QUIT $1,000 MONTH JOB TO JOIN MARINES

Capt. Coyle Re-enlists and Goes to Port Royal.

Capt. William R. Coyle, U. S. M. C., stationed formerly at the League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, who resigned from the service several years ago to take a position as manager of the Elk Horn Coal Company, of Bethlehem, Pa., at a salary of $1,000 a month, yesterday created a sensation at the main recruiting station of the U. S. Marine Corps, 407 Star building, by affixing his signature to re-enlistment papers for the duration of war.

Capt. Coyle has had his rank restored and will be sent to the main training station of the U. S. Marine Corps at Parris Island, Port Royal, S. C., without delay, and hopes to see active service in France in the very near future.

Milton Darlington Moore, a young student at Princeton College, and a member of one of the best known families in Philadelphia, showed up at the recruiting station accompanied by his young bride, and celebrated his honeymoon by enlisting in the Marine Corps for the duration of war. The newlyweds left for Parris Island yesterday.

Martin French, Jr., the young son of Capt. Martin French, second in command of the Washington Navy Yard, likewise announced his intention of joining the Marine Corps. He probably will enlist before the end of this week.

SAY SOLDIERS WANT RELIGION STRAIGHT

Camouflage Is Depreciated by Y. M. C. A. Workers.

An unusual conference was held at the Washington Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon when the religious work secretaries of all camps in the Washington district, army chaplains, and several Washington clergymen who have been addressing men at the camps gathered to discuss what sort of religious message should be given to the men in uniform.

Here is what they decided: "Men want a straight out and out religious message, frankly given, frankly advertised.

"Our soldiers, sailors and marines are men enough to take their religion straight. We need no camouflage corps in our religious work."

This summing up is that of Rev. Dr. Paul R. Hickok, religious work director, who called the conference. It was agreed that the message that the church and its workers has for men in the national service should do these things:

"Stimulate personal character; develop a sane optimism; make for a strong purpose toward clean living, and inspire men with an ideal of patriotic self-sacrifice."

DUPLUX RAZOR PLANT WILL HELP RED CROSS

Employers to Run Factory Half Day for Mercy Fund.

The employers of the Durham Duplex Razor Company Saturday will run the plant four hours in the afternoon, and the employers will turn the earnings to the Red Cross. To each dollar earned by the employees the company will add a dollar. In other words, double time will be paid the employees and all earnings turned over to the fund. This is as Mr. Sheehan, president of the company, put it, "Conserving time, and turning it to account."

The employees are glad of the opportunity to work for the Red Cross, and as the company can use the output, nobody loses, and the fund gains more money than it would be possible for the men and women employed to give from their regular earnings.

If this plan were adopted generally, the collection of the Red Cross funds would be easy.

TAKE PART OF RENT IN SAVINGS STAMPS

Following along the lines which have prompted hundreds of people to reinvest their liberty bond coupons in war savings stamps, the real estate dealers of Washington, at the suggestion of D. J. Callahan, are urging their clients to specify a certain amount each month to be deducted from their rent money and to be sent them in war savings and thrift stamps.

"The real estate dealers of the city," says Director Callahan, "are very generally adopting this suggestion, and I am sure the results produced therefrom will be very gratifying."

One man reported to the committee yesterday that he had complied with the suggestion, asking that 20 per cent of the rent money which is collected for him be sent in stamps.

Estate of Daish, Lawyer, Goes to Widow, Alice M.

John B. Daish, the well-known local attorney and expert on commercial law, who died May 11 at the Homeopathic Hospital, left all his property to his widow, Alice M. Daish, according to his will filed yesterday with Register of Wills Tanner.

The will is dated February 23, 1918, and names Mrs. Daish an executrix of the estate without bond. Its value will be known when the estate has been probated.

New Cancer Theory By French Academy

Paris, May 15.—The theory that cancer is not of microbe origin but is due to the excessive elimination of certain substances normally contained in the blood is supported by a report of the researches of Prof. Dubard, just published by the Academy of Medicine. Finding that the system of cancerous subjects was particularly poor in magnesia, Prof. Dubard administered large doses of it to patients operated on for cancer, and reports an encouraging result in a large number of cases.

POISONS.

Mr. J. H. Small, 15th & H. Sts., Washington, D. C.

Dear Henry:

Warmest Greetings from the New York Store to you and all friends in Washington, by the first airtel postal service.

By this case post, I am enclosing a package of Grenade to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, the wife of our President.

Love to all,

method, which is none other than capturing the food-devouring insect or worm and killing it. This may be done with a stick and a tin can, the insect or worm being knocked into the can with the aid of the stick, if one doesn't wish to use his hand, and after the garden is gone over the insects and worms are burned. Don't bury them, for most can come right up again.

There are several kinds of poisons which may be sprayed or dusted on plants to kill insect pests. They are poisonous, so keep from children? These include, among the most frequently used: Paris green, which is very rare now and consequently very expensive. This is mixed in a paste, which is used in varying strengths dependent on the insect to be controlled and the plant. Mix in a little quick lime to prevent burning the leaves. Stir while spraying to keep the contents well mixed. Poison! Arsenate of lead, which, considering the high price of Paris green is to be advised. It does about the same work, and can be applied in stronger mixtures without injuring the leaves. It may be bought at drug stores, seed stores or department stores, and the paste is mixed with water so it can be sprayed upon the plants. Poison! White hellebore may be used either as a spray or dust. The powder is mixed with water, 4 oz. to 2 gallons water; or, 1 pound to 5 pounds air slaked lime if to be used as a dust. It loses strength rapidly and should be mixed fresh each time. Poison! Tobacco may be used for some insects, either by dusting the plants with powder or soaking tobacco stems in water and then spraying the leaves with the mixture. Either method is effective against plant lice on garden vegetables, fruit trees, berry bushes or grape vines. Kerosene emulsion also kills plant lice, and is made by mixing half pound soap with 1 gallon of water and 2 gallon kerosene. Tomorrow's lesson will handle the cut-worm foe. Pay your Income Tax now and help to turn the German drive into a retreat.

Your Garden

THE HUNS IN YOUR GARDEN.

The insect enemy in American gardens and fields robs the country each year of food worth thousands of millions of dollars. During war time these insect Huns in garden and field aid the brave Huns who are fighting our boys and our allies over there. Food is too precious this year to feed to cut worms, plant lice, red spiders and other insects. These Huns in our gardens must be killed and every effort must be made to prevent them from getting a start. A plan of battle against the garden Huns has been mapped out by The Washington Herald's garden expert, and is outlined in the next half dozen garden lessons printed in this newspaper. Read it and save it for future campaigns against insects in your garden.

Garden Lesson No. 65.

Birds and toads are the garden's best aids in ridding gardens of insect pests. They live on bugs and worms; and won't harm a single plant. Then there is the hand-picking
