DEAD ARE REMEMBERED

MODERN WOODMEN AND ROYAL NEIGHBORS HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES IN AUDITORIUM.

With beautiful ceremonies the departed brothers and sisters of the orders were honored yesterday by the Modern Woodmen and the Royal Neighbors of America. The Auditorium was filled with members of the two orders. Wreaths, palms, flowers and tapers formed the decoration for the stage. The address of the service was by former Governor Samuel R. Van Sant, who spoke on the ideals of fraternalism and the value of the higher life. "When we pay tribute to the memory of the dead," said Mr. Van Sant, "we honor the living. To recognize and honor the dead is to make them immortal. Fraternalism with its splendid mission teaches men to be more kind and affectionate, one to another. These impressive memorial services not only tend to honor those who have crossed the dark river, but strengthen the bond of fraternalism and the brotherhood of man. Ever since the dawn of the Christian era, men have been learning to care more and more for each other. Nations have been striving for this, but it has been reserved for our country to reach the highest and most sacred ideals of brotherhood and fraternalism." The opening number of the program of the service was the singing of the memorial ode. Chas. G. L. Morrill led the prayer, M. L. Cole sang a solo, and the names of the departed were read by Arthur L. Jones. Rev. G. L. Morrill pronounced the benediction. W. E. Brown of Longfellow camp presided.

YOUNG MEN TAKE ORDERS

CLASS OF THIRTY ORDAINED TO MINISTRY OF UNITED NORWEGIAN LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Thirty young men who have consecrated their lives to the ministry were ordained yesterday by the authority of the United Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. The ceremony was conducted at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Woodward and John streets, St. Paul. President T. H. Dahl officiated and was assisted by Vice President N. J. Ellstrand and several clergymen. The scene was an impressive one, with the score of clergymen and thirty candidates attired in the dignified robes of the Church of Norway, consisting of black cassock and stole and a white ruff collar. In the afternoon farewell services were held in honor of a number of missionaries who will soon set out for China. Rev. Ingvald Daehlen and Miss Anderson are returning to their posts after a leave of absence and will be accompanied by T. L. Ekeland and O. B. Minnass, who are returning from the United Church seminary. Among the speakers were President Dahl, Vice President Ellstrand, Rev. Messrs. L. Lund, O. Shoveland, Peder Tangler and Missionaries Daehlen and Ekeland.

GENTRY'S DOG AND PONY SHOWS DRAW CROWDS

Gentry Brothers' shows opened a week's engagement at Thirteenth street and Nicollet-avenue this afternoon with a matinee which was attended by a large crowd and which pleased well. Tonight at 8:15 the first evening performance will be given. Following the street parade this morning, which was seen by hundreds of people, the crowd began to flock to the show grounds and by the time the doors were opened at 1:15 there was a long line of eager ticketholders waiting. The afternoon performance gave entire satisfaction, the Loretta Trio, a new troupe which joined the shows in Minneapolis, coming in for an especial amount of praise. The twins are girls 12 years old. Their brother, 9 years old, who is with them, dresses in clown fashion and adds an element of comedy to the turn. The trio's act is on aerial bars and is one of the prettiest and most difficult seen this year. The Japanese troupe of six tumblers and acrobats the Gentry shows have this season is the best they have ever had and their work borders all the time on the sensational. The dogs and ponies are ever productive of fun and interest and Mr. Gentry, who has them so well trained, seems to have a better assortment of trick animals this season than ever before. Pinto, Queen and Toby, the comedian elephants, are seen to especial advantage in the restaurant act. Gentry Brothers' dogs have never been excelled and the part of the program in which the dogs appear, is always most interesting as well as instructive.

SCHOOL GIVES PROGRAM

St. Anthony Commencement Exercises Given Saturday Evening.

The commencement exercises of the St. Anthony high school, on Second street and Eighth avenue NE, took place Saturday evening. Misses Nora Mason, Frances Mahoney, Mary Kilroe and Anastasia Collins opened the program with the march from "Athalia." which was followed by a chorus, "Murmuring Waves." The salutatory address by Miss Frances Healy bore the title, "At the Turn of the Road." After a vocal solo by Miss Mollie Sullivan, "Hark, the Lark," Miss Teresa McKenna read an essay, "A Day in June." Miss Catherine Weeks read "The Rhyme of the Duchess May," and Arthur Sullivan, Misses Luella Hazzard, Nora Mason, Etta Boehning and Agnes Tisdale gave a musical selection. Miss Grace Mitchell recited "An Open Secret," and Miss Anna Boran read "Aunt Melissa and the Boys." While Miss Mary Leary read "Thana-topia," the A and B juniors gave a pretty pantomime. Miss Mollie Sullivan voiced a plea for the sweet girl graduate, after which Miss Luella Hazzard played "Polacca Brillante." After Miss Margaret Toy had made the class prophecy Miss Grace Getchell and Miss Agnes Healy sang "Sea Fairies"; Miss Catherine Weeks gave a humorous monologue, "The Sweet Girl Graduate"; a military march was given by Misses Eva Shannon, Mary Kilroe, Helen Harrington and May O'Donnell, and Miss Marie O'Brien delivered the valedictory address. Before presenting the diplomas, Rev. James O'Reilly urged the graduates to appreciate the education they had received and the opportunities facing them, and to make of them the best possible use. The vocal class sang "Ave Maria" at the close of the performance. In the class were Miss Marie O'Brien, Lucy F. Healy, Teresa E. McKenna, Mollie F. Sullivan and Margaret A. Foy.

HIS BACK BROKEN, HE LIVES

MAX NELSON IN HIS "LIFT."

The his back was broken more than two years ago and his recovery pronounced impossible. Max Nelson, 327 Cedar avenue, is not only alive, but may some day recover. As it is, he has full use of his hands and arms, and is slowly gaining the power to move his legs. Three vertebrae in Nelson's back were broken by the fall of a heavy stone from a derrick in the yard of the new B. & O. station in Washington, on Feb. 24, 1904. He was hurried to the hospital where the doctors said his death was only a matter of hours. Two days later he recovered consciousness, and it was necessary to perform several operations, his condition steadily improved and by July he was able to return to his home in Minneapolis, under the care of his sister. Today Nelson is able to move about a little, with his weakened back protected by a heavy plaster cast, which eases the greater part of his trunk. Despite his suffering, which is still great, and his crippled condition, he is cheerful and optimistic. He will never be able to perform heavy labor he is now looking for some line of work which he can do while sitting down and thus add something to the meager earnings of his mother and sister, which are the chief support of the family. "It's mighty tough for a fellow like me, who has done hard outdoor work all his life, to be laid up like this, but it might be worse," said Nelson. "It's almost worth while to run up against luck like this, just to find out how many kind people there are in the world. Ever since I got here, almost a year ago, one of the best doctors in town has been taking care of me without charge and has pulled me safely thru. Then, just when I was well enough to be restless and unhappy because I had to lie in bed and could not move about, Miss Kerr, who teaches at the Monroe school, heard of my case and wrote to The Journal about it. E. E. Higgins, who makes a new invalid chair, read the story in The Journal and came to see me. After a little talk he gave me this lift and chair and now I can change my position and be moved about the house as I please. "It would be a lot harder for me to be laid up like this if I had not led a rather adventurous life, and wandered around the country a lot. For two years I served in the navy. Then two years more I spent traveling about and working in all sorts of places. Now all I can do is read, but I enjoy that, tho I did not go far in school. I like histories and books of travel better than stories, tho I get lots of fun out of some of them. If I could only hit upon something I could do to earn money for my mother, I would feel better."

GLITTERING PRODUCTION

Ringling Brothers Present "The Field of the Cloth of Gold."

"The Field of the Cloth of Gold" is the subject of a magnificent spectacle produced by Ringling Brothers with their world-famous shows this season. There are 1,500 people in the cast, a ballet of 300, and a singing chorus of 200. The music is original, and is rendered by a selected band of fifty soloists. The scenic embellishment is gorgeous in the extreme, painted by the greatest American artists, and the 3,500 costumes worn by the vast company are of Parisian make and design. The fabrics are of the softest texture and of richest coloring, and the fashions of exquisite picture effects and classical. The days of chivalry, "when knight-hood was in flower, are reproduced with faithful portraiture of splendid men and women, and their exhilarating pastimes and enjoyments. The great stages combined, and the massive settings and historical properties require a special train for transportation. Never in the history of the circus has a spectacle been produced of the magnitude and regal splendor of this Ringling Brothers performance. All the pastimes of the middle ages are exemplified in thrilling action by duelling experts of skill and strength. Jousting tilts, sword combats, spear-throwing, acrobatic exploits, equestrian trials, riding accomplishments, and many other exciting sports of the chivalric age are illustrated in whirling tourneys. The radiant costumes and blazing jewels of royalty, its court dignitaries and smiling favorites; the imperial purple and sparkling gems of ecclesiastical rank; the glitter and clatter of armored soldiery; the charm of dancing girls with garlands, singing maidens and devout matrons; the shield and helmet emblazonry of mounted knights; the prismatic coloring of the swirling scenes, animated by ever going and different throngs; the majestic music of fifty solo instruments; all these brilliant features, and many more of fascinating importance, enthrall the senses of the spectator, and make this production the most magnificent and attractive ever offered the American public. The grand pageant, in "The Field of the Cloth of Gold," is a processional display in which are presented more interesting historical types, more beautiful costumes, more elaborate scenic decorations, more novel and enjoying features, and more men, women and children and horses than were ever seen, in a huge spectacle, at any other time in the history of the world. For cost of production, originality, enormous number of people employed, and overwhelming success, this gorgeous spectacle rises superior to anything of similar effect ever spread before the human eye. Ringling Brothers will exhibit at Minneapolis Friday, July 6, giving two performances, at 2 o'clock and at 8 o'clock. The street parade will leave the show grounds at 10 o'clock. Tickets of admission and reserved numbered tickets can be bought at the downtown ticket office of Ringling Brothers show day for the same prices charged at the ticket wagon on the circus grounds.

Clean Food

Era

We are inclined to believe that some magazine writers in their anxiety to attract attention to themselves have overstated the case against the meat packers.

We do not sell meat but believe in fair play, and, also in a complete knowledge, by the people, of exactly what they are eating.

We have always printed on each and every pkg. of exactly what it is made of and the scores of visitors who pass through our works every day find the Pure Food Factories as clean and sweet as a maiden's fresh white apron. The food is thoroughly cooked in these factories from the choicest white wheat and barley, the sweet offering of the fields.

Grape-Nuts

Food

No food on earth gives the same sustaining power from meal to meal as Grape-Nuts.

BECAUSE—

The starchy parts of the wheat and barley are changed by moisture and heat to a form of sugar required by the human system and almost immediately absorbed without stress to the digestive machinery. And again, the certain elements in these grains are incorporated to insure rebuilding of the soft gray matter in the brain and nerve centres to fit one for the wearing work of the day. A dish of Grape-Nuts and Cream at each meal supplies the GO and you can feel it in a way that leaves no question. It is not stimulation but simply scientific feeding.

The best kind of a Journal want ad is one which is so clear and complete that the reader will stop and think of some person it will just fit. If he is not personally interested he will call it to the attention of a friend. This gives an immense circulation to your ad—not only among the persons who read it, but among those known to them. But the ad must be attractive and descriptive to secure this attention.
