Attempts to Convince Europe That the Responsibility for Any Crists Rests on the Mikado's Government-Official Declarations Must He Awaited.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Dec. 12.-European opinion as regards the situation in the Far East has fluctuated all the week between the belief in war and peace. As to actual knowledge of affairs between Japan and Russia, outside the Cabinets of Tokio and St. Petersburg, there is none. It has become abundantly evident that no reliance whatever can be placed on anything emanating from a Russian source, unless, indeed, it shall take the form of an official declaration. This is not forthcoming, and until it is vouchsafed the world may as well possess itself in patience.

Those who enjoy the analysis of the motives of diplomatic moves are still studying Russia's attempts to produce certain effects through the medium of the foreign press Thus, despatches were sent out twice within the week, the first through Paris and the second through the medium of a news agency despatch from St. Petersburg, containing the most peaceful announcements, which seemed to foretell a prompt adjustment of the difficulties upon terms more or less agreeable to Russia.

These despatches, while undoubtedly sincere on the part of their writers, have been received with cynical incredulity by those who are acquainted with Russian diplomatic methods. They have been followed to-day by the following telegram, which the Russian censor kindly allowed the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Cologne Gazette to send to his paper:

"Whether peace in the Far Fast is to be assured for any length of time depends largely upon Japan. It is stated in well informed Russain circles that certain demands made by Japan in the form in which they are laid down cannot be admitted by Russia Much speculation prevails here as to whether the Japanese Government will prove to be sufficiently strong, despite the Russian concessions already made and Russia's anxiety to avoid war, to resist successfully the popular cry for a trial of strength with Russia.

This despatch is much more significant than the confident assertion that peace is requirements. Previously the rule as to assured, which was made by an unsuspicious correspondent and cabled to America earlier in the week. It implies, at least, the unhappy fact that no agreement between the two countries has as yet been reached, and also a doubt as to whether such a fortunate result is possible. Moreover, it indicates Russia's desire to throw the onus of the responsibility on her op-

Here the hand of the Czar seems to be discernible. It is an accepted fact of the situation that war is impossible unless the Russian war party is able to convince the Emperor that he must fight in defence of his country's inalievable rights. There the matter rests until Russia sees fit to make known her decision.

There is considerable evidence that the influence of the war party in shaping the Russian policy has been greatly diminished recently. The difficulty is that the country is so far committed to a certain course, especially in Manchuria, that it will be extremely embarrassing to withdraw, no matter how much she may regret her original policy and the great sacrifices that must be made both in past expenditure and present prestige. It is this grave problem, so say the friends of Russia, which is delaying her reply to Japan. In the meantime the danger of war from spontaneous combustion, so to speak, in Completion of the Cape to Cairo Railroad Now in Sight.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN London, Dec. 12.-The first part of Cecil Rhodes's "dream" should within the next three months be accomplished by the empletion of direct railway connection between Cape Town and Victoria Falls. The rail head is already within sixty miles of the Zambesi, and the intervening country does not present any serious engineering difficulties

Beyond Zambesi lies an extensive area which is believed to be exceptionally rich in minerals, especially copper. The rail head will be advanced thither with all despatch. It is also believed that within three months the Wankie coal fields, south of the Zambesi, will be sufficiently developed to supply the line with high class fuel, and will thus obviate the use of wood.

GERMANS SURPRISE OXFORD. Men Who Won Rhodes Scholarships Speak English Fluently.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN LONDON, Dec. 12.-The undergraduates of Oxford University during the six weeks term which has just elapsed have been taking stock of the first installment of Cecil Rhodes scholars who are now in residence there. The most notable feature is the ease with which the latter have adapted themselves to the new conditions.

The Germans, though they have never been in the country before, speak English fluently. They are a sample of the possibilities at Oxford. According to their individual tastes, several have taken up rowing, and one or two football and golf. All study hard. Several of them intend to take English and German degrees at the LONDON BARMAIDS AROUSED. Protest Against Attempt to Drive Then Out of Business.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN Lendon, Dec. 12 .- The action of the licensing committee of the London County Council in declaring that they would like to see the employment of barmaids in places of amusement under their authority abolished, has aroused these young women, of whom there are 8,000 in London, to start an agitation against the deprivation of their means of making a living.

They point out that the action of the Magistrates of Glasgow in compelling the licensee to employ barmen instead of barmaids has sent many of the latter to the south and has increased the competition 1 W 1 1 1 1

Minister Squiers Again Leaves Havana.

MOORE FIGHTS WIFE'S SUIT.

Denies That He Hones to Wind Clocks, Uses Drugs and Is a Woman's Slave. Henry G. Moore, whose divorced wife, Gertrude L. Moore, recently began proeedings in the Supreme Court to have him declared incompetent and to have a committee appointed to look after his person and property, intends to oppose her action. He is a son of Andrew M. Moore of Philadelphia, who died in 1900, leaving an estate valued at nearly $3,000,000, most of it made in the wholesale liquor business and by subsequent speculations.

Henry G. Moore is 53 years old. He was educated in a Quaker school in Philadelphia. Under his father's will he became phia. Under his father's will he became entitled to an income from a trust fund. Mrs. Moore, whom he married about twenty years ago, obtained a divorce from him in Philadelphia on the ground of abandonment, with alimony at the rate of $4.000 a year. He says that he was then receiving an income of but $200 a month, and he has since been contesting both the decree and the alimony and intends to carry his fight up to the United States Supreme Court if necessary. The wife has obtained a judgment against him for nonpayment of alimony.

if necessary. The wife has obtained a judgment against him for nonpayment of alimony.

Moore denies all the allegations of his wife, including that which accuses him of being completely dominated by a woman, known variously as Anna Deegan or Anna Belmont, with whom he is said to be now living. He also denies that he is possessed of an irresistible desire to wind clocks. He says that Mrs. Moore is well to do, being the owner of a large drug business in Boston, and that he has repeatedly paid judgments, amounting in all to $50,000, obtained against her by creditors. He says that his wife has consistently annoyed him, and that he represent proceedings are merely one more step in the persecution by which she drove him from Philadelphia. He denies that he uses narcotics or other drugs,

As to his daughter, Lila C. Moore, who attested to her mcther's allegations, Moore says that she was sent to the Convent Villa Marie at West Chester, but that she ran away from there and that he has no idea of her present domicile. He adds that she receives a regular monthly income under his father's will, and that when she comes of age she will receive $10,000 in cash. Howe & Hummel are his counsel.

HARVARD ENTRANCE CHANGE. New Rule Established About Accepting

Candidates From Other Colleges. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 12.—The annual catalogue of Harvard University, which is soon to be issued, will contain a change of considerable importance in the rules regarding admission from other colleges and some minor changes in the admission admission from other colleges has been: "Graduates of other colleges and students who have completed creditably the work of the first two years at other colleges may be admitted without examination and assigned to those classes for which their previous training seems to qualify them. Every case is decided on its own merits, Every case is decided on its own merits, but students from other colleges are not admitted ad eundem without examination."

The new statement will provide that a student who has completed the work of one year or more at another college may be admitted to Harvard without examination, but for his first year of residence as a special student only. At the end of his year as a special student he may be transferred to regular standing in whatever class he is thought fitted to enter, judging from his work at Harvard together with his work elsewhere.

from his work at Harvard together with his work elsewhere.

The object of the new rule is to give the authorities at Harvard a better chance to gauge a student's abilities on something more than evidence of previous work and to make a more equitable adjustment between the various colleges where students seek advanced standing here.

The principal change in admission requirements is the addition of music and counterpoint to the list of optional studies.

quirements is the addition of music and counterpoint to the list of optional studies, which has already been announced. Some change will be made in the examinations in Latin, consisting mostly of the substitution of certain prescribed passages announced for previous study for sight translation. The change will not affect candidates for admission until a year from next June.

RHODES'S DREAM TO COME TRUE DEWEY, THE TRAINMEN'S DOG. A Bright Fox Terrier Who Takes a Daily Ride on the New Haven Road.

GREENWICH, Conn., Dec. 12.-Dewey, the New Haven trainmen's pet, was in Greenwich yesterday. The tag fastened to his collar read: "Dewey, Free Pass, Rye Station, N. Y."

Dewey is a small white fox terrier, with a black spot on his back, and he is never contented unless travelling on a railroad train. He is good natured, wags his tail at almost everybody, but if one tries to take him by force from a railroad station or depot there is trouble. Dewey travels from New York to Springfield some days, but always fetches up at his home in Rye when night comes. He watches for an approaching train, and when it stops he is at the door of the express car barking for admittance.

Trainmen put him aboard and he plays about for a while, sometimes stretching himself in a corner for a nap, and, when he gets ready, barks to get off at some himself in a come for a lap, and, when he gets ready, barks to get off at some station. Then he runs around to the station on the other side of the track and awaits a train going in the opposite direction. He appears to know just which way the train is going, and always takes the one in the direction of home at night. The dog is now known by many of the regular passengers on the New Haven Railroad and receives a good deal of attention from them. Adams Express Agent Grant of Port Chester has owned the dog since he was a puppy, and says that his fondness for railroad travel is probably due to the fact that every day for a long time he would bring the dog on the train with him from Ryeto Port Chester. The other day Dewey missed a train in Greenwich. He ran for it, but it got away from him, and he returned to the station to wait for the next a crestfallen looking dog. It wouldn't do a crestfallen looking dog. It wouldn't do for any one to be seen ill treating Dewey in the presence of the trainmen.

SHOWS LOVE FOR THE KAISER.

BERLIN GIVES THE RECOVERED EMPEROR AN OVATION.

Returns to the Capital and Goes to the Theatre-Attempts to Put Down Rumors That the Gravity of His Illness Has Been Hidden-Statements en Cancer.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. Berlin, Dec. 12.-Emperor William and the Empress returned here from Potsdam to-day. They received a great popular ovation. The Kaiser to-night witnessed the performance of the comedy "Im Bunten Rock." This is the first time he has attended the theatre since his illness. LONDON, Dec. 12.-Reports during the past week as to the condition of the Kaiser's throat have been, as from the first, most contradictory. Despite the universally reassuring information issued from specialists and official sources, the belief still lingers that the real truth is being veiled. Every effort, therefore, is being made to dispel this pessimism. The medical world of Germany unanimously declares that the growth is benign and not cancerous and that the Kaiser's condition need not give rise to apprehensions of any kind. The following is one of the many reassuring statements officially authorized "Although the Kaiser still speaks in a whisper his general health and bearing do not betray the slightest symptom of a sick person. His spirits are excellent. He will proceed south in January for a brief sojourn in a more temperate climate. All engagements for that month, including the opening of Brasse's English church in Berlin, in memory of Queen Victoria and the Empress Frederick, have been cancelled, but he is expected to return to Potsdam in Februrary." With the object of supporting the official statements Dr. von Hausemann, the most eminent pathological member of the cancer research committee of Germany, has just published in a manner that can be easily understood by a lay reader a paper entitled "The Anatomy of Polypi Larynx," in which he establishes the point that cancer is not hereditary. He declares that a widespread and exaggerated fear of cancer prevails among medical men and the general public. Dr. von Hausemann lays stress on the point that no fact has been established proving the parasitic etiology of cancer, therein agreeing with the opinion of Prof. C. F. Marshall, which was recently cabled to THE SUN. Prof. Marshall's views were supported by Dr. Henry Morris, F. R. C. S., M. A., chairman of the cancer investigating committee, in a lecture this week before the Royal Surgeons.

FRYE CALLED IN WOOD CASE. Leaves Cuba for Washington-His Views of Cuba's Government. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, Dec. 12.-Alex E. Frye, the ormer Superintendent of Schools here, left to-day for Washington by way of Tampa. He is to appear before the Senate committee and testify in regard to Gen. Wood's conduct of affairs while Military Governor. Mr. Frye speaks very highly of the administration of affairs in the island now. He says he has never seen a better system of financial affairs than is in vogue here. It has improved wonderfully since May, 1902. In regard to the school system he says it does not seem to have received the attention it needs. The teachers have been very anxious to improve themselves and have TARKINGTON AS A REFORMER. Indiana Writer Willing to Stay in Politics to Help Save the Nation.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 12.-Booth Tarkington, the Indiana author and politician, upon his return from his trip abroad will again actively enter politics. Mr. Tarkington, by letter, has informed his Indiana friends of his intention, but has left them in ignorance as to his political ambitions and aspirations. To one correspondent he unburdened himself at length, declaring that the country at large is in need of the service of honest citizens who have no selfish ends to serve and no special axes to grind. In other words, Mr. Tarkington asserted that the political situation needed reformation, and that he, for one, would undertake his part.

It has been quietly passed about in Republican circles in Indianapolis that Mr. Tarkington desires to be reelected to the Indiana Legislature, not as a Representative, but this time as a Senator. Privately he has long expressed a desire to become Governor of Indiana, or, in lieu of obtaining this office, which he regards as an exceptionally high one, he would, of course, be willing to represent the State in the United States Senate.

"I shall use all my ability," Mr. Tarkington is said to have written, "in an effort to open the eyes of the people to the great amount of graft creeping into every form of our Government. It is time the awakening came and the remedy was offered. The problem to me is a serious one, and merits, and merits is merit the most heroic treatment."

Merchants Boost Prices in an Endeavor to Increase Their Incomes From Small Sales-London County Council to Establish Relief Works for the Poor.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
LONDON, Dec. 12.—Families which are now searching the great stores in the West End of London for Christmas presents find that everything is costly beyond precedent. ness has been slow for such a long time that they must get money and therefore they are raising the prices.

Business has not been affected by the weather, but shares the depression which is ascribed mostly to the Stock Exchange and the prolonged effects of the war in South Africa. The head of a Regent street department store said: "The Stock Exchange is the best barometer we have When money is tight the people spend less in luxuries. There is a scarcity of money and the people are enconomizing all they

The railways to all the holiday resorts report that the year has been a bad one for passenger traffic. The Brighton line, which is about the most popular, shows a shrinkage of over £5,000 a week in the receipts as compared with those of a year

The effect of the bad times extends to the humblest ranks of industry. The prospects for the winter are particularly bad in the building world and the riverside and shipping business. The London County Council is trying to find how to establish relief works and also to see how London's unemployed may be fitted for agriculture in the thinly populated tracts of Essex. The problem has not been made easier by the convincing proof that a large percentage of the unemployed are chronic beggars. Some clergymen in the East End of London disributed tickets for hot meat suppers to deserving men. One of them decided that a man should earn his supper by working for a quarter of an hour at chopping wood in the garden of the rectory. The result was that only eight sat down to the supper. The coal wharves need men and are working shorthanded. A dollar a day is offered for unskilled laborers, but the places are not sought.

The chronic congestion in the ranks of the lowest unskilled labor has accentuated the anti-alien sentiment in the East End so that the Government has promised to introduce some legislation at the beginning of the next session.

Electric Railway Company in the Hands of a Receiver. SYRACUSE, Dec. 12.- Upon application of the directors this morning, the Syracuse, Lakeside and Baldwinsville Flectric Railway Company went into bankruptcy, and William B. Rock well was appointed receiver. William B. Rockwell was appointed receiver. The road has a floating indebtedness of $135,000, and has been unable to pay the interest on its bonds. The immediate cause of the receivership is the action brought ten days ago by Lieut.-Gov. William M. Brown of New Castle, Pa., to recover interest on $25,000 worth of bonds. If he had obtained independ as it was certain be would tained judgment, as it was certain he would do, he could have brought suit to throw the road into a receiver's hands. To forestall this the directors decided to go into voluntary dissolution. Mr. Rockwell, the receiver, is general manager of the road.

TORE UP SUBURBAN TRACKS. itizens of Austin, Near Chicago, S Form a "Removal Club."

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 12.-Armed with pickaxes, shovels and crowbars, 150 citizens of Austin, a suburb of Chicago, last night ore up nearly a mile of street car tracks belonging to the Suburban Railroad Company, owned by Charles T. Yerkes. The removal of the traction company's property was so speedy that all the work was completed before the police heard of it. The unexpected action of the residents of the western suburb was taken as a reof the western suburb was taken as a result of a decision rendered yesterday by Judge Honore in the Circuit Court. The injunction which the street car company had taken out about a year ago restraining the city of Chicago from interfering with its tracks was dissolved, and the decision gave the citizens of Austin a victory. The news spread like wildfire through the length and breadth of the suburb and a secret meeting was decided on. Telea secret meeting was decided on. Tele-phones were not even trusted and boys phones were not even trusted and boys mounted on ponies went from one house to another notifying the citizens that the "Removal Club" was to hold a mass meeting in the rear of W. E. Golden's drug store. That was sufficient. Each man knew what it meant and before leaving his house armed himself with the necessary implements.

The work was done in quick time. IMPERIAL FAVOR TO CANADA. Dominion May Name One of Its Own Men for Head of the Militia.

OTTAWA, Dec. 12 .- The Imperial Govern ment has agreed to an extension of Canada's powers of autonomy. It has consented that Canada shall, if she chooses to do so, appoint a Canadian to take command of the militia of the Dominion. This intelligence came to-day in a cable despatch to the Prime Minister from Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of the Militia, who is at present in London, having been called to England to discuss with the Secretary of State for the Colonies and the Secretary of State for War the provisions of the bill to amend the Militia act, which Sir Frederick submitted to the House of Commons at the recent

As the law now stands none but an officer of the imperial army may hold the command of the Canadian troops. It was feit that with a Canadian thoroughly in touch with Canadian conditions and sentiment in the office there could not be a recurrence of the friction which has accompanied the regimes of some Generals from England. Other provisions of the bill do away with the regulations under which imperial officers serving in Canada of the same rank the regulations under which imperial offi-cers serving in Canada of the same rank as Canadians take precedence over the latter. The bill also enables the Dominion Government to confer the rank of Brigadier-At present the highest Canadian rank is Colonel

Among the pictures which will be selected by a committee of the Society of American Painters in Paris for exhibition here will be "Ispahan," by the late Edwin Lord Weeks. This was considered by Mr. Weeks to be his best work. Painters who will send pictures are Gari Melcher, W. T. Dannat, Walter Gay, Humphrey Johnson and Frederick A. Bridgman. Another new feature of this year's exhibition will be the Varnishing Day Reception on the opening day from 3 till 7 o'clock.

A committee has been appointed to revise the invitation list for the opening day.
