President Brush to Build New Covered

day that before another seson rolls around Grounds will be surrounded by covered stand which will seat more than 25,000 spectators, with standing room for at least 5,000 more in the broad promenade in the rear, is practically finished, but Singers, The has disable desired from the New Jordan State of the Section of the alter finishing a close second to the champion Baltimeres that E. B. Talcott, Consider the Controlling interest in the club. That year had been a most prosperous one, but these men had grown tired of baseball and the limelight and proceeded to sell 51 per cent. of the stock for $19,000. Ward retired from the game to practise law, refusing an offer of $10,000 a year to remain in charge of the team. The purchaser of the stock, Andrew Freedman, then tried hard to produce a winner, but being without the services of a competent manager he failed in his attempt and flually concluded to sell out rather than contend with further trouble.

Before the Brotherhood revolt in 1830 John B. Day, then owner of the New York club, made a fortune out of baseball, but with his etar players gone he put up a hopeless fight, in the end giving up his stock in the club to magnates of other clubs, who jumped at the chance to become financially interested in metropolitan baseball. After Mr. Day's retirement the New York club was a white elephant, and under the management of P. T. Powers in 1892 big money was lost, so the story ran. Little did the magnates of those days think that the New York club eventually would be developed into a great money making proposition and that the Polo Grounds twenty years later would be the finest baseball plant in the world. The success of Mesars, Brush and McGraw, in a large measure, is due to splendid management, but the existence of the peace agreement between the major leagues is also responsible for much prosperity. The presence of an American League club in this city has prompted a much needed spirit of rivalry, while the playing of the afmual world's series has stirred up more public interest in the national game than ever before.

N. Y. U. FOOTBALL.

First Week of Practice Shows Some Good Material.

The New York University football squad has just finished its first week of fall prac-tice on Ohio Field. Two weeks of prelimi-nary work at Eddyville, N. Y., but the varsity men in prime condition so that the two days practice following the opening strength he believes he will land the Brooklyns high up in next year's race. The Brooklyns have played great ball on this last Western trip, which is a source of encouragement for the fans on the other side of the bridge. A winning team at Washington Park would be a decided noveity, as the fans haven't had a champion team since Ned Hanlon developed the combination that won the pennant in 1890 and 1900.
Dahlen was the shortstop of that great leam.

who played on the varsity in his freenman year looks to be the min who will make the place.

The greatest blow to the team is the loss of Yule, the star fullback. Although Brennan, captain of the team for the comping season, promises to be a heady line plunger and a speedy back he lacks the beef and kicking ability of Yule. The week spot of the team will be its punting. Moore, who has been practising drop kicks throughout the summer, will-be an invaluable aid to the team, but he is no punter. Brennan has been punting better the past week and you Eyloffstein, who did much of the kicking in yesterday's practice, promises to be keed. Dressler has shifted oper from left tackle to left end. Dutcher, who gave promise of making a speedy end lact season, is out for the same position. Battcher, last year's substitute for this place, will be out this week. The fight between these three will be an interesting one to watch. New York University faces this year perhaps the hardest schedule in its history, for aside from the preliminary games with Muhlenburg and Rhode Island State in October the team will face Yale. Trinity, Rutgers, Wesleyan and the Navy consecutive weeks in November.

NEWS OF THE ATHLETES

A SLEUTH TO HELP REGISTRA. TION COMMITTEES?

Official Programme of the Olympic Games Contains Interesting Points-Shift Among A. A. U. Old Timers-Where Some New York A. C. Stars Sojourn.

Dahlen was the shortstop of that great lars are back and there is enough material among the second string men to enable the coaches to fill the vacancies.

CRICKET AVERAGES.

Owing to the graduation of Murphy and Gorsch and New York and New Jersey Association.

In action. All but four of last year's regulars are back and there is enough material among the second string men to enable the coaches to fill the vacancies.

Owing to the graduation of Murphy mittee will prove equal to the task. A little prior to the annual conclave of the halfback positions are open; Murphy and Gorsch alternated at left half last season, of a reformatory move in the direction of the committee in the schemittee.

The state of the s competition: First, diploma to the winning team and silver-glif Olympic medal to each member of the team; second and third, silver and bronze medal respectively to each member of the team in the team conjugate of the first three men from each team will be added together and the team in the lowest agaregate number of points will be declared the winner. In the event of a the the total time taken by the scoring three of each team shall decide.

Some of the old timers in the different A. A. U. districts are getting shifted about a bit, some moving up the ladder and others getting out of the hustle altogether. Tom fillow gained the top of the tree in the New England Association by becoming president. Down 19 Mt. Jouis John J. O'Connor, who has been head of the Western association for the last twenty-five years, is out to look after.

He said he has other interests in athletics to look after.

Con Walsh, the hammer thrower and formerly of the New York A. C., is now in Seattle, and a few days ago he wired for his release to Capt. Halpin. It seems that Con will not get his release; and he may have to wait the full year before he can represent any other club. Dan Ahearn, the Olympic champion for the running hop, step and jump, is in Chicago, where he intends to settle down for good. He were the Mercury Foot for a while, but he gever seemed to strike his real form of the Old World.
