LINES ON THE DEATH OF DE WITT CLINTON.

Why, fell Destroyer, quench that brilliant mind
Whose light illumined and adorned mankind!
Could not an humble victim glut thy rage,
A meager sacrifice thy wrath assuage?
Vain thought! for as the ruthless lightning's power
Seethes the proud oak and rends the lofty tower,
So Death, the impartial minister of Fate,
Blasts with his mellowed breath the good, the great.
Cold in his shroud the noble Clinton sleeps,
While at his grave a widowed nation weeps,
And bright-eyed Genius mourns a brilliant gem
Torn solely from his sparkling diadem.
Clinton is gone! but Clinton's fame survives,
And will survive, while watchful men's lives
Not think the lawless denched in human gore,
Like that which Europe's giant despot wore.
By Peace the wreath that bound thy brow was twined,
Thy triumphs were the triumphs of the mind.
Majestic Erie poured at thy command
His waters to the distant ocean's strand;
Cheered by thy fostering care kind Plenty smiled,
And cultivation tamed the trackless wild;
Her treasures Kingdom opened to the poor
And Science entered at the peasant's door.
Such were a Clinton's glories—such the fame
Which consecrates the patriot's deathless name.

TO THE OCEAN.

I left have seen thee when the deep red West
Was mirrored in—age and a glossy lake,
Calm and untroubled, seemed thy peaceful breast,
And not an angry billow was awake.
When not a breath of wind was felt to shake
Thy quiet surface—calm and placid—
Seemed thy gentle beauty to partake
While the serene blue smiled sweetly o'er,
And the whole scene around a heavenly aspect wore.
And I have gazed upon thee when thy waves
Rise up tumultuously, to try thy might,
With winds and storms—when billows left their caves
To swell the noises of that dreadful fight—
Then amidst the horrors of a stormy night,
When surges roared and the winds wildly blew,
I have gazed on thee with a strange delight,
And felt as if a part of thee—and drew
More pleasure from thee as the tempest louder grew.
And I have seen thy billows madly foam,
And chase upon thy breast in hideous throng,
As if they left forever their deep home,
Thy swollen rocks and hidden caves among.
While, as the wind was stronger and more strong,
The roaring surges, like wild horses, rose
To whirl the clouds of foam upon the shore,
To deal around them shipwreck, death, and woe,
And rise to Heaven itself, as if its deadliest foes.
By Man the earthly calm may be reclaimed—
Unmeasured ocean who can rule or tame her?
Thy waves still roll—untamable—untamed—
None can control thee; Thine art will and free;
No earthly power can calm thee—thou must be Kept in subjection but by One alone—
He, who once calmed the raging of the sea,
And still to thee, proud Ocean! will be known—
He holds thee in his hand—thy might is all his own.

A councillor being questioned by a judge, to know
for whom he was concerned, replied as follows:—
I am concerned, my lord, for the plaintiff, but I am convinced by the defendant.

Potter's Vegetable Cathartic.

THE unrivalled and extensive reputation already acquired by this Medicine, demands from the proprietor his grateful acknowledgments to a discerning public. Those afflicted with the King's Evil or Scrofula, Necessities or disordered bowels, Syphilis in every stage, Ulcerated Sore Throat, Ulcers of every description, Incurable and inveterate; every variety of Cutaneous disease, Rheumatism on the face, Pimples and Tetters in particular, Broussais and Gout, White Swellings, and diseases resulting from Mercury, may be confident of obtaining in all the above cases, in which nature has not altogether yielded to disease, radical and permanent cures from the use of the Cathartic. This is the first discovery of a medicine taken in the stomach, that has laid the long desired effort of curing the most obstinate and distressing external diseases.

The use of nutritious food, and the ordinary avocations of business, are not interrupted by the Cathartic, and its properties having the power of restoring both flesh and bone, and of renovating and invigorating every part of the system during the process of exterminating disease, is without a parallel.

The proprietor begs leave respectfully, to return thanks to the many who have expressed confidence in his former statements, relating to the healing properties of the Cathartic, and he would further assure the public, that he will in no instance forfeit their confidence, by recommending his medicine as applicable to any disease, in which it shall not have proved itself eminently successful.

The following certificates will, it is presumed, satisfy the most incredulous, of the pre-eminent virtues of the Cathartic:

Philadelphia, April 1, 1825.

This is to certify, that I have been laboring for eight years, under a dreadful disease that occasioned more than 1000 separate Ulcers on my neck and body, and in my arms. In this state I remained upwards of one year, under the care of a highly respectable well known medical gentleman, who was finally abandoned by him as incurable. My frame has become much emaciated, from the long and severe pain I endured, and my health was destroyed. In this deplorable situation, Mr. W. W. Potter very generously offered me his "Vegetable Cathartic," which I immediately commenced using, and to my great surprise its powers soon became visible, by healing up a Ulcers, removing my pains, and restoring my health in a few weeks—and I say with confidence that the Cathartic has saved my life.

I saw the above case at the time he entered on the use of Mr. Potter's Cathartic, and can testify that it was a very severe and seemingly hopeless one—I have seen the same person within a few days, and found him perfectly restored to health.

From the Daries (Geo) Gazette, Nov. 1.
A most extraordinary cure of the King's Evil, by the use of the Vegetable Cathartic, by Captain Donnelly, keeper of the Light on Spauld and master pilot for Doherty Bar, authorized me to make known to the public the following fact of a recent date:
"About a month ago, I bought three bottles of Potter's Cathartic for the purpose of testing its virtues upon Mr. Peter McCulloch, pilot of Doherty Bar, who had been for several years confined to his bed and crutches in consequence of a disease of the bowels, and ulcerated feet—the soles of his feet were in that shocking state, that the bones were perceptible both to the sight and touch."
Mr. McCulloch, after the use of three bottles of the Cathartic, laid aside his crutches, and was this day in town attending to his business in nearly perfect health.

To SEVEN.
Thousands of unfortunate seamen are rendered useless to their country by the ravages of a devouring disease, to which they are more subject than any other class of men. The cause of an unfortunate sailor who either embarks in a diseased state, or finds himself so on a long voyage, must be truly deplorable; and it may not, perhaps, be improper to suggest the propriety of always including the Cathartic in the Medicine chest of the Navy and Merchant's service, it being a sovereign remedy in the disease alluded to.

TO SOUTHERN PLANTERS.
The Vegetable Cathartic is peculiarly adapted to those diseases which are prevalent among the colored population of the south. In that disease which is called Yaws it is a sure remedy; a single trial of it will convince planters of its superior efficacy to any remedy of a similar nature in the United States. They should never be without it.

Sold by the principal Druggists and Booksellers in the United States.
Price $5 per bottle, or $50 per dozen.

Fotheringay for Sale.

THE subscriber again offers this valuable estate for sale, situated on the main Eastern and Western Valley road, in the county of Montgomery, 14 miles west of Salem, on the Roanoke river. This is one of the most fertile and valuable estates above the Blue River; it contains between 300 and 1000 acres of land, the half of which is first rate bottom. The improvements consist of a handsome two story dwelling house of brick, all the necessary out houses, ice-house, carriage house, &c. a fine barn and stable, with water taken in pipes to each, a mill, and one of the best distilleries in the county, with about 200 acres of wood-land enclosed for hog pasture. The owner's house and negro quarters are built in a most substantial manner. The fences are generally made with horse posts, about 100 acres of first rate meadows, and a fine young orchard of apple trees. On the farm is a building rented as a Tavern, one of the best stands in the country, where there is a Post Office, at which the mail running east and west daily arrives. He also wishes to sell his Turpicks over the Alleghany, having the privilege of a gate on his farm—the law authorizing which vests a perpetual estate in the subscriber and requires that the net profits arising from the tolls should annually yield an interest of not less than 6 or more than 15 per cent, on $10,000, the original cost; he has for many years varied from 10 to 11 per cent. He wishes also to sell several small tracts of land on said Turpicks road.

The subscriber is induced to believe that the value of this property has heretofore prevented his having sold, the impression being that a large sum would be asked for it. He however is determined to sell it at a great bargain, and earnestly invites offers for it. The terms of payment will be very accommodating, so as to make it an object to the industrious to purchase, or to capitalists to put funds in it even as a speculation. The title will be made to purchasers indisputable. The land is so situated that it would make two desirable farms. Address to
GEO. HANCOCK, Fotheringay, Va.

In payment for this property, the subscriber would take in part 14 or 15 Negroes, as a cash payment.

THE subscribers offer their services to their friends and the public, as Commission Agents, for the sale of Tobacco, Cotton, &c.

The well known and thorough bred Race Horse, GOHANNA.

WILL STAND the ensuing season at my farm, nine miles above Richmond, in the county of Henrico, on the stage road leading to Fredericksburg, known by the name of Half Sink, and formerly owned by Mr. William Winston.

Gohanna is a rich blood bay, with black legs, five feet four and a half inches high, elegantly proportioned, and six years old next spring, and in appearance not surpassed by any horse that the world can produce.

PERFORMANCES.
In the spring of 1825, Gohanna, then 3 years old, was engaged in a sweepstake at Laurensville, Brunswick county, mile heats, $500 entrance, which he won in 3 heats, beating Lafayette, Junette, (now the favorite in New York,) and Betsey Archer.

His next race was in the same spring, over the Tree Hill course, mile heats, which he won in 3 heats, beating others, and making the best time ever recorded at that course.

His third race was in the fall of 1825, over the New Market course, 2 mile heats, which he won.

His fourth race was in the spring of 1826, over the New Market course, 4 mile heats, (Jockey Club Purse,) which he won, beating the two celebrated racers Elitilla and Salspence.

After losing a hard race there, he went over to Treem Hill, and on the following week, started for the Jockey Club purse, 4 mile heats, against Fresh horse, and won the only contending horse in the second heat, which was won by Ariel—Betsey Richards and several others in the race.

Shortly after this he became my property, since which time, owing to the most intolerable mismanagement, he has been uniformly unsuccessful, never, with one exception, having been in tolerable order for a race; at which time, his state was occasioned as much by the unexpected loss of his state, as by the superiority of his antagonist. In this race however, he was second, Ariel first, and the other two both distanced.

Three weeks after, (having run in the mean time in Norfolk, against Ariel and Sally Hope, 3 mile heats, in which he was second,) he ran in Nottingham, 3 mile heats, against Ariel, Sally Magee and Redgauntlet; in which race he beat the last two, and lost the race only by a few feet, which it was supposed by many he would have won.

For an accident—time, 1st heat 5 minutes 50 seconds; 2d heat 5 minutes 40 seconds; being by many seconds the fastest race ever run over that course.

His last race was over the Tree Hill course, this fall, 4 mile heats, against Sally Walker, when one of his lenders had given away before he started, and had been lame for ten days; under such circumstances he was of course beaten by that justly celebrated mare; but the race nevertheless reflected high credit on him, as he distanced the only other horse in the race.

This much at least may be said, that he has never lost a race in which he started, when the heats were broken, and his mile race over the Tree Hill course being the fastest that has ever been recorded there, furnishes the most incontestible evidence of both speed and bottom.

PEDIGREE.

Gohanna was by Sir Archy, dam Melina Eve (the supposed best race nag of her day) by Jack Andrews, grand dam by Bedford, great grand dam by Cade, he by Nerton's Traveller, great great grand dam an Alfred mare, imported in 1783, by Edward Carter of Blenheim on the Rappahannock, great great great grand dam by Spirit, &c. &c. grand dam by Crab.

Jack Andrews by Joe Andrews, dam by High Flyer, Cavalier Post, Tatler, Snip, Godolphin Arabian, Frampton's White Cat, Pelham Barb.

Terms—For the season fifty dollars, to be discharged by the payment of thirty-five, during the season, which will commence on the 10th of February, and expire on the 1st of August, 1828.—For insurance sixty dollars.—For each mare one dollar will be expected for the groom.
The subscriber assures all those who may send to Gohanna, that he is provided with meadow pastures, not excellent in this state, and that the strictest attention shall be paid to every mare; but as is customary, all accidents must be at the risk of the owners.
The mare can be well fed at twenty-five cents per day, where it may be required.
