SOME GUESTS OF NOTE

"Mr. Dooley" and "Other Noted Educators" Will Attend Teachers' Convention.

"F. P. Dunne (Mr. Dooley) is also expected" at the convention, is the announcement made by President E. E. McIntire of the Minnesota Educational association in a circular referring to the forty-first annual meeting of the association, to be held at St. Paul Dec. 29 to 31. "Other noted educators and speakers," adds Mr. McIntire, "will participate." Among them will be Bishop Spalding of Peoria, "of the labor commission appointed by President Roosevelt to arbitrate the difficulties in the anthracite coal mining region."

The women teachers are informed that, thru the co-operation of the citizens' committee at St. Paul, they can secure entertainment in the convention city at practically half the price of first-class hotel accommodations.

An important proposition to be discussed by the teachers will be that they reorganize their association, making two classes of members—active and associate.

Mr. Otto G. Bates, well known to the buyers of high grade furnishings goods and fine hats, has accepted a position with Hoffman's Toggery Shop.

C. OF C. ELECTION

James Marshall, President, Is Due to Be Re-elected.

The annual election of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce is being held to-day. The polls opened at 10 o'clock in the exchange room of the chamber, and will remain open until 4 o 'clock. James Marshall again heads the ticket and his re-election to the presidency appears almost certain. Frank W. Commons retires from the vice presidency and George F. Piper is likely to succeed him.

The ticket is as follows:

For president, James Marshall.

For vice president, George F. Piper.

For board of directors, J. H. Martin, J. L. Tracy, W. A. Freemire, A. H. Poehler, John R. Marfield.

For board of arbitration, L. Christian, L. C. Remund, A. A. Beltz.

For board of appeals, Thomas N. Taylor, G. A. Duvigneaud, W. O. Timmerman.

BIG ISLAND BURGLARS

Use a Launch and Despoil Fred Olds' Cottage.

The cottage of F. A. Olds on Big Island, Lake Minnetonka, was entered on Saturday afternoon and ransacked by thieves, who carried away $15 or $20 worth of fishing tackle, rope, oar locks, launch lantern and other small articles. The thieves were seen to land with a launch late in the afternoon, but it was supposed to be the owner of the cottage. The police have a good description of the stolen property and the launch.

PERRY'S BODY FOUND

The Man Was Drowned in Bassetts Creek Sept. 20.

After floating one mile in Bassett's creek and ten miles in the Mississippi river, the body of Chester Perry, the painter who was drowned in the creek Sept. 20, was found near the Omaha bridge in St. Paul yesterday. It was identified by jewelry.

Perry and Charles Theilen, 1424 Spruce place, were walking along the bank of the creek when Perry fell into the stream, which was swollen by recent rains. Theilen reported the matter to the police, but the body could not be found.

SOUGHT TO END LIFE

Ernest Kanopatzki Drinks a Bottle of Laudanum.

Ernest Kanopatzki, alias George Sharp, arrested yesterday by United States Marshal Grimshaw in St. Paul, on a charge of robbing the postoffice at Newport, Minn., June 10, attempted to commit suicide as he was led into the jail. He drank the contents of a two-ounce bottle of laudanum. Marshal Grimshaw saw him take the poison and a physician was summoned. It eis said that Kanopatzki will recover.

Books That Build Business.

Practical business men often sneer at the idea that they could get suggestions in their business, but the "Message to Garcia," for example, was a revelation to thousands of business men. There are numerous other books that have revolutionized hundreds of office systems and given new ideas to the most thoughtful business men. The fundamental need of any business man is the good health and clear mind that come with drinking golden grain belt beer regularly. It tones up and gives elasticity, it rests and cheers the tiredest man. You need a case at home.

THE STREET FAIR AT HOPKINS, SHOWING THE NEW I. O. O. F. BUILDING ON THE LEFT.

HOPKINS IS LIVELY

The Odd Fellows' Carnival There Is Scoring a Most Gratifying Success.

Program To-night in Charge of Iola Rebekah Lodge of Minneapolis.

Hearty mutual sympathy and enthusiastic belief in the present and future of their municipality—an enthusiasm fostered by and centered in the fraternal orders, and a sympathy encouraged by these same orders—have combined to make the Hopkins Odd Fellows' carnival this week one of the greatest of the village's successes. The affair is arranged so that a good time is assured to patrons, regardless of weather.

The building of the Masonic Temple, one of the best equipped of its kind in the northwest, was the first step taken by the people of Hopkins looking toward a more finished municipality, and the example set by the Masons has been followed by other residents, until in appearance the village has become fairly metropolitan.

With the completion of the Odd Fellows' Temple, now about to be furnished, the main street of Hopkins will be one which will compare favorably with that of any place of the same size in the state.

That the people of Hopkins and their friends in Minneapolis take delight in adding their mites to the progress and development of the village has been demonstrated during each night of the carnival. Monday night big crowds visited the new Odd Fellows home; Tuesday night the crowds were equally large, and last night showed no diminution in the attendance.

Each night of the week the village has been in gala dress and its streets have been filled by a most orderly crowd, bent on getting the most out of the evening in a proper way, and having, as a result, a most excellent time of it.

Last night, in spite of the heavy rain, the usual parade was just as long and just as attractive as ever, while the entertainment offered in the hall was one of the best of the week. The audience voiced its approval of the many numbers given and honors were shared almost equally by the Masonic quartet, which opened the program, Miss Hazel Kirke McLaskey in violin and vocal numbers and in recitations, H. J. Cavilla in "facial and musical" performances, and Ernest McLaskey and W. I. Nolan in their offerings.

M. H. McDivitt, master of ceremonies, warmed the audience with his opening address, and Rev. T. E. Archer held its attention during his address on "Odd Fellowship." The credit for the success of the evening was due largely to Flour City lodge, I. O. O. F., of Minneapolis.

Some mystery surrounds the program for to-night, which will be in charge of Iola Rebekah lodge, No. 35, of Minneapolis, as the members have not made the details of the program public and propose to surprise the audience. It is known, however, that tableaux, recitations and music of various kinds enter into the scheme of entertainment.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS

October Apportionment Will Give Districts Nearly $2 a Pupil.

The October school apportionment will be made next week, and there is $815,000 available in the general school fund to be distributed. The distribution is made to counties and then to the school districts on the basis of the number of pupils who attended forty days last year in schools that held at least a five months' session. The exact number has not been reported, but the apportionment will be not far from $2 a pupil.

RODE FOR A RECORD

A Telegraph Messenger Pedaled Six Blocks in Three Hours.

This Explains Why Girls Are Again Employed to Deliver Messages.

Not because they are compounded of sugar and spice and everything nice are girls preferred to boys by the Western Union Telegraph company and the National District Telegraph company, but because girls make better messengers. They are more conscientious, more industrious, as the corporations believe. Hence, two sisters have recently taken the places of two boys as N. D. D. messengers, delivering W. U. telegrams in the produce exchange district of Minneapolis.

"I have just had a fatherly talk with a couple of boys," said Superintendent H. A. Montgomery of the local N. D. T. office to-day, "One of them had tried to collect 10 cents too much on a message; the other had used up three hours in going six blocks on a bicycle. Privately, I am a bit proud of that last boy—he certainly broke the record. But girls wouldn't neglect their duty even for a record.

"We have had two girl messengers working over at the Guaranty building since last winter; they have proved very prompt and faithful—regular little soldiers. We had one girl acting as messenger in the produce exchange district some months ago. She did so well that she goon got a place in the main office and now she's in a branch office practicing telegraphy.

"The sisters employed about the produce exchange are about 18 and old enough to take care of themselves. They work only between 8 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., and they don't go outside of the commission houses, which are close together. They have plenty of chances to learn telegraphy. Within a year, if they make any effort, they will be able to get positions as operators.

"Still, I'd really prefer to hire boys, if I could get them at the right age, that is, in their fourteenth or fifteenth year. Below 14 they are not, as a rule, sufficiently developed mentally; and above 16 a dull boy is too stupid and a bright boy usually prefers other employment. But boys of 14 or 15 are prohibited by the state law from going to work. They must attend school. That's a good thing for the boys, but it's bad for the telegraph companies.

"We have tried to hire men and we couldn't get the men that have energy and intelligence enough for the job. Now that boys are proving so unsatisfactory, we are simply forced to let Hebe take the place of Mercury."

FRANCHISE PROBLEM

Charter Commisison to Discuss It—Special Committee May Have to Solve It.

Commisisoner Donahue Thinks that Changes Should Be Made as to Street Vacations.

Some one announced at the meeting of the charter commission last evening that no consideration had been given the matter of franchises for public service corporations. President B. F. Nelson said that the matter would be thoroly discussed and if necessary a special committee would be delegated to work out the problem.

Commissioner W. H. Donahue demanded that there be some radical changes in the matter of vacating public thorofares. Corporations which received benefits should be willing to pay for them, he said. Thus far the city has received no compensation for relinquishing its claim on valuable property.

The committee on taxation recommended that the assessment rolls should be published the same as the proceedings of the council after being approved by the board of tax levy, and that they should be made out in triplicate, one for the city clerk, one for the county auditor and one for the assessor.

In connection with the chapter on streets and public highways, one of the new regulations provides that in condemnation proceedings the party owning the property must give notice of claim for damages within sixty days instead of twenty, as provided in the present chapter, and that right of appeal be given to the district court where satisfactory compensation could not be secured from the commission appointed by the council to make the appraisal.

Some discussion took place as to the abolition of the office of registrar in the water department and having the supervisor assume the duties of the two offices with the aid of a clerk, but this would throw one man out of office, and this seemed to be contrary to the principles along which the commission is working.

The committee also recommended that the officers of the water department be appointed by the council, but this was reconsidered and left as at present provided, the appointments being made by the waterworks committee.

ORDERED TO SNELLING

Thirteenth Battery of Field Artillery to Come From Walla Walla.

The Thirtieth battery of field artillery, now stationed at Fort Walla Walla, Wash., has been ordered to Fort Snelling. The Thirtieth battery and the Tenth, already stationed at Snelling, will make the two batteries that are to be quartered permanently at the twin city post.

This assignment was formally specified yesterday in an order issued at Washington giving the future location of the thirty batteries of field artillery provided by act of congress two years ago. The thirty batteries will be distributed among thirteen stations, of which three are in the Philippine islands.

The Tenth battery will welcome its comrades of the Thirtieth about Nov. 1.

WHO IS AT FAULT?

One of the Principal Industries of the State Neglected by State Fair Management.

While a group of prominent business men were discussing matters of general interest yesterday in the office of a member of the party, one of them brought up a subject that is certainly worthy of consideration upon the part of the state fair managers.

Minnesota is credited as holding the largest and finest state fair held in the United States, yet a stranger, visiting our fair the past month, would not have known that this great state produced a pound of mineral or ore of any description whatever. A search of the catalogue also disclosed no premium for display of the product of our immense mines on the ranges. Why should not a little corner or perhaps a building be devoted to this one of the most important industries of the state?

The only thing in the shape of minerals on exhibition at our recent state fair was a fine and fascinating display of gold, silver, lead and copper ores from the "Golden San Juan" district of Colorado, one of the richest mining districts in the United States. We would not have had even this, had it not been for the Wabuse Mining and Milling company, composed of F. W. Bonness, H. R. King and other prominent lumbermen of this city. During the fair they removed the exhibit they have in the offices of the company, at 331-332 Andrus building, to the administration building at the state fair grounds. This exhibit attracted considerable attention and is well worth seeing.

It is up to the fair management as to whether this important industry shall be lost sight of completely at future fairs, as in the past.

TRAIN TO NORTHOME

New Terminus of M. & I. Gets Its First Train To-day.

Special to The Journal.

Bemidji, Minn., Oct. 1.—The first regular passenger train over the Minnesota & International railway will be run into Northome, fifty miles north of Bemidji, to-day. Up to this time Blackduck, twenty-five miles this side of Northome, has been the terminus. Until next summer Northome will remain the end of the line. The extra distance to be traveled by all regular trains necessitates a change of time along the entire system, and the new schedule will go into effect to-day. There will be one regular passenger train and one freight each way every day except Sunday. The first will leave here for Northome at 5:50 p. m., arriving there at 7:30. On the return trip it will arrive in Bemidji at 8:20 a. m. The freight will leave here at 12:30 each day, arriving at Northome at 10:30 p. m. It will go up the Kelliher branch to Kelliher.

NO MORE EXTENSIONS

What the Canadian Pacific Won't Do in British Columbia.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 1.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, is on the coast on a tour of inspection. Mr. Shaughnessy states that there will be no further extension of the company's lines in British Columbia until there is some adequate return for the money already expended in the province. Sir Thomas says that the war which the people of British Columbia are making against Chinese immigration is against trade interests with the orient, and the company does not feel like spending money when the people of the Pacific coast insist on passing legislation that is inimical to the transpacific liners. In this connection he referred to the increase of head tax on Chinese coming to British Columbia from $100 to $500 and other measures calculated to discourage orientals from coming to that province.
