A MATTER OF HEALTH Absolutely Pure HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

MRS. LYDIG'S MANY FANS One of the Few Women Who Dare Heavy Peacock Tails.

Only a woman blessed with a clear olive complexion, superimposed on a rich red, and a dark, lustrous eye, like Mrs. Phil Lydig, would dare to present the bold contrast she does in carrying a peacock feather fan. A woman of fair complexion would look positively palid if she dared bring the iridescent colors in contrast with her face, but the former Mrs. Stokes can do it safely and to advantage. Her collection of and to advantage. Her collection of fans, by the way, is one of the most varied and costly in New York, and they are of historical as well as intrinsic value. Indeed, she has two curio cabinets set aside for them alone. There she exhibits tiny bespangled affairs of the empire period so small that they are called fans only by courtesy; others of ostrich plumes, with jewel-laden sticks; Spanish fans, painted with scenes from the arena or bedecked by sticks; Spanish fans, painted with scenes from the arena or bedecked by dark-eyed senoritas who smile from latticed windows on the minstrels who are caroling their lays. This collection, as it stands, would take hours to look thru, and now that Mrs. Lydig's friends have learned of her weakness in this direction, they are sending her so many new treasures that it is likely a third cabinet will be called into requisition.

The records of the day—deaths, births, marriages, hotel arrivals, railroad time tables, real estate transfers, building permits and other information of interest—will be found, together with want advertisements, on page 27 of this issue

Now Is the Time to Plan. If going to the Portland Exposition, try one way via the Soo-Pacific Line. Scenic Line of the World. Ticket Office, 119 S 3d St., Minne

Portraits and testimonials sent on request. THE DERMA-ROYALE CO., Cincinnati, O.

To Chicago the service on the Burlington Limited is so thoroughly good that you will enjoy every hour of the trip.

> Leaves for Chicago daily at 7:50 p.m., arriving 9 next morning. This train has compartment and standard sleeping cars delectric lights in every berth), buffet-library car, chair car, and Burlington dining car, serving splen-did meals a la carte.

J. F. McELROY. New City Ticket Office, Third St. and Nicollet Av.

of lots and acres near the city.

GEO. B. DARTT,

NEW HOMES

Before you buy look over beautiful Linden Hills. I have three new all modern, up-to-date houses, thoroughly well built for homes; fine grounds and splendid view, overlooking lakes. One of these owners has met with reverses, and contractor must sell. Now, if I cannot suit you on any of these new houses,

I can sell you a fine lot overlooking lakes, with gas and water, and furnish you money to build to suit yourself. Call for list

NORWAY'S COD FISHERIES

Still the Catch Is Rather Below Average as Yet-Christiania Real Estate at Low Ebb-News of the Theaters -The Norwegians Students and Their Trip

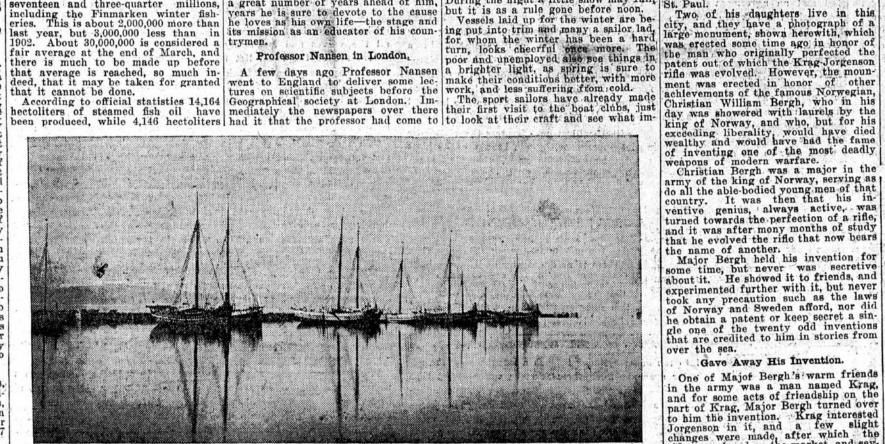

Christiania, Norway, March 31 .- The winter fisheries, and especially the cod fisheries, have for generations been of the greatest importance to Norway. In later years they have not come up to the mark, however, and this season will the mark, however, and this season will hardly reach the average. The weather, so long unfavorable, has improved of late, the catch of the last week has been very satisfactory, and the prospects are favorable. The catch of last week was 7,000,000 cod.

The total catch up to date is about seventeen and three-quarter millions.

seventeen and three-quarter millions, including the Finmarken winter fisheries. This is about 2,000,000 more than

AY'S COD FISHERIES alree, who may be "fouthee thousands by poor entidents of the country of the liver have been set aside for inferior grades of oil. Of roe there has been produced 25,163 hectoliters. This by-produced 25,163 hectoliters. This by-produced of the cod is gaining in importance every season, as the French sardines fisheries seem to be entirely dependent on the supply of cod roe as the best bait. The French are getting so anxious about cod roe that they send representatives to the Lofoten districts and purchase it direct from the fishermen.

TYPICAL COD BOATS IN THE NORWEGIAN FISHERIES.

The eatch in Lofoten was 4,000,000 cod last week, a result surprisingly good.

Lecture on the political relationship between Norway and Sweden. Such was are consulting designers and constructors trying to bring out a creation structors trying to bring out a creation structors trying to bring out a creation able to beat anything afloat.

The theaters are alse aware of the fact that spring is approaching and that a nice, bright evening is a competitor to be reckoned with, and they are trying hand to find "drawing cards."

From his countrymen at home he receives full credit for what he has done to enlighten the outside world on the subject.

Amalia Skram Dead.

The prices now paid in Lofoten are $6 to $8 per 100 fish, and $7 to $9 per

The prices now paid in Lofoten are $6 to $8 per 100 fish, and $7 to $9 per hetoliter liver. There have been produced 6.183 hectoliter steamed medical oil against 376 last year, and of roe 11,150 hectoliters against 3,050 hectoliters last year.

The Finmarken fisheries may now be considered as ended, and the result is about $800,000 fish. Last year the eatch was about 1,000,000. The codfisheries will, however, be continued for a month or two longer, and the final result may be even better than now expected.

Amalia Skram was one of the few heavy furned into a drama from Ibsen's well-known poem. This there's has also secured for the caming season Mrs. Ragna Wettergren, for years rine of books. She was born in Norway and spent her youth in Bergen, where she was married to a sea captain. With him she visited many foreign countries, and that she received many lasting impressions from her travels is proved by some of her literary works. Her main work, however, was the true descriptions of the people of her native town, Bergen, and especially of tiania is devoted to such entertaints.

hand to find "drawing cards."

The National theater will produce operas, grand and comic, thru April, and with the new play; "Terje Viken," turned into a drama from Ibsen's well-known poem. This theater has also secured for the coming season Mrs. Ragna Wettergren, for years the set the deading actresses at the National.

A MILLION CODFISH HEADS IN A HEAP AT LOFODEN.

March 22 it was twenty-nve years since Bjorn Bjornson made his debut as an actor. The event was fittingly observed in theatrical circles. In the evening the play, 'Geografi og Kjaerlighed' (Geography and Love), by Bjornstjerne Bjornson, his father, was given at the National theater, Bjorn

807 Pheenix

Building.

Ever since the smash in 1899, real estate here has been on the decline, prices and rents have come down and property owners are in despair how to clear expenses on their holdings.

Rent is 25 to 30 per cent lower than a few years ago. In one section every sixth house stands vacant. The property owners will now combine to get the former rates restored.

Bjorn Bjornson's Jubilee.

March 22 it was twenty-five years since Bjorn Bjornson made his debut as an actor. The event was fittingly

The Norwegian students ingers' intended tour to America is progressing nicely. The crown prince has been named as protector of the affair, just for what practical purpose I don't know, but he acted in the same capacity for the Swedish students when they went to America, and so the Christiania students thought they want. The financial students thought they want.

have it the same way.

The financial standing of the Norwegian student society is, as usual with most of such societies, not any too good. The debt on their clubhouse has increased alarmingly in recent years. It had reached the point where the creditors were about to sell the building.
The students and other interested persons, held a meeting at which it was decided that something must be done at the meeting at which it was decided that something must be done at the meeting at which it was decided that something must be done at the meeting at which it was decided that something must be done at the meeting at which was a state of the carried the sould be a sell at the Soo Line Office.

For beautiful illustrations of the Garnese that would be a sell at the soo Line Office. cided that something must be done at once that would bring in the much needed cash. A week of vaudeville was finally agreed upon, and the idea proved a success, as the young men managed to take in about fourteen thousand kroner to keep the wolf from the door. When in a pinch next time they will find some way of raising more funds, as in days gone by. Norway has not, like America, a number of million-

MIGHT HAVE WON MORE.

BERGH REAL INVENTOR OF DEADLY KRAG-JORG

New York was superior to any place he knew for the orderly and decent behavior of its inhabitants.

Governor Page was survived by his second wife, Margaret Lowther, who was visited by Lafayette in 1824, when on his way to Richmond, for the celebration given in his honor. The governor's name, with that of other patriots of the revolution, was inscribed upon the obelisk erected for the occasion. Major Carter Page, cousin of the governor, was present at the celebration, and his name, too, was upon the honor roll. Carter Page served as aidedecamp to Lafayette. He married Lucy, daughter of Thomas Nelson, a "signer." She was the major's second wife—second wives seem to have been the rule of the family. A story is told of Governor Page's sister, Mrs. Baylor; she was young, beautiful and a widow. A friend of the family, Colonel Burwell, lost his wife and soon after proposed marriage to the widow, but she refused at first to listen to him. However, they were finally married before the year and a day had elapsed since the death of his wife. After the marriage ceremony the colonel said: "Now, Lucy, you can weep for your dear George and I will mourn for my beloved Sukey."

The Pages were allied by marriage to the patriotic family of Brooke, and Pagebrooke is one of Virginia's historic estates.

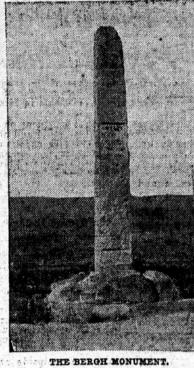

Among the New England progenitors of the Page family wave Nathanial Page Famous Norwegian Inventor Gave His Secret to Krag as a Token of Friendship—His Son, an American Consul, Soon to Visit and it was after mony months of study that he evolved the rifle that now bears the name of another.

Major Bergh held his invention for some time, but never was secretive about it. He showed it to friends, and about it. He snowed it to friends, and experimented further with it, but never took any precaution such as the laws of Norway and Sweden afford, nor did he obtain a patent or keep secret a single one of the twenty odd inventions that are credited to him in stories from over the sea. Gave Away His Invention.

One of Major Bergh's warm friends as a telegraph pole, and is cut from a single piece of stone taken from the mountain on which it stands. Upon it are carved the following:

MINDESTEIN FOR C. W. BERGH YEIDIREKTOR 1851-1873

Translated to English this is: "Stone in Memory of C. W. Bergh, Director of Ways."

Colonel Robert S. S. Bergh, America

CORNER IN ANCESTORS

THE PAGE FAMILY

Great in Courage, Conduct and in Fame-One of the First Families of Virginla-Historic Rosewell Where Jefferson Drafted Declaration of Independence-Representatives in Concord and Bunker Hill-Family Anecdotes and

By ELEANOR LEXINGTON.

Traditions-Heraldic Emblems Signify Loyalty and Truth.

New Hampshire's governors was John Page, and Thomas Jefferson Page was a naval officer.

The coat of arms reproduced is or, a fesse dancette between three martlets azure, a bordure of the lagt. Crest, a demi-horse forcene (rearing), per pale dancette or and azure. Motto, Spe Labor Levis, lighten labor by hope. This crest belonged to Sir Gregory Page, of Kent, and is the same as that put on the tombstone of Colonel Page, settler, whose arms have, in addition to the fesse and marklets, a middle chief crescent. The arms of the settler's wife, Alice Luckin, also on her monument, is a fesse indented between the leopard's faces, or, Crest, a demigriffin or, issuing from a tower. The horse in heraldry signifies readiness for king and country, and is one of the principal bearings in heraldry. A fesse borne in the center of a shield is a military belt or girdle of honor. Dancette, signifying water, seems to point to naval honors. Azure denotes loyalty and truth. The leopard represents a valiant warrior, and the griffin, vigilance.

Among the New England progenitors

Among the New England progenitors of the Page family were Nathaniel Page, who settled in Bedford, Mass, about 1680. Nathaniel Page, the fourth of the name, was cornet and standard-bearer at Concord. John Page was at Lexington and Bunker Hill. One of New Hampshire's governors was John Page, and Thomas Jefferson Page was a payed officer.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION

One of Major Bergh's warm friends in the army was a man named Krag, and for some acts of friendship on the part of Krag, Major Bergh turned over to him the invention. Krag interested Jorgenson in it, and a few slight changes were made, after which the rifle was placed on the market, and sevient of the thing to note that the story of the invention of the Krag, Jorgenson rifle, some of the present day.

In a nutshell, tells the story of the invention of the Krag, Jorgenson rifle, some of the present day.

Major Bergh was a man of remarking the many and often lifted cows and his relatives. When he army, and often lifted cows and his relatives. When he army and often lifted cows and his relatives.

Major Bergh was a man of remarking the many and often lifted cows and horses bodily. He could lift as man with his right arm and stretch him forth as most men would a sack of shot. It was while he was still serving a major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as governing the government of the king that he a and horses bodily. He could lift a man with his right arm and stretch him forth as most men would a sack of shot. It was while he was still serving as major in the armies of the king that he received a commission as government engineer, having shown remarkable ability in that line. He served in that capacity frome 1851 to served in that capacity frome 1851 to served in the famous mountain roads of Norway and Sweden, and these are today pointed to with pride among the best and most durable in the world.

The monument to Bergh.

Bringing Books with Him.

Colonel Bergh was consul at Gothen-burg and it is expected he will again be to the position, as his populari, and he has been doing from files of Europe, and the Dominion into the state of any consul ever stationed at Gothenburg, and he has been doing much to introduce American goods into Sweden.

He is bringing with him many rare books that he has gathered the past few years and will place them in the library of the University of North Dakota. These books are among the finest in the old world and will be a most valuable addition to the library of the University of the University of North Dakota. These books are among the finest in the old world and will be a most valuable addition to the library of the University of the University of North Dakota. The Soo railway passenger department removed the process of the surface of the surface of the was an engineer.

The monument is about twice as high western Canada is considerably larger this year than last.

Another excellent sign of the prosperity of western Canada is to be found in the land business, which was a little dull a year ago. Land men now report the briskest business they have ever had. One interesting feature of the land business is that a large part of the sales is made up of purchases of adjoining lands by farmers who have recently settled here. Their first year's experience with farming in western Canada has been so satisfactory that they are all eager to get as much land as possible.

HE WAS SATISFIED. Columbus Dispatch.
Sister—What, You engaged to Miss Prettyin? Why, she has no family tree.
Brother—Oh, I guess she has—and judging from her appearance it must be a peach!

NOT SUITED.

Philadelphia Press.

Mr. Dresser-Didn't that new nurse come that I engaged for little Clarence?

Mrs. Dresser-Oh, yes, but she wouldn't do.
She had nothing but blue dresses to wear, and blue, you know, is only for girl bables. Pink's for boys.

AMENDMENT TO THE ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

Of the—

We, the undersigned, Eugene J. Stilwell, the president of the Minneapolis Paper Co., a corporation duly, organized, created and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Minnesota, and Wilbur E. Swartwood, the secretary of said company, do hereby certify, That at a special meeting of the secretary of said corporation duly and seally called and held for that purpose, at the office of Robert G, Morrison, 506 Phoenix building, in the City of Minneapolis State of Minnesota, on the 27th day of April, A.D. 1905, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., the following resolution was duly adopted by the unanimous vote of all of the stockholders of said company, and the third (3d), fourth (4th) and sixth (8th) articles of the articles of incorporation of said Minneapolis Paper Co. were thereby respectively changed and amended as and to read as hereinafter set forth, to-wit:

"BB IT RESOLVED, by this, the Minneapolis Paper Co., that the third (3d), fourth (4th) and sixth (6th) articles of the articles of thorporation of this company be, and the same hereby are, respectively changed and amended to read as follows:

"The amount of the capital stock of this cortion of this company be, and the same hereby are, respectively changed and amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

"The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000,00), and the same shall be paid in and the shares of stock issued as the board of directors shall determine.

ARTICLE IV.

"The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation shall be subject at any one time is the sum of one hundred and and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000,000,00).

"The number of shares of the capital stock of said corporation shall be fifteen hundred (1,500), and the amount of each of said shares small be one hundred dollars ($100,00)."

We do further cartify that at said meeting all of the stockholders of said company, being Eugene J. Stilwell, S. E. Barrett and Wilbur E. Swartwood, were present in person and signed and delivered to the secretary of the company a written waiver of notice of and assent to said meeting, and that all of the shares of the capital stock of said company were represented and were voted in favor of said resolution.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this 28th day of April.

A. D. 1906.

EUGENE J. STILWELL, [Seal]

As President of the Minneapolis Paper Co.

WILBUR E. SWARTWOOD, [Seal]

As Secretary of the Minneapolis Paper Co.

Signed and sealed in presence of J. R. Jullian,

Robert G. Morrison.

STATE OF MINNESOTA:

"And you promised me you would never speculate again."
"I know it, but it was such a temptation. I bought Steel at 60 and sold at 68."
"Oh. Algernon how could Algernon, how could you? It went

In Sussex, England, there is a town called Pagham or Pageham, and the first to bear the name Page is said to have been that Hugo de Pagham who was sent by Edward, in 1257, with dispatches to the King of Spain. Perhaps because he was a messanger of the patches to the King of Spain. Perhaps because he was a messenger of the king he was called Page, or the name was evolved from that of the town in which he lived, and this, in turn, was a name derived from the Latin pagus, a village, or the country. Or it may be easier to start with the Greek word pais, meaning boy. Boys of noble birth, in personal attendance upon their sovereigns, became known as pages, and perhaps one assumed that as his surname. Paige and Pages are forms of the name, and its diminutives are Paget, Pagit and Pagitt.

A brass in St. Mary's church, Bed-A brass in St. Mary's church, Bedfont, a town near London, records that Matthew Page, gent, and his loving mother Isabel, are there laid to rest, and that he gave to the poor of the parish £20 forever. The date on the tablet is 1631. tablet is 1631.

The pilgrim was Colonel John Page, who settled in Virginia. He was from Bruton, England, son of Thomas Page, and was baptized Dec. 26, 1628. He was probably a relative of Sir Gregory Page of Kent, England. Colonel Page was one of their majesties' council in Virginia. He died in 1692. By will he left to eighteen relatives "funerall goold rings." His portrait, by Sir Peter Lely, is still extant. Many family portraits have survived to the present time. One is of Judith Carter Page.

portraits have survived to the present time. One is of Judith Carter Page, who looks out upon this latter-day world resplendent in green satin.

The location known as Rosewell, in Gloucester county, Virginia, was settled by Colonel Page's son, Matthew's son, Man Page, who inherited a vast landed estate. For many years Rosewell was son was built about 1725 by Matthew's son, Man Page, who inherited a vast landed estate. For many years Rosewell man sion was built about 1725 by Matthew's son, Man Page, who inherited a vast landed estate. For many years Rosewell was the largest and most costly house in the old dominion. The marble casements were imported, the polished manogany carved by hand, and the story pointments of almost and the story interesting the t

Defective Page