REVOLT OF CARRANZA GARRISONS REPORTED

Uprisings in State of Tabasco Told in State Department
Dispatches.

Plans for a continuation within a few days of the conference on the Mexican situation between Secretary of State Lansing, Paul Fuller, Jr., and the Latin-American diplomats are being made at the State Department. No answer has come as yet from Carranza to the peace proposals of the conference, and a favorable reply is not expected. The next session of the conference will be held in New York, probably next week.

Dispatches received at the State Department yesterday were to the effect that the Carranza garrisons at Frertera and San Juan Bautista, in the state of Tabasco, just south of the Vera Cruz border, have revolted. The Carranza governor and other officials escaped to Vera Cruz.

The Villa agency reported that an invasion of Southeastern Chihuahua by Carranza troops had been repulsed and the invaders driven over the border into the state of Sonora.

Advices indicate that bands of Mexican south of the border are still active. Gen. F. M. K. reported that bands have burned a railway trestle fourteen miles south of Brownsville early yesterday. About the same time civilians in an automobile were shot upon. No one was injured. Two army aeroplanes that ascended near the Mexican border in the vicinity of Brownsville were fired upon from the Mexican side, but no one was injured.

In behalf of the Brazilian Minister to Mexico, Mr. Cardoso de Oliveira, who sails for Rio tomorrow, it was reported yesterday that he declared to friends in Washington that armed intervention by the United States offers the only solution of the Mexican problem. This statement was made.

"The Minister has made it a strict rule not to speak of the Mexican situation to anybody except the Secretary of State and the Brazilian Ambassador, since his arrival in the United States."

E. Arredondo, representative here of the Mexican constitutionalists, last night received a telegram from Luis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury for the constitutionalists, saying that he has had a disagreement with the chief of Carranza. The message follows:

"It is not true that I have had any disagreement with the chief regarding Carranza. I have assumed in relation to invitation made by Latin diplomats. There is not the slightest reason to suppose that I have separated from first chief, and published rumor in that respect is injurious to my reputation."

WIDOW FORGED FOR CHILD.
Pretty Young Woman Confesses—
Says She Served Five Years.

New York, Sept. 2.—Admitting she had been a police matron and forged checks for grilling sums, Mrs. Helen Fahl, 25 years old, a pretty widow, pleaded guilty to attempted forgery in the second degree before Judge Dike in the County Court today, and was remanded for sentence Tuesday. The penalty for the offense is not more than five years in prison.

Questioned by Judge Dike, Mrs. Fahl said she used the money to educate her daughter, who is 8 years old, and to provide for the girl's first communion, so she would look as nice as the other little girls. Mrs. Fahl was dressed neatly in spangled white, and she looked straight at Judge Dike when she told her story. She tried hard to maintain her composure, but finally broke down and wept.

HONOR DESIGNER OF BIG GUN.
Technical School Confers Degree on Creator of Krupp Weapon.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—The Technical Academy at Karlsruhe has conferred upon Prof. Otto Raussenberger, who designed the famous sixteen and one-half-inch Krupp gun, the degree of Doctor of Engineering honoris causa. Making this announcement, the Overseas News Agency adds:

"A unique celebration has been held by the artillerymen with a battery of Austro-Hungarian mortars on the Leonso line. One mortar fired its 1,500th shot. This same mortar last year helped to reduce the fortifications of Namur after Antwerp. This demonstrates the durability of the heavy Austro-Hungarian guns."

Fugitive Arrested Here.
Detective Frank Baur yesterday arrested Julius Gordon, alias Nathan Parsons, 20 years old, colored, wanted by the police of Georgetown, S. C., for attempted murder.

The South Carolina authorities were notified of his arrest, and have wired that a man is being sent for the prisoner.

FIVE TURK TRANSPORTS SENT DOWN BY ALLIES

French Aviator Accounts for One
Troop Ship, British Submarines
Rest of "Bag."

Paris, Sept. 2.—The French war office announced today that five Turkish transports had been sunk by the allies at the Dardanelles, one having been destroyed by a French aviator and four having been torpedoed by British submarines. The official statement gives no information as to the loss of life on the Ottoman vessels.

The official report follows: "At the Dardanelles the last week of August was in general very calm on the south front. In the north some British troops fought some successful engagements which had put into their possession a hill to the west of Byuk-Anafarta, which had been sharply disputed."

"A transport was sunk on August 20 by one of our aeroplanes in the anchorage of Acabshillman. It should be added that four were torpedoed by the British submarines, two at the same spot and two others between Gallipoli and Nagara. "The guns of the warships struck many navy vessels anchored in the straits."

ROOSEVELT PLANS BIG NAVAL RESERVE

Acting Secretary Has Scheme for Organizing Trained Men for Navy.

The organization of a large naval reserve, both of men and material, and the application of the Pittsburgh method of training, is proposed in a plan made public by Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt yesterday afternoon. The plan is essentially Secretary Roosevelt's work. The plan is divided into four divisions, part of which already are carried for Congressional legislation last year. The first section of the plan involves a reserve of retired officers and former enlisted men, this group to be available for immediate service in time of war with first-line ships. This reserve, after two months' operation under the law, has only 190 enlisted men, but the officers have been organized for some time.

The second line of reserves is initiated largely by the new plan. It involves the co-ordination of the Coast Guard—Revenue Cutter and Life-saving services—Lighthouse Service, Coast Survey, State naval militia, harbor police, etc., into one service, with a little training which would make it possible for them to be turned to use by the navy on very short notice.

The third classification, suggested by the Navy Department, involves "volunteer civilians, particularly of special training which would be of use to the navy in time of national peril." Of this type the department hopes for a reserve of 50,000 officers and men.

The fourth part of the plan involves the listing of all merchant shipping, auxiliary boats, launches, etc., and the training of their owners under Section 3 of the plan. It is proposed to use these ships for protection from submarine attack.

ARCHIBALD OFFER WAS REJECTED, IS REPORT

Ambassador Bernstorff Said to Have Declined His Services as Messenger.

An offer of Capt. James F. A. Archibald, the American war correspondent recently detained in England, to carry papers to Germany for Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, was refused, it was said here yesterday. It is said that the offer was refused because the Ambassador has made it a rule not to intrust any papers to private persons. Capt. Archibald did carry, however, a package given him by the Ambassador to be presented to Countess von Bernstorff in Germany. This package contained a gift.

Archibald's acquaintances here refuse to believe these reports.

WARN WORKERS IN U. S.

This newspaper says that violation of the decree is punishable by imprisonment of 10 to 20 years, and even by capital punishment under certain conditions.

STEP-FATHER ACCUSED OF ATTEMPT TO KILL

Harry Meyer Remanded to Jail
Pending Result of Son's Injury.

A charge of assault with intent to kill was preferred against Harry Meyer, who is alleged to have shot his 6-year-old stepson, Kenneth Meyer, through the head with a revolver Tuesday evening when he was arranged in court yesterday. Failing to give $10,000 bond asked by Assistant United States Attorney Arlt, Meyer was remanded to jail to await a hearing to be held as soon as the wounded boy is able to appear in court.

The boy is in Casualty Hospital and as soon as he recovers from shock an operation will be performed in an attempt to save his life. The bullet passed through the right and out of the left side of his head.

Other than his assertion that the affair was an accident resulting from cleaning his revolver, Meyer is said to have made no statement. Mrs. Elida Meyer, mother of the injured boy, is at the hospital and under the care of a physician.

U. S. NAVY INADEQUATE, SAYS HAMMOND REPORT

Most of Boats Hopelessly Outclassed
by Foreign Warships—Personnel
Inefficient, Expert Declares.

New York, Sept. 2.—A scathing criticism of the United States navy is contained in the report, issued today, of John Hays Hammond, Jr., who represented the conference committee on national preparedness at the governors' conference in Boston.

Hammond's chief complaint is that the American warships are only half manned and have not enough officers to handle them properly in time of war. He says: "I had the privilege of witnessing, aboard the Wyoming, the impressive naval review of part of the North Atlantic Fleet."

"The torpedo boats of the United States, instead of having the four to six officers necessary, had only two officers. The necessary number of men in case of sudden national emergency these vessels could not be properly handled to perform the functions for which they are designed."

"The torpedo craft have a maximum speed of twenty-eight knots. A large number of vessels of the same class in the British and German navies have speeds of from thirty-three to thirty-six knots an hour."

"Leading the torpedo flotilla came the Birmingham, a sad reminder that we have only three light cruisers of considerable speed, and these vessels when compared to the numerous vessels of this type in the British and German navies would present a sorry contrast in their relatively low speed and weak armament."

"Today what few torpedo boats we possess would be easily swept from the seas by the fast cruisers of the enemy possessing speeds far greater to our destroyers and torpedo craft."

"A few minutes later ten of our cruisers steamed past. To those interested in naval development it was obvious that only four out of the ten ships would make a real showing under modern conditions. These vessels also were only about half manned."

"The speed of the best of these vessels is four knots less than the Bluecher, whose inferiority of speed spelled her destruction in the naval action in the North Sea."

"We should have twenty-one battle-ships to protect our Atlantic coast; we have only seven ships in commission. Four are useless to the nation as there are not enough men even to run them."

"With every recruit tapped, we are 20,000 men short in our navy. We have 1,500 officers of the line. We must have 1,400 more."

"If the navy is inadequate it is primarily the fault of the people and not of any legislative or official branch of government. Our officials are all awake to the danger of our naval impotence. Let us hope that the people will be back of Mr. Daniels in his patriotic work in strengthening our most important means of defense."

"Mister, won't you please buy some whittling and help the poor children?" This was the plea of 150 girls who yesterday sought to raise money for the Washington Emergency and Rescuing Home.

They were chaperoned by members of the Ladies Aid Society. The girls took stations on corners of business streets, in front of office buildings, and in department stores, and from all reports the campaign for funds was a great success.

The idea of selling shoe whittling for the benefit of the home originated with 12-year-old Josephine McConaghy. Mrs. A. F. Barringer, superintendent of the home, had charge of the work.
