FINANCE AND TRADE.

THE BANKS have become transcendeutal-everything is nothing and nothing is everything; that is, everything that is done amoun's to nothing, and nothing that is talked about amounts to anything. The only exception to this is | $1 that the greater activity in cotton has increased the amount of exchange, at unchanged rates, however; on New York, buying at par, selling at } premium; on New O.leans, i discount buying, seiling at par. The St Louis Globe-Democrat of Monday had the following: Clearings were less by nearly $2,000,000 than those of the previous week, showing that trade was in lessened volume. But against this we have to note, in a very limited circle, an increase in the discount demand for money, coming from jobbers and importers, and based on flour shipments south." When the south grands her own grown wheat, such shipments will cease to draw money from these who are in no condition to spare it, and who can, if they are wise, r-tain it at home. Gold quoted 111; in New York at noon, and 111 here. Nothing reported in scrips or stocks.

THE COTTON MARKET Vesterday was again cheered by encouraging European news. Liverpool was firm, with a sale of 15,000 bales; deliveries were active and closed firm. New York again advanced. Our market was firm for the lower qualities, which, when of good staple, were principally in demand; the higher grades are comparatively neglected, which has had the effect of causing them to be offered more freely. The offerings on the wanted cottons were light, and the inside figure of ordinary was withdrawn, showing an ad-Quotations at the Memphis cotton exchange were as follows:

The Bulletin says of it: "This yacht is certainly one of the finest pieces of work in the way of a steamer that has ever been seen in these waters. She is a perfect beauty and very powerful, and as she glided up and down the harbor she glided up and down the harbor she was the character of all observers.
