Umpire Mullane Allows Louisville to Delay Game Until the Rain Falls.

Score Was 7 to 0 in Favor of Millers When Fifth Round Began.

Louisville, Aug. 6 .- Jupiter Pluvius, the Louisville team, and Umpire Mullane combined to rob the millers of a victory yesterday afternoon. Yeager's men hit McCord all over the lot, and then touched up Egan, who succeeded him. Meanwhile Thomas held the locals down without a hit for four innings.

With the score 7 to 0 in favor of the millers in the fifth, and rain threatening, the colonels began to play for rain, while the visitors made just as strenuous efforts to get thru the fifth round and make the contest count. After McIntyre and Oyler had gone out, Egan threw wide ones to Martin, with the idea of passing him and prolonging the game until the rain stopped Martin, however, struck at everything, and then the colonels delayed matrs by prolonged conferences among emselves, and lengthy arguments with Umpire Mullane Instead of forcing the men to play ball, Mullane allowed them to delay matters until the rain came down in torrents, and made further play an

MR WARD RETORTS He Rises to Remark for Manager Rook's

Benefit. Minneapolis, Aug. 6.—To the Sporting Editor of The Journal: I enclose a copy of the letter sent by me to Manager Rook you will give it as much publicity as you did Mr. Rook's communication yesterday. The Apex team has not assumed any authority in arranging championship games, and is ready to take on any team in the city. My letter to Mr. Rook, which follows, will explain my position.

city. My letter to Mr. Rook, which follows, will explain my position.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 5, 1903.

Hon. Frank Ecok, Manager, City.

Dear Sir—You will no doubt pardon me for taking the liberty to address you personally in regard to your communication to the sporting editor of the Evening Journal, but it is a practice of mine to say what I have to say to the person that the remarks are intended for, and not take cover thru a venomous communication to a widely circulated newspaper. In reply to your communication I wish to say that the only team the Apex has played this season, which has no reputation for either clean or good ball playing, has been the Bachelors. We have played the Javas and the Bonander and Dows and defeated them in clean, gentlemanly games. Both these teams, I believe, defeated your aggregation, even after you went to the expense of filling your team up with ringers. It will be unnecessary for you to wait until after the series of games have been played to get on at the park, as I hereby notify you that the Apex baseball team will play your aggregation of has beens at Minnehaha ball park, Sunday, Aug. 9, at 1:45 p. m., for any amount you desire, or for sport. You will kindly hustle down to the sporting editor of The Journal and deposit your money, and I will see that it is covered. That will give you all this week to hustle around and hire some good players. I must insist, however, that you accept or decline this challenge before Thursday evening, Aug. 6, at 6 p. m. This letter will be sent by special delivery, so you will have no excuse for not having received it. If I fall to hear from you by that time I will take on a good team for Sunday. Respectfully yours,

Manager Apex Baseball Club.

BEND'S GREAT GAME

Champion in Golf Tourney

Defeated by J. D. Towne of Glenview.

The feature of the western golf tournament at Cleveland yesterday was the bat-tle between H. P. Bend of the Town and Country club, champion of Minnesota, and H. Chandler Egan of Exmoor, the western champion. Bend gave Chandler a tough game, and the Chicago man was never as much as one up until the eighteenth hole. Chandler was one down at the turn. He won the tenth hole, and lost the eleventh, but halved the next four, and then won the sixteenth, making him even. The seventeenth was halved, and on the eighteenth both men missed easy putts. Egan finally holed out and won the match 1 up. Had Bend won he would have been one champion. Bend gave Chandler a tough finally holed out and won the match 1 up. Had Bend won he would have been one

It is this point that has been made clear by little remarks let fall by the champion, and it is this upon which Corbett pins a head to give him a decided advantage over the man who dreads the jibes of the gallery while he is being jabbed without making any return.

The idea has been gaining ground very rapidly that Corbett has a great chance to win, and should not be passed lightly in the betting.

Word has been received in Cincinnati direct from Jim Jeffries' training quarters to the effect that the champion was in the very best of shape for his contest with day night a week.

The news came in a letter to Mike Con-ley, the "Ithaca Giant," from his old friend Billy Delaney, who has charge of the Jeffries camp. Conley and Delaney have known each other for many years, and a week or so before every champion-ship battle in which Jeff takes part Billy writes to Conley, giving his opinion concerning the probable outcome. Delaney stated that Jeff would whip Fitz inside of ten rounds when they met. The fight only lasted eight. This time Delaney does not pick any certain number of rounds, but says Jeff is in great shape and will win sure. The veteran trainer winds up his letter with the words: "Corbett can't whip Jeff, even if the exchampion enters the ring carrying Hans Wagner's baseball bat."

There is every indication that a fight between Young Corbett and Ben Jordan will be arranged within a few weeks. Jor-dan, it is said, is coming to America. PRIZE FIGHTS AT SOCIAL

The original intention of Father John S. Long party and musicale, but a number of the parishioners prevailed upon him to intro-duce a few friendly bouts with the gloves as a matter of novelty. CONTEST VERY OPEN

Hard to Pick the Winner of Tennis Tournament-Field Well Balanced.

Defeat of Charles Hale by Nels Werner Was the Surprise Yesterday.

The northwestern tennis tournament at Deephaven, which progressed to the third round yesterday, is the most open contest in several years. Of the eight players who were scheduled to meet in the third round this afternoon, there is scarcely one who has not a good chance of winning, and not one who, on the form shown in the tournament, should be made favorite over the others.

Had Bend won he would have been one of the most likely candidates for the championship, altho such men as Walter Egan, Louis James, the national champion; Byers of Pennsylvania, Stickney of St. Louis, ceed in running we Wenner drop blee Louis James, the national champion; Byers of Pennsylvania, Stickney of St. Louis, and Dr. Fredericks of Oil City, would have opposed him in the succeeding rounds. The men left this morning were Dr. J. Leo Richmond, Toledo; J. Tweedie, Belmont; Walter Egan Exmoor; Stewart Stickney, St. Louis; Eddie Brown, Euclid; Dr. Fredericks, Oil City; R. H.

The Bryn Mawr Golf club held its annual election Tuesday evening. The following officers were elected:
Delroy Getchell, president; J. F. Jordon, vice president; A. H. Sanders, secretary; C. A. Tuller, treasurer.
The board of managers was named as follows: A. B. Cutts, Wendell Hertig, W. R. Murray, John M. Reese, C. A. Tuller, George C. Shroyer.
The club still retains its good record for prosperity, having a surplus in the bank of the surplus and the wind. Belden finally secured to the safe three hard sets, the total score in games being 13 to 11. Belden had the wind in the first set and took it in jig time by a score of 6 to 1. In the second set the gale bothered Belden, whose drives repeatedly went out of court or into the net. Newhall played a careful game, keeping Belden away from the net, and won the set 6-1. In the third set the men changed courts on every odd game, and for a while the result seemed merely a matter of which one had the wind. Belden finally secured George C. Shroyer.

The club still retains its good record for prosperity, having a surplus in the bank and nearly the full limit of membership, which is fixed at 200.

By the alertness of Judge Brady what is be-lieved to have been an attempt at "ringing" was frustrated at Deimar Park, St. Louis, yes-terday. Untrue, a 2-year-old of fair class, has been running implaced in poor fields of horses for some time. Yesterday Untrue opened at 20 to 1, and was heavily played, going to the post at 5 to 1. The betting aroused Judge Brady's suspiction. The horse, Untrue, in yesterday's race, a dash of 5½ furlongs for 2-year-olds, on examination was found to be a 4-year-old. Judge Brady declared all bets off and ordered the horse to be scratched.
