CLAFLIN

From The Clarion

Miss Viola Lee came in last Friday morning from Colorado and will spend the summer here with her brother, Sam Lee, and wife.

W. B. Madaus and family went to Lyons Sunday. Mrs. Madaus remained for a few days' visit and Mr. Madaus came home the same evening.

Frank Schmeer died at his home in Claflin Friday, April 25, 1913, at about 6:15 in the evening, after an illness that had extended over a period of several months, at the age of 68 years, seven months and 8 days.

Lee Crawford came near having a serious accident Sunday evening while coming home from Little River. In trying to pass an auto loaded mostly with girls, he became excited and participated in a head-on collision between auto and motorcycle. Lee is laid up with a badly lacerated finger, some torn clothes, a demolished mode of locomotion. However, Lee's good nature prevailed over minor circumstances and he is meeting his friends as usual.

THE PROGRESSIVES' CHANCE

The Wilson administration is offering the country the only effective tariff revision in the interest of the whole people that it has had in fifty years. It would be a tremendous pity if the Progressives in Congress should go on record in opposition to this measure.

Undoubtedly the bill is not perfect. There are some evident inequities in it. But these are of minor importance in comparison with the big achievements in behalf of the consumer who hitherto has been ignored in tariff legislation.

The removal of sugar duties, and the heavy reductions in clothing, in building material, in steel, in chemicals—in fact all along the line—show the extent to which the administration has freed itself from the powerful interests that hitherto have controlled. For the first time since the war the general welfare has been considered.

True, the revising has been done with an ax, rather than with finer tools. But the excesses that had grown up needed the ax. The finer trimming can be done later under the supervision of a tariff commission.

To insist that the relief now offered be withheld, pending the investigations of a commission, would play directly into the hands of the stand-patters, who always are for anything that would cause delay.

A commission ought to be established at once to supervise the adjustments that will be required. But just now the work in hand is to establish the tariff on a new basis in the interest of the country as a whole.

The Progressives in Congress are not in a position to do anything by themselves. Their only chance is to help whichever party is acting on behalf of the people. If they become mere carpers and critics they will seem to the country to be playing politics with the final purpose of getting the jobs. By supporting Wilson at this time they will prove their unselfish devotion to the common good.—Kansas City Star.

MARKET REPORT.

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 5.—Repair work to the extent of 15 to 25 cents was done on the cattle market last week after the break Monday and Tuesday, which left prices still a dime under the close of the previous week. The good work was resumed today when a supply of 7,000 head was marked up for Kansas City, steer sales 10 to 15 higher, cows 10 to 25 higher. Native steers sold at $8.40 this morning, bulk of sales running from $7.50 to $8.25.

GREAT BEND

KANSAS

Western fed steers reached $8.35.

A prominent sale was two cars of Oklahoma heifers from Shattuck, 604 pounds average, at $7.90, considered 15 higher than Friday. Thirty-three cars Southern arrived today, containing meal and cake fed steers at $7.00 to $7.85, and cows at $6.50 to $7.25. Twelve loads of grass cattle from South Texas were included, steers at $6.15 to $6.75, and cows and bulls at $5.50. Stock cattle and feeders are half a dollar lower than ten days ago, and they show but slight recuperative power, selling at $7.00 to $7.85. A year ago they brought $6.00 to $7.15. A good rain all over Kansas and Missouri yesterday put grass in fine condition and helped to hold receipts down today. Kansas pastures are lightly loaded this season, in some places steers having six and seven acres each, which ought to mean some good cattle this summer.

Hogs remained steady today at the prices in force Saturday, top $8.40, bulk $8.25 to $8.35, receipts 8,000 head. Future prices will depend upon volume of receipts, which most dealers think will be disappointing. Heavy runs of big brood sows are counted on by packers after weaning time, but market observers believe the policy will be to breed even the big and undesirable ones again. Packers are said to have only a three days' supply of lard on hand, a poor basis from which to conduct a bear campaign.

Sheep and lambs are off 10 to 25 cents today, lambs selling at $8.25 to $8.50 largely, Texas muttons at $5.50 to $5.85, Texas goats $3.25 to $4.25, Arizona spring lambs at $6.10. Receipts are 14,000 head, but light runs are expected through this month.

Many growing girls in school or business are frail—delicate—anaemic—lack energy and ambition and have thin blood. It is all unnatural and unless checked leads to serious and chronic ills. Nourishment, not drugs, is the law of reason to build strength—but when appetite is poor and digestion weak, ordinary foods do not nourish—then SCOTT'S EMULSION is necessary.

SCOTT'S EMULSION overcomes just such conditions; its tissue material enters the blood without digestive effort and makes it rich. It tones the whole system and starts the healthy action of cells throughout the body.

Imitations are often offered, but to get results you must get SCOTT'S.
