

SPORTS. IN FAST COMPANY Wilmot's Men Played the Strong Chicago American Team at Leavenworth To-day.

Training of Millers Continues Along Sternuous Lines—Yeager Getting Down to Weight.

To-day Wilmot's men were given a chance to show their ability in fast company in a game with the Chicago White Sox at Leavenworth. Comiskey in spite of the loss of Griffith has a bunch of players who are considered fully as strong as the fast bunch of last season. The pitching staff includes Jimmy Callahan, still one of the best in the business; Patterson, whom Comiskey considers the equal if not the superior of Griffith; and Flaherty, who was sought by all the big clubs in the country, but who finally signed with the White Sox, the third of the "Big Three" (that really is his first name) whom Hanlon considers the best outfielder in the world, and Danny Green, one of the fastest base runners in the country. Tannehill, one of the most consistent of league infielders, will play either short or third.

With his "Big Four" however, Wilmot should make a good showing against the Chicago twirlers. Stimmel was scheduled to pitch to-day's game, and Yeager to do the receiving. Yeager has been taking off flesh rapidly, and as the fatty matter has disappeared, a drier, more wiry type has been noticed. Wilmot has been taking his men on little runs to the Leavenworth baseball grounds every day; a distance of five miles. This strenuous form of exercise has contributed materially in reducing the corpulence of the big catcher.

To-morrow's game at Leavenworth will be with the White Sox again. It will be played on the National Military Home grounds, which Business Manager Rundle of the Millers declares to be the most beautiful in the country. It features a turf field, with beautiful drives, long vistas of trees and great government buildings on either side.

Yesterday was a typical Kansas day at Leavenworth, the wind blowing very hard all day. But the millers were on the grounds morning and afternoon doing their "stunts" in order to get their trim for the game with Comiskey's White Sox. The men are all in good shape with the exception of Outfielder Sullivan, who has a very bad leg, and whose having formed as a result of a bruise received some time ago. He is out of the game for the time being.

Isbell and Patterson of the White Sox arrived at Leavenworth this morning and will be joined by the balance of the team to-morrow. They were on the grounds all afternoon and expressed the opinion that Wilmot's team should be a winner. They especially complimented Stimmel, who is pitching in mid-summer form.

The batteries for to-day were expected to be Stimmel and Yeager and Patterson and Sullivan, for the best part of the game with a try-out for the other ball tossers. Wilmot has arranged with the street car company for the men to ride, but only on the suburban cars. The White Sox will have to walk to the game.

In a few days President Pulliam of the National League will send out to managers and umpires his instructions regarding what steps shall be taken to maintain deportment on the ball field.

"There will be no rowdiness," he said to-day. "Any player who attempts to eliminate himself, will forfeit himself, as it were. His outburst will be a flash in the pan. The umpire will take care of him and I will take care of him later, if need be. I am not here for any such thing as rowdiness. If there is any rowdiness it will not be the fault of the umpires or players, but my fault. I intend to have clean ball, and to see that the intention and enforce my authority will be a test of my executive ability."

Will Be Accommodated Young Corbett May Meet Terry Again if the Latter Will Bet $10,000.

Another fight between Young Corbett and Terry McGovern may be arranged if the latter can really back up to the extent of $10,000. When McGovern arrived in New York, his manager, Sam Harris, said Terry would like to fight his conqueror again. Terry would like to fight the victor. Hearing of this, George Considine, who is interested in Young Corbett, said that he would furnish $10,000 to back Corbett, and that Harris would have a return battle if he was sincere in his willingness to bet $10,000.

Young Corbett after he has made no plans to fight Yanger. He said: "I'll fight him some day, but not now. Yanger is looking for advertising in all this talk. An attempt to make a fight between a match between Young Corbett and Jordan, the English champion, but so far nothing has been accomplished. It is proposed to have this match take place before the Yosemite Club in San Francisco some time in May. If Jordan cannot be secured it is hoped that Will Curley will meet Corbett."

M. Houseman, manager of Jack Root, the Chicago light heavyweight, signed the articles of agreement to-day and forwarded his $1,000 forfeit money stakeholder Joe Jackson of Detroit for a ten-round boxing contest between Jack Root and Kid McCoy before the Metropolitan Athletic Club of Detroit April 22. The matchmaker, the matchmaker of the club, and his brother George of New York, who is managing McCoy, are now being affixed their signatures to the contract; consequently the match between the two famous light heavyweights is now consummated.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS The track team of the South Side high school is likely to lose its mainstay, Myrick, the colored sprinter, who was counted on for from 12 to 20 points in the interscholastic meet. He secured a position which will necessitate his leaving school. Myrick is the most promising sprinter ever developed in the twin city high schools, and has also been a tower of strength on the South high football team for some years.

The business men of St. Peter have decided to give a June race meeting and will hang $2,000 in purses. The meeting will cover three days, A. F. Evanson, John A. Johnson and Charles F. are the officers chosen to conduct the meeting. It is expected that a large number of St. Paul and Minneapolis horsemen will participate.

IS NOT UP TO YOST Coach Had Nothing to Do With Getting Gregory for Michigan, Says an Alumnus.

Wolverine Students and Graduates Much Excited by Charges of President Jordan.

A local Michigan alumnus, who is close to the coach with athletic affairs at his alma mater, said to-day that he was satisfied that the charges against Coach Yost and Center Rush Gregory of last fall's football team, President Jordan of Stanford University were entirely without foundation. He said: "Last fall immediately after the Michigan-Minnesota football game at Ann Arbor, I met a high school friend, who has been an active part in the development of athletics at Michigan for some years. He was thoroughly in touch with affairs on the football squad last fall and talked to me as a fellow alumnus, freely, and I am satisfied, truthfully. I questioned him in regard to all the men on the Michigan team who had been under suspicion, and among others about Gregory. "According to the story he told me, Yost had nothing to do with inducing Gregory to enter at Michigan. Yost did tell my classmate that Gregory, who was a resident of some small town near Los Angeles, was a promising man. My classmate wrote to a brother fraternity man who was in business at Los Angeles, telling him that Gregory intended to study law, and advising him to use all legitimate means to persuade Gregory to enter Michigan. The Los Angeles alumnus held several conversations with Gregory and the latter's parents, and convinced them that the Michigan law school offered more advantages than those of any other institution they had under consideration. "I also have had assurances from professors in the law school at Michigan that Gregory is an industrious and conscientious student. I feel justified in stating positively that none of the men on the Michigan team last year were induced to enter the university by promise of gain."

The faculty of the University of Michigan took official cognizance of President Jordan's attack on Coach Yost and Gregory in a meeting of the board of control. The speech delivered by Dr. Jordan at the University of Chicago last week was taken up, analyzed and answered. Indirectly a rebuke was administered to Professor Scott of the local faculty, who spoke from the same platform as did President Jordan and who himself intimated that athletics at Ann Arbor were not all they should be. In the statement given out after the meeting by Professor Pattengill, head of the board of control, the most sensational charges were considered the direct charges of unscrupulous conduct against Professor A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago. It reaches its climax in the closing sentence of Professor Pattengill's statement that the present condition of athletics is absolutely intolerable.

Professor Pattengill strongly defends the University of Michigan's standing in both scholarship and athletics and says that special care was taken in regard to the case of Center Rush Gregory. Professor Pattengill asserts that President Jordan's accusations are ungenerous. Michigan students are extremely indignant at the statements concerning Yost and Gregory, made by Professor Jordan. "I have been here, and I came here because it was the best place within my reach to study my chosen profession. If anybody had anything to do with my coming here it was Professor Ferguson of Stanford. He recommended Michigan to me. I don't like the reflections cast on my standing as a scholar one bit. I have never failed in an examination since I have been here, and I passed by entrance examinations without a scratch. I got a diploma from San Jose high school before I came here and had as good a standing as any freshman."

The University of Chicago professors and athletes take exception to the statement of Professor Pattengill of the University of Michigan in regard to President Jordan and Professor Stagg, but none was willing to be quoted when interviewed. Professor Stagg, at whom the shafts of criticism were mainly directed, refused to reply to the insinuation of unscrupulous conduct, but intimated that he might give out a statement in writing later on. The students at Chicago were a unit in upholding Professor Stagg and his athletic policy.

NEW OFFICERS ARE IN ENTRY BLANKS ARE OUT

Calhoun Yacht Club Elects C. D. Kicher Commodore and A. D. Axtell Fleet Captain.

New Clubhouse Will Probably Be Built on South Shore of Lake.

Plans for the season were discussed and officers elected at a meeting of the Calhoun Yacht Club Tuesday evening. The new officers follow: Commodore, C. D. Kicher; vice commodore, Charles Wallis; secretary, Charles Wallis; treasurer, Allen Baird; directors for three years, W. P. Shattuck, J. N. Norris, Jr., C. S. Simmonds; directors for two years, Charles Woodward and W. M. Quale; director for one year, A. C. Dannenbaum. About thirty new members have joined the club within the last month, and as most of the new members are oarsmen, rowing and canoeing will occupy as much of the attention of the club as yachting. Plans for the new clubhouse were discussed, and it was decided that it would be impracticable to build a house upon piling over the sandbar opposite Thirteenth street on the east side of the lake. The site favored at present by most of the members of the club is on the south shore of the lake, between Upton and Vincent avenues N. Lots in this vicinity can be secured at a moderate cost, and the ground is high and dry, offering an ideal location for a clubhouse. Adjacent to the high ground upon which the house will be located is a piece of low ground, through which a slip can be cut, and the rowing shells can be floated to a dock at the house. The park board has given a partial assurance that it will construct a dock for sailboats on the shore of the lake. The club will give a series of dances at Masonic Temple. The first will be given Tuesday evening. A special meeting will be called soon to take definite action in regard to the new clubhouse.

KELLY A PLUNGER Man Who Made Killing With For- est King Formerly a Noted Character in Montana.

Has Won and Lost Several Bank Rolls in the Last Fifteen Years.

Special to The Journal. Helena, Mont., April 8.—(Kia) Kelly, who made the recent famous "killing" at Oakland with Forest King, is a noted Montana character. His Montana friends do not believe there was anything crooked about the race, except that he alone knew what the horse was capable of, and kept that information to himself. When he was posted in the books at $9 to 1, Kelly immediately proceeded to back him "on the boards," and by post time the odds were at about even money. Kelly is said to have won $75,000 on the race. "About fourteen years ago Kelly engaged in ranching with his brother in Flathead county, Montana, but not finding this to his liking shortly afterward departed for Anaconda, where he soon became noted as a "plunger." An instance of his habit in this line may be cited. Shortly after his arrival in Anaconda, Kelly bought $20 worth of checks on a faro game, got off lucky and soon had about $900. He decided to quit and pushed the checks over toward the dealer, who was shuffling the cards for the next game. Just at that moment Jack Highland approached the game and purchased $100 worth of checks. He noticed Kelly's chips setting in front of the box, and inquired as to who they belonged. Being informed that they were Kelly's, he turned to him and said: "Why don't you bet them all on the high card, kid?" The banter was too much for Kelly and he bet them all, simply by telling the dealer that he would bet them all on the high card. And go they did. The turn came, Kelly-nine, and the $900 worth of chips were placed in the rack and Kelly left the house with the same amount. The loss philosophically, however, and did not even reproach Highland for the bad "steer."

In 1891 Kelly went to Columbia Falls, bought several lots and erected a $3,500 building, but this venture proved a losing one. Kelly then made the Great Northern division headquarters, and the inhabitants left Columbia Falls as rats leave a sinking ship. The bar and faro game were not patronized and the building was afterward sold for an excellent price. Kelly then traveled around the state for several years, working in Helena, Butte, Great Falls and Anaconda as a faro dealer, all of the time "hucking the tiger" himself, with indifferent success, merely eking out a living. Along in 1893 he bought a horse called Al, and, as a result, a failure, as his horse did not get within the money in any of his entries. He was still dealing faro and the Alaskan gold discoveries created such an excitement, and getting the craze, started for Dawson City. Here he was quite successful at faro, and was soon the owner of one of the best houses in town, and was doing the best business of any gambling-house in the place, when the town was destroyed by fire.

He lost everything—house, bank roll and paraphernalia. He estimated his loss at $50,000. He again got a start on a "shoe-string," however, and after a winning streak of two weeks, soon purchased another house and was doing well, when he again burned out, and, as in the first instance, he had no insurance on his property, and was left penniless. Despairing of success in Dawson, he went to Cape Nome by the river route, and soon accumulated a roll of about $10,000. With this amount he started for the states, and stopped off at Helena en route east, where he made a long visit with his parents. He returned to Seattle, where, with W. S. Stanchfield, the famous horseman, he started a gambling-house called the Dawson club.

This did not prove a successful venture, however, and Kelly sought to recuperate the losses of the club by playing the races, with the result that he was soon in hard straits again. It was quite evident that the club could not survive another week, whereupon Kelly drew out his share of the roll, backed the bank in his own place and won out the entire roll, about $7,000. With this sum he started for New York, where he secured employment as a faro dealer. This was about eighteen or twenty months ago. From letters received by his friends, it is learned that he prospered New York, a great place to pull off "coups," and he advised several of them to come there, promising situations at $100 a week. Kelly was in the city of him for six months, until the news of his startling victory at Oakland with Forest King, and it is safe to say his every dollar was wagged on the animal.
