Yale Men Think the Crimson Will Prove a Most Formidable Opponent Saturday.

Coaches Will Be Satisfied With a Victory by a Comparatively. Small Score.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 17.— Among Yale men the feeling is gaining ground that the match with Harvard, which will wind up the football eason for both elevens next Saturday, will prove a harder battle than that with Princeton. Among Yale coaches and trainers the opinion is felt that the game, and it is thought that fif-Minn. Harvard has been rushing along at a teen or sixteen men will get into the couble quick pace for a month, and play before it finishes. that Yale has the hardest task of the year ahead of her to win next Saturday's game on Soldiers' field. When Amherst won from Harvard a feeling began to be held at Yale that there was a possibility that the blue might be able to wipe out the memory of the game on Soldiers' field two years ago when Charley Gould's eleven was whipped, 22 to 0, by a bigger score being rolled up by Yale this fall against the crimson. This hope has dwindled down to nothing now, and the Vale leaders will feel that they are doing well if they can get away with victory by a comfortable margin next Saturday.

SITUATION IS MUDDLED

Many Surprises Sprung in the East the Present Season.

New York, Nov. 17.—"The football season is all awry," says a football critic in one of the local papers. "Here are the Pennsylvanias, who, in September, were the best quaker team in Soo Line Sale of Unclaimed Baggage half a dozen years, now reduced to third raters by three defeats. Harvard has been beaten twice by minor college teams and scored on so often as to become deadened to sensation. West Point, by no means a top-notch team, defeats what is at least the second-best team in the west, and Yale, altho possessing greater power, is beaten by Princeton, who, however excellent in all around work, had smoothed off the rough edges better than Yale and had proved the better That vigilance and tip-top condition that rounds out a team to championship form was Princeton's, altho there was not the smashing power to the team that Yale had. There are the team that Yale had. There are many opinions as to why Princeton won and Yale lost, but, boiled down, they come to about the same reasons—the playing of Dewitt and Yale's fumbling and penalties incurred with touchdowns in sight. These are the direct causes leading to the result, but behind them are the superior alertness of Princeton, a superb morale, fine condition—the winning team nearly always' finishes stronger than the loser—and a general wide-awakeness and a quickness and determination in seizing opportunities. Princeton is indisputably the football champion of the year. Yale men will concede that, tho they may feel that they should have won the cham-

RECEIPTS REACH $50,000

Yale Will Get Over $20,000 from the Princeton Game. New York Sun Special Service.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 17.—It was stated last night by the Yale football management that Yale's net receipts from the Princeton game would amount to over $20,000. The total gate receipts reached $50,000, and out of this will have to come about $10,000 for expenses, which will leave $40,000 to be equally divided between the two universities. A Yale football official said last night that the receipts for the Princeton game exceeded those of last year 25 Since the introduction of Stearns' Electric Rat and Roach Paste in this city, thousands of rats and mice have been killed by its use. It is sure death to rats, mice, water bugs, cockroaches,

At the office of the Yale Alumni Weekly last night, where the distri-bution of the Yale-Harvard tickets is conducted for Yale students and alumni who want to take in the Harvard contest, it is said that Yale could dispose of 1,000 more tickets than those allowed for the original applications from Yale men. It is doubtful if there will be enough to fill the first Yale application for Yale tickets.
