The Bears Facing a General Change of Sentiment as to Wheat Prices.

The Modern Miller Bullish-Rain from Manitoba South Into Kansas.

Snow Says Spring Wheat Flourishing, Which Is Contrary to Local Advices.

Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, June 23. Rain everywhere and more to come and increas-ing realization of the seriousness of the situa-tion and of the necessity for an immediate change for the better—this was the feeling the change for the better—this was the feeling the bears had to meet this morning. September wheat opened a cent up at 90c, just under calls price of last night. It sold to 90% every quickfy, then fell back to 90%, and held firm, showing god support and increased strength on the reaction, and other signs that the pit took to mean still higher prices. The weather was about as unfavorable as it well could be. Rain fell all the way from Winnipeg down to Kansas, and it was raining at Winnipeg when the market opened. It was also raining at Q'Appelle, where 1.34 inches had already fallen, and furwhere 1.34 inches had already fallen, and further down there was more or less. This was bad and very disturbing to the trade. For days the fear of damage to the northwest crop has been put behind, because always there was the hope that the next day would bring the end of the long bad period, but while even yet there is hope that all will be right, the rain of last night and the prediction for more is almost the last straw. If it were the northwest alone that stood in unfavorable position it would not be so bad, but in the southwest, where the harvest will soon be general, the weather is not what could be desired. Showers were reported from Emporia to Newton, Kan., and at 7 a.m. rain was falling at Omaha. St. Louis had had a four-hour rain and it was still coming down. e 1.34 inches had already fallen, and fu four-hour rain and it was still coming down a four-hour rain and it was still coming down. Lincoln and Grand Island had much the same onditions and Concordia showed up 1.52 inches—with probability of more. The Ohio valley had rain and a drizzle was on to 8 o'clock at Cincinnati. This certainly justified fear of later bad news from the winter wheat. Jones came back from the southwest and gave out a premiliminary summary. His final figures, he says, will be reserved until he goes thru the Ohio valley again, but the total winter wheat crop of the country he figures will be somewhere between 340,000,000 and 370,000,000. This was the last blow to the bears. It indicates a win-swheat crop much smaller than approaches here wheat crop much smaller than anyone else has inliked of, and much below what the last government report figures suggested.

Minneapolis got 147 cars compared with 149, Duluth 20 against 86 and Chicago 1 against 8, Winnipeg received 57 cars against 73, St. Louis 10,000 bu against 21,000 and Kausas City 27,000 against 21,000. Minneapolis elevator stocks will decrease about 500,000 bu for the week.

The Modern Miller says: In response to inquiries in regard to the prospect of the yield and quality of winter wheat and as .to probable movement if the weather is favorable for the harvest, reports from milling correspondents show that in the southern part of the wheat belt the outlook for yield and quality is generally below an average, being the poorest in Texas, Tennessee and the territories. In Illinois and southern Missouri the yield and quality varies, Tennessee and the territories. In Illinois and southern Missouri the yield and quality varies, generally being below an average, but excellent yields are promised in Kausas and the quality is good. Prospects in Nebraska are good, except in southeast counties where the crop has been damaged by fly. There are some uneven yields in southern Indiana, but the average for yield and quality is good. In Michigan and Kentucky the prospects are excellent for a larger yield thau last year and for good quality. With favorable weather the crop will move late in July and early in August, according to the latitude. The crop has begun to move in Texas and Oklahoma, but harvest has been interrupted in many states by rain. A number of correspondents say that sales by farmers will be influenced by the price. Some report that they will hold it the price is below 90c to $1 at the markets.

Snow's weekly report says: Weather conditalked of, and much below what the last government report figures suggested.

at the markets.

Snow's weekly report says: Weather condi-Snow's weekly report says: Weather conditions of past week generally very favorable and all crop prospects maintained or improved. Spring wheat condition continues very high and the crop is developing rapidly. Previous lateness in growth has about been made good. Reports of fust based more largely upon apprehension engendered by last year's experience rather than any currnt development. Rd rust shows on the blades every year, but srious damage follows only when weather conditions and character. only when weather conditions and character-istics of plant growth combine to favor the growth of spores. There is as yet no definite indication that such conditions prevail this year.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR. New York Press.

Picking a wife is guesswork till you've got her.

There is a good deal of happiness in not hunting for pleasure.

A girl really has curly hair when she isn't afraid to take it out in any kind of weather. A man can never look his wife in the eyes when he tells her he is going on a business trip.

Playing both ends against the middle is where lawyers charge your for making your will and charge your heirs for breaking it.
