The Church should not be afraid to express its views on matters of this kind, and it should be ready to support its members in the performance of their duties.