WASHINGTON NOTES

The Big Bend National Bank of Davenport, Wash., has been closed by direction of the controller of the currency because of insolvency, and National Bank Examiner Engene T. Wilson has been appointed received. The failure of this bank, according to a statement issued by the controller, is due to losses sustained upon excessive loans, principally to mining interests with which the officers of the bank are identified. Postmasters appointed; Minnesota—Bear River, St. Louis county, Charles Amundson, vice E. E. Pixley, resigned. South Dakota—Waverly, Codington county, Louis P. Birdsall, vice A. H. Steinhause, resigned.

Fred Lamkin has been appointed rural carrier on route two at Westbrook. Minn.

Simon Michelet, Indian agent at White Earth, has asked the secretary of the interior to authorise him to make a trip to Washington to talk over agency affairs. Among the things he wants to discuss with high officials is additional allotments to Indians on his reservation under the provisions of the Steenerson act, and the cutting of timber on allotments, which is authorized in an act passed last winter. Acting Commissioner Tonner of the Indian bureau has approved Michelet's request and forwarded it to the secretary for action.

cure. The remedy is nothing more than making the patient learn to run.

Being in the Orient, Dr. Regnault observed the splendid physical condition of the Jinrikisha men, who pull a little cab at a horse's trot for hours together without fatigue. Many of these men, altho not of powerful build, are marvels of endurance. Their nerves are perfect. The physician studied their method of training for their work.

On his return to France he discovered that an officer had begun to introduce the same method in the physical culture of soldiers in the army.
