MRS. A. BALTERA WINS FIRST PRIZE IN CONTEST

Vinners of Three Awards for Best Dollar-and-a-Half Dinner for Four People Are Announced Today

FIRST PRIZE, $2.50 Mrs. A. Baltera 1329 South Taulor street

Deviled Eggs Beef Broth With Rice Beef With Home-Made Catsup led Potatoes and Corn on Cob Tomatoes With French Dressing Whole Peaches Butter Ice Tea

pices for all around, including oil.

SECOND PRIZE, $1 Mrs. A. Zurich 3420 Salmon street

Risotto With Oysters Potato Salad Bread and Butter Crackers Coffee SALES SLIP

GOODIES FROM PUMPKINS

1920, by Mrs. M. A. Wilson.

pumpkins, the moon hangs high in he sky and the baying of the hounds rings visions of spicy goodies that can e made from the pumpkin.

Pumpkins belong to the squash.

family: they are grown in many varieties and in varying sizes, from that of a large orange to one of fifty pounds. In many parts of New England

t is used for a vegetable, in muttins, ishes a pleasant variety for the win-

Process in bot-water bath for securely. Store in a cool, dry thirty-five minutes. Remove and then

Squash Pancakes

Beat mixture and then let cool. Now

One cup of flour.
One level tablespoon of baking

Beat to mix thoroughly and then bake

Pumpkin Waffles

Place in a mixing bowl

One tenspoon of salt. Two tablespoons of sirup.

One tablespoon of shortening, One cup of boiling water.

Two cups of stewed pumpkins,

n the usual manner for paneakes.

Two traspoons of sugar.
Two staspoons of shortening

Two and one-half cups of flour. Four level traspoons of be Indian Pudding Place two and one-light cups of Gur-quarter cap of shartening.

Bring to a boll and add one cup of Cream sugar and egg together and Turn into a baking dish and bake in slow even for forty minutes.

Pumpkin Muffins

One level tablespoon of shortening.

Four level tablespoons of brown

One and one-half cups of stewed

Beat to mix and then pour in well-reased muffin pans and bake in a hot

Pumpkin Custard

One-half cup of sugar, Two tablespoons of melted butter, Two well beaten eggs,

Two and one-half cups of flour. One teuspoon of salt. Two level tublespoons of baking

Beat to mix and then bake in a hot

Place in a mixing bowl One cup of milk or scater. One cup of steaced pumpkins,

One tenspoon of salt.

well-grensed muttin from

in a shallow bowl

then add

water in a soue-pan and add One tenspoon of salt.
One-half-up of replasses

One cup of Cours sugar,

One treamoun of cummumon One half teaspoon of nutmen. One half teaspoon of guiger.

Place in a mixing bowl

ugar,
One cup of milk.

ven for twenty minutes.

Place in a mixing bowl:

One cup of stewed pumpkin.

One-half teaspoon of nutmer.

One-quarter teaspoon of ginger. Beat to mix and then turn into ell-greased sustard cups. Set the cups

One cup of milk. One half teaspoon of salt.

nampkin.

Two cups of cooked pumpkin. One and one-half cups of milk.

One cup of cornmeal,

owder. One-quarter cup of milk.

THE frost is now glistening on the thirty minutes.

SUGGESTED BY MRS. WILSON

You Will Win $2.50

if your $1.50 dinner for four peo ple is the best one sent to the

Prize Menu Contest

Three prizes are offered each week-First, $2.50; second, $1; third, $1.

Address all menus to Mrs. Wilson's Menu Contest Evening Public Ledger Independence Square

Your full name must be given and orrect address on the menu. Also the date of sending it. The foods used must be staples and in season. and a sales slip giving the cost of

> THIRD PRIZE, $1 Mrs. Karl Heiner Wilmington, Del. Menu
> Beef Goulash
> Potatoes Hot Slaw
> Bread and Butter
> Sauce Coffee Apple Sauce C SALES SLIP

One quart polatoes
One small cabbage
Bread and butter
Coffee and milk One-half pound of sugar Two tomatoes negar, pepper and salt in a baking pan and fill the pan with two-thirds of the depth of cups with cold water. Bake in a slow oven for

Pumpkin Pie From the early Colonial days this elicacy has always been a great fa-orite. To prepare the pastry for this

One and one-half teaspoons of ginger,

Tiny pinch of allspice. Four level tablespoons of cornstarch,

Two level tablespoons of butter, One and one-half cups of milk, in a slow oven for forty-five minutes.

Note-Brush the pastry liberally with good salad oil before pouring in e filling. This prevents a soggy

Mrs. Wilson's Answers

MRS. R. M. F.

Dear Mrs. Wilson-Have been fol-

he used for these cakes. To make a butter sponge add three tablespoons of melted butter to the sponge cake rec-ipe, before adding the whites of eggs.

The shortage of sugar and its high little cakes.

price have prevented an article on these

One teaspoon of cinnamon, pie place in a mixing bowl:

Two cups of flour. One-half teaspoon of salt. Two tablespoons of sugar, A Jaunty Little Suit By Corinne Lowe

THE UNWELCOME WIFE

By HAZEL DEVO BATCHELOR

Anthony Harriman married Charlotte Graves, a girl he met when he was camping in the Berkshires. He was very much in love with her, but when he brought her to the city and saw her in a different setting doubts began to assallshim. His mather, too, helped matters on by treating Charlotte like an interloper. She was plainly disgruntled by the fact that Tony had married beneath him. On the morning after Charlotte's orrival in the city, Mrs. Harriman took her shopping and they met Edith Comstack, the girl Mrs. Harriman had always hoped Tony would marry.

Disliver gauze was slipped over the girl's head, and the shoulder straps were snapped in place, Madame stared in amazement as Charlotte flushed scarlet at the expanse of shoulder that the gown revealed.

"Oh, but I couldn't wear anything like this," she protested.

"It's lovely on you, ravissant!" Madame exulted.

Mrs. Harriman looked at her daughter-in-law critically. The silver gauze made Charlotte's har look almost silver in tone, the flawless skin was exquisite in texture. There were possibilities in

The Evening Dress

Two level teaspoons of baking powder. Sift to mix. Now rub into the flour seven tablespoons of shortening and use six tablespoons of cold water to and stewed until tender. Add just the pastry with salad oil to prevent filling from soaking the lower crust. Now place in a bowl:

When tender rub through a sieve and then fill into sterilized jais. Adjust the rubber and lid and partially tighten the lid. Precase in low paster bath for one and one-nuarter care of the lid. One and one-nuarter care of the lide of the lide of the paster with salad oil to prevent filling from soaking the lower crust. Now place in a bowl:

Two cups of stewed pumpkin. One fall tespoon of salt. look of comprehension as though she un-derstood what had happened. Quite sud-denly Charlotte realized that there was to be no friendship between them. All hope of anything of the kind had been nipped in the bud by those fatal words. One and one-quarter cups of brown

This is Tony's wife." "You must come and see us very on," Mrs. Harriman went on, "Tony will be eager to see you."
"Oh, but not during his honeymoon Edith said lightly, with another glance at Charlotte, "he will want to be alone for a

Two well-beaten rggs.

Beat mixture to blend thoroughly and then fill into the pies and bake "Oh. I imagine he'll be quite ready to see his friends any time," Mrs. Harriman returned. "He and Charlotte did their courting in the country, you see." Edith laughed. "All right, I'll come very soon—it will be nice to see Tony again, although I don't suppose he'll be a bit the same now that he has annexed a wife. What a surprise for all his friends ! She glanced at a tiny platinum wrist watch hurriedly, and exclaimed at the time, "I must be rushing off now, I have Dear Mrs. Wilson—Have been fol-lowing up your recipe and have been patiently waiting for one for cup cakes or some other recipe for nice little was off.

cakes. So wish at your convenience that you will oublish one. Sponge or layer cake mixtures may

She said nothing at all about Edith. nun i out Charlotte knew intuitively that this Italy. was the woman Mrs. Harriman would ave had Tony marry. She thought of his all during luncheon, which at any ther time would have claimed all her attention, for Mrs. Harriman had taken her to one of the larger hotels, and the

My dear Mrs. Wilson—Will you kindly inform me just what gluten bread is and hew it is made? Can you purchase it in the bakeries? E. T. E.
Gluten bread is a bread made from gluten flour. This flour has a large of percentage of starch removed. It is sold in delicatessen stores and bakeries. Conjude the following of the kind before.

Afterward there was more shopping, an afternoon frock, a dinner dress, and arternoon frock, a dinner dress, and evening dress cut so as to show the girl's lovely arms and shoulders.

Madame Delphine had had very little experience with girls of Charlotte's comment and stir to prevent lumping.

Cook slowly for ich minutes and then turn into a mixing bowl. Now place directory under the heading of bakeries.

Madame Delphine had had very little experience with girls of Charlotte's type. So that when the glittering cloud Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.

COPONEY'S wife?" Edith said uncer- she could be easily managed. "Nonsense, Charlotte," Mrs. Harri-man exclaimed impatiently, "the dress is not too low. Remember, you're not spring, place them on a shelf in a welltentilated and cool cellar and take care that they do not touch each other. Wipe that they do not touch each other with and narrow strip and cut in inchlas been wrung out of warm water.

Pumpkins may be pared, cut in thin slices and dried, stored in all glass or the collect and stewed until needed.

It was place them on a shelf in a welltorm a paste. Divide for two pies.

Roll out and cover pie plates and the Berkshires, and Tony brought her home only yesterday."

It was true Charlotte was a married woman, but she had been married only
a day in spite of the days of dreary
the edge to prevent the filling from overflowing. Now rub the bottom of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the
filling from sonking the leave the place of the overflowing. Now rub the bottom of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the
filling from sonking the leave the place of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the
filling from sonking the leave the place of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the
filling from sonking the leave the place of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the
filling from sonking the leave the place of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the
filling from sonking the leave the place of the pastry with salad oil to prevent the filling from sonking the leave the place and the Berkshires, and Tony brough her
home only yesterday."

It was true Charlotte was a married woman, but she had been married only
a day in spite of the days of dreary
and the idea of wearing such a low waiting before Tony had claimed impatiently, "the dress for too low. Remember, you're a debutante; you're a matried woman.

It was true. Charlotte was a married woman, but she had been married only
a day in spite of the days of dreary
waiting before Tony had claimed her.

Knows Her One Week
Harriman could not cover pie plates and the Berkshires and touch in the woman between the price in the proper of the place of the son mat too low. Remember, you're a debutante; you're and setup in the table pour Cynthia

(Tomorrow, the art of holding a husband)

Moyen-Age Frock

Everywhere, at the openings of the great Paris houses, were high collars, long sleeves, and lines reminiscent of the Moyen Age. Though this high-necked and long-sleeved mode is new—an ultra note—it is not likely to be —an ulfra note—it is not likely to be the prevailing style in America this winter, though it will make its first appearance. It will have a tendency, however, to make the open-necked dress a little higher, and the sleeves un-doubtedly will be long, sometimes close fitting or sometimes flaring.—In Novem-ber Good Housekeeping.

A Coincidence

an engagement for luncheon. Good-bye, and Edith, tall, dashing and vivacious, the Grand Duchess Marie Adeiaide ascended the throne of Luxemburg. By a coincidence it was also a Friday. October 1, of this year, that the former and she had assumed her aloofness of manner.

Begin your letter "My dear Charlie" and end "Very sincerely."
Play cards or some other quiet games, dance and sing together.
Lemonade and cake; or crackers and chasse and ginger alo.

SARAY "ENGRANDON DON DANGORADO DE DESCRIPCIO DE SARADO DE PROPERTO DE SARADO DE PROPERTO DE SARADO DE SARADO D

The Store of Personal Service

1310 Chestnut Street

Please Tell Me What to Do

By CYNTHIA

Scores "Heart-Breaker" Dear Cynthia—Would you be so kind to print this, for the benefit of the bor child who signs herself as "Heart-

Dear Cynthia—Would you be so kind as to print this, for the benefit of the poor child who aigns herself as "Heart-Breaker?"

My dear child, were you old enough to join the army? I'll wager you fibbed by a few years to be accepted, because you, indeed, are nothing but a wee young mother's child, or your true sentiments would not be of those you sent "Cynthia was."

So you prefer to gaze into her eyes and let her do the slushing. It is not your eyes that make fools out of some girls: that kind of girls are fools with-girls; that kind of girls are fools with-out the making.

We've got to give you credit for one thing and that's that you admit you are a jest of nature. We see you've been glancing Earon Links' way. Would not our famous philosopher be terribly angry did he know how incorrectly you placed his quoted words into statement? placed his quoted words into statement. We agree with you, it is the soul that inspires, but cannot the beautiful possess such a soul as well as the ugly? You have contradicted a previous statement if you will notice.

All in all, "Heart Breaker," I think the writing Cynthia again you had

All in all, "Heart Breaker," I think before writing Cynthia again you had better let "mother" censor your ideals. If you would put your time to such thoughts as "Happy's" it would be worth your while.

What He Thinks of Love-Making Dear Cynthia—I have just finished reading your column and wanted to say that I am glad to know that there are a few people left in this world of ours who have some sense about the so-called "love-making" business. Personally, I have never been able to consider the modern way as true "love-making"; for when a man really loves a girl he respects her enough to be sensible in his actions. I suppose I am an extremist in this matter, but it was really thrust upon me. I am eighteen years old, play footthis matter, but it was really thrust upon me. I am eighteen years old, play football, baseball, golf and tennis, have a car of my own and an allowance that will permit me to have as good a time as I care to have. But for some reason, I don't seem to enjoy myself when I am with girls as they are today as I used to when I was younger and the girls didn't have this society idea in their heads all the time. Why, Cynthia, the girls of today consider it an insult if you ask them to go for a walk. They must ride or will not go at all. If you don't keep telling a modern girl how much you love her all the time, she won't have anything to do with you. I am glad to know that there are a couple of sensible ones left like "Mickey" and "Innocent Lonely, 17." May we find more like them.

Wants an Address

Dear Cynthia—I have read your col-umns ever since I have been hore. I am a young man, twenty-three years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weigh 175 pounds. I attend college here and take part in all athleties.

I have been going with a girl a long time, yet I never feel satisfied that she and I are well mated. I often meet girls, but never make a good impresgirls, but never make a good impression, because I do not dance and say the smart things they like, and be frivandirons made?

of silk.

of silver gauze was slipped over the girl's head, and the shoulder straps were snapped in place, Madame stared in amazement as Charlotte flushed scarlet at the expanse of shoulder that the gown revealed.

"Oh, but I couldn't wear anything like this," she protested.

"It's lovely on you, ravissant!" Madame exulted.

Mrs. Harriman looked at her daughter-in-law critically. The silver gauze made Charlotte's hair look almost silver in tone, the flawless skin was exquisite in texture. There were possibilities in this girl: she could be made very picturesque if she responded and apparently she could be easily managed.

"Nonsense, Charlotte." Mrs. Harri-

AN UNSETTLED YOUNG MAN.

dress shocked and frightened her. Mrs. Harriman could not appreciate the fine points of the girl's attitude; she simply though, the idea of objecting to a lownecked frock stupid and rather bourgeois, exactly what she might have expected from a girl of Charlotte's type.

Dear Cynthis—I an a young man in young man young man

Questions in Propriety

Questions in Propriety

Dear Cynthia—I've read your column for over a year and I like it so much that I, too, would like to ask your advice. I go with two girls and we all have boy friends. We have joily times with them and our parents usually know when we are with them. They often ask us if we will be at a certain ice cream parlor or picture house. If we say yes and go, they are always there and then they take us home. Now is it proper to go to that place and meet them like that? Also, will you please tell me how you should start and end a note written a boy friend in school.

Please tell me if your parents were willing, would it be proper to ask two boys and one girl, making a party of four, to your home some time to spend the evening. If so, what could you do besides dance, and what kind of refreshments could you serve?

MILLIE JUNE.

It would be better to have the boys

cheese and ginger ale

WHAT'S WHAT By HELEN DECIE

Nowadays no one addresses the whole table, excepting regular after-dinner speakers at a banquet. Yet too-absorbing a tete-a-tete conversation is also to be discouraged as being distinctly unsocial. A man should pay chief attention to the woman he has taken in to dinner, but woman he has taken in to dinner, but he should not ignore his neighbor on the other side. It sometimes happens, indeed, that the other side receives all the attention and the dinner partner must then depend for conversation upon "the next chair."

In the illustration, the hostess, having waited for a pause in the talk to her right has addressed a question to the man. He remains deaf and blind to all but his other fair neighbor, and she, to avoid additional embarrassment, must convey to him the fact that his hostess is awaiting an answer to the query which he has not even heard.

As a wit once said, society pardons absence of mind only when it is accompanied by absence of body.

The Woman's Exchange

Removing Grease Spots To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—Will you please tell me what will remove from plain tan-colored wall paper small spots made from blowing out a white wax candle which had melted to liquid in a candle stick?

Press powdered fuller's earth lightly upon the greasy spots, and I think you'll find they will disappear.

o the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam — Is there any place where I could obtain a dog for a little boy who is ill? It would be such com-pany for him. I should like a black puppy.

You could probably find a dog at the Animal Refuge, 22 South Eighteenth street I hope the little boy gets his black puppy, for he probably has his heart set on just such a dog.

The Question Corner Today's Inquiries

Describe a novel "spider" cos tume for Halloween. 2. In what shape are some unusual

3. What is noticeable about the neckline of many new evening gowns? 4. Describe a good-looking handbag can varnish be removed from dark woodwork that is to be painted white? When it is necessary to use a quantity of narrow ribbon to trim a dress, what less expensive kind can be used?

Saturday's Answers

A popular style of sleeve this year is one that widens until just belsw the elbow, and then tapers to the wrist.

A novel way to make short cur-tains for bedrood windows is to gather them in at the bottom to a wide band of filet crocheting, in A child's beaver hat that is worn down and out of style can be cut into flat soles for bedroom slip-

A pretty spread for a single bed is made of plain white chintz with a flowered valance, and a single spray of the flowers appliqued in the center of the white part.

A candy box with a folding lid can be covered with a remnant of cretonne and used as a doll's house shirtwaist box.

6. A substitute for fur on collar and cuffs is made of loops of ribbon.

Better for the chil-

Better for the tray-

Better for the hur-

Better for every-

THE KOLYNOS

COMPANY

New Haven, Conn. U. S. A

ried man or woman.

WE NEVER HAVE THE SAME WONDERFUL TIME' TWICE

There Is Always Something Missing When We Try to Reproduce It All-It Won't Bounce the Second Time-But Memory Keeps It Fresh for Us

their warm clothes and leggings, started out to play—build a fort, or make a snow man, or anything they could think of. And they hit upon the plan of mak-ing a trench, packed down and patted flat until there were two comfortable ittle seats in it-all made of dry, comortable, safe snow. That was great fun for a while, but not active enough, and they were almost tired of it when one of them brought a basket and began filling it with round, glistening eggs made of

THEN there was great sport! The kitchen bought so many eggs that they were obliged to hurry back constantly to the cozy little shelter under the hemlocks, s' more eggs and rush back to sell them.

It went on all the this manufacturing and selling, and they were tired. hungry and thoroughly happy when supper time came. As long as the snow lasted they play ed in their little grove, watching the wind blow harmlessly past their walls, taking little flakes or snow with it as went. When the next snow came they played their game again; but somehow it wasn't so much fun; something seemed to have gone out of it.

That one snowstorm and their good time with it stood out in their minds as the greatest fun they had ever had Each year they tried to find the snap of it again, but each year they in winter time. failed, and took to building forts in-

HOW many times have you tried to broideries, the same apron tunics panels and sometimes even the substime' since you grew up?

Sometimes it's because of your com

ONCE upon a time there were two little girls who made up a wonderful game all their own.

They were inseparable friends, and ful game all their own.

They were inseparable friends, and when they thought of a game they played it together as hard as they could play.

One winter when the snow came, deeper and drier and more beautiful than usual, it drifted into a soft, white mound under a group of fir trees that grew near the kitchen door.

They were inseparable friends, and are, it's whom you're with."

Again, it may be your own attitude; perhaps the first time you were in unusual, light spirits, just ready for a good time, maybe you felt that your were thinking about that letter from "somebody." or that raise that had been promised—you can't bring back things like that when you want them. "I did have such a good time that day," you mourn. "Why couldn't it happen again just that same way?"

THOSE happy times, those unforget-I table days that have gone into the past, how we yearn to have gone into the past, how we yearn to have them repeated, just once, in every little detail. That day last fall, why, it was just a year ago, that evening last summer—oh, that moon! Why can't it happen just like that again? Memories, clear, some of them, in every detail, vague; others, except for certain features, dear, all of them, and getting dearer with each year that comes between them and the present.

We can never have those experiences in reality again—other events take their place in life, but memory cherishes them, adds something to them, makes them sacred and lives them over and over for us whenever the mood strikes Fashion Briefs.

There is a new game now very popular. It is to distinguish this season's models from those of last season. So far nobody seems to have a very high score, but the game provides us with a constant exercise for faculties somewhat dimmed perhaps by the ease of former approximations.

First of all, the skirts are apt to be odd and uneven. Second, the collars have mounted to the ears, and are still moving. Third, the waists are inclined to be long. Fourth, there are symptoms of the yoke. For the rest, we have the same old chemise frocks, the same embroideries, the same areas areas.

And how many times have you failed? It can't be done.
You may remember every little part of it, everything that was said and done, but when you try it the second time the spring has gone out of it, it doesn't bounce.
No one has ever found out just exactly why.

Let it not be thought that the collar of the moment has nothing to do but to chin itself. There are so many setting up exercises which an ambitious collar may take nowadays. For example, one of the newest callsthenics is to wrap around the neck and then the in a bow at the left side. A collar such as this is bound to bring your frock of last year right up to the minute.

CORRINE LOWE

DENTAL CREAM

The Captive Cap is a certain

THE PROPERTY OF

mark of identification, because it is used exclusively by Kolynos.

Sports Suits The Values are Forty Dollars! Another example of our downward price-revisions, whilst maintaining typical Blum Store Quality Practical Outdoor Suits of Full Wool and Alpine Wool (fine knitted worsted) in six attractive modelsnotch collars and revers, patch pockets, and the various mannish models that go to make these Suits so won-derfully winsome!

Brown, Nankin Blue, Pine Needle (indicating a marvelous new Green) and ever-popular navy!

All Sales Final-No Approvals-None C. O. D.

THE BLUM STORE A New Organization With an Old Name