

ENVOYS PROTEST TO CHINA AGAINST BANDIT TERRORISM

Demand Government Act To Guard Foreigners From Capture.

PEKIN, Nov. 16.—The American, British, French, Italian and Swedish ministers called in a body on the Chinese foreign office this afternoon, protested against the repeated captures by bandits of foreigners in Honan province and insisted that the government act or reveal its reason for its failure to protect the missionaries.

China admits there are only two remedies, either to treat with the bandits or to use force. In the latter case there is danger that the bandits will put the foreigners in the front lines or kill them, or in the other event the bandits may demand to be taken into the army, whereas the Washington conference asked China to reduce its army.

The ministers feel that unless a solution is reached promptly that other foreigners may be captured and possibly killed in order to force the government to accept the bandits in the army.

No Order Sent U. S. Envoy.
The State Department has sent no instructions to American Minister Schurman in China directing him to serve an ultimatum on the Chinese government as the result of the capture of Americans by bandits.

No advice regarding such action have been received by the State Department, but American diplomats are under instructions to take such steps as they deem necessary in such circumstances.

ASK POPE TO AID MARY M'SWINEY

Irish-Americans Also Protest Refusal to Give Woman Last Sacraments.

Pope Pius XI has been appealed to by the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic to intervene in the case of Mary MacSwiney, now on the thirteenth day of her hunger strike in an English prison, who has been denied last sacraments by the Irish clergy.

The appeal was sent in a cablegram by John F. Finery, president of the association and counsel for Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, wife of the late lord mayor of Cork. Mary MacSwiney is the sister-in-law of Mrs. MacSwiney, who was freed Wednesday of charges growing out of her picketing the British Embassy here.

The cable declared that "liberty-loving people throughout the world view with consternation and horror your permitting Irish clergy to refuse sacraments to Mary MacSwiney, thus outlawing to the whole world the means of moral force and leaving no alternative except dependence solely on physical force."

E. H. GARY DEFENDS PITTSBURGH PLUS

Regulation Ineffective in Face Of Supply and Demand, He Says.

Government regulation of industry will be unavailing so long as the law of supply and demand prevails in fixing prices, in the opinion of Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

This declaration by Gary was made to the Federal Trade Commission yesterday, in his testimony regarding the "Pittsburgh plus" price for steel. In defending this price base, Gary said it "has nothing to do with fixing prices except as governed by the economic law of supply and demand."

"As to business generally," he said, "I don't see any legal and proper way of prohibiting the buyer and seller from entering into contracts for stabilizing prices."

"It is my opinion that fair and honest publicity is a remedy to bring about adjustment."

PLANS TO IMPROVE BAYSIDE RESORT

C. B. R. to Spend $100,000 on Railway, Boardwalk and Pier at Resort.

Expenditure of $100,000 for the improvement of the Chesapeake Beach Railway and rebuilding of the pier and boardwalk at the Maryland bay resort has been authorized by the directors of the railway company, according to announcement last night by W. F. Jones, president and treasurer.

The railway's heavy steel drawbridge over the Patuxent River at Mt. Calvert, Md., will be reconstructed. Very few large boats pass up the Patuxent and it was believed that continuation of the draw in the bridge would not be necessary, but the War Department insisted on its retention.

The wooden overhead bridge at Central avenue, near the District line, where the pike crosses the railroad, will be replaced by a bridge of steel and masonry construction. Work on this bridge will be started in the near future. Reconstruction of the steel drawbridge is already under way.

The company has arranged for the laying of the four miles of track between Owings and Chesapeake Beach, Md.

The work of rebuilding the pier and boardwalk at the beach, together with other extensive improvements, is expected to begin early in the spring.

VICTIM OF KLAN BRANDED ON FACE

Hagerstown Man Tortured for Alleged Misconduct Toward Wife.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 16.—Authorities here are investigating the attack made upon Edward Fisher, who was kidnapped Tuesday night by eight men, said to have been members of the Klu Klux Klan, taken to the outskirts of Hagerstown, branded on both cheeks and his forehead with the letter K, and beaten by his assailants. It is understood Fisher was informed that alleged mistreatment of his wife was the cause of the attack upon him.

At the Fisher home today, Mrs. Fisher informed reporters that her husband had been a "model mate," and did not deserve the treatment accorded him. Fisher could not be located.

"Try to get that off," was Fisher's remark upon entering a barber shop following his return to town. The marks, burned on his face and forehead with acid, remained after the barbers had used all possible means to remove them.

Fisher came to Hagerstown from Waynesboro. He is said to have been warned several times concerning his alleged conduct.

In event that all five of these children die without issue the will provides a $200,000 hospital for children in Chicago, to be known as the Munn Hospital.
