

MONTENEGRINS REJECT PEACE; AGAIN FIGHTING

Austria's Terms Inacceptable, Soldiers Resume War, Rome Reports.
KING, WITH ARMY,
PREPARES DEFENCE
Fierce Clashes in Several Towns Follow the New Break With Tientsins.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
LONDON, Jan. 20.—Information received from several sources indicates that the report of Montenegro's surrender sent out from Vienna on Tuesday was premature. To the official denial issued by the French Government has been added a statement from the Montenegro Consul here and an announcement in Rome that Montenegro has officially notified the Italian Government of the resumption of fighting.

The following dispatch was received from Rome:
"Fighting between Austria and Montenegro has been resumed. Montenegro notified Italy officially of this fact today."

"Montenegro's decision has been communicated to the Italian Foreign Office by the Montenegrin Premier. The note is to the effect that King Nicholas and the Montenegrin Government have rejected all terms offered by Austria and that fighting already has been resumed along the whole front."

King With Army.
"King Nicholas remains with his army to organize the defence of the country."

The Montenegrin Legation in Paris today made public the following official statement:

"Lazare Mouchekovitch, Premier and Foreign Minister of Montenegro, arrived yesterday at Brindisi, Italy, accompanying Queen Milena and the Princesses en route to France. He telegraphed the Charge d'Affaires at Paris that the King and Government have energetically refused all of the Austrian conditions and that Montenegro is continuing the struggle to the bitter end."

King Nicholas remains among his troops with his two sons, to reorganize for final resistance and to facilitate retreat of his valiant army if it is necessary. He expresses the hope that the Allies will lend him efficacious help in the evacuation operations, as was done in the case of Serbia."

M. Mouchekovitch hopes that the tragic phase of his country is traversing will show Montenegro's heroism. The former admits that King Nicholas is a Bonaparte, whence all will proceed to Lyons."

To Keep on Fighting.
Sir John Roper Partington, Consul-General for Montenegro in London, also received official confirmation of the fact that King Nicholas and his sons will remain with their troops and will fight to the last. Queen Milena and two of her daughters, he is informed, have reached Italy on way to France."

In transmitting the report from the Montenegrin Premier, the Montenegrin Minister at Rome expressed regret at the harsh conditions which King Nicholas is appearing in the Italian press. He denounced as utterly untrue the charge that the King had entered into a secret agreement with Austria two months ago.

The main Montenegrin army is believed to be concentrated in the south near the Albanian border, toward which other detachments were retiring when the armistice caused a cessation of hostilities.

Fierce fighting between Austrian troops and the inhabitants of towns in Montenegro occupied by the invaders is reported in despatches from Athens. At Athens, today, fighting and shelling and shelling of the city have already taken place and efforts of the Austrians to establish civil administrations have failed.

King at Podgoritsa.
The following official announcement was made by the French Foreign Office today:
"The reported negotiations for peace between Montenegro and Austria have been broken off. King Nicholas is at Podgoritsa with his troops, continuing resistance."

Podgoritsa is a small town twelve miles east of Cetina, the Montenegrin capital, which is now in the hands of the Austrians."

The Daily News Athens correspondent reports the receipt of a telegram from Montenegro stating that the Austrians and Germans are trying to persuade the Serbians to consent to a separate peace—where supported by the section of the population still remaining in Serbia.

"The politicians who disapprove of the Serbian Premier's policy," says the correspondent, "propose a plebiscite question. It is stated that the Austrians and Germans count greatly on the success of their efforts. The Serbian legation at Athens has no news on the situation. It declares that Serbia will stand by the Allies."

MONTENEGRINS ANGRY.
Resented Peace Condition That All Disarm, Says Paris Report.
Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
PARIS, Jan. 20.—A telegram despatch received by the Temps from Geneva says that the rupture in the negotiations between Austria and Montenegro was due to the non-acceptance of conditions that Austria wished to impose on Montenegro. It adds that King Nicholas, the royal family and the diplomatists accredited to him have been expelled from San Giovanni Medua for Italy.

The Temps infers that the rupture was due to the humiliating terms on which the troops were required to lay down their arms. These included the literal surrender of weapons in groups by the units. The women also were taken part in the actual fighting, were

Bomb Carrier Is Seized Near Municipal Building

Fear of Blow at City Structure Keeps Detectives Watching.
LOITERER WITH EXPLOSIVE IN BAG
Companion Arrested—Two Men Followed All Day on Hint of Plot.

A bomb plot, apparently directed against the Municipal Building, was frustrated early yesterday evening when the police arrested two men, members of a gang of Italians that the detectives of the "bomb" squad have been shadowing for the past three months. The arrest followed a warning received yesterday afternoon by acting Captain Tunney of the squad that the men would attempt to destroy one of the city's skyscrapers.

For more than an hour Capt. Tunney, with Sgt. Barnitz and other detectives, watched one of the suspected men as he walked furtively about the Municipal Building, carrying a cheap canvas satchel in which was hidden a powerful bomb. The man loitered in the arcades and nooks of the building and appeared to be seeking a spot in which to leave the bomb. They waited in the hope that he would place the explosive and arrested him only when it seemed that he had changed his intentions and started toward the New York end of Brooklyn Bridge. Then when there was danger that he would elude them in the crowd they seized him.

A Pickpocket, Say the Police.
This prisoner said that he was Michele Grasianno, 22, and that he came to this country from Italy seven years ago. He said that he lived at the Boston Hotel, Heister street. The police say, however, that he did not live at the Boston Hotel. According to Capt. Tunney the man has a police record as a pickpocket.

In the suit case was a bomb, about four inches long and of the same diameter, made of a metal cylinder flattened on two sides. It was wrapped with heavy paper and would about the size of a brick. It was wrapped with tape and was still moist and sticky. From the top of the bomb extended a fuse five inches long, wide of the bag. An overcoat and several newspapers in English and Italian were stuffed in the bag to keep the bomb in place and the fuse from tripping from the hole.

Detectives began to watch the two men early in the day after Capt. Tunney received the information that they planned to place a bomb under a building. The detectives followed Grasianno and his companion, Leonardo de Vizio, 37, of 44 Eldridge street, to Mott street, where they were arrested. Later the two men went to a rooming house at 125 West 12th street, where they were arrested.

Dozens of buildings have been damaged by bombs during the last three years. Arthur Caron and three others were killed when a bomb which Caron was making exploded on the top floor of 1628 Lexington avenue on July 5, 1914.

Count Belonged to De Vizio.
De Vizio's arrest followed that of Grasianno. The overcoat in the suit case was identified by De Vizio's wife as belonging to him. In the Vizio flat the detectives found paper like that wrapped about the bomb and glue and cord similar to that used in making the infernal machine.

The police believe that the two men belong to the band that tried to blow up Police Headquarters on the night of last July 5.

According to Detective Santello, who has been detailed to watch the men for the past three months, Grasianno has attended several meetings of the Brecon group on 10th street, which is suspected of having been implicated in the Cathedral bomb plot. Grasianno has also been seen frequently loitering about the meeting place of a group of anarchists on Forty-second street, although he apparently did not attend any of the meetings.

The Municipal Building has been threatened several times. The police say that anarchists consider it an ideal place for their operations. Owing to the many arcades there are many places for the setting of a bomb. These same arcades have given rise to the fear that a sufficiently strong explosive might blow up the entire underpinning of the building and cause the skyscraper to collapse.

Tunney was not able to get into communication with Inspector Owen Egan of the Bureau of Combustibles. For a long time he tried to keep the bomb up at Headquarters until this morning, when it will be examined.

BRITAIN CALLS DERBY RECRUITS TO COLORS
100,000 Unmarried Men, 19 to 22, Included—Compulsion Bill in Final Stage.
LONDON, Jan. 20.—In accordance with the proclamation of December 13, groups 2, 3, 4 and 5 of the recruits who are called to the colors to-day. These groups include the unmarried men between 19 and 22 years of age, and are expected to add 100,000 men to the service.

Only the first drafts will actually be called training at once, the other drafts following in a series of groupings. This is in order to relieve the congestion at the recruiting offices and to minimize inconvenience for the men. All recruits have been warned of the necessity of reporting immediately. Any person summoned who fails to appear will be treated as a deserter.

A suggestion made by William O. Anderson, of the Labor party, that military service bill be followed by one for the conscription of all surplus wealth and landed estates met with a strong reception in the House of Commons.

Premier Asquith declined to open the way at all to the introduction of such a bill, saying that the Government had already been taken in the direction of taking over surplus wealth in the income tax, the super tax and the land tax.

"I need hardly say," he added, "that it would be necessary to impose further burdens of this character. Meanwhile I am glad to hear that the Government are endeavoring to remove the impression that the conscription bill is the forerunner of a bill to take over the land."

The compulsory military service bill was passed through the committee of the House of Commons at 11 o'clock to-night. According to Parliamentary procedure the bill now goes to the House in the report stage and then comes up for the third and final reading.

John Dillon said he had never seen a bill which might have led to passionate and heated debate conducted through the House with greater skill. Philip Snowden, Socialist member from Blackburn, an opponent of the bill, paid tribute to the Ministry.

The closing speech of the discussion was made by the Hon. Lord Trevelyan, a member of the Liberal Government, and a Bonar Law, Secretary of State for the Colonies. Mr. Lord said he desired to remove the impression that the conscription bill the Government was creating a monstrous military machine that would grab at every man coming within its grasp.

Mr. Law expressed the grateful thanks of himself and Mr. Long for the restraint shown by all sections of the House during the difficult committee stage.

BEER CAUSES BOW LEGS.
And Bologna Helps, in Warning of Child Welfare Workers.
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—Bologna sausage and beer cause children to become bow-legged, according to the South Side Child Welfare Association, which is waging a fight for the betterment of children.

Between twenty-five and thirty mothers have agreed to advise their congenial from the pulp about feeding children these and other heavy foods.

G.O. P. MOVES TO NAME PROGRESSIVE

Thirty Republicans in Congress Unite to Prevent Choice of Reactionary.
PLANS MADE AT DINNERS
Agreements Reached by Which Strength Will Be Solid in Convention.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A formidable movement has been organized within the Republican party to prevent the nomination of a so-called reactionary for the Presidency. Thirty Republicans in Congress have quietly joined in this movement to insure that they regard as a progressive nominee and a progressive platform at Chicago.

The plan has progressed so far that a formal dinner has been held within a few days, at which eleven Senators planned to be represented by proxies. Twice as many Republican Representatives from the House attended. Several informal conferences have been held. Another dinner will be held Saturday at the Capitol Park Hotel, at which it is expected there will be several recruits.

The facts came to light today at the Capitol and the Senators and Representatives interested in the movement talked freely of their plans and ambitions.

The eleven Senators from the Republican side who have joined the Progressive Republican alliance are: Borah of Idaho, Cummins and Kenyon of Iowa, Clapp of Minnesota, Gronna of North Dakota, Sterling of South Dakota, La Follette of Wisconsin, Norris of Nebraska, Poindexter and Jones of Washington and Weeks of California.

Already the progressives in the Republican party have reached an agreement that not more than one progressive candidate for the Republican nomination for President shall go before the voters in any primary State.

In this way the progressive Republicans expect to prevent a division of their strength that might permit the choice of a delegation that would vote for a so-called "reactionary."

This agreement was made on behalf of Senator Cummins and Senator La Follette with respect to North Dakota, which was said to-day that it would apply to other primary States.

Now that Senator La Follette's candidacy has been dropped, the progressives are looking anxiously to North Dakota, which he carried over Taft and Roosevelt in the campaign of 1912.

Senator Cummins' friends have been active in the State and expect to carry it. It has been agreed that both shall not seek the delegation.

It has not been determined yet which will retire from the fight, but one of them will, probably with the understanding that if the other fails to land the nomination, or to show formidable strength in the convention, the second choice of the delegates shall be bestowed on the candidate who gave way in the primaries.

The men in Congress who have enlisted in the cooperative movement for progressive legislation, a progressive candidate and a progressive platform, have not consulted the regular Republicans or invited them into the councils because they felt they were not in sympathy with the plan. The men in the movement are very insistent that it has no ulterior purpose and is not insurrectionary. They all claim to be Republicans and are proud only of "putting the Republican house in order."

Cummins Chief Beneficiary.
On the surface Senator Cummins appears to be the chief beneficiary among the Presidential aspirants. Senator Borah is not a progressive and Senator La Follette is expected to have a group of delegates in the convention, but will have a strong fight in his own State for the delegation.

If Senator Cummins should fail to develop formidable strength and his following should be dissipated after the first round of the election, the second round of the votes would undoubtedly be divided among several candidates. Senator Borah would probably control most of them for himself or the candidate he might favor.

Undoubtedly Justice Hughes could command the votes of most of the progressives if his name is voted for. Senator Burton would have a following in each of the States represented in the movement. He is said to be especially strong in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska.
