Capital Warned of Snowstorm Due To-day.

MOVING TO THE NORTHEAST

Weather Signals Indicate Fall Will Be Heavy This Side of Mississippi and Record Low Temperature for the Year May Be Felt in Washington—Effect General.

Snow clouds that have been traveling for the past eighteen hours with a blizzard wind will break against the warmer ocean temperature when it reaches a line with Washington to-day, and snow will be scattered eastward in quantities, even larger than a week ago.
If yesterday's observations are borne out.

The storm was heralded by the weather man yesterday, and warnings were sent out. It originated in the Southwest, and thermometers fell as it progressed.
The temperature here has been dropping since early yesterday morning. If it does not snow to-day the reason will be the intense cold. The lowest record of the year is expected.

All East of Mississippi.
The storm was noted yesterday morning, and its scope indicates that it was spreading as it moved northeastward and would be general after it passed over the Mississippi River.

Telegraphic storm warnings were sent broadcast by Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States Weather Bureau.
Forecaster Garriott explained that the Western cold wave has extended to the Atlantic coast.

"The storm will move northeastward," Forecaster Garriott said, "and the indications are it will be preceded by heavy snow. The fall will begin to-day over the Lake region, the Ohio Valley, and the Middle and Upper Mississippi valleys.
It ought to reach Washington by morning. It will be a heavy snowfall, judging from present indications."

TALKS OF DEATH; EXPIRES.

Bright's Disease Suddenly Calls Albert Asbury, Real Estate Man.

While talking of death to a friend, Albert Asbury, fifty years old, died suddenly yesterday morning from Bright's disease in his office, 235 John Marshall place.

Mr. Asbury had just remarked, "What's the use? I suppose the end isn't far off, anyway." He fell dead the next moment. He came to Washington from Charlotte, N. C., about six months ago and entered the real estate business. He is survived by two sisters, Miss Mary M. and Miss Sallie E. Asbury, at 1013
H street.

THREE DEPUTIES GO FREE.

Sheriff Shipp Must Serve Another Month for Contempt.

With a month more to serve in the District jail for contempt of the United States Supreme Court, Sheriff Shipp and Deputies Luther Williams and Nick Nolan are lonesome after the departure of their companions, Jeremiah Gibson, William Mayze, and Henry Padgett, who were released yesterday morning at 8 o'clock.

Shipp and the two remaining Tennessee sheriffs will be allowed ten days off for good behavior, and expect to be released February 1.

The party that was released yesterday did not tarry long in the Capital, leaving on the first train that pulled out for the South. Before leaving, they were allowed to see Shipp, Williams, and Nolan.

SEEK MOORE'S SUCCESSOR.

Geographic Society to Meet in Two Week—Five Names Offered.

Who will be elected president of the Geographic Society to succeed Prof.
Willis L. Moore, at the annual meeting, January 19, became a subject of much interest yesterday, and five names are already in the foreground. They are Otto H. Tuttle, superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey; Henry Gannett, the present vice president of the society; O.
P. Austin, secretary; Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., retired, and Gen.
J. M. Wilson, U. S. A., retired.

Prof. Moore's letter declining another term was made public yesterday. It gives as a principal reason for not wishing another term the fact that he has served five years.

Eight managers will be elected January 14, and they will meet five days later to elect the new president.

NURSE MAY SUCCUMB

Pneumonia Develops in the Wound of Miss Brown.

VICTIM OF TYPHOID PATIENT

Relatives at the Bedside of Woman Who Wounded Pistol from Martin L. Sterling After She Had Been Shot, and Physicians Are Striving to Save Her Life.

Miss Mary R. Brown, the nurse who was shot in the breast several weeks ago in a struggle to disarm Martin L.
Sterling, a typhoid fever patient while he was delirious, was reported last night to be in a critical condition at the Emergency Hospital, with hardly a fighting chance of recovery.

The wound was in her lungs, and in spite of the efforts of the physicians, pneumonia has set in.

Dr. Magruder, superintendent of the hospital, said last night that her condition, although slightly improved since morning, was so serious she was hovering between life and death.

Relatives at Bedside.

Dr. George Tully Vaughan and Dr. W.
P. Carr, attending physicians, are doing everything in their power to save the woman. Mrs. Brown, the young woman's mother, is an unfailing watcher by the bedside. Col. Herbert and Mr. Irwin, and other relatives are among the other anxious ones whose constant hope is for her recovery.

The tragedy occurred several weeks ago at the home of Martin L. Sterling, 819 C street southwest, who was seriously ill with typhoid fever. While in a delirious condition the man suddenly appeared in the dining-room, where Miss Brown and the family were assembled, and drew a revolver and fired.

Showered Presence of Mind.

Although seriously wounded, Miss Brown showed remarkable presence of mind, seizing the smoking revolver before the crazed man could do further injury. She telephoned for aid, and probably saved the life of herself and Sterling at the same time.

There is a strong move being made in Washington to have Miss Brown presented with a Carnegie hero medal. Hundreds of names have been signed to the petition.

AERO CLUB MEETS MONDAY.

Plans Will Be Made for Holding of Aviation Carnival.

Within a few days the first year book of the Washington Aero Club will be issued, and on next Monday the first annual meeting of the club will be held, when it is expected definite plans will be formulated for the future activities of the organization.

Whatever the chances may be of bringing the next international aviation meet to Washington—and no one seems to know just what they are—the local Aero Club intends to have an aviation carnival next spring or summer, which will bring out the best there is in America. In connection with a consideration of the prospects of the larger meet the club will discuss means to bring about the success of the more limited gathering if that is all that is coming to the National Capital.

Organized January 23, 1909, the Aero Club has not yet completed the first year of its existence, yet its achievements have been many and it has more than demonstrated the reason for its existence. The club now has on its rolls 100 charter members and nine honorary members, the latter including Glenn Curtiss, the Wright, Octave Chanute, Count Zeppelin, Louis Blériot, Henry Farman, and Lawrence Hargrave.

SLASHES THROAT WITH RAZOR.

Wife Witnesses Government Employee's Attempted Suicide.

William F. Collins, an employee of the District engineering department, attempted suicide yesterday afternoon at his home, 1148 Morse street, by cutting both sides of his throat with a razor.

His wife was in the room at the time.
He was removed to Casualty Hospital, and will recover.

Church Club Elects Officers.

The Immaculate Social Club held their annual election of officers Monday evening, with the following results: James M. Dunn, president; Dr. C. K. Koonce, first vice president; John Shugrue, second vice president; Rev. E. J. Connelly, spiritual adviser; M. K. Hostick, recording secretary; R. M. Breen, financial secretary; Robert Berberich, treasurer; Phil Carrier, sergeant-at-arms; M. Mc-Inerney and William F. O'Donnell, additional directors.

Asks $10,000 for Libel.

Frank E. Elder filed suit for $10,000 yesterday in the District Supreme Court against James P. Tuttle. The plaintiff, who is employed in the Government Printing Office, alleges the defendant injured him in the estimation of Public Printer Samuel B. Donnelly and others by writing to Mr. Donnelly that he (Elder) used his public office for private gain.

Chicken Law Repudiated.

Judge Muldowny, in the Police Court yesterday morning, dismissed the case brought by the health department against Arthur E. Dowell, a grocer of 1501 S street northwest, for alleged violation of the chicken regulations. He said the law is ridiculous.

TEACHERS' RIGHT SUSTAINED.

Longevity Increase in Pay Applies

According to New Ruling.

In an opinion handed down yesterday by Justice Robb, of the District Court of Appeals, the right was sustained of teachers in the public schools to longevity increases in pay, in cases where the teacher has had the required experience as an instructor in an accredited normal or high school, although the probationary period of such a teacher's appointment began before the passage of the act granting such an increase.

This ruling is based on the action of the District Supreme Court, which it affirms, and which established that when a teacher, after serving a probationary period, received an appointment to permanent work the longevity rule applies.
The specific case was that of Miss Jennie T. Martin, who sued in her own behalf, and also to establish a precedent for other teachers similarly situated.
