"YUM-YUM" is what it appears three-year-old Gary Sottos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sottos, 1953 Havenhill rd., is saying as he hungrily reaches for the first piece of cake celebrating the grand opening of the Green Light Shopping Center at Green and Euclid aves. last week. Serving is the proud baker of the elaborate cake, Jack Cameron of Cameo Bakery. Looking on is Santa Claus, who was part of the welcoming committee for the many shoppers who found bargains at the center.

Shaw Christmas Concert Is Tonight in Auditorium

As has been the custom for many Christmas seasons, the invitation again is extended to all persons in the area to enjoy an evening of delightful Christmas music presented by Shaw High School's choir and orchestra. The event will take place at 8 tonight (Thursday).

The program is varied and well-rounded affording the listener the opportunity to hear music of many epochs of musical history—reaching as far back as the sixteenth century to the modern-day twentieth century.

Following the traditional candle-light procession, the Shaw Choir will present, under the direction of Miss Judith Warren, a Christmas cantata, "Welcome Thou King of Glory" by the seventeenth century Baroque composer, Vincent Luebeck.

The Shaw orchestra, under the direction of S. Robert Fraser, will play Christmas selections—both old and new.

Some are light and sparkly as Harold Walters' arrangements of "Papa-Pan" and "The Twelve Days of Christmas." Other selections are of a more serious, deeply-moving nature as Handel's "He Shall Feed His Flock" from the "Messiah." The Shaw Mixed Chorus and Girls Chorus will be making an appearance, also, singing a few familiar carols and some interesting not-so-familiar Christmas songs of foreign lands. The rhythms and musical sounds in two of these selections are very different and pleasing to the ear.

Alumni Join In The latter portion of the program will be devoted to the Shaw Choir's performing Christmas anthems and carols. As has been the tradition for many years, choir alumni in the audience are asked to join.

Police Dept. Hopes for a Safe Holiday

What does the approach of Christmas mean to the East Cleveland police department?

"I suppose it means the same thing to us that it means to anyone else," was Chief H. S. Weaver's first smiling reply. "After all, most of us are family men. I'd say we're looking forward to it."

But the traffic problems occasioned by any holiday, and the Christmas holiday shopping period in particular, are never far from a good police officer's mind.

"Of course we're very concerned about maintaining East Cleveland's good safety record," Chief Weaver continued, "and we're well aware that this can be a critical period. Crowds of shoppers, in cars and on foot, create traffic problems which we all must meet with patience and intelligence."

The chief asked shoppers to cooperate by:

Taking advantage of off-rush hours whenever possible.

Completing their shopping before the last-minute "crisis."

Showing consideration for others by driving with care.

Avoiding the temptation to double park, even for a moment.

Observing the directions of traffic officers.

Remembering that our favorite holiday is certainly no time to drive in any other manner than soberly and with "good will toward men."
