ture alone. You need me at last.

cheek softly against mine.

And something melted Dorinda's heart to tenderness, for she laid her

"Was there ever a time I didn't need you, dear?" she said.

"Sweetheart," said I, "it is my hap-

"sweetheart, said I, it is my hap-piness to offer you a suitable and dig-nified resting place for all your un-invited guests," and I waved my hand at our ancestors. I was beginning to admire them, anyway, their discreet-ness during the last twenty minutes had been unimpeachable.

But Dorinda answered me not at all.

She knows only too well my resources both in real estate and finance, and sadly recognizes the need of a mag-nifying glass in viewing either, so she smiled indulgently, as at a lovable and well-meaning lunatic.

There was something so mightily provoking in the way she smiled that lay in her eyes was truly without price, it gave me a throb of joy to think and a gentleman to you, but he squared

It all the same, for he left the house and the rose garden to me." "Dorinda," said I, "there'll be room by your own showing you are but Blandina was smiling at us, be married next month?

knew now why Grandfather Jennings' mouth had been wide open these many years; it was to give us his blessing. If Uncle Daniel had burst out into a wedding march upon the concertina. I would not have been in the least surprised.

"Sweetheart," I said softly, "shall we duty to give our relatives a home."

But Dorinda made a protest. "If I say 'yes," she began, "you will think it is only because of the rose garden.

den—"
"Not while you continue to look at me like that," said I, and at this she tried to frown, but her lips were smiling, and of them I took such possession as caused a whole garden of roses to bloom in her face.—New York Com-mercial Advertiser.

The Mother's Friend

Eagle Brand Condensed Milk. It is cow's milk adapted to infants, according to the highest scientific methods. An infant fed on Eagle Brand will

IN HONOR OF BOBBIE.

Thistle Club Holds a Very Enjoyable

Meeting in Honor of the Post.

"Bobbie" Burns's birthday was celebrated last night by the Thistle Social club

y an entertainment in Electric-Workers' hall, entitled "A Nich't wi' Burns." There was a distinctively Scotch programme and later a dance, the carpet being covered with a canvas. The room was nicely decorated in Scotch colors, and Burns's picture was hung over the stage.

The committees were as follows:
Entertainment—Nicol Hood, W. A. Gray,
R. Gordon, W. T. Hopkins, Mass Hannah
Whyte, Mrs. W. T. Hopkins, Mrs. C. Henderson.

Whyte, Arts. R. devenson, Miss Mary derson.
Reception—Miss A Stevenson, Miss Mary Hamilton, Mrs. C. Henderson, Mrs. R. Gordon, Simon Grieves, R. Gordon, Floor—James Whyte, Robert Gordon, R. Stevenson, Nicol Hood.
The following is the programme presented.

The following is the programme presented:

Song, "There Was a Lad; Was Born in Kyle" Nellson quartette Toast, "Thistic Club"

Song, selected W. David Henderson Song, selected Mrs. Bessie Browning Toast, "Robert Burns" David L. Murdock Violin Solo, "Scottish Airs" William S. Sneddon Song, selected William S. Sneddon Song, selected William S. Sneddon Song, "A' the Airl's the Wind Can Blaw" James R. Smith Song, "Ma' Braw John Hielanman" John Gibson Recitation, selected John James Song, "Mary of Argyle" Lizzle Nielson Sallor horopipe, in costume.

Skipping-rope dance.
Highland filings and Scotch reli in costume.

Scotch medley Nellson quartette

Scotch medley Neilson quartette

Visit the National Capital on New York Ticket

Without extra fare via Pennsylvania Short Lines through Chicago or St. Louis. In addition of the advantage of traveling over matchless roadbed in solid vestibuled trains, passengers may make a side trip on Philadelphia and

New York tickets, visiting Washington and Baltimore without paying addi-tional fare. Ten days stop-over in each city; also in Philadelphia. Confer with George T. Hull, District Agent, 819 Seventeenth street, Denver, Colo.

Compare Our Offerings in Muslin

And you will be convinced that these are the best values you have seen at any previous sale. All new, up-to-date show a steady gain in weight.

nature's supply fails, is Borden's of a picture.'

the attic for all of them, and since

ANAMA IN THE SENATE

Iolliver Resolution Adopted After Debate.

COPE OF THE INQUIRY

Illman Wants to Know About Constructive Recesses.

louse Puts in Day Passing Pension Bill's; 209 Measures for Relief of Vets Go Through.

Washington, Jan 22.-The Senate toay adopted the resolution of inquiry ncerning affairs in Panama introseed on January 5th by Mr. Gorman, id listened to a speech on the Panama sextion by Mr. Dolliver and another the subject of recess appointments. The Gorman resolution reads:

Resolved. That the President be re-cested if not in his judgment incompati-e with public interest, to inform the

First.—The date when and the circumances under which the United States of the first time and each succeeding time aused a military force in the internal fairs of New Granada or Colombia, untries of New Granada or Colombia, untries of New Granada or Colombia, untries of the treaty of 1845, whether such use military force was on the initiative of ce United States or by the request of cw Granada or Colombia, or in conserence of any official representation of their and also to transmit to the Sener copies of the letters or notes in the sportment of State and of the orders by a Navy department relating to such use military force.

Second—Also to inform the Senate mether or not the United States has been ked by New Granada or Colombia, or by official representative of either to exute, by armed force, either the guaranof neutrality or the isthmus or of the vereignty of New Granada or Colombia, er the same; and if the United States is been so asked, then the dates and cirmstances thereof, and to send to the mate copies of the letters or notes, in chease, conveying the application, and hat was done thereunder by the United Third—And also to inform the Senate in Third—And also to inform the Senate in First-The date when and the circum-

Third—And also to inform the Senate in high, if any, of the disturbances on the thmus of Panama referred to by the esident in his last annual message, the nited States used a military force solely

CONSTRUCTIVE RECESSES. After the disposal of routine business

Tillman was recognized to speak on s resolution relating to Senate re-sses. His remarks dealt with the naing nomination of Dr. Crum to be llector at Charleston, S. C. Mr. Tilidisclaimed any intention to con this as a party question, but as rted that his desire was to prevent establishment of a harmful t and to find out what the ought of a "constructive recess." He id it had remained for our present ocutive to assert the right and exer-te the power of making appointments tween 12 and 12:30 o'clock of the same

Mr. Hale took exception to the state nt that the President had committed imself to the proposition as set forth. had never doubted that the impiroller would make short work of tims for salaries under such appointents. As for himself, he did not ac-pt the theory of a constructive recess, id he did not believe other Senators held.

Mr. Tillman quoted a letter from Sec-Shaw concerning the appoint-of Collector Crum, taking the poion that there had been a construc-e recess between the time of the adarnment of the late extra session of pagress and the beginning of the prest regular session. This, Mr. Tillman ntended, was in violation of the Con-trution and he also contended that was no common sense in the rlea at there was any interregnum be-cen the extra session and the regular ssion when one was immediately ad-urned to prepare for the other.

Mr. Tillman quoted a number of precents in support of his position, citing terances of Charles Sumner and John terman, both of whom the Senator uded. Mr. Spooner rose. "I do not possed," said Mr. Tillman, "that the mater from Wisconsin objects to my logizing members of his party."
No." replied Mr. Spooner, "but I cantunderstand why he should wait unthey are dead."
Mr. Tillman dwelt on the consideraon of a similar merger of two sessions.

Congress during the administration.

Andrew Johnson, and Mr. Hale inrrupted to express his satisfaction at the proceeding had been cited. He usingered it conclusive and said: What was good law then is good law

Mr. Hale said that the Crum nomina-on, that of Gen Wood and others ere not sent in as recess, but as reguappointments. "I deny it on the authority of Secre-ry Shaw," replied Mr. Tillman.

DOLLIVER ON PANAMA.

Without disposing of the Tillman res-tution the Senate at 2 o'clock resumed insideration of the Gorman Panama solution and Mr. Dolliver addressed Mr. Dolliver said that since our inter-r Mr. Dolliver said that since our interintion in the Cuban war the canal estion had increased vastly in impornee and he predicted that some of the e-mocratic Senators who were opposing e-canal treaty would find it to be a aurning question." He deprecated liticism of the President in connection lith the Panama revolt, referring to nn as a "God-fearing, patriotic man."

As a precedent for the President's cognition of Panama, Mr. Dolliver cognition of Panama, Mr. Dolliver howed that President Pierce had rec-rized five revolutionary Govern-ents within four months.

Mr. Patterson of Colorado interrupt-to state that these recognitions ere in accordance with international w; that it was a recognition of de cto Governments, and in no case one

Will the Senator say why twenty itions of Europe have recognized inama?" queried Mr. Dolliver. "Recause the United States set the ce," replied Mr. Patterson. They eated that Government, and, wish g to continue in good favor of this untry, they followed its lead." "Does international law in Europe neist in following the blunders and mes committed by the United ates?" retorted Mr. Dolliver.

ontinuing, Mr. Dolliver declared vecontinuing, Mr. Dolliver declared vemently that the Panama revolution ad been going on for twenty years.
"Talk to me," said Mr. Dolliver, about the United States interfering a sid the insurrection in Panama; the ald the insurrection in Panama; the nited States could not have stopped

St. Old stand Daynes Music Co.

the insurrection if it had desired to do

Mr. Dolliver declared that all that had been done by the United States in Panama was "done in obedience to the requirements of our treaties. I accept the Secretary of State as my author ity on this question, for, much as I may respect the opinion of Senators, I would accept John Hay's opinion on such a subject in preference to the opinions of any of them. Therefore, I do not apologize for any of the orders given or the acts done in

NEWLANDS RESOLUTION. "I have reached," he concluded, "the point in my patriotism where I propose to stand by my own Government and let other Governments take care of

Mr. Teller declared that the conten-lons of Mr. Dolliver that the treaty of 1846 was a canal treaty and gave the United States any sovereignty in the canal strip were in conflict with the authorities of all time.

Mr. Newlands then quoted the chal-lenge made by Mr. Spooner a few days ago to put his (Newlands') views in the form of a resolution and presented a resolution setting forth the condition of affairs on the Isthmus of Panama and declaring out intervention to be unjustified under the treaty of 1846, un-der international law and under the constitution of the United States. The constitution of the United States. The resolution also declares that the instructions sent by this Government to its officers in Panama waters and other acts on the part of this Government constitute a declaration and prosecution of war; and finally authorizes the President to enter into a new treats. President to enter into a new treaty with Colombia for the cession of all rights to the Isthmus of Panama to the United States Mr. Newlands said that the suggestion for a solution of the isthmian problem was his own, and the resolution was laid on the table subject to Gorman then asked for a vote on his resolution on which all the recent speeches on the Panaroa question have been delivered. After some change in the phraseology it was adopted without division.

The Senate at 4:30 went into execu-live session, and at 4:39 adjourned until Monday.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

Burton Explains Why There Will Be No Appropriation.

Washington, Jan. 22 .- In explanation o the postponement of the river and har-bor bill until next session. Chairman Burton made the following statement:

"The main reason for this action was the very large balance of the appropriation for river and harbor improvements which is now lying in the treasury ments which is now lying in the treasury unexpended. This balance at the cnd of last year was somewhat in excess of $33,000,000. In addition to this, it is expected that $5,000,000 or thereabouts will be appropriated at this session in the sundry civil bill for the continuance of work on rivers and harbors where improvements are progressing under continuing contracts."

PENSION DAY, IN HOUSE.

Many Bills for Vets Passed-Inquriy Resolutions.

Washington, Jan. 22.-The House today passed 209 pension bills and also resolutions calling on the Secretary of War and the Attorney-General for information as to the number of horses and carriages maintained at Government expense for officers of these respective departments. A bill permitting the withdrawal duty free from the St. Louis exposition of articles donated to religious, scientific, educational or literary institutions was also passed. tutions was also passed.

At 3:50 p. m. the House adjourned until

Two Cabinet Sessions.

Two Cabinet Sessions.

Washington, Jan. 22—Morning and afternoon sessions of the Cabinet were held today. In the absence of Secretaries Hay and Moody no matters concerning the State or Navy departments were considered. It can be said on authority that no action of serious importance was taken. It is likely during the session of Congress that the President on account 40 pressing engagements in the early part of the day, frequently will have the Cabinet meetings in the afternoom.

Pure Food Bill.

Washington, Jan. 22.—The pure-food bill as it passed the House provided that it should take effect September 1, 1991, instead of February 1, 1994, as was erroneously stated.

POSTAL CARDS UNMAILABLE.

Private Cards Cannot Bear the Words. "United States of America," After July 1st.

Third Assistant Postmaster-General Madden has issued a circular to all postmasters advising them that cards issued by private persons bearing on the address side the words "United States of America" are in "likeness or similtude" of the reg-clar United States postal card, and there-fore in violation of law, and unmailable. Section 1521, Postal Laws and Regula-tions.)

(Section 1991, Postar Laws and Regulations.)

However, in order to give owners of such cards reasonable time to dispose of those on hand, postmasters will accept them for mailing until July 1, 1904, upon payment of postage at the proper rate. On and after July 1, 1994, such cards will be treated as unmailable at any rate of postage.

THEY WANTED BLANKETS.

Awkward Situation at Auerbach's, Due to a Typographical Error in an Advertisement.

Pedestrians passing in the vicinity of Auerbach's store last evening wondered what was on to attract the great crowd which stood at the entrance to the store the line extending up and down on either side, and out into the street. The first thought was that a tragedy had occurred. but inquiry developed the fact that the crowd was in search of blankets, a said of which had been erroneously advertised in The Tribune yesterday morning. The sale is to take place tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock, instead of last night, but the crowd which last night gathered in front of the store was better evidence to the proprietors of the value of advertising in The Tribune than a hair-day's talk by an advertising man could possibly be.

Annual Sale of Undermuslins

Now on at The Paris Millinery Co. A complete new stock, in latest styles. Best goods at lowest prices. See window.

An Adjusted Inheritance

her politeness.

By Catherine Van Cortland Mathews.

When I came to congratulate Dorinda upon her inheritance I was really unprepared for the attitude of her mind toward it. As to her bodily attitude, I may say that it, too, appeared to be in the clutches of her legacy.

She sat in the capacious leathern lap of the pirate's chair, with the captain's of the pirate's chair, with the captain's sword laid across her knees, and she gazed sadly first upon one and then upon another of the seven large and dully dignified family portraits, which leaned heavy and ponderous against every available space, at such angles as gave them the appearance of solomnly reclining.

emnly reclining.

Her inheritance, it appeared, really preyed upon her mind; aiready it had caused two tiny upright lines of depression and anxiety to carve them-selves upon her forehead, and I know that in fancy she saw herself treading the future's paths with seven ancient family portraits, the captain's sword and the pirate's chair (those relics of 1812) arranged as a sort of a ball and chain upon the freedom of her actions. I cannot imagine, she said, 'de-spondently, and really the melancholy of her tone was out of all proportion to the situation. "what possessed Jethro to leave all these-elephants-to

Now this, like her melancholy, was in Now this, like her melancholy, was in part an exaggeration for, though some of them, Uncle David Pintard, for instance, are portly, yet Grandmother Jennings had a waist whose slimness was a boast in her day, and to have foreseen that Dorinda would call her an elephant would have caused every hair, in her sleek Victorian colfure to hair in her sleek Victorian colffure to stand on end.

I yearned, as always, to be of aid to Dorinda, but I could not seem to imagine, either, what whim of Uncle Jethro's had landed this flotsam and jetsam, these seven representatives of an art and an interest alike passed away, upon Dorinda's unwilling hospitality. No one knew better than Uncle Jethro that Dorinda pursued modern art so relentlessly and sought for it in such differing localities that she had but seldom a rest for even the soles of her own little feet. Yet, after all, our immediate concern was less with the reasons for her leg-acy than with procuring some definite idea of how to dispose of it. It was hard indeed to wage war upon a phalanx of seven ancestors stiff with paint and dark with time, but the idea came to me like an inspiration that by separ-ating their ranks, by fighting them, as It were, hand to hand, and one by one, we might prevail. Dimly I remembered that it had been said of the United States, "divided we fall." Might it not be equally true of our United Ances-to a junk shop?" said I, loudly and valiantly, and with a courage I was far from feeling. But even as I said it my glance fell upon Great-Aunt Blandina, and I qualled. She gazed out on me from the tarnished gold of her mas-sive frame with so baleful a look in her painted eyes that I hurriedly turned my back on her.

"No," said Dorinda, firmly. "I couldn't think of such a thing. She was so proud, and she had such a temper—

"Oh, indeed," said I. It seemed to dispose of the idea of Great-Aunt Blandina's disposal. Though why the authoress of one's temper should have a claim on one's wall space is something to subthe for me to wash. The limb too subtle for me to grasp. The junk shop failing for Madam Blandina, I next pressed the hospitality of the historical society upon Uncle Daniel Jennings, an attenuated and consumptive-looking youth, who died young and is represented in the act of playing a concertina almost as attenuated as him-self. Ghastly pains of some sort have evidently taken hold of Uncle Daniel and written Anguish large upon his countenance—pain of soul, maybe, over the music of his concertina. But, alas, it appears that Uncle Daniel. though well thought of in the family, is not historic, and moreover, Dorinda's eyes have been thought to be like his-another claim, it seems, upon the wall space. Triumph of Uncle Daniel over me! Divided, Dorinda's ancestors appear to stand as solidly as when united. One by one I mentioned suitable and unique dispositions for the assembled company, one by one Dorinda refuted ny reasons for assigning them to oblivion, and it appears that no philan-thropist has as yet endowed a Home for Indigent Old Family Portraits to which the seven could be despatched.

Each one of these, for one reason o another, had some not-to-be-evaded claim upon Dorinda. Each one leaned down out of the dimness of past time and pressed a ghostly finger upon some vital spot in Dorinda's gayly modern

There was Grandfather Jennings, that eminent divine, painted, at the request of his admiring parishioners, in the act of preaching, with his mouth open, and, even though the artist omitted to have pearls and rubles drop therefrom as symbols of the worth of his preaching, the effect of him is startling. But to him Dorinda feels herself beholden for the faith that is in her, and so he is

Aunt Jane-well, Aunt Jane is grim to the last gray edge of grimness, but all of Dorinda's slender income was an inheritance from Aunt Jane, and she had, besides, pretty hands. Dorinda's are said to be duplicates of them. Pri-vately, I think she is as grateful for them as for the money; anyway, Aunt Jane's claim appears legitimatized, but I was being haunted. I felt as though these old persons were chasing me through the cold gray corridors of a nightmare, and that I couldn't wake up.

nightmare, and that I couldn't wake up. I was grateful to Dorinda for breaking in upon my despair.

"I suppose," she said, in a voice from which she was most careful to eliminate all traces of envy, hatred and mailee, "that Uncle Jethro went and left the rose sorder to Susan". left the rose garden to-Susan."

The queerness of her grammar, the scorn of her emphasis, the sweet unreasonableness of her whole tone, com-reasonableness of her whole tone, combined to inform me of what I had not before realized, that the enormity of Uncle Jethro's behavior tay not only In what he had left her, but what he had not was likewise lending a sadness to the hour.

A vision of Susan, the angular, disporting herself in the rose garden and queening it over the wide old house, wavered like a distorted dream across my brain. Then I saw another vision. I saw the garden in summer-time, all riotous with pinks and peonies and hundred-leaved roses in a wilderness of bloom, and Dorinda, in a white gown, standing in their midst, with the sunshine lying like gold on the ripples of her hair. It caught my breath in the oddest way, the bare thought of her in such a setting, and so absorbing was my dream that she so absorbing was my dream that she had to speak twice before I heard her. "Uncle Jethro knew," she plaintive-ly explained, "that Sarah and Susan

THE PARIS MILLINERY CO. had each found spheres for themselves. I shouldn't call kindergarten foolish-The Grass Creek Coal company at ness and physical culture spheres, but Coalville. Utah, is advertising for coal they do. And he knew how I loved that | miners.

Mrs. Mai Alden Baudouine.

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 22.—It developed in the Supreme court at White Plains, when Judge Kedgh called the special term calendar, that Mrs. Mai Alden Baudouine has brought an action for separations, alimony and counsel fees against John F. Baudouine, club member, whip and yatchsman, familiarly known to his friends in the Larchmont Yatch club as "Jack."

This action is chapter six in the marital troubles of the couple, as they separated these threes means and were twice reconciled.

WELL AND RICH.

but for the fact that I felt myself as near explosion as safety permits, I would not have yielded up my secret Sight Two Years Ago Turns even then; but though the love that Up in Alaska. it gave me a throb of joy to think that something that she wanted was mine to give her. "Brace up, Dorinda." I said, "the best is yet to come. Uncle Jethro may not have acted exactly like an uncle Laporte, Ind., Jan. 22.-Cyrus R. Mc-Cartney, a newspaper man who disappeared several years ago and was supposed to have been murdered, has been heard from in a telegram from Dawson, Alaska. McCartney says he is well and rich. The last information about him was that his clothing and papers had been found in a forest near Ashland, Or.

Free Apollo Musical.

ombination of all their virtues, we'll have your portrait painted and hang Our demonstrator will render a splendid programme on this wonderful plano player this evening at 8:15 at the Clay-ton Hall. CLAYTON MUSIC CO. it in the east parlor. Think of that. Dorinda, it will be a sort of ancestral composite—a regular E Pluribus Unum I was so happy that I was foolish, t seemed to me that even Great-Aunt

MACKEY COMPANY FAILS.

Newspaper Man Who Dropped Out of Cn Petition of Creditors J. W. Houston Is Appointed Receiver of the Flant.

> Houston receiver for the Mackey Printing company, the complaint and petition ask Musical.
>
> If render a splenwonderful plane
> 8:15 at the ClayMUSIC CO.
> 105 So. Main.
>
> Mand papers had of the definedant corporation a them for a lean of $250 to assist them for a lean of $250 to assist the day of the business, which was a sign of the business, which was a sign of the form in the subject to the free from incombinations and signed by W. B. Mackey, ther alleged in the complaint and that the plant is only carning above that the plant is only carning above exceed $250, and that debts amount of the complaint is only carning above the second $250, and that debts amount is subject to the ceffinding the composition of the ceffinding the composition of the business, which was the composition at them for a lean of $250 to assist the subject to the ceffinding the composition of the business, which was the composition and the business, which was the composition of the business.
>
> Musical.
>
> If render a splenwonderful plane
>
> S:15 at the Clay
> MUSIC CO.
>
> 105 So. Main.

THE TIME Main TO BUY

OVERCOATS

A CHANCE OF A LIFETIME

All of the famous Alfred Benjamin & Co. Overcoats on hand to go regardless of cost or values. We divide them as follows:

All $15.00, $18.00, $20.00 Over-

All $25.00, $30.00 and $35.00 Over-154

Main

All new-style Coats, every coat this season's

Sale on Youths' and Men's Suits continues 1-3 to off the regular price.

Sale on Men's Underwear, 1-3 off regular price. Sale on Boys' and Men's Sweaters, 1-3 off the regular price.

Sale on MEN'S SHIRTS, large sizes, Manhattans, worth $1.50 and $2.00. Sale price-

A good time to supply your needs. Come today. Remember the number, 154 Main.

GRAY BROS. & CO.

0000000000000 ARE YOU TOO FAT?

The latest remedy for over-fatness is the Kissingen and Vichy cure. The scheme is one day you drink View water and the next Kissingen water—or every other day— it's an alternating treatment it isn't a humbus, and it re-moves superfluous fat without any danger whatever to health. We have both the Kissingen and Vichy salt enabling you to make these waters at home. Giad to give you particulars, and to have you particulars, and to have

Druehl & Franken, DRUGGISTS.

Southeast Corner Main and Third South Streets, Salt Lake City.

AGENTS FOR LIQUOZONE

DO YOU WANT THE

HUSLER'S FOUR It is and satisfaction -or money back.

BEST FLOUR?

203 Auerbach Building Office Tel. 1125-y. Res Tel 1234:

Better than any Eastern make Wil cost you less money. Ask your del-er for them. Look for our trade

Utah Bedding & M'f'g Co. Salt Lake City, Utah.

Annual Sale of Stiff and Soft BossomSHIRTS....

Hundreds of dozens of $1.55, $1.50, $1.75 and $2.00 Shirts at-

This sale will appeal most trongly to men who are careful-even hard to picase—as to the patterns, fit and making of the shirts they wear.

rich & son,

Clothlers and Gents' Furnishers. 217 SO. MAIN ST.

LOOK THE PA-

don't need to keep it, and we Meighn St.

Successor to Pleasant Valley Coal Company.

A SHOULD BE WANTED

F. J. HILL DRUG CO., Salt Lake Ch