OBSERVANCE AT REQUEST OF COMMITTEES.

World Committee and the World Wide Church of Christ Is the Subject for Today-Association Operating Now in Forty-five Countries and Has 749,-000 Members.

The World and International commit tees of the Young Men's Christian association at Geneva, Switzerland, and New York, have asked that beginning today, Nov. 11 to 17 be observed as a of prayer for young men in all Associations are now operating in forty-five different nations and have 749,000 members. In America in some 749,000 members. In America in some single associations there are as many as twenty-two nationalities in the membership. The associations have been immensely prosperous, receiving over $10,000,000 last year in America for new buildings and current expenses, and attracting to their multiplying buildings greater numbers of nonchurch going young men by educational classes, social features, and 500 gym-

The committee states that altho the Bible classes have doubled in three years and religious services have vastly increased in attendance, that the appeal for the support of prayer is made with larger earnestness and more con-cern that the agencies of moral and spiritual influence upon young men be made increasingly effective.

Men and boys in shops and factories to the number of 1,000,000 have attended the noon shop Bible classes. In the new county department twenty-five secretaries are directing groups of a half dozen or more associations of country young men and boys.

The forty-five Indian associations, as well as the Chinese associations, have the largest proportionate number of men in their Bible classes.

The rapid extension of associations among railroad men at western division points, which often attract more members from along the line than the entire population of the town, is also men-tioned by the committee as a matter of encouragement and prayer for further service among these men. Street rail-road associations are also being organized in numbers.

The 700 student associations have over 50,000 members with 35,000 in Bible classes. In these, the call to the ministry and to foreign missions have been the emphatic note.

The large number of 61,729 working and school boys are in the association, 42,000 of whom are receiving physical training.
In the foreign department of the international committee there are now as many secretaries as on its North American force, and its budget has reached $150,000. In the Japanese army, in Scoul, Korea, and the great political and commercial centers of China, the associations have become powerful organizations. With the approval and co-operation of the government, the association has been approved by the second that th established at Pana ma and army and navy posts.

With a view to the increasing obligations coming upon the association in its constantly opening fields among all classes of men and boys in all lands, the committee has named the following subjects for prayer, and asks that churches and Christian people join them in prayer for young men:

The World's Committee in Europe, and the World-Wide Church of Christ, is the subject suggested for today, For young men in United States and Canada, Monday.

For Mexico, South America, Cuba and student association work, Tuesday.
For Great Britain, educational, physical and social agencies, Wednesday.

For Asia and associations among railroad and industrial men and boys, soldiers and sailors, Thursday. For Africa and religious and Bible study work, Friday.

For Australia and association secretaries and enterprises, Saturday,

A PASTOR CAMPS OUT

IN HIS OWN CHURCH

The good people of Minneapolis will doubtless be surprised to know that a doubtless be surprised to know that a local pastor, who has done a splendid work for his people since coming to the city, is living alone in the study of his church. He is the Rev. Wilton R. Boone, pastor of the Bethesda Baptist church, 1120 Eighth street S. Mr. Boone came here several months ago from Chicago, and has wonderfully succeeded in requiring the seatered ceeded in reuniting the scattered mem-bership and paying off a burdensome floating debt. Recently, the church voted to build a parsonage on the rear end of the church lot, which they own; but this will cost about $1,500; and just now, the money is not in sight.

The pastor does his own cooking and sleeps in the church. His family is still in this gage.

in Chicago. Mr. Boone is a gentleman of refinement and culture, a good preacher and holds a diploma from the Newton Theological institute of Massachusetts. Till coming here he had no experience as a cook, but he has installed a gas stove in his study and finds he possesses talents with the finds he possesses talents with the fry-ing-pan which he never before sus-pected. Once in a while some of the good sisters of the congregation vary his menu by sending baskets of cooked provisions, but just the same Mr. Boone is looking forward to a family reunion and a regular menage in that new par

MINNESOTA BAPTISTS AND THEIR FIELD WORK

INTERESTING LETTER BY E. R. POPE OF MINNEAPOLIS.

Church Work Has Been Very Successful in Villages Between Walker and Bemidji-Writer Tells of a Visit to Good Falls-Thank Offering of $5,000 Being Raised.

The last issue of The Standard contains an interesting Minnesota letter by E. R. Pope of Minneapolis, telling of activity among Minnesota Baptists. Mr. Pope writes:

Between Walker and Bemidji, on the Minnesota & International railroad, are three villages, Laporte, Guthrie and Nary. About five years ago work was started in these by District Missionary Steinhoff, and four years ago Rev. J. G. Wirth became pastor, and since that time has labored faithfully and well time has labored faithfully and well. A meeting-house, begun by Mr. Steinhoff, has been practically completed at Nary, in spite of the fact that many removals have seriously depleted the congregations. At Laporte, on Sunday, Oct. 21 a neat building was dedicated Oct. 21, a neat building was dedicated. It is located on a commanding site on a hillside overlooking the town and is well adapted to the place. It can accommodate about 125 people and good congregations greeted the preachers at the dedication. Dr. O. A. Williams and the writer arrived Saturday, late in the afternoon, and that evening the former preached to an interested congregation. Sunday morning the building was well filled, and Rev. E. R. Pope preached the dedicatory sermon from Hag. 2:4, after which the small amount of money needed to pay all outstanding indebtedness was generously and quickly pledged; then the pastor offered the prayer of dedication, and the building was set apart as a place of worship. The Sunday school and young people's prayer service were well attended, and the day closed with the evening service. mon by Dr. Williams, which was pre-paratory to the revival meetings begun Monday evening, in which Rev. E. M. Atwood, of Little Falls, assists Pastor Wirth.

This is the only church in the com-munity and indeed Pastor Wirth is the only pastor on the three fields. He and his wife have done and are doing an earnest, self-sacrificing, hard service, and have reaped some reward. Mrs. With has ministered in season and out of season to the sick for miles around and is enduring hardship for the Master's sake. As one lady said, "We could not get on without her." Labor, such as this brother and sister are doing, receives little pecuniary reward and is all too apt to be entirely overlooked by others on larger fields; but it is a labor of true love and will never be forgotten by Him who knoweth all and giveth justly at last to all.

On Monday Dr. Williams returned to Minneapolis and the writer went ninety miles further north to the termius of the work of the Minnesota Logging Camp mission, superintended by Rev. Frank E. Higgins, the "sky plot of the Lumberjack." Rev. Thomas D. Whittles is editor.

In the first issue "Pilot" Higgins contributes an article on his work since last spring, in the woods of Washington state, for the first time. He tells of the immense forests, with giant trees towering 100 to 200 feet, and then says: "Everywhere I found the open door for the Christian worker. The men were gladed bear the gospel and proved this in various ways. In one town where no religious organization is at work, I held services in a dance hall and seventy-five persons were present, earnest, self-sacrificing, hard service, and have reaped some reward, Mrs. Wirth has ministered in season and out

At the rally Nov. 25 there will be a program of rousing congregational singular dresses. All pastors of the city are invited to occupy sears on the platform. Falls, on the Rainy river, some thirty-three miles to the north, and including within it both Big Falls and Northome, to the south, was voted on. In Big Falls the Presbyterians and Methodists have church buildings, the neither is completed. The former has a pastor who preaches on alternate Sundays and the latter has no regular service at present. There are a few Baptists in the place and if others come in and the town grows, as appears likely, we might join it with our church at Mizpah, twenty-five miles to the south. This section of Minnesota has developed rapidly in the last five years and is certain to do so for many a year to come.

Most of the manuscript for the state "Annual" is already in the printer's hands, and it is hoped it will be published by Thanksgiving at the latest. Rev. F. C. Lovett, who has done excellent service at Wheaton for several years, has resigned and accepted a pastorate at Grant's Pass, Ore.

LIFE'S SEESAW.

Gin ye find a heart that's weary.
And that needs a brither's hand,
Dinna thou turn from it, dearle:
Thou maun help thy fellow man.
Thou, too, hast a hidden heartache,
Sacred from all mortal ken,
And because of thine own grief's sake,
Thou maun feel for ither men.

'KIT' CARSON'S FRIEND

Indian Fighter, Stricken with Paralysis.

Denver, Nov. 10 .- Oliver Perry Wig gins, pioneer scout, veteran of the Mexican, civil and Indian wars, intimate friend and associate of "Kit" Carson, weather prognosticator and pioneer cit-izen of Denver, is hovering between life and death at the home of his niece, Mrs. Howard Stiles, No. 2515 Lafayette street, and may pass over the great divide at any time.

The old plainsman suffered a stroke f paralysis. He was on his way home. Just as he alighted from a car at La-fayette street he fell to the ground as if dead. He was picked up by friends and taken to his niece's home. His left side is useless. The condition of the once hardy old scout, altho he has passed four-score and five years, has been critical. His old friends do not expect to see him leave his bed again. Everybody in Denver knows Mr. Wiggins personally or by reputation. For years he has been a weather oracle. His long life on the plains and with Indians gave him a rare power for ness and success as he had the Indians. gins personally or by reputation. For prognostication. By atmospheric signs he could tell almost to a certainty what the weather conditions would be, and he was accurate in his foresight. He became known to the people of Denver as a weather prognosticator his predictions as strongly as they do in those of the government forecaster.

Mr. Wiggins' life has been full of adventure and stirring events. He has been a familiar figure about Denver for nearly half a century. With an honored career as a soldier and defender of the nation's flag, he has lived a useful life as a citizen and man. In fact, he has been a part of the growth fact, he has been a part of the growth of the city from a straggling camp back to the late '50s.

He is the last of the famous group of "oldtimers," the only surviving intimate friend of daring "Kit" Carson and other noted men who fought Indians in this wild west of adventure. KIT' CARSON'S FRIEND

Mr. Wiggins was born in Canada, July 22, 1821, but the weight of his years has rested lightly upon him. In early life he was a hunter and trapper of game on the Canadian border. A few years later he drifted west and drove cattle and freight trains over the old Santa Fe trail. "Kit'." Carson liked him, and the next dozen years of his life were spent as one of the reckless rangers that made up Carson's famous band, which trapped game, chased and killed Indians and fought the redskins wherever they halted. the redskins wherever they halted.
