Salt Lakers Make Trip to Ogden and Are Extended a Royal Welcome.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—The first "get acquainted" trip of the Salt Lake members of the Utah Automobile Trades association was made today when nine cars, carrying thirty passengers, made the run from Zion to Ogden this afternoon. It was the first "sociality" excursion of the capital city dealers, it being the intention of the association members to visit other cities of the state during the present season. The object of the visit is to promote a fraternal feeling among the automobile men and influence state dealers to become members of the association.

The members of the party which made the trip to this city were somewhat surprised when they received an enthusiastic welcome from a large delegation of Ogden auto dealers, who were headed by Mayor A. G. Fell, President H. M. Rowe of the Weber club, Manager J. D. Larson of the Ogden Publicity bureau, and other officials. Nearly twenty local autos, headed by a large motor coach which had been fitted up to accommodate the members of a brass band, met the incoming delegation at Riverside.

The Salt Lake visitors left the Hotel Utah about 4 o'clock and arrived in Ogden at 6 o'clock. The long line of autos traversed the principal streets of the business district after the arrival and then proceeded to the Weber club, where a banquet was served. Brief talks were made at the banquet. The Salt Lake cars and passengers making the trip were as follows:

Car No. 1—Judson; M. L. Terhush, E. T. Hill, K. K. Kanter, T. H. Kinney.

Car No. 2—Buck; A. E. Torsness, R. M. Austin, Sid Thibault, L. L. Reed, E. E. Keeler.

Car No. 3—Ford; F. W. Alkire and M. L. Smith.

Car No. 4—Campbell and A. O. Reed.

Car No. 5—Pierce Arrow; George Colt and Frank Bottorff.

Car No. 6—Cadillac; George Hewes, S. H. Shama, W. D. Rishel, N. H. Bertram.

Car No. 7—Vellie; J. R. Hall, J. W. Staff, Thomas E. Kelly, H. C. Emge and Iver Redman.

Car No. 8—Franklin; J. E. Sanford, A. L. Naylor, J. E. Sanford, Jr., and W. W. Calder.

DEATH COMES QUICKLY.

William Bird, Pioneer Resident of Weber County, Victim of Apoplexy.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—A stroke of apoplexy, which came while shopping at the Golden Rule store on Washington avenue this morning, resulted shortly after 12 o'clock today in the death of William Bird, a pioneer resident of Weber county.

Bird came down town about 11 o'clock and a few minutes after entering the store he was struck by a stroke of apoplexy, and fell to the floor. He was removed to his home, 3104 Pacific avenue, in Dr. L. W. Crawshaw's automobile, he seemed to improve, but a relapse resulted in his death at 12:15 o'clock.

Born in Nauvoo, Ill., on April 8, 1844, Mr. Bird came to Utah and Weber county twenty-five years ago. The surviving sons and daughters are Mrs. Mary E. Cunningham, Rock Springs, Wyo.; George Bird, Tejon, Ida.; John Bird, Henry Bird and Mrs. Alice Jones, all of Ogden. There are also twelve grandchildren. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

A. L. SANDERSON DIES.

Brother of Well-known Ogden Man Is Victim of Heart Disease.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—Although he had been suffering from heart trouble for the past several years, A. L. Sanderson, aged 40, died suddenly at 10 o'clock this morning while preparing to leave his room at the Arlington hotel for a few days rest and treatment at a local hospital. He was a brother of W. E. Sanderson, local manager for the Hemenway & Moser company.

Mr. Sanderson had not been feeling well for the past several days, but his illness was not regarded as serious. He was able to walk when his brother was summoned to his room this morning, but died while arrangements were being made for him to enter the hospital for a few days. The death was a great shock to the brother, who is in Carthage, Mo., February 17, 1873. Mr. Sanderson had spent his entire life there until coming west four months ago. It was his intention to make his home in Los Angeles, but accepted a position here with a view to remaining in Ogden during the summer. The mother and one sister live in Los Angeles and the father, S. H. Sanderson, resides in Carthage. No funeral arrangements will be made until word has been received from them.

ASK FOR WIDER BRIDGE.

Citizens of Ogden Find Reason for Change in Increased Traffic.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—Because of the congestion which has resulted from the constantly increasing traffic on North Washington avenue, more than one hundred residents of that section today filed a petition with the board of city commissioners asking that the bridge over the Ogden river be widened. The present bridge space for traffic other than electric cars is only wide enough to accommodate two vehicles, and is located at the east side of the wide avenue. This makes it necessary for southbound vehicles using the right side of the avenue to cross the street car tracks twice in crossing the bridge.

The petition asks that a passage of the same width now existing on the east side of the car tracks be added to the west side of the bridge, making it unnecessary for southbound vehicles to cross the street car tracks to the opposite side of the avenue. No definite action was taken on the petition at today's meeting.

The report of the waterworks department for the month of April showed a balance of $107,056 on the last day of the month. The total receipts were $40,375.48 and the disbursements $32,680.82. On the recommendation of C. W. C. Nye the Boyle Furniture company was allowed $50 for removing a portion of its warehouse from property required for the opening of Hudson avenue between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets. The company previously deeded thirty feet of the lot to the city for opening the avenue.

PIONEER OF OGDEN DIES.

Mrs. Eliza McQuarrie, Resident of City From Birth, Passes Away.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—After an illness extending over a period of several months, Mrs. Eliza McQuarrie, aged 62 years, died at her home, 478 Twenty-sixth street, at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Her death was due to general debility. As a daughter of pioneers who arrived in Utah in 1847, Mrs. McQuarrie was a pioneer resident of the city and a well-known woman. She was born in this city on May 30, 1851, and spent her entire life here. She was one of the organizers of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement association, and the surviving daughters are Mrs. Mary A. Perry, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Greenwall and Miss Meda McQuarrie. The funeral service will be conducted in the Second ward chapel at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

APPEAL IS NOT BARRED.

Admission of Guilt on Part of Defendant Does Not Prevent Contest.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—Ruling that a defendant has the right of appeal even though he has admitted guilt on the charge in a lower court, Judge J. A. Howell today set the appeal case of Ogden city against Joseph Kuhn, charged with carrying concealed weapons, for trial on May 12. Assistant City Attorney John Heywood moved that the appeal be denied because the defendant had pleaded guilty before Judge W. H. Reeder and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25.

After the case was set for trial both sides waived a jury and it is possible that the trial may never take place, for the late Patrolman J. A. Herrick, who was the city's principal witness in the case, died after the case was appealed. His testimony, according to the assistant city attorney, was vital.

Body Still Missing.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—Although the creek has been searched for more than a mile below the bridge, the body of Engineer Alfred Nelson, who was killed last Saturday night, has not been recovered, according to the information received by Union Pacific officials today.

Case for Detectives.

OGDEN, May 7.—Because there is considerable mystery regarding the manner in which the man gained entrance to the Troy laundry building, the case of Harry

EARL M. GILL DIES
AFTER HARD BATTLE

Son of David R. Gill Succumbs to Illness of More Than Four Months.

Earl M. Gill, 27 years of age, son of David R. and Ellenor Morrison Gill of 824 Hoyt avenue, died at the family home at 6:15 o'clock yesterday morning of a complication of liver troubles. He and his young wife had been living with the young man's parents for the past four months. A baby boy was born to the young couple last Sunday.

Mr. Gill was born in Ogden June 9, 1885, where his mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison, lived. He was educated in the public schools and later learned the trade of printing pressman. He is survived by four brothers, Harry M., George M. and Frank M. of Salt Lake and D. Richard Gill of Spokane, Wash., and one sister, Mrs. G. A. McNay of Salt Lake. He was a grandson of the late D. R. Gill, Sr., who came to Utah in 1878 with his family.

Other near relatives of the young man are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Gill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kent, Mr. George Morrison and Joseph J. Gill, all of Salt Lake, and Mr. and Mrs. James Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Flowers and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Reeder, all of Ogden; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gill, all of Salt Lake.

Mr. Gill was a printing pressman at the time of his death engaged with the Phelps Printing company of this city. Funeral services will be held at the Sixth ward chapel Sunday, beginning at 12:15 o'clock. Bishop Edwin F. Parry will officiate.

This Interests Every Woman.

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for their kidneys and bladder, they soon recover. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. They are tonic in action, quick in results. They will help you. Schramm-Johnson, Drugs, The Never-Substitutes. Five (5) good stores. (Advertisement.)

Lilly, charged with trespass, has been confined by Judge W. J. Reeder until the police can make further investigation. When arrested, after being discovered in the laundry, he was first charged with burglary, but a hard-luck story in court resulted in the charge being changed to that of trespass. Now the police have discovered that the lock on the door may have been forced. Lilly, who is a shopman, said he was intoxicated and fell asleep after entering the building, before the employees quit work for the day.

Hurt in Collision.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—Injuries which may prove serious, sustained by Hane Helgesen, a machinist, for the Rapid Transit company, about 1 o'clock this afternoon when he was riding a motorcycle and collided with an automobile at Twentieth street and Washington avenue. The auto was driven by R. C. Mitchell of the Mitchell Brothers company. While Helgesen did not sustain any broken bones, it is feared that he received internal injuries. He is at the Bergey hospital under the care of Dr. L. H. Crawshaw.

Would Arrest His Son.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—T. W. Sage, a farmer residing north of the city, has threatened to arrest his son, who is charged with the murder of a woman, for the arrest of his own son if it is ascertained that the boy is responsible for the disturbance of two horses from his pasture. Mr. Sage told Sheriff T. A. DeVine today that Ralph Graham, a companion of his son, has a wagon and harness at Soda Springs, Idaho, and that the boys have taken the horses and started for that point with a view to engaging in teaming work.

Contest for Cup Friday.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—With six students of the Weber academy and Ogden high school participating, the oratorical contest for the E. A. Leonard silver cup will be held in the Orpheum theater next Friday afternoon. The oratorical contest for the prize has become an annual affair, the prize last year being a valuable gold medal. The complete program for the contest Friday afternoon has been arranged by the committee. The winner will be given promptly at 2 o'clock.

Legal Point Raised.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—As Judge N. J. Harris is not present this morning, matters he was not present this morning when Judge J. A. Howell granted Gustave A. Hansen a retail liquor license to operate the business formerly owned by P. M. Poulsen. The saloon is known as the "Top Knot bar," and is located at 2363 Washington street. Judge Howell called upon to collaborate in the matter of granting liquor licenses. While the granting of the license to Hansen is virtually a transfer, under the new ruling of the district judges it must be regarded as a new application.

Will Attend Conclave.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—Judge A. R. Heywood and wife will be among those from Ogden to attend the annual conclave of the Mystic Shrine at Dallas, Tex. The convention opens on May 17, but Mr. and Mrs. Heywood expect to spend several weeks along the Mexican border. Others who will attend the Dallas conclave are P. C. Behrman and Chris Fisher, the latter of Salt Lake. The party will leave Ogden tomorrow afternoon.

Sad Plight for Woman.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—With no municipal institution or detention hospital where the woman can be taken and receive proper medical care, the police are at a loss to understand what can be done in the case of a young woman who is now in the city jail. She is a drug user and is also afflicted with a probably fatal disease. For the past several days she has been in a serious condition. An effort is being made to provide a place where she can receive better care than it is possible to give at police headquarters.

Goshen Will Deliver Address.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 7.—The Rev. E. I. Goshen, pastor of the First Baptist church, will make the principal address at the mothers' day exercises to be held in the Orpheum theater next Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Child Culture club.

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS
WARD COMPETITIONS

Assembly Hall Crowded at Second Night of Music and Literary Festival.

An audience of 1200 heard the music at the Assembly hall last night, when the concluding program of the music and literary festival of the Young Men and Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement associations of Salt Lake stakes. Following is the result of the competitions:

SANITARY CONDITIONS
WILL BE DISCUSSED

The sanitation committee of the Commercial club held a meeting yesterday at which the report was received of the subcommittee appointed to investigate sanitary conditions at Brighton and in Lamb's canyon. With special reference to the relation of those conditions to the purity of the city's water supply, L. B. Hampton, chairman of the subcommittee, reported that an investigation had been made, and that a solution of the problem appeared easy. He reported that many of the residents of Brighton and Lamb's canyon had been invited to attend a luncheon at the Commercial club next Wednesday, at which time the matter will be fully discussed. Mr. Hampton was of the opinion that by adopting approved modern methods of destroying refuse by burning, all possibility of contamination could be avoided.

AMUSEMENTS

SALT LAKE THEATER—"The Case of Becky," with Frances Starr. Three nights, beginning tonight, with matinee Saturday.

COLONIAL—William J. Kelly and company in "My Partner." Matinees Thursday and Saturday.

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville. Performances every afternoon and evening.

EMPRESS—Vaudeville. Performance every afternoon and two performances at night. New bill today.

A N Emprass audience did an unheard-of thing last night. For five whole minutes it positively refused to abide by the programme made and provided. Jennie Fletcher, a Scotch nightingale, so the bill said, was the cause of the demoralization. Jennie Fletcher's act is just pure singing, unadorned by any vaudevillean flights, but when she had appeared last night the audience simply would not listen to reason. The petite Jennie emerged from the wings and bowed a dozen times, the scene shifters staged the act was to fail, but still the applause did not die down. "Just one more song," someone yelled from the gallery. It was an ovation that seldom extended to vaudeville entertainers.

Judging from the size of the type on the programme, it is probable that the "Rose of Mexico" and "The Rose of Mexico" are supposed to vie for headline honors. Eliminating Jennie Fletcher for the purpose of argument, one is forced to declare the contest a tie, with no honors to speak of for anybody.

The Comstock piece is of the Brat Hart type ostensibly, but it lacks the punch. Monda Glendower, in a juvenile characterization, is responsible for what is called "The Brat Hart" and is proving to be one of the best features of the bill. He is a particularly clever entertainer and has a splendid voice and fine comedy sense. The western atmosphere has taken hold of the actors and they are giving each character true to life. Everybody should see this play, for it shows the west as it was in the early days when men worked with mind and muscle to gain the much-looked-for gold in the beautiful mountains of California. Joe Saunders, as played by Mr. Kelly, and Ned Singleton, as played by Mr. Milton, are well worth seeing.

Will Dillon, the well-known song writer, who is appearing at the Orpheum theater this week and who has gained much popularity in all the big cities of the country, is adding to his list of achievements by playing at the Orpheum. He is a particularly clever entertainer and has a splendid voice and fine comedy sense. The western atmosphere has taken hold of the actors and they are giving each character true to life. Everybody should see this play, for it shows the west as it was in the early days when men worked with mind and muscle to gain the much-looked-for gold in the beautiful mountains of California. Joe Saunders, as played by Mr. Kelly, and Ned Singleton, as played by Mr. Milton, are well worth seeing.

A moving picture of battles and war scenes that will prove vastly different from anything of the kind heretofore seen in local moving picture theaters is the announcement that comes from the management of the Rex for the new programme that opens at that house this afternoon to run today and Friday.

The feature film of the bill is to be the Elton picture in two reels, "The Last Roll Call," which will form the second feature.

"For Another's Sin," "Calamity Anne's Trust."

Benham assumes all blame for the American computer program.

The American computer program, "Calamity Anne's Trust," is a remarkable production. It is a story of a young woman who is forced to live with a man who is a criminal. The story is told in a most interesting and dramatic manner. The production is a masterpiece of the art of the computer program.

A remarkable Thimblehouse drama in two acts, entitled "For Another's Sin," will be featured at the Miesby today.

Harry Benham appears in the role of the embroiled bank clerk, who has just finished a ten-year sentence and is re-employed by the bank. He soon discovers that the man who befriended him when others shunned him is treacherous to the self-same path, and in order to save his friend, who has a wife and family, he is forced to take a most dramatic course.

"My Partner," as presented at the Colonial this week by William J. Kelly and his company, is playing to crowded houses.
