60 ARE TAKEN IN "TREAT 'EM ROUGH" CORPS

Fifty-year-old Navy Veteran Dejected When Age Bars.

Responding to the enlistment call of the "Treat 'Em Rough" fighting unit of the army, the tank corps, 60 fighting men of varied ages appeared Monday at headquarters of the corps in the Mills building, Pennsylvania avenue and Seventeenth street, and sought the privilege of immediate admission to the training camp at Gettysburg. The list included men of volunteer age, draft subjects and several enlisted men who asked for transfers from other branches in the hope of getting action abroad at an early date. Sixteen were accepted and the qualifications of many others are being considered. Throughout the day officers of the corps were busy investigating the qualifications of applicants, subjecting them to the rigid examination necessary. Although a majority of the applicants were men of a strong type, many were necessarily rejected because of disqualifying lack of experience. Another batch of applicants, including residents of outlying districts, are expected to apply, personally and by letter, today.

Among the applicants was F. E. Muratet, 56-year-old patriot who has been in service in the navy, and who was both irritated and dejected when informed that the length of his acquaintance with Father Time barred him. "I've given good service in the navy—in China, the Philippines, Cuba and the Canal zone—and as I am in perfect health, I see no reason why I should be denied the privilege of doing another 'bit' in the tank corps," Muratet argued. "My record in the navy is clean and I am going to fight the Hun even if it becomes necessary for me to join the force of Japan."

The Japs will accept me in spite of my age and I'll show by my fighting that the Oiler theory is nothing but camouflage.

Another applicant was a Texas ranger, whose strength, courage and two-gun experience doubtless will warrant his acceptance. "I want to teach the Hun a few things about the Texas style of fighting and am thankful that the tank corps offers me the opportunity," he declared.

Those accepted and sent to Gettysburg are: Joe C. Johnson, Allen C. Jammeson, John J. Fenton, Washington; Frank C. Vogel, Hyattsville, Md.; Ambrose Rice Trenor, Canterbury, Ct.; Paul H. Alford, Greenboro, N. C.; Lloyd F. Hollister, Chicago; T. Bramer Cornewell, Kensington, Md.; Basil H. Savage, San Diego, Cal.; Leland A. Morris, Bradenton, Fla.; James A. McFarland, Hyattsville, Md.; Robert E. Hedstrom, Alta, Ill.; Patrick McCarthy, Cleveland, O.; Howard C. Lockwood, Wichita, Kan.; Irl Roberta, Watertown, Ia.; Allen G. McLeigh, Cleveland, O.

"In an official statement published in Washington today," said an officer of the corps, "General Foch, chief of the allied forces, declared that no decisive victory could be gained without the use of a 'prepared bludgeon' of violence. The date on which this advance will begin is, of course, problematical, but when it is on the American tank-fighters will undoubtedly be among those who lead the way Berlinward."

The principal demand of the corps is for tractor and heavy auto truck drivers, auto engine and machine gun repairers, blacksmiths, wireless buster operators and gunners, also for husky college men who are blessed with strength and initiative.

MT. VERNON OPENED TO CIVILIANS SUNDAY

First Time in Sixty Years—Mexican Editors Guests.

Mount Vernon was opened to civilians on Sunday for the first time in sixty years, last Sunday, when a party of Mexican editors, touring the country, visited the historic mansion. The party, twenty of the leading editors in Mexico, had only a short time to spend in the city, and Will Irwin, the war correspondent, under whose management they are making the tour, arranged with the officers in charge of the mansion and grounds to permit them to pay their respect to the greatest American on Sunday.

The visitors placed a wreath of flowers of Mexico on the tomb of George Washington. The tribute was borne to the grave by four of the party, Manuel Carbia, J. J. Tablada, Carlos Gonzales, and Pina Jose J. Nunes y Dominguez.

7 ARRESTS IN 2 DAYS FOR VIOLENCE IN D. C.

These Cases Involve Ten Persons Cut or Shot.

If we are to believe the police court figures, Washington spent a very active Sunday and Sunday. Seven arrests, involving the cutting and shooting of ten persons were made under the law for assault with dangerous weapons. Among these were two deaf and dumb men who got into an argument Sunday afternoon, and one stabbed the other through the jaw.

Two hundred and one persons were on the collateral list. This is not taking into consideration those who did not have money to obtain their release on collateral. All told, nearly 300 arrests were made from noon Saturday to midnight Sunday night.

The vice squad was busier than ever. Bootleggers are being picked up by the police by the dozens. The efforts of Judge Harrison to find out who the bootleggers are by offering clemency to drunks to buy from them, is not as fruitful in results as the court hoped it would be. There seems to be an unwritten code existing between the bootlegger and his customers, whereby the latter must refrain from disclosing his identity. Sixty persons were charged with drunkenness yesterday morning, a quota comparing favorably with the days when the saloons flourished.

Wilson Normal Holds Patriotic Gala Week

For the Wilson Normal School, Eleventh and Harvard streets northwest, this will be a patriotic gala week.

Tonight a great mass meeting in the auditorium will be addressed by E. C. Snyder, William G. Gaud and J. F. MacMurray on the subject of War Savings Stamps.

The subject of food conservation will be studied through a canning demonstration on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There will be a dance for soldiers and sailors at 8 o'clock.

The patriotic subject of activities on Thursday night will be the rehearsal for the Japanese portion of the "Democracy Triumphant" pageant which is to be given on the Fourth of July.

Friday and Saturday nights will be given over to entertainment and dances for the war workers of the city.

700 DISTRICT WORKERS OUT; NO DECISION

Half of the Strikers Are Men of the Street Cleaning Department.

With the District Commissioners declining to interfere or offer suggestions, the strike of the District employees, who are not physically able to do the work of fighting are, as far as proportions go, as it did yesterday morning when nearly 700 of the District employees failed to report for work in the various departments.

A surface observation of the situation strongly suggests that as the entire force did not strike, the strike leaders are evidently carrying out a prearranged plan of calling out a few today and more tomorrow, waiting in the meantime for something which will indicate that their demands will be complied with.

This is not the version of the strike, however. The strike leaders should anything of the sort, but judging from the method now employed, such is the case.

600 Fall to Report.

To be exact, 600 District employees failed to show up for work yesterday morning. In the sewer department, 74 were at work and 96 on strike; water department, 155 at work and 35 on strike; street cleaning department, 41 working and 413 on strike; fire department, 168 working and 100 on strike; purchasing office, cement house, and wharf, none working. In other departments a few failed to report.

More than half of the strikers compose the street cleaning department, a force that is probably lower paid than any of the rest. This is the most serious feature of the strike, because the health of the city depends to a certain degree on clean streets.

It has been suggested that if the Commissioners are unable to obtain men to clean the streets, and their condition becomes such as to warrant immediate action, the heads of the District government will call upon the War Department to solve the problem. If this is necessary, then the military will be called upon for the first time in the history of the city for such work.

There is nothing at present to indicate that such action will be taken, because the strike has not yet assumed proportions that would warrant the Commissioners doing this.

The striking employees will not be classed as enemies of the government because they chose to strike at a critical period. Gen. Knight committed himself yesterday to a hands-off policy, declining to interfere in any manner with the strikers. There is, however, a strong feeling in the District building that some settlement will soon be reached that will suit all concerned.

Superintendent Asa Phillips yesterday declined to throw any more light on the question of whether or not sufficient funds existed with which to pay a portion of the striking employees. Nor will any official of the District government take the responsibility of saying that the fact that the strikers may or may not belong to a union will work against them in re-employment.

J. H. Hurley, president of the City Employees' Association, is still standing his ground in demanding reinstatement of the twenty-two employees who have been laid off, suggesting that unless this demand is met, the strikers will accept employment from private individuals.

CLASS I NONFIGHTERS SOON TO SEE SERVICE

200 District Men for Spruce Camps. Others for Schooling.

Preparations to mobilize an army of approximately 200,000 men of Class I who are not physically able to do the work of fighting are rapidly materializing.

By the end of this week it is certain that 200 or more of these registrants from the District will be sent to the spruce camps in the State of Washington or western North Carolina. Two hundred and six will go to the Bliss Electrical School for instruction in electricity and automobile operation and repair on June 14 or 15.

It is likely that the latter class will be augmented later in the month to fill vacancies resulting from the fact that some in the first contingent will not require much instruction, being already more or less proficient.

RABBI LIEBERMAN, RELIEF WORKER, DEAD

Spent His Life in Effort to Help Sufferers.

Rev. Bernhard Lieberman, recognized as one of the most active supporters of measures for the relief of Jewish war sufferers in this country, died suddenly at 5 o'clock yesterday evening in the Casualty Hospital, where he had been taken at 4 o'clock.

REV. BERNHARDT LIEBERMAN.

4 o'clock last Sunday morning suffering from the effects of high blood pressure.

Prior to that time he had been in his usual good health, but it is thought the excitement produced by intense interest in his work hastened his death.

Mr. Lieberman was one of the best known rabbis in this country.

About a month ago, actuated by patriotic motives in behalf of the Jewish war sufferers, he began a tour of the Eastern cities, in the course of which upward of $100,000 had been subscribed to a relief fund through his personal efforts.

Mr. Lieberman was a graduate of several foreign conservatories of music, and possessed a classical musical education. He also was a composer of note, and set to music many of the prayers written and used by him in the course of his tours.

Mr. Lieberman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Regina Lieberman, residing at 607 Second street northwest; besides four sons and three daughters.

H. M. Lieberman, the eldest son, was summoned by wire from his home in Savannah, Ga., and reached here last night soon after the death of his father.

Nat Lieberman, of Baltimore; Sam Lieberman and Herman Lieberman, of this city, his sons, and Mrs. S. T. Garb, of Trenton, N. J., and Pauline and Rose Lieberman, of Washington, his daughters, all of whom were all present at the bedside when he expired.

His funeral will be held from his late residence, 607 Second street northwest, at 12 o'clock tomorrow. He was 59 years old.

Guilty of Two Assaults

A jury in Justice Stafford's court yesterday found William Webb guilty on two counts of an indictment charging him with assault with intent to kill, and assault with a dangerous weapon. April 14 last he shot and wounded Lucretia Toliver, a negro woman, at 477 Casey's Court.

BAKER URGES QUICK WATER CONSERVATION

Tells Congress the District Supply Is in Danger of Exhaustion.

Water consumption in the city of Washington, increasing as it does with warmer weather, has become such a serious problem, that Secretary of War Baker has called the attention of Congress to the situation, in a letter addressed to that body.

The installation of meters in government buildings to help curb extravagance in the use of water is suggested by Secretary Baker. The greatest saving suggested by the Secretary is that the government printing office shut down its power plant, which uses 3,000,000 gallons of water per day, and have that establishment get its power from the power plant that supplies the Capitol and House and Senate office buildings, that plant being able to care for the needs specified. Such a step would to a considerable degree lessen the amount of water needed.

Secretary Baker also sent copies of his letter to the chairman of the House and Senate District Committees, urging prompt action, lest the situation become distressing.

Baker's Letter.

The text of his letter, which shows how acute the water situation has become, is as follows:

"My attention has been drawn to the fact that the bill, H. R. 1172, making appropriations to provide for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, and for other purposes, as reported to the House of Representatives on April 25, 1918, does not contain the following items, which were included in the estimates: "For completing the purchase, installation and maintenance of water meters, to be placed on the water services to the United States buildings, reservations or grounds, in the District of Columbia, and for each and every purpose connected therewith, said meters to be purchased, installed and maintained by, and remain under the observation of, the officer in charge of the Washington aqueduct, $22,000."

"For purchasing and installing a 10-inch water main across the Key bridge, including a 12-inch connection to the 36-inch gravity main in street, and a water meter near this connection, for the purpose of supplying water to Federal reservations and buildings on the Virginia side of the Potomac River, $3,100."

Wants Water Meters.

The installation of water meters on the government services is of considerable importance at this time. Three pumps supplying the filter beds from the McMillan Park reservoir are rated at 20,000,000 gallons each daily, one being intended to be held constantly in reserve in case of accident. The records show that during the month of April the average quantity of water pumped to the filters per day was 62,380,000 gallons, and for the thirty days from April 20 to May 19, inclusive, 65,000,000 gallons, as against 61,500,000 gallons for the same period one year ago, an increase of 25 per cent. The draft has risen to 70,000,000 gallons for several consecutive days and reached a maximum of 80,000,000 gallons on February 6 last.

Capacity Being Approached.

"The safe daily dependable capacity of the system is 65,000,000 gallons. As the average daily quantity is nearing the safe limit, the maximum having already far exceeded it and approached to the total capacity of all three pumps in full operation, and as it is understood that the population of the city is rapidly increasing, it is considered imperative that steps be taken at once to economize and control the use of filtered water and to reduce it, if possible, to the safe limit of the supply system.

"Meters on the public buildings and other public services are of material assistance in doing this, as it has been found that the consumption of water in some of the government departments which have been metered is far above normal, and with the meters as a guide steps looking to a decrease in such waste can be intelligently taken."

Don't Blame "Spring Fever" For that "Down-and-Out" Feeling

Your Blood Needs a Thorough Cleaning Just Now.

As Summer approaches, the impurities that have been accumulating in the system throughout the winter begin to clog up the circulation, causing a general weakness and debilitated condition that is generally known as "Spring fever."

The first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy; the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Children just at this season are peevish and irritable, and become puny and lifeless.

This whole condition is but the result of impurities in the blood that have been accumulating and make themselves felt more distinctly with the change of seasons. They show that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general housecleaning. Everybody just now needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to purify their blood and cleanse it of impurities. It is good for the children, for it gives them new strength and puts their system in condition so they can more easily resist the many ailments so prevalent in summer. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.
