MEMPHIS, March 2, 1879.

MISS DOSSON—There is now being formed by a gang of experienced and notorious Chicago burglars a plot to rob you and your house of the valuables, diamonds and money that you have, we hearing that you have a considerable lot of them, and the gang has had their heads set on getting them. We have also been informed that you are a very good and charitable woman. I, the leader of the gang, have stopped the movements for the present, and all have agreed not to carry out our plans, under these conditions: That you will give us the small amount of three hundred dollars, by which you can let me know by putting in the personals of the AppEaL paper, Tuesday morning, March 4th, saying, "I will comply with your request;" or, if you will not give us the money, three hundred dollars, say the opposite, and we will, however, know how to proceed; and if you agree to let us have the money. I will inform yen through the mail where to send it to, and if you do not feel disposed to come up to our agreement, we will carry out our plans at all hazards. Our scheme is a good one and well planned, and there is no way in the world that you could foll us; and before we would be taken or folled in the altempt to secure these valuables, we would marrier any and everybody that comes in our road, as we have every necessary MEMPHIS, March 2, 1879. would be taken or foiled in the alternit to secure these valuables, we would nurver any and everybody that comes in our road, as we have every necessary burglary fool that is in use. This town is too little for us to operate well in; we want to leave, but not till we get the money to go on. I think by your complying with our small request you will save a heap of trouble and perhaps bloodshed. If anybody comes in our way while our operations are going on. However, if you will agree to give us the money not a hair of your head shall be hurt. Be sure to pub lish the answer in the APPKAL paper of Tuesday morning, and if you don't we shall take it for granted that you will do what we want, when we shall commence our operations, which will be in such a manner as will surprise you. We must have the money, or somebody will get hurt in us getting it if they resist us.
