The packet ships Queen of the West, Wood house, for Liverpool, and Toronto, Pratt, for London, will sail to-day at noon. Their letter bags will close at half past 11 o'clock. Single copies of the New York Herald, in wrappers, can be obtained for their mails.

The Judicial Election.

We are on the eve of an election which is decidedly the most important one that was ever held in this city. We mean the election for judges of the several courts under the new constitution. The result of it will prove whether in reality the people of this great State are competent to govern themselves. The principle of self-government will be tested freely in this

The following are the nominations, and it will be perceived that the whigs, democrats, lawyers, and anti-renters, are all in the field:

Ogden Hoffms. The nominations for the city of New York, it will be perceived, have, thus far, emanated from the bar alone, and are, as we understand, the result of an understanding between the committee, being ually divided in politics. They cannot, however, be considered the nominations for this city, because the democratic convention will meet tomorrow evening, and may nominate other and different men. It is probable, too, that the whigs will have a nominating committee. We have given these nominations, because they are the only ones yet made, but will alter them as soon as the two conventions will have terminated their labors.

On view of the importance of this election, we are surprised that the community at large do not take more interest in it. Our elections of city and State officers create a ferment that pervades the whole State, because, perhaps, a few loaves and fishes will be the reward of the adherents of the successful party, but in an election which will result in the elevation of men, whose duty it will be to administer the laws, to sit in judgment on the lives and property of the people of the State, little or no interest is felt. We are surprised and mortified at this feeling, and trust that before the day of election shall arrive, that our people will realize the importance of the duty they will be called upon to perform, and scrutinize and weigh the qualifications of all the candi tates presented to them. This is no time to indalge in sectional or party feelings. Men of prob ty, good character, and the requisite legal acquirements should receive the support of the people, without reference to their politics.

The election will take place on Monday, the 7th of June.

MEXICAN HONOR-PASSED MIDSHIPMAN Rod--Our readers will find in another column. a card written by the A. D. C. of Gen. La Vega, denying the charges that Cassius M. Clay, Ma-ors Borland and Gaines, were neglected by him while he was at the capital of Mexi-This card may or may not be true, but we envy not the feelings of La Vega, if after receiving so much kindness and attention from the Americans, as he did while he was in New Orleans, he played the Mexican towards the American prisoners, after he was exchanged and set at liberty. We shall let this go for the present, and recur to another circumstance in which this Mexican General is deeply interested. It is well known by our readers that proposal for the mutual exchange of prisoners were given and accepted, by Gen. Taylor one side, and Gen. Santa Anna on the other, by which all the pri-soners taken by the Mexicans were to be released, and the same on the American side. In pursuance of this arrangement, Gen. Taylor released those taken on our side; but the American prisoners are yet in confinement, in violation of the treaty so entered into by the respective gene-

The attention of the country has been good deal directed to the heroic Midshipman Rodgers, who left his ship, and landed for the purpose of taking a reconnoisance of Vera Cruz, and who was unfortunately made prisoner while engaged in the undertaking. This gallant young officer was, we believe, semi-officially, tried as a spy by the military tribunals, but acquitted, because he was attired in the undress uniformtof an American naval officer. He was retained, however, as a prisoner; and notwithstanding the release of hundreds of Mexi-can officers, neither Midshipman Rodgers nor any of the other prisoners have been released from confinement. Midshipman Rodgers is now confined in Puebla, to which place he was removed from Perote. Fears were entertained that some foul play might be committed; and Commodore Perry, in accordance with instructions from the Secretary of the Navy, has sent a deputation on shore, which proceeded to Mexico, to demand his release.

We have not yet learned whether this mission has been successful or not; but we are informed by reliable authority that if any unfair play is committed, Gen. La Vega will suffer for it. Instructions have, in fact, been issued to Commodore Perry, directing him, in the event of midshipman Rodgers being hanged as a spy, as was threatened, in defiance of all law, to hang La Vega to the yard arm of one of his frigates, within full view of the city of Vera Cruz. This information may be relied upon for accuracy.

THE PACKET SHIP DUTCHESS D'ORLEANS .-This packet ship has just been re-coppered, and as we have heard so much said of the remarkable durability of her first copper, we have been nduced to make some inquiries. We find the ship was coppered on the stocks in June, 1838, and has made twenty-seven voyages; the copper when taken off, was allowed to be about hal worn, with the exception of around the bows, where the chain cables had torn some off; her seams and buts were not the least strained, and as dry as when they were first caulked, which proves that the copper must not only have been of a good quality, but put on with great care. We may add something further, equally strange; the quarter-boards, and even the monkey rails, which are a very light affair, remain the same as when they were first put on-not an inch has ever had occasion to be replaced. We should say this speaks very plainly of her qualities as a sea boat. This is one of Mr. Webb's ships, and if we are not mistaken, his first essay.

ANOTHER SHORT PASSAGE--The bark Wakulla, Capt. Mulford, arrived yesterday from Galway, Ireland, after a passage of eighteen days. This is equal to steam. We are indebted to Capt. M. for the Dublin Register of the 1st

We believe that Capt. Mulford is in the habit of making short passages. He has made several voyages with Capt. Bailey, now of the Yorkshire, and once astonished the captain of another bark while making a passage to Cadiz. Now he leaves Galway, Ireland, and trips over the Atlantic in two weeks, four days, and one

If our captains can get this speed out of sailing vessels, what will they not do with steamships? We shall see after the Washington starts.

She will present a splendid sight from Castle Garden.

LARGE REWARD.-It will be seen on reference to our advertising columns, that a reward of $1500 is offered for the apprehension of three persons, charged with felony.

ARRIVAL FROM HAVANA .- We have received, by the arrival of the packet ship Norma, Captain Ellis, advices from Havana to the 4th instant, inclusive. We are indebted to Captain E. for the latest papers.

Among the passengers in the Norma was Herr Alexander, the celebrated magician.

There was no news stirring at the Havana, but every one was anxiously awaiting the arrival of the British steamer from Vera Cruz. Freights were dull. There were plenty of vessels unengaged.

The rains having commenced, the planters were expecting a short crop to what they had previously expected.

The roads were in a bad state; sugars were consequently getting scarce. They were advancing.

Havana, April 30, 1847.

There are a great number of vessels here, many more than can be accommodated with berths at the wharves; those vessels are now all loading by aid of lighters, &c.

The rainy season has come upon us in earnest, and the prospect bids fair for a sickly summer, as the rain seldom sets in before June; this year it has set in in April. For a week we have had heavy rain every day, the thermometer now stands at 86 deg. at sunrise, and at 118 deg. at noonday. I have heard of five cases of bona fide "yellow jack," though as yet no deathe have occurred, that have come to my knowledge. Already the wealthier citizens are beginning to remove to the interior.

The Brig General B. Lamar arrived here a few, days since with Government troops from Fort Hamilton bound for Point Isabel, to reinforce General Taylor's forces. The officers are all fine looking men, young and intelligent; they form a striking contrast with the old Spain troops; they were in number, all told, 250 men, two full companies, and a part of the third; they were all well, and in fine spirits.

Herr Alexander, whom you no doubt know, has just finished a very brilliant engagement here; he took a benefit on Sunday evening, and, between the parts, was presented, in behalf of the ladies and gentlemen of Havana, with a beautiful, chaste gold medal, bearing the following inscription, on on side—

HERR ALEXANDER, From his friends HAVANA.

On the other-DEXTERITY SORCERY.

SORCERY.

This celebrated magician leaves here in the ship Norma for your city, on his way to the Canadas. Success and good wishes go with him. Since his engagement here he has met with the most flattering invitations, accompanied by tokens of friendship. He plays a benefit for a benevolent association, and then leaves us till next winter.

THE FAMINE IN IRRLAND .- The following extract from a private letter, written by an eminent physician in one of the most fertile parts of Ireland, will show the awful extent to which the famine has reached in that ill-fated land. It

There is perhaps no man on the stage at the present time who has more friends than this gentleman, and now is the time for them to show their hands, Let it be a bumper by all means. He has secured the services of M'lle Blangy, who will appear in two ballets, supported by Miss Valles and Mons. Bourary. The following is a programme of the entertainments. First, the comedy of "The Man of the World," in which Mr. Bass will take his great character of Sir Pertinax Mac Sycophant—the new ballet "l'illusion d'un Peintre"—the comedy "A Race for a Dinner;" the whole to conclude with the ballet dance "La Napolitaine" for the first time by M'lle Blangy.

Vauxhall Gar-den is now opened for the season; and with its prome-nades, its delicious refreshments, and beautiful music-invites the toil worn citizen to an hour's repose and en-joyment. Mr. Meyers deserves credit for his exertions to please, and we hope he will be rewarded for his enter-prise.

The last section of the road, we understand, has been constructed by a Mr. Crossby, and will bear a comparison with any other road in the country. A train of freight cars went through to the terminus on Saturday evening last, which event caused great rejoicing amongst the residents of that neighborhood, about a thousand of whom turned out to welcome the arrival of the train. The passenger cars will commence running through in the course of a day or two, when strangers, as well as our citizens generally, who can steal away for a few hours, will be enabled to visit the Croton Dam, Mahopac Lake, studded with beautiful islands, and the lovely scenery by which they are surrounded.

Farcas.—The corner of 4th avenue and 27th street, became the scene of disturbance about 7 o'clock last evening. From what we could learn of the particulars, it appeared that a couple of speculators in temperance songs, while holding forth on the evil effects of King Alcohol, &c., took occasion to make some uncharitable remarks, relative to the dissipated habits of the Irish generally, and that it resulted from the influence exerted upon them by their priests. The language of the speaker so aroused the feelings of an Irishman, (who was evidently somewhat under the influence of liquor at the time.) that he pulled the advocate of temperance from his elevated position; and on again taking his stand, and proceeding with his remarks, he was again pulled down; the consequence was, a general melée took place, which resulted in the arrest and detention of the Irishman, to answer for the assault on the professed friend of temperance, and dealer in temperance songs.

Police Intelligence.

A Dishonest Workman—Officer Mansfield, of the 17th ward, arrested on Saturday a young man, by the name of John Baisley, on a charge of robbing his employers, Blake & Co., straw hat manufacturers, No. 175½ Chrystic street, at various times within the last eight weeks, to the amount of near $100. Upon the above officer going to the factory of Mr. Blake, he at once recognized Baisley as an old thief, he having arrested him two years ago for steading. The officer went to the residence of the prisoner, and there saw his wife, who acknowledged having sold five straw hats, and some lace, which property was recovered and identified by Mr. Blake as a portion of his property. Justice Ketcham committed the accused for trial.

Robbery of Clothing.—Some thief entered the dwell-

Robbery of Clothing.—Some thief entered the dwelling house No. 9 Morris street, occupied by Mr. Charles Gallagher, on Saturday last, stealing therefrom a black frock coat, together with other wearing apparel, valued at near $70, and got off with the plunder.

On the "Snooze' Again.—A fellow with red whiskers, calling himself Johnson, took lodgings on Saturday night at No. 3 Tryon row, and in the morning he stepped out with a suit of clothes valued at $30.50, belonging to the landlord, Mr. Sylvester Carter. No arrest at present.

Charge of Palse Pretences.—Officer Horton, of the 5th ward police, arrived in town on Saturday, from Cleveland, Ohio, having in custody, a man by the name of George Farnum, whom he arrested at Cleveland, on a requisition from Governor Young. Farnum, having been indicted in February last, by the grand jury, for obtaining a large amount of dry goods from the firm of Bird. Penniman & Smith, dry goods merchants. TORNADO IN GRIFFIN, GEO.—The American Whig states, that a most violent tornado passed over the Southwestern part of that town, on last Saturday week, which demolished several houses of both wood and brick. The lady of Mr. Bullard, and three small children, were considerably, but not dangeronsly, injured by the falling timbers of the house in which they were at the time. No other persons were injured. been doing; a matter which the mate but dimly understood from the violent threatenings he had been hearing.

For a moment he seemed to waver; but at last, turning the key in the padiock of the slide, he breathed through his set teeth—'Ye can't have him; I'll hand him over to the consul; so for ard with ye, I say when there's any drowning to be done I'll pass the word; so away with ye, ye blood-thirsty pirates:''

It was to no purpose that they begged or threatened; Jermin, although by no means sober, stood his ground manfully; and before long they dispersed, soon to forget every thing that had happened.

Though we had no opportunity to hear him confess it, Bembo's intention to destroy us was beyond all question. His only motive could have been a desire to revenge the contumely heaped upon him the night previous, operating upon a heart irreclaimably savage, and at no time fraternally disposed toward the crew.

During the whole of this scene the doctor did his best to save him. But well knowing that all I could do would have been equally useless, I maintained my place at the wheel. Indeed, no one but Jermin could have prevented this murder.''

His adventures among the natives are drawn in the same masterly manner.

The History of St. Gilks and St. James: By Douglass Jerrold—H. Long & Brother, Taylor & Co., Burgess, Stringer & Co., and Wm. H. Graham, New York.—The public can now obtain this celebrated work complete in one volume, from either of the above named parties, who are appointed by the publishers, Redding & Co., of Boston, their agents to sell it in this city. In regard to the character of the book, it is unnecessary to say a word, for of all the works that Jerrold has written, this is the most admired. The manner and style in which it is got up are excellent, and reflect great credit on Messrs. Redding & Co. The typography is clear and distinct—the paper excellent, and the illustrations are in Avery's best style. It is some time since we have seen a work issued from the press in as perfect amanner as this is. We commend it to the notice of the public.

OREGON EMIGRATION, INDIAN FIGHT .- The town

OREGON EMIGRATION, INDIAN FIGHT.—The town is crowded with emigrants for Oregon, now crossing the Missouri river. Upwards of three hundred wagons have crossed at this place, and more are crossing daily. A company of one hundred wagons from Illinois will be here to-morrow. From passent appearances, I should not be surprised if five hundred wagons crossed the Missouri at St. Joseph. A large number are also crossing at lowa Point. It is impossible, at this time, to make an estimate of the number that will cross here and at the crossings above. They are rendezvousing at the lowa Mission, and will take up their line of march about the 15th of this month, when the entire company will leave. The enigration from this place has been double what it was last year, and should it increase, in a very few years Oregon will be peopled. A gentleman from Council Bluffs, yesterday, reports a fight between the Ottos and Sioux Indians. Five of the Ottos had been on a hunt, and were overtaken by a small party of the Sioux, and four of them scalped. One of the party (a squaw) threw herself in the river, and succeeded in making her escape to the Ottos' encampment. A party of the Ottos, a small band of the Omahawa joining them immediately went in pursuit of the Sioux, and soon got on their trail and pursued them to a grassy swamp, where they had taken refuge. They immediately fired it, and as they made their appearance shot them down and scalped them. They scalped eight of the Sioux, a small party having left before the Ottos and Omahawa came up. A portion of the Mormons are making arrangements to leave this spring. You are aware that 300 went out as pioneers on the 18th of March last, from the encampment at the Bluffs. They are getting on well. They went prepared to put in a crop, and will await the arrival of the main body in the fall. They are all destined for California.—St. Joseph (Mo.) Letter, May?

Ship Building in Worcester.—Worcester is not exactly a seaport, but is fast looking that way. We understand that the workmen commenced laying the keel of a Marine Locomotive, at the corner of Central and Quinsigamond streets, in our village.—The vessel is to be constructed on the plan recently patented by Henry M. Paine, of this town, and is to be used by the government as a revenue cutter in the Gulf of Mexico. The boats now used for collecting the revenues, are found inadequate to breast the heavy surfs of the Gulf. The vessel is to be completed about the middle of July, and will then be transported to Boston over the railroad.—Worcester Telegraph. TRADE OF CANADA.—A circular of Macpherson, Crane & Co., Montreal, of the 16th April, states that about forty ships of large tonnage have been built at Quebec during the past winter; and that contracts have been made for shipments in May, of four from Quebec and Montreal to Britain, at rates varying from 5s 3d to 6s 6d sterling per barrel, and other property in proportion.

wish for the prosperity of the New Republic of Guatemala.

Colonial Secretary's Oppice, Belize, 8th April, 1847.

The Accompanying copy of a despatch received by her Majesty's Superintendent from the Consul General in Central America, is published for general information. By order of His Excellency, C. L. THOMSON, Acting Col. See'y.

Guatemala, March 22, 1847.

Sir.—For the several reasons detailed in the accompanying Manifest of the President of the State of Guatemals, one of the five sections of Central America, it has been resolved by a decree of the 21st inst., which will be found annexed to the Manifest, to erect a national government upon the foundation of the state government, which has ceased to exist.

The territorial limits which heretofore confined the State of Guatemala, now form the Republic of Guatemala; and its government, in claiming national rights, has signified its readiness and ability to incur the correspondent liabilities.

This new order of things will in no respect weaken the country.

I have the honor to be, sir, your most obedient humble servant.

FRED'K CHATFIELD,

Consul General.

Col. C. St. John Fancourt, Her Majesty's Superintendent, in British Honduras.

The great length of the Manifest and Decree, alluded to above, prevent the possibility of their publication in our columns.

It has been remarked by "the oldest inhabitant" that

The tree of heaven, the sycamore, the buckeye, and several others whose names I cannot at present call to mind, are now to be seen in all the principal streets enrobed in their liveries of green. Fourth and Longworth streets appear particularly beautiful at this time. The city is the admiration of strangers on this account. The cultivation of peach and other fruit trees, and of the grape vine in gardens attached to the private residences of citizens, prevails here. This, in a great measure, may be attributed to the fact that in this city almost every man owns the house he lives in. I presume there is no city in the Union in which real estate is so generally owned by the occupants thereof as in this—a result which redounds to the credit of Nicholas Longworth, Eaq., the richest man, and one of the oldest citizens in Cincinnati.

Nicholas Longworth, Esq., is one of the pioneers of the town. He settled here forty years since, and commenced the study of the law in the office of Judge Burnett. He had the srgacity to see the rising destiny of the then village of Cincinnati, and purchased for a small consideration a large tract of land, which is now the very heart of the city. To the rapid rise of this property in value is he indebted for his immense wealth. He is reputed to be worth several millions. Although shrewd in a bargain, he has a big heart, and not a day passes but that witnesses his performance of acts of charity.—He was the early friend and patron of young Powers—in fact, to him is that young artist indebted for the means that enabled him to persevere in his efforts. His encouragement of other artists is well known. As one of the benefactors of the country he stands in the front rank. I would scorn to honor him as the millionare—His son Joseph, who transacts his business, is a chip of the old block.

The railroads between this city and Lake Erie are still unconnected—some 40 miles of the distance being per-formed by stage. Reason assgned by many, lack of funds.

Signora Ciocca, the Italian danseuse, is performing nightly at the National to crowded houses. Her success thus far has been brilliant. Her particular style of dancing takes well in this quarter. She is endowed with a handsome face, which she knows how to render still more fascinating by her own way of smiling, and with a figure, faultiess. Her movements are graceful beyond description. She is aided by Signorina Mantin, a very clever little danscuse, and Mr. Smith.

The National has been entirely rejuvenated. Among other new things which took the audience by surprise the other evening, was a new and splendidly executed drop-curtain, painted by Mr. J. L. Leelie, well known as one of the very best scenic artists in the country. It represents the embarcation of Anthony and Cleopatra upon the Cydnus.

Collins is now performing at Louisville. He will probably appear at the National next week—having been engaged by Mr. Bates for both cities.

EXTENSIVE FRAUD.—The Madison (Wisconsin) Extensive Fraud.—The Madison (Wisconsin)
Argus announces the discovery, within the last few days, of an astounding fraud upon the people and territory. It appears, from a recent examination, that large amounts of territorial scrip, known to have been once paid out of the funds provided by the general government, have been re-issued at different places, and are again in circulation. No doubt exists, according to the Argus, that thousand of dollars are alloat, and it is feared that the fraud is as extensive as it has been successful. The Argus promises a full expose of this nefarious transaction, and of the perpetrators of the fraud.

Piles. This distressing complaint, in all cases, proceeds from a want of proper evacuation of the bow less. The foul humors, instead of being thoroughly espelied from the hody, are but partially so—a portion being left, as it were, at the threshhold, is the cause of that verations complaint called Piles, which is frequently neglected until it assumes a more horrid form of disease, called fistuls. Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are a true and natural remedy for the above complaint, and in all cases will make a perfect cure, because they effectually cleanse the body of those morbid humors which are not only the cause of piles, but of every other malady incident to man. Beware of sugar coated counterfeits. The only original and genuine Indian Vegetable Fills have the signature of Wm. Wright, written with a pen, on the top label of each box. None other is genuine, and to counterfeit this is forgery. Offices devoted exclusively to the sale of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, wholesale and retail, 283 Greenwich street, New York; 169 Race street, Philadelphia; 198 Tremont street, Boston.

The banks in Maine appear to be in a state of expansion equal to that of 1835. We give a paragraph, relative to this fact, from the Governor's message; it is dead the 19th insterment.

sion equal to that or 1835. We give a paragraph, relative to this fact, from the Governor's message; it is dated the 19th inst.:—

A short time previous to the expansion in 1835, the Banks in Maine had a circulation of about $1,200,000; during that expansion it was increased to $2,200,000. Under the revulsion which followed, it was reduced again to about $1,100,000; since that time it has been increasing, and is now probably up to the highest point of 1835, $2,200,000. If the past throws any light upon the future, there can be no reason to doubt that the circulation must be reduced again to about one half its present amount. The chief available means of our banks to effect this reduction are the notes of their debtors; and can an unexpected collection of $1,000,000, and a simultaneous reduction of the circulating medium to the same amount, be made without prostrating the business of the State? A gradual reduction might now be made without serious consequences; but if it is delayed, until a general expansion throughout the country shall have highly excited prices, and multiplied contracts, it will tend to aggravate upon Maine the evils of a general commercial revulsion. These remarks are not made in the spirit of an alarmist, nor with the view of censuring those who have the direction of our banks, as I believe their business has generally been conducted honorably and with due regard to the provisions of their charters—but for the purpose of calling your attention, to what I conceive, a radical defect in our bank-
