

LOOKED UPON AS A DERELICT

Millionaire Found With Paupers.

Picked Up in Street and Taken to Blackwell's Island.

Found Among Wretched Prisoners by His Physician, Who Accidently Ran Onto Him.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—While his friends and relatives were searching the city for him John H. Onderdonk, nephew of former Judge Onderdonk, and whose wealth is estimated at $1,000,000, was an inmate of the Metropolitan hospital, on Blackwell's Island, where he was looked upon as a derelict of the streets from Saturday morning until yesterday afternoon.

Found by Accident. It was only by accident that he was found there by his physician, Dr. M. B. Feeney, who had been treating another patient in the hospital and Mr. Onderdonk heard this person mention the physician's name.

He then prevailed upon one of the employees of the institution to call the doctor by telephone and inform him of his own plight. Mr. Onderdonk is a sufferer from locomotor ataxia, which induces fits of vertigo. He left the home of Mrs. M. E. Dresner, with whom he boarded, at No. 50 West Twelfth street, on Saturday morning and boarded a north-bound Sixth avenue car.

Mistaken for Pauper. At Sixteenth street he left the car and was almost immediately attacked by his ailment. Sinking to a doorstep he was found there by a policeman, who took him to the Presbyterian hospital, where his case was diagnosed as one of senility. As Mr. Onderdonk who in earlier life was conspicuous for his fashionable appearance, has of late years worn old and shabby clothing, there was no suspicion that he was a man of means. One feature of locomotor ataxia is that it prevents the victim from forming his thoughts into words, and Mr. Onderdonk was unable to explain his situation until the incident of the other patient rallied his mind and he was able to get word to Dr. Feeney.

SLEEPS ON WINDOW LEDGE.

Window Cleaner Snoozes on a Dangerous Bed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—From 9 a. m. until 12:30 p. m. one of the window-cleaners employed in the American Tract Society building slept peacefully on the ledge of one of the windows at the nineteenth floor with one leg swinging idly in the air some 200 feet above the street surface. His head rested on his arm and he snored contentedly. Some passers-by in Nassau street saw the swinging leg high in the air and called the janitor, who went to the rescue. Going through room No. 192, an unoccupied office, he got a firm double grip on the sleeper and with a hard yank pulled him in through the window. He proved to be Frank Brandenburg. He was not visibly disturbed when the janitor told him to go home and stay home. "It always makes me sleepy when I clean the windows on the high floors of a sky-scraper," said Brandenburg. "It is very soothing, so high up in the air. The last job I had was at the Flatiron building, but I went to sleep on the coping of the twentieth floor one day and had a bad dream that was rolling me off the edge when somebody grabbed me. After this I'll only clean windows on the lower floors."

Sickness steals more savings than the burglar. Slowly, coin by coin, the money that has been so hard earned is paid out for drugs and doctors. Sickness is the worst enemy of the working man, and the common cause of the working man's sickness is disease of the stomach often involving the heart, lungs, liver, or kidney. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will stop the stealing of the savings by sickness. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., when these diseases are caused by the diseased condition of the stomach and its allied organs.

$3.00 REFUND will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness. "About ten years ago I began to have trouble with my stomach," writes Wm. Connelly of 514 Walnut Street, Lorain, Ohio. "It got so bad I had to lay off quite often. You advised the use of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I am very happy to state that I commenced to get better from the start and have not lost a day this summer on account of my stomach. I feel tip-top, and better than I have for ten years."

WOND'RFUL RIFLE SHOT.

Hits Flying Target 2024 Consecutive Times, Record Is Certified.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 23.—Charles L. Baker, a young farmer living near here, has become wonderfully expert with a rifle. In a recent contest at targets he made the unequal record of hitting 2024 times without a miss. The record was so startling in its character that Charles H. Clawson, Richard Estelle and three other Richmond men, who witnessed the exhibition, went before a notary public here the other afternoon and jointly made affidavit to the conditions of the tests and the results. Baker used a rifle of 22 caliber, and the cartridges were charged with smokeless powder. The targets were disks of wood, three and one-quarter inches in diameter and three-quarters of an inch in thickness. Standing twenty-five feet from the point at which the disks were thrown into the air, Baker began his fusillade, puncturing 2000 of the targets. There were no more of the wooden disks on hand, and seven salivars gathered on him beneath a tree near the rifle range, were substituted. They presented far more difficulties for the skilled marksman than did the three-inch disks, and he missed only after twenty-four had been hit. Baker had become so expert before he began practice at targets that fixed markers were a trifle. Baker is 35 years old and has been a rifle enthusiast for a long period. His skill gave him much fame in his immediate neighborhood, and he was the winner of most of the country turkey matches in which he participated.

GIVEN NO PRIVILEGES.

Wealthy Convict Held Down to Prison Rules.

BRIDE AND GROOM DUCKED

Youthful Couple Thrown Into River byirate Parents. STERLING, Ill., Sept. 23.—Alleged theft, elopement, return, a ducking for bride and groom and then separation. Such is the history of the romance of George Mitchell and Mamie Stanley, 17 and 16 years old, respectively, syples from rival bands that have been in camp here. A glided wagon figured in their dream of love, and to buy it, the boy, it is alleged, took $200 of his father's money. The couple fled to southern Illinois, where they were married. Returning, there was a violent scene. The young people were taken to Green river today and tucked their parents assisting. Then the bride and bridegroom were made to agree to henceforth not call each other husband and wife. The girl has gone South and the boy husband to Missouri.

SHE DODGED CROCKERY.

Seeks Divorce Because Husband Threw Jardinieres at Her. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 23.—New weapons in marital warfare were cited by Mrs. Mamie Thorogood in her plea for a divorce from Richard F. Thorogood before Judge Kavanaugh. "One time he hit me with a flower pot, making my face black and blue, and at another time he threw a Jardiniere at me," Mrs. Thorogood complained, adding the two missiles to the long list of those named in the complaints of wives in the divorce courts. Mrs. Thorogood also asserted that her husband is an opium fiend, and told the court that he had served four months in the Erieview, but is now in St. Louis. They were married April 25, 1902, and Thorogood is accused of deserting his wife on Christmas of the same year.
