TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Suicide of Lieutenant John M. Danenhower, of Arctic Force, at the Naval Academy—The Deed Evidently the Result of Insanity.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 20.—Lieutenant John M. Danenhower committed suicide in his quarters at the Naval Academy this morning by shooting himself through the head.

Lieutenant Danenhower arrived at the Academy fifteen minutes past ten o'clock yesterday morning from Norfolk, whither he had been with the United States steamship Constellation, which was to go on the docks. He had been complaining of sleeplessness and mental worry since last Tuesday, which was intensified by the Constellation getting aground while going into Norfolk harbor.

Surgeon Biddle, who had been attending the Lieutenant, called to see Danenhower this morning about half-past nine o'clock, and was horrified to find him lying dead upon the floor, with a bullet-hole through his head, and a 32-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver lying by his side with an chamber empty.

Lieutenant Danenhower arose at six o'clock this morning and had breakfast. The shooting must have occurred shortly afterward. He leaves a widow and two children, who are absent on the ship of which he was an extremely sensitive nature, and lately the slightest thing has worried him.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A telegram received at the Navy Department from Commodore Sampson, commanding the Annapolis Naval Academy, in which the suicide of Lieutenant Danenhower is announced, also states that Danenhower was thirty-seven years of age, and entered the naval service in 1866 from Illinois, in which State he was born. The Lieutenant was on duty on board the United States steamer Vandallia when that vessel conveyed General Grant to Egypt, and in this way made the acquaintance and admiration of the General.

So favorably was General Grant impressed, that when James Gordon Bennett proposed the Jeannette Arctic expedition, General Grant strongly urged Lieutenant Danenhower as a fearless and capable officer for such a service. Lieutenant Danenhower volunteered, and was appointed as navigating officer of that expedition, sailing in 1879, and passing with credit through the terrible hardships of that voyage and the loss of the Jeannette.

Naval officers have conceded to Danenhower the credit for saving his party on his return in 1881, and as the only one of the party surviving officer, Lieutenant Danenhower was an acute sufferer from eye trouble, the result of Arctic privations, exposure, etc. When sufficiently recovered, Danenhower was detailed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis as instructor, and subsequently as assistant commander, in which position he has been very popular with the cadets.

A PALPABLE SWINDLE.

German Citizens Being Swindled by a Bogus Lottery Scheme Purporting to Have the Official Sanction of the German Government.

CHICAGO, April 21.—A local paper says: One of the most impudent and bare-faced lottery schemes ever devised is now being operated in the United States. This swindle is mainly designed for victimizing the German-speaking contingent in the large cities, and has already achieved a tolerable measure of success. The modus operandi is quite simple, as will be seen by the following account:

A concern styling itself "Messrs. Thiele & Co. Bankers, Hamburg, Germany," through an agent in Baltimore, Md., has flooded the country with letters addressed to German residents of all large cities. These letters contain a double-sheet circular, twelve inches by eight, printed in German on English paper. This circular gives a glowing description of the "Two Hundred and Ninety-second German Government Lottery of the City of Hamburg."

It outlines the scheme of the lottery, the prizes ranging in the different series from 50,000 to 500,000 marks. They announce that on each ticket, to insure genuineness, will be printed the Government coat of arms. Inclosure No. 2 is a small oblong slip, printed as follows: "The amount may be remitted by means of an American Express Company's money order, which must be made payable at H. mburg, Germany, by the company's agent residing at your place of living. You will please send the order in a registered letter." After making the American Express Company their accredited agents in a number of large cities they forward Inclosure No. 3, which is an envelope with their Hamburg address.

Baron von Nordenflyncht, the German Consul, who was seen regarding the matter, said: "This is one of the most palpable swindles I have ever had brought to my notice. There is no such lottery as the German Government Lottery." To speak more forcibly, the government of the German Empire has no connection or control over any lottery, public or private whatever. This is not only a fraud, but an insult to the government I represent. I presume the express company will stop the issuing of money orders when the swindle is exposed, but I will also send them an official notification if requisite."

A Royal Visitor.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Queen Kapolau, of the Hawaiian kingdom, arrived yesterday morning from Honolulu on the steamer Australia. She was accompanied by Princess Likelikelau and a number of high officials of the Hawaiian Government. The principal object of the Queen's voyage is to be present at Queen Victoria's jubilee celebration in London in June next. The royal party will remain here about a week, when they will leave for Washington, to pay their respects to the President and Mrs. Cleveland. After a short stay at the capital, they will proceed to New York, and thence to London before returning. Queen Kapolau will also visit the principal cities of the world.

A KANSAS TORNADO.

Kansas Has Its Initial Spring Tornado—Destruction at Colony and Prescott.

GANNETT, Kan., April 22.—The first cyclone of the season for Kansas struck Colony in the southern part of this county yesterday, killing one woman, destroying several houses and doing a large amount of other damage. The day had been a miserable one as far as the general weather was concerned, but there was nothing in the indications to point to the formation of a cyclone. The storm, so far as it can be traced, started shortly after noon some three or four miles north or northwest of Colony, and gathering force as it went, swept over the country, destroying trees, farm fences and one or two houses in its path. The cyclone was not of any great extent, and the greatest width of its path at any one point, so far as can be learned, was not over one hundred yards, if indeed it was of that size. In Colony the people were all kept within doors by the rain storm which was raging, and in consequence no one saw the terrible storm approaching, nor was its coming heralded by the ordinary symptoms and sounds—at least the reports from that point, which are extremely meager at best, do not make any mention of such phenomena.

The first token that the dreaded storm was upon the town was a peculiar low rumbling or whirling sound incapable of accurate description. Then all of a sudden the northern sky assumed the peculiar greenish tint noticed in such disturbances, and the next moment the wind had swept down upon a portion of the town, and in an incredibly short space of time had passed on, leaving only desolation in its path.

Northwest of Colony about a mile and a half a farm house in which a lady was sitting alone was demolished and the woman was hurled in the ruins. When the neighbors reached the scene it was found that she had been struck by a heavy cross beam and life had been literally crushed out of her. No one else in that vicinity was in the least injured, though several hundred dollars damage was done to farm fences, orchards and barns.

In the town of Colony, half a dozen small houses in one corner were destroyed, but so far as could be learned no large residences and no stores were destroyed. There were no persons injured and the whole damage done can be repaired by the expenditure of the few thousand dollars.

The cyclone fortunately did pass straight through the town and in consequence less harm was done than was at first reported. After leaving Colony the course of the wind was traced for about a mile, but beyond that point no information is obtainable. The damage done to farms and orchards and in the town of Colony will probably aggregate $10,000, though definite figures can not be obtained from the stricken section at present, nor can the names of the persons who suffered losses be learned.

ONE MAN KILLED.

PLEASANTON, Kan., April 22.—Menger details were received here of a terrible cyclone which passed over and destroyed the town of Prescott, about eight miles from here, at five o'clock in the evening. The depot was demolished and the agent instantly killed. It can not be learned how much damage was done.

A RAT HORROR.

LANCASTER, Pa., April 22.—The store of Ambrose Singleton and his brother at Mechanic's Grove is infested by rats and these animals have grown so large and there that one of them attacked and nearly killed a two months old child last night. The child was in the arms of its mother, who was sitting in a chair, and the rat forced its head into the child's mouth, thus preventing its crying out, and ate away the flesh from the roof of the mouth and the lower jaw.

RAILSTORY.

ROLLING FORD, Miss., April 22.—At 2:16 yesterday afternoon a hailstorm passed over the section, the like of which has never been witnessed before. When it first began to fall the people thought the roofs were being torn from their houses. It hailed steadily for thirty minutes and stones fell that were larger than hen's eggs. Houses were knocked in the roofs of houses and trees were partially stripped of their leaves.

TWO LADIES STRUCK BY AN ENGINE.

EVERHOS, Pa., April 22.—While walking on the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near here yesterday, two ladies, Mrs. Gettemy and Mrs. Anderson, were struck by a shifting engine and terribly mangled. The former died in a few hours and Mrs. Anderson is in a serious condition.

NO CANDIDATE.

Judge Thurman Thinks Younger Democrats Than Himself Better Suited For Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—A dispatch from this city to a New York paper, quoting Judge Thurman as saying that he would accept the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio if the convention made it unanimous, was shown him this morning, when he answered: "To say that I would accept the nomination for Governor of the State of Ohio by the Democratic party at the coming convention would be equivalent to becoming a candidate, which most positively I am not. I appreciate the fact that the new generation of young men now on the stage of politics are equal to all emergencies. Among our younger chiefs in Ohio I recognize many men of proven courage and splendid attainments who possess the confidence of the people. Under the leadership of such men as they are the party in Ohio will have a future of which we may all feel proud. I am now engaged in my books and in writing letters in behalf of ambitious young Democrats who seek to advance themselves, all of which affords me pleasure. A tranquil life will afford me more satisfaction than any office, however great the honor or emoluments. This, as a matter of course, should be sacrificed for the good of one's country, or for the good of one's fellow citizens, in a case of great emergency. That emergency does not now, in my opinion, exist so far as is applicable to my self."

Locked Out Silversmiths.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A meeting of the locked out silversmiths was held to-day. A committee was appointed to effect an amicable settlement with the managers. It was reported that 200 employees of the Gorman Manufacturing Company in Providence and 100 employees of another company in the same city have been locked out. These, together with those of this city, comprise about 50 per cent. of the trade in this country.

Collapse of a Building.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 22.—Between three and four o'clock yesterday afternoon the front of the first four floors of a seven-story building on Seventh street, occupied by Tate & Myers, commission merchants, collapsed and was precipitated into the cellar. Five persons were in the building at the time but were warned of the danger by the cracking of the timbers in time to make their escape. The building was owned by Arbuckle & Co. (Limited), and was erected less than two years ago. It is supposed that the girder on the fourth floor, supporting the section which fell, was decayed. The loss was about $30,000.

The work of disposing of diseased cattle in Chicago is proceeding rapidly.

CYCLONE CALAMITY.

Southwestern Missouri Ravaged by a Terrible Tornado Originating in Kansas.

The Storm Results in a Shocking Loss of Life—The Number Killed Not Known.

Clarksville, Ark., Also Damaged With Serious Loss of Life—The Storm Near Rich Hill.

NEVADA, Mo., April 23.—A heavy storm which originated in Kansas, swept over the northeast part of this county Thursday night between eight and nine o'clock. There were four persons killed outright and several so dangerously wounded that they will probably die. The wind was preceded by a hail storm which did considerable damage. Many of the hail stones weighed from three to four ounces, and some of them measured nine inches in circumference. They crashed through the roofs of dwellings and barns leaving holes through which a man's arm would pass with ease. Considerable injury to stock is reported from the hail, but so far as learned, no persons were injured by it. The storm entered this county a short distance from Fort Scott, Kan., and traveled a distance of nearly thirty-five
