

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Two Dollars per annum...

BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

LIVERY STABLES. WILL BOWMAN, proprietor of Livery Stable...

PHYSICIANS.

HENRY P. BRICKER, M. D., residence on Church Street...

ATTORNEYS AND AGENTS.

J. H. RHODES, Attorney and Counselor at Law...

HOTELS.

FRANK HOUSE, Ashabula, Ohio. A Family Proprietor...

MERCHANTS.

GEORGE HALL, Dealer in Piano, Violin, and Music...

DRUGGISTS.

MARTIN NEWBERRY, Druggist, and Apothecary...

MANUFACTURERS.

Q. C. CULLEY, Manufacturer of Lath, Siding, Mouldings...

HARNESS MAKER.

W. H. WILLIAMSON, Saddler and Harness Maker...

NEW CASH STORE.

I WOULD most respectfully inform the inhabitants of Ashabula...

JEWELERS.

G. W. DICKINSON, Jeweler, Repairing of all kinds of Watches...

CABINET WARE.

JOHN DUGRO, Manufacturer of and Dealer in Furniture...

DENTISTS.

P. H. HALL, Dentist, Ashabula, O. Office in the Court House...

CLOTHIERS.

EDWARD G. PIERCE, Dealers in Clothing, Hats, Caps, and Gaiters...

FOUNDRIES.

SEYMOUR, STONE & SPERRY, Manufacturers of Steam Engines, Boilers, and Machinery...

PHOTOGRAPHERS.

FRED W. BLAKESLEE, Photographer and Dealer in Camera, Optics, and Stationery...

MISCELLANEOUS.

EDGAR HALL, Fire and Life Insurance and Real Estate Agent...

ERIE RAILWAY.

Abstract of Time Table Adopted November 13, 71.

NEW and Improved Drawing-Room.

Sleeping Coaches, containing all modern improvements...

STATIONS.

Table with columns for Station, Day, Night, Express, and Freight.

Arrangement of Drawing-Room and Sleeping Coaches.

No. 1—Sleeping Coaches from Cincinnati to Hornellsville...

STATIONS.

Table with columns for Station, Day, Night, Express, and Freight.

ERIE DIVISION—TIME TABLE.

To take effect Sunday, Jan. 14, 1872.

Table with columns for Station, Day, Night, Express, and Freight.

STATIONS.

Table with columns for Station, Day, Night, Express, and Freight.

THE LEGEND BEAUTIFUL.

From the Atlantic Monthly. By R. W. LONGFELLOW.

"Hast thou stayed, I must have fed?" That is what the Vision said.

In his chamber all alone, Kneeling on the floor of stone...

Suddenly, as if it lightened, An unwonted splendor brightened...

Then amid his exaltation Loud the convent bell appalling...

It was now the appointed hour When alike, in sun or shadow...

Deep distress and hesitation Mingled with his adoration...

Then a voice within his breast Whispered, audibly and clear...

Straightway to his feet he started, And with longing look intent...

At the gate the poor were waiting, Looking through the iron gratings...

Who didst utter that word? That only seen in those...

Unto me! but had the Vision Come to me in better clothing...

I would willingly pass over the succeeding events...

But the parting with his wife and children—what pen can describe that terrible interview!

Three weeks afterwards, the court arrived at a populous city in the west of England...

"Well, are you to have a heavy calendar?" I inquired the next morning of a brother barrister...

"Rather light for a March assize," replied the impatient counsel...

"What a wretched editor lately returned a tailor's bill with the endorsement, 'Your manuscript is declined; it is illegible.'"

THE POOR MAN'S PRAYER.

From the Atlantic Monthly. By R. W. LONGFELLOW.

"Hast thou stayed, I must have fed?" That is what the Vision said.

In his chamber all alone, Kneeling on the floor of stone...

Suddenly, as if it lightened, An unwonted splendor brightened...

Then amid his exaltation Loud the convent bell appalling...

It was now the appointed hour When alike, in sun or shadow...

Deep distress and hesitation Mingled with his adoration...

Then a voice within his breast Whispered, audibly and clear...

Straightway to his feet he started, And with longing look intent...

At the gate the poor were waiting, Looking through the iron gratings...

Who didst utter that word? That only seen in those...

Unto me! but had the Vision Come to me in better clothing...

I would willingly pass over the succeeding events...

But the parting with his wife and children—what pen can describe that terrible interview!

Three weeks afterwards, the court arrived at a populous city in the west of England...

"Well, are you to have a heavy calendar?" I inquired the next morning of a brother barrister...

"Rather light for a March assize," replied the impatient counsel...

"What a wretched editor lately returned a tailor's bill with the endorsement, 'Your manuscript is declined; it is illegible.'"

THE POOR MAN'S PRAYER.

From the Atlantic Monthly. By R. W. LONGFELLOW.

"Hast thou stayed, I must have fed?" That is what the Vision said.

In his chamber all alone, Kneeling on the floor of stone...

Suddenly, as if it lightened, An unwonted splendor brightened...

Then amid his exaltation Loud the convent bell appalling...

It was now the appointed hour When alike, in sun or shadow...

Deep distress and hesitation Mingled with his adoration...

Then a voice within his breast Whispered, audibly and clear...

Straightway to his feet he started, And with longing look intent...

At the gate the poor were waiting, Looking through the iron gratings...

Who didst utter that word? That only seen in those...

Unto me! but had the Vision Come to me in better clothing...

I would willingly pass over the succeeding events...

But the parting with his wife and children—what pen can describe that terrible interview!

Three weeks afterwards, the court arrived at a populous city in the west of England...

"Well, are you to have a heavy calendar?" I inquired the next morning of a brother barrister...

"Rather light for a March assize," replied the impatient counsel...

"What a wretched editor lately returned a tailor's bill with the endorsement, 'Your manuscript is declined; it is illegible.'"

MANAGEMENT OF CHILDREN.

From the Georgia Republican.

Upon this subject, most parents are apt to fall into the great mistake that none can enlighten them more than they are...

"Not in the least," replied the bustling counsel. "He never looked better. His illness has gone completely off, and this day's work will brighten him up."

Cartwright's trial came on. I had never seen the man before, and was not aware that this was the same person whom Harvey had incidentally told me he had discharged for theft...

The crime of which the villain now stood accused was that of robbing a farmer of the paltry sum of eight shillings, in the neighborhood of Iffracombe.

"What of him, fellow?" replied the judge, his features suddenly flushing crimson.

"Why, my lord, only this—that he was as innocent of the crime for which you hanged him as the child yet unborn! I did the deed! I put the watch in his trunk!"

"Remove the prisoner!" cried the sheriff. An officer was about to do so; but the judge motioned him to desist.

"I suppose, my lord," continued Cartwright in low and hissing tones, as the shadow of unutterable despair grew and settled on his face...

"The rest of the appalling oblongation was inarticulate, as the monster, foaming and spitting, was dragged by an officer from the dock."

Two days afterwards the county paper had the following announcement: "Died at the Royal Hotel—, on the 27th instant, Judge A—, from an excess of fervent supererogation upon a disorder from which he had imperfectly recovered."

A JAPANESE ALBUM.—The Springfield Republican says: Mrs DeLong has in her possession a beautiful album, presented to her in Japan, and depicting the most noted landscape scenes.

It is a handsome centre-table volume. Some represent single features; others groups of native inhabitants, from the highest officers, in court or official dress, to the semisavage Ainos, with their long beards and Indian style of garments and hats.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

Business Energy.—In commencing and carrying on business, two things are absolutely necessary—money and energy. One is of little avail without the other, and of the two energy is the most productive of results.

LINCOLN'S LAST MOMENTS.

A letter on the religious character of President Lincoln, by a Mr. Miner, an old neighbor and friend of the President, contains some facts not heretofore known.

"I must have a little rest. A large procession of excited and overjoyed people will visit me to-night. My arms are now lame, shaking hands with the multitude, and the people will pull me to pieces."

"The very last moments of his 'conscious life were spent in conversation with his wife about his future plans, and what he wanted to do when his term of office had expired."

"He said he would visit the Holy Land, and see those places hallowed by the footsteps of the Savior. He said there was no city he so much desired to see as Jerusalem, and with that word half spoken on his tongue, the bullet from the pistol of the assassin entered his brain, and the soul of the great and good President was carried by the angels to the New Jerusalem above."

NEATNESS.—In its essence, and purely for its own sake, neatness is found in few. Many a man is neat for appearance sake; there is an instinctive feeling that there is power in it.

When a man consults a physician or a lawyer for the first time, or comes to rent a house, or borrow money, he will come in his best dress; a lady will call in her carriage. A man who means business and honesty comes as he is, just as you will find him in his store, his shop, his counting-house. The most accomplished gamblers dress well; the most enterprising swindlers are faultlessly clothed; countless multitudes are but whitewashed scoundrels.

Too many "don't care, as it will not be seen." Washington Allston, the great artist, the accomplished gentleman, suddenly left his friend standing at the door of a splendid Boston mansion, as they were about entering for a party, because he had just remembered that he had a hole in his stocking. It could not be seen or known, but the very knowledge of its existence made him feel that he was less a man than he ought to be—gave him a feeling of inferiority.

As persons are less careful of personal cleanliness and tidy apparel, they are infamously and necessarily less of the angel, more of the animal; more under the domination of passion, less under the influence of principle. Said the poor servant girl: "I can't explain what change religion has made in me, but I look more closely under the door-mat when I sweep than I used to." Intelligence, culture, elevation, give purity of body as well as purity of sense and sentiment.

Where you see a neat, tidy, cleanly cheerful-dwelling, there you will find a joyous, loving, happy family. But if fifth and squalor, and a disregard for the refining delicacies of life prevail in any household, there will be found in the moral character of the inmates much that is low, degrading, unprincipled, vicious and disgusting. Therefore, as we grow in years, we ought to watch eagerly against neglect of cleanliness in person and tidiness in dress.

The Pole Kat. BY JOHN BILLINGS.

My friend, did you ever examine the fragrant pole kat kiously? I guess not; they are a critter that won't bear examining with a microscope.

They are beautiful beings; but, oh, how deceptive! Their habits are phew, but unique. They build their houses out of earth, and the houses have but one door, and that is a front door.

When they enter their houses they don't shut the door after them. They are called pole kats because it is not convenient to kill them with a club, but with a pole, and the longer the pole the more convenient.

Writers on natural history disagree about the size of the pole kat. Some say it is about 365 feet, especially if the wind is in favor of the pole kat.

I have caught skunks in a trap. They are easier to get into a trap than they get out of.

In taking them out of a trap grate judgement must be had not to shake them up; the more you shake them up, the more ambrosial they are.

One pole kat in a township is enough, especially if the wind changes once in a while.

A pole kat skin is worth 2 dollars in market after it is skinned, but it is worth 3 dollars and fifty cents raw skin.

This is one way to make 24 shillings in a wet day.—N. Y. Weekly.

A CHANCE TO WIN $50,000, AND, AT THE SAME TIME, AID THE SICK AND DESTITUTE.—The sale of tickets in the Grand Legal Enterprise at Omaha, in aid of Mercy Hospital, under the auspices of the Sisters of Mercy, will be continued till May 31st, when the drawing will positively take place, in open public. This charitable enterprise enjoys the confidence of the Governor, and the best business men of Nebraska; also, the Mayor and President of the Board of Trade, Omaha. Highest prize, $50,000. Total, $150,000, in cash. The tickets are $3 each, or two for $5. For full particulars, address PATTER & GARDNER, Business Managers, Omaha, Neb.

Advertisement for J. H. Snyder, Photographer, located at 171 and 173 Superior Street, Cleveland, Ohio.