Hail: Standard of the free and bold;
I love thy waving gorgeousness,
which seems, like changing skies to fold
Thy stars, which fixed, both guide and bless!
They are the emblems true of attice
Linked fast in league well known to fame—
Where would the skie complain.

Linked fast in league well known to fame.

Whose souls thy girry emulates
Whose some shall never read their shame.

Till, as a pleiad gone from Heaven's own blue,
A star be lost from thy holy hue.

Float ever, Flag, as when at first Our fathers bore thee through the air,
And pledged their lives while on them burst
Thy glorious stars in splender there—
Ay, pledged their lives and libe ty,
While thou their canopy shouldstatand, To guard, pretect, and ho The emblem of our rising land.

Ay! float as when each soldier in his test.

Dramed that his flag was the firmament.

Thou-lofty ensign of the free, May every land thy glory know, And every freeman trust in thee While breezes and thy folds shall flow; May hand, and heart, and hop s, and zeal Be ever by thy for n intpired, And when shall shake the common weal May every soulby thee be fired— Each patriot heart discern amid thy form A beacon star in the battle storm!

GREAT NATURAL CURIOSITY .- I consider the Sion GREAT NATURAL CURIOSITY.—I consider the Sione Mountain in De Kalb county, Georgia, one of the greatest natural curiosities in North America. The base of the mountain is six miles in circumference, and the perpendicular height 2250 feet. Some small pines, mountain oaks, scrubby cedars, and scattered thrubs variegate the base and sides of the mountain, on the western and southern sides; the castern part is mostly barren. The western side is the most gradual in ascent. The north side is altogether inaccessible, and strikes the beholder with amazement.

For several hundred vards it appears like a solid will of marble, straight as a line, twelve hundred feet perpendicular; these gradually rounding upwards, one thousand and fifty feet, forming to the eye of the beholder, a spacious dome. There are also several elect high, enclosing several acres of summit, and extending around from one inaccessible part of the mountain to the other.

When, and by whom this ancient fortification or bulwark was erected, is unknown. The oldest In-bulwark was erected, is unknown. The oldest In-dians, I am informed, have no traditionary account of it.—Macon (Georgia) Messenger.

PIEBALD NEGROES .- Dr. Terey describes one of this white on his hands, arms, and face, from the size of pence to that of a dollar; these spots were smooth, d of the color of a fair healthy man.

Physician's Fee.—In Burmah, when a young wo-man is taken ill, her parents agree with the physician, that if he cures the patient, he may have her for his trouble, but if she dies under his medicines, he is to pay them her value. It is stated that successful physicians have large families of females, who have bee their property in this manner.

whilst magnesia and soda, which are commonly taken in this case, will seldom relieve it for more than half an hour, two or three of the CAMOMILE PILLS, taken in a good draught of moderately warm water, have almost invariably accomplished a cure. Their effect on the heartburn of pregnancy, and of children, is always successful. Two of these pills, taken during the height of the symptoms, will generally relieve them immediately, and two of the beauful APERIENT FAMILY PILLS, taken at bedtime, will remove it for a considerable time, even in habits that are most subject to it. 2. Limosis Flatus, or Flatulency, impaired appetite, with an accumulation of wind in the stomach and intestinal canal; and frequent regurgitation. Great restlessness, anxiety and oppression attend this disease, which has sometimes produced not only hysterics, but suffocation. It is frequently caused by drinking a large quantity of cold fluid when the system is highly heated; and by eating raw cucumbers, radishes, salads, onions and other raw vegetables. In young infants, it arises from the inability of their tender stomachs to digest the great quantity of feed with which they are overloaded; and the best remedy for it is to feed them for a time on maternal milk alone. Adult persons of either sex, need only take a few of the CAMOMILE PILLS, to experience speedy relief. Their carminative and aromatic properties alone independently of their high tonic experience speedy relief. In this malady, from whatever cause it may arise, the efficacy of Dr. William Evans's Camomile preparation is known both far and near. To married addes, especially, who, at interesting periods, are all subject to it, these pills have always proved a choice and favorite acquisition. If the nature of the circumstances admitted of certificates from these ladies, he has no doubt but he could obtain many thousands in this city alone; and, as it is, every lady who has tred them will not hesitate to recommend them to another in the highest terms of approval. They are, however, equally efficacious to all persons, of any age or sex, who may be afflicted with sickness of the stomach. Since a single trial will prove this fact, it is unnecessary to describe the scientific causes of their happy efficacy in the case; one general cause, however, is their effect upon the sensorial function generally, which is well known to be inseperably connected with all disturbances of the stomach.

I have been for many years in the habit of search the more major and produced and the major and produced and the public of the public.

I have been for many years in the habit of search been frequently and been assailed by the proprietors of other medicines, as a mercenary Quack, because he is said to recommend his Medicine in large quantities, and that no good medicine is so required. The fact is, that any medicine having Mercury, Arsenic, Antimony, or Hemlock in it, could not be taken in large doses, because if it were, such medicine would destroy life at once. He does not say the medicines to which he alludes, have those ingredients in them, but it is evident, from their directions, that great care is required in the taking of them. Now, Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills can be taken at all times, in large or small doses, according to urgency of symptoms. VINDICATION .- Dr. BRANDRETH has doses, according to urgency of symptoms.

This man now advertises largely a Pill, which he professes will cure every disease, and especially the one under which he labored.

Dr. Brandreth appeals to the high estimation his Pills are held in in all parts of the United States; this is his best answer to all the vile allusions of interested persons; whom he leaves to banquet on their own envy.

Brandreth's Pills. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Othe miserable Druggists.

It is very important that whoever purchases those Pills, should be careful to have them from the appointed agents, one of whom is in almost every town in the United States. This is really very important, as there are so many imitations, that it is almost impossible to procure the genuine without adopting his rule.

Above all—NEVER get them from Drug Stores, as under NO CIRCUMSTANCES, are they ever appointed agents; and it is their hands the counterfeits are principally in. Therefore never go to such stores, where so little honesty is.

Sir-Feeling interested for my fellow beings, who are often victims of ignorant quacks of this city, it becomes a duty on me to make known a fact which deserves public attention. I have, unfortunately for me, had a severe attack of a maindy, and have applied to several pretended physicians, and obtaining no relief, I began to desirair. As a last resource, (as I then thought), I went to the Haspital, with the hore of finding there some physician capable of r lieving me of that most horrible of all disorders. After remaining there two months, and finding that I was not likely to eltain a permanent cure, I again had recourse to a pretended practitioner who promised me a radical care; after remaining under his charge for a long time. I found, instead of relieving me of the disorder. I was daily getting worse, to suck an alarming extant had the disease now arrived, that death I sometimes inacial stares mo in the lace; but, fortunately for me. Imuat confess, on proceiving one of the daily supers, (the Sun.)
