How Germany Must Pay

For submarine outrages—-for Zeppelin raids—-for ruined Belgium and devastated France? How shall she make restitution and restoration? What guarantees must she give for future good behavior? What retribution must she suffer? What shall be done with the workers of abomination, from the Kaiser down, who violated the laws of God and man?

While Justice imposes stern requirements, it is necessary to study the questions of Germany’s man-power, material resources, financial ability, and political divisions.

These and all other vital after-the-war problems are discussed in striking articles each week in
