It's Traditional... Vets Receive Help
Early in American History, the Massachusetts Bay Colony passed legislation to the effect that anyone maimed or wounded in the common defense of the colony should become a public charge and that this should extend in cases of extremity to his widow and his orphans. This action has been followed down from the Revolution to the Korean conflict. Legislatively we are responsible for the health, well-being and education of those who have served us in time of war, and in doing so have become incapacitated. Further, we are obligated to those who, even in good health, have lost employment opportunity or chances for education.

The Wagner Act strengthened by the formation of the United States Employment Service brought into being the veterans employment representative in the local employment service office. In the Cleveland East office of the Ohio State Employment Service, this individual is Henry W. Cockfield. He develops and carries out an adequate veterans service program. In addition, he is charged with seeing that all policies and programs concerned with veterans activities are carried out. He coordinates all veterans activities in the local office and other organizations concerned with the veterans program.

Mr. Cockfield maintains a constant review of all office services afforded veterans to make sure that they receive the benefits to which they are entitled. If discrepancies are found, the situation is righted by consulting with the interviewer involved through the proper channels. Occasionally, retraining in the function is found necessary. Cockfield says, "The Life of a V.E.R. is a busy one; it can even be a vexing one. But, it has its rewarding side as well. This comes when we see the gradually growing recognition in all walks of community life of the veteran's place in the economic structure and when we have been able to assist in this process."

Those interested in joining the group for political and social stimulation should contact Mrs. Davidson at GL. 1-6791. The club's next meeting will be at 2:00 p. m. in the East Cleveland Y. August 18th. However, future meetings may be in the evening pending the desire of the majority. For additional information, consult the membership chairman, Mrs. Lois Sorchy of 15401 Glencoe rd., at IV. 1-4418.
