CANTERBURY is the only place of amusement in Washington, we believe, which flourishes prosperously through the entire year; keeping open summer and winter, spring and autumn. There is no diminution whatever in the numbers nightly in attendance, and the fact is due to the excellent performance nightly

VARIETIES .- A good bill of song, dance, &c., is announced for this evening's entertainment at the Varieties. Agnes Sutherland, Denny Gallagher, Johnny Wild, Dick Watkins, Addie Johnson, and other favorite performers, will appear. Fitzsimmons' version of the drama "Six Degrees of Crime," will also be performed.

METROPOLITAN HALL .- Operatic entertainments nightly. Duetts, trios, scenes, and whole acts from the most prominent English, German, and Italian operas, are performed in such a manner as to elicit much applause.

THE EXAMINATIONS .- The Male Intermediate School (First District) Mrs. Rodier teacher, held in the front basement of the Union Chapel, Twentieth street, was examined on Monday afternoon by the sub-board of the District and Mr. S. J. Thomson of the Grammar school, in the various branches of study pursued in schools of this class. In orthography the whole school was good, and the first reading and second arithmetic class were especially worthy of mention. The reading of all the classes (three in number) was very good. There are 16 names on the roll, of whom 43 were present—the absentees being sick The order observed was excellent, and altogether great improvement was shown to have taken place within the year in this school, though it is not quite as far advanced as some of the female schools of the same grade. At the close of the exercises the scholars were appropriately addressed by Rev. Mr. Thrush, Mr. Morsell and Mr. Wilson, the latter announcing the names of the following scholars for transfer to the grammar school, they having passed an excel-lent written examination:—John G. Cowie, Lewis C. Derham, Willie Espey, Percival Goldin, Frank Hunt, Charles Hurdle, Solon C. Kemon, Charles Lewis, Wm. C. Martin, James H. Price, Willie O. Thrush. An agreeable part of the examination was the little treat in the way of refreshments furnished the visitors by the pupils.

Secondary No. 2, Second District, was examined by M. H. Miller, Esq. It is taught by Miss S. P. Abell, and numbers 57 pupils, of whom 52 were present. The enunciation of the scholars was excellent-replies to questions being given in a clear, distinct voice. In the spelling exercise we noticed a number of failures-though some apology for them may be found in the fact that unusual and difficult words were given from other than the spellingbook. The copy-books evinced considerable improvement, and very rarely are books found so clear of blots as were these. In reading, the boy's acquitted themselves very well, and were fair in mental arithmetic. During the examination, an original composition, entitled "a year in Sumatra," was submitted as the effort of one of the scholars, a lad of 12 years, and for one so young, was remarkably good. The school room, which was decorated with evergreens, is in the building known as the Washington Market, corner Massachusetts avenue and I. It is badly ventilated, and altogether unfit for the purpose for which it is used. Mr. Miller, at the close of the examination, took occasion to deliver a few well-timed remarks to the scholars, in which he set forth the desirableness of good orthography and penmanship, and the important influence it would have on the prospects of those before him as future business men. Secondary No. 3 was examined by Chas. H.

Utermehle, Esq. It is taught by Miss Thomas, and has 45 scholars, of whom 40 were present yesterday. The examination of this school was so satisfactory in nearly every respect, that we deem it unnecessary to do more than state the fact in general terms. We must, however, note particularly the excellence of the spelling and penmanship. The personal appearance of these little girls was exceedingly neat; and the room was handsomely decorated with flags and flowers. Mr. Utermehle, at the close, addressed the school in appropriate terms, expressing himself gratified with the manner in which the scholars acquitted themselves.

Secondary No. 4, has a roll of 54 names, and is taught by Miss M. A. Tucker. The examination was conducted by Mr. W. J. Rhees. In geography the scholars are rather defective: they excel, however, in mental arithmetic. Examples in dictation were well rendered. and the penmanship remarkably good for those who have been for so short time under instruction in this art, having just begun to write at the beginning of the present scholastic year. The school-room, which was tastefully decorated, is in the building at the northeast corner of Tenth and E streets, and is in keeping with other rooms in the same building, already noticed by us. It is to be hoped that better rooms will be provided at an early day. During the year there has been an average attendance of 45; but five were absent from the examination, and they were detained at home on account of sickness. Secondary School No. 4, Third District, (male and female,) was examined by Dr. C. W. Davis. Mrs. Jensen is the teacher of this school, but on account of sickness she could not be present, and the school was presided over by Miss Addie Thompson, who succeeded in preserving very good order, and presided to the entire satisfaction of the examiner and the visitors present. This school is held at the corner of Third street and Pennsylvania avenue, over Langley's blacksmith shop. The room is one of the most comfortable in the city. There is a fine draft through it at all times, and it is so arranged that all get the benefit of it. The working in the smith shop below the chool room might naturally be considered a drawback, but we are informed that the teacher and children have become accustomed to it, and the noise is never so great as to be an annoyance. The examination was a, satisfactory one, the pupils excelling in orthography, reading, &c., and the first class evineing particular aptitude in arithmetic. Geography had been studied with care. A better show might have been made had Mrs. Jensen been able to attend, but Miss Thompson supplied her place as well as any substitute teacher could have done. From what we understand of Mrs. Jensen's system of teaching, she gives herself unnecessary labor. Her classes are not arranged as are those in the other secondary schools, but some of the pupils who constitute the first class in reading are in the second in arithmetic, and so on through the entire range of studies. This system may be a good one, but it has the effect of increasing the number of classes and entailing much labor upon the teacher. However, Mrs. Jensen's scholars give evidence of progress, and that is the great desideratum after all, no matter how the school may be classified. The examination exercises were (as at the other schools) interspersed with singing. At the conclusion of the examination, Dr. Davis made a few remarks, expressed himself well pleased, but thought that towards the latter part of the exercises the older pupils were not as quiet as they should have been. On the whole, however, and considering the absence of their regular teacher, they had done very well. This school numbers 61 pupils, 59 of whom were present.

Fernale Intermediate School, (Island,) Fourth District, in charge of Miss Annie E. Dawes, was examined by Messrs. Holmead, Cassel and Filis. On the roll, 53 pupils; present, 51. This a grade of the schools intended to prepare pupils for immediate transfer to the Grammar Schools; consequently its highest class should course so desirable a result cannot be well attained until the present classification has had time to work out the distinctive position of each grade. At the examination Monday, which was attended by quite a large company, a most gratifying approximation to the object in view was manifest. The class in grammar acquitted themselves well. The reading was from the sleepy drawl on the one hand, the squally, provoking, rapid and senseless ollering" on the other. In general, the on. Considering the miserable text-book in-eted on the pupils, (although said on the de page to be written by a teacher,) the hisry class exhibited remarkable memory, viz answers showed about one-fifth of the ard work that had been spent on it by the cher and pupils. All present seemed more in pleased; and the exercises closed with a pretty duet, called "The Parting Song," Misses Ella Davidson and Bella Robey, th chorus by the school, given with fine ect. Prof. Daniel appeared to be in high irits at the success of his pupils in this anch. The usual congratulatory addresses ere made by Messrs. Ellis, Cassel and Holmead, the latter closing some very excellent remarks by a presentation of the Cassel pre-mium for moral conduct to Miss Laura Garad, the latter closing some very excellent rett. Mr. Cassel's effort to stimulate mora nduct in each school is generous and praise worthy; and as the Board of Trustees are cometimes at a loss what to give a premium for, we suggest that they follow Mr. Cassel's lead MILITARY CALL.—A call to the militia of his District to rally to the defence of the city, made this morning in our advertising colmns, by the "Metropolitan Rifle Company," questing the members of that organization to et this evening at Temperance Hall, to take asures for drill. CIRCUIT COURT-THE BROWN WILL CASE .-After our report closed yesterday, the cross-examination of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown was continued. She paid the bills for turnishing the house on L street. She knew Mr. Hardin, of Kentucky, who boarded at her house; he did not undertake to pay the bills for furnishing the house. She did not tell any one that he was the father of the child, nor go to Kentucky to make him support the child; never said that Mr. Hardin was the father of the second child. nor that Dr. Miller, of Baltimore, was the father of Emily. Witness became acquainted with Mr. Walker at Mrs. Stahl's, where she was known as Elizabeth Phillips. The caild Georgeanna was buried in the Congressional Cemetery; never knew that the remains were removed, nor does she know that the inscription over the grave was "Georgeanna W.; does not recollect of saying that Georgeanna was the child of Mr. Walker. [Copy of the inscription read by Mr. Bradley.] Witness does not recollect it. The site in the burial ground, she thinks, was purchased in the name of Mrs. E. Brown. Her daughter resided in the family of Mr. Brown previous to and after his death, but she was not allowed to be present at the consultation of counsel. Witness does not remember saying in the Orphans' Court that Marshal Brown and Jesse Haw were the next of kin; did not mention her daughter as an heir until long after the decease of Mr. Brown.

A SOLDIER KILLED .- About noon yesterday a soldier belonging to company E, 4th Pa. cavalry, known as Longstreet, alias Wm. Jones, was killed at the Washington Retreat, kept by a German named Everline, on the Seventh street road, above the Park. It appears that the deceased went into the house, and that the barkeeper, Charles Peters, put him out, as he (P.) alleges, for insulting a lady who was present. The deceased picked up a stone and threw it in the window and another against the side of the house, when some one shot from the window, the ball entering his right breast, passing through his lungs and heart, and lodging in the left side, killing him instantly. Peters attempted to escape, but officers Boose and O'Hara, being near by, arrested him and took him before Justice Rowland, who committed him to jail for a further examination. Coroner Woodward held an inquest on the body yesterday afternoon, and the jury returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a wound made by a pistol ball fired by Charles Peters. The officers, after the occurrencs. found a pistol, which the ball taken from the body of the deceased fitted, hid in the upper part of the house, with one barrel empty.

DEATHS OF SOLDIERS .- The following have been reported to Capt. Hartz, (office corner of Eighteenth and G streets,) since our last, at which place all information relative to deceased soldiers may be obtained:

CRIMINAL COURT, Judge Fisher .- Yesterday, Patrick Dempsey, indicted for an assault, submitted his case, and was fined one dollar. John Thompson, indicted for a similar offence, was found guilty, and fined five dollars. Michael Rady was found guilty of an as sault on a woman, and fined one dollar. John Alexander, charged with an assault submitted his case, and received a nominal sentence. Elizabeth Herbert and Elizabeth Gibson, charged with a similar offence, submitted their cases, and were fined two and-a-half dollars Levi Farrell, charged with a like offence, submitted his case, and was found twenty INCENDIARIES ABOUT .- Yesterday morning. between two and three o'clock, and immediately after the fire on the corner of Fourteenth street and New York avenue, John P. Hilton, Esq., who resides on Fourteenth street, between L and M, was awakened by a noise in his yard, and on going out he discovered that some scoundrel had placed a lighted candle, probably an inch and a half long, under a barrel surrounded by straw, in Mr. Hilton's frame woodshed. But for this timely discovery, the building would no doubt speedily have been in flames. As Mr. Hilton came out of his house he saw some one, apparently barefooted, moving stealthily out of the yard.

VAGRANCY AND SLEEPING IN STREETS .- The nuisance so long existing in the Second Ward. of vagrants sleeping in the street, has attracted the especial attention of the police, and a disposition is exhibited by the officers to abate it. Last night seven persons were arrested for vagrancy, and thirteen boys for sleeping in the streets. Three of those charged with vagrancy were fined $1 each; one was turned over to the Superintendent as a suspicious character, and the others were dismissed upon their promise to do better in future. The boys were mostly newsboys, and it is a pity that so many smart little fellows should be without homes, and obliged to lodge in the streets.

A MEAN THIEF .- On Friday last, Officer Barkeley, of the eighth precinct, arrested a soldier named Chris. Herndon for stealing a trunk from a house on U street, between Second and Third, belonging to a Mrs. Perry, Mrs. P. had come here from the North to altend her husband, who was sick in hospital, and on arriving here she found that he had just died. Herndon was very officious in assisting Mrs. Perry to find a place to keep her trunk, and while she was attending the funeral of her husband he stole it. He was committed to the Central Guard-house.

WILD FELLOW.-Yesterday, a young fellow, named James Welch, having indulged too freely in fighting whisky, became disorderly, and near the corner of H and Third streets north, he assaulted first W. J. Croggon, then Daniel Donahoo, and next officer Crown, who arrested him and took him before Justice Giberson. The justice fined him $5.70 for disorderly conduct, and sent him to jail for court in three assault and battery cases.

A BUMMER ARRESTED .- Charles Mauret, a suspicious character, loafer around town and hard case generally, was arrested yesterday by roundsman Mattingly and officer Parker, the officers not observing that he had any visible means of support. Mauret has frequently been ordered to leave the city, but he never heeded

SELLING LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS .- Edward Howard was arrested yesterday and committed to the Central Guardhouse, charged with selling liquor to soldiers.

HABITUAL CONSTIPATION .- How to effect a certain and Permanent cure. - Some occupations of life dispose to costiveness, especially those which allow but little exercise. Persors who contract tais un-fortunate habit of body, under such circumstances, dispose to costiveness, especially those which allow but little exercise. Persors who contract tais unfortunate habit of body, under such circumstances, might possibly be relieved by changing their sedentary employments for others of a more active kind; but this is by no means certain. Habitual constipation is a very obstinate disorder. All the ordinary so-called remedies invariably aggravate it. Nothing can be more injurious than the continue i use of strong aperients. They at first irritate, and finally almost paralyze the bowels—rendering them so torpid that enormens doses of cathartic medicines have no effect upon them. A mild agerient, combined with a gentle stimulant, is the true remedy; and a combination in the happiest proportion, of these ingredients, is found in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This famous stomachic invigorates the whole intestinal canal, while quietly removing from its convolutions all impediments to a free passage through them. No mere purgative has this double operation. No ordinary stimulant effects the desired object. Cases of constipation abardoned as hopeless by distinguished medical men have been cured in a few weeks by the Bitters. To those who have trued all the medicines of the dispensary in vair, we say try this irrestible stimulant and aperient. There is no sufficient reason why constipation should be the consequence of sedentary habits. Hostetter's Bitters, by supplying the vigor which wouldntherwise be derived from exercise, will in all cases enable the system to perfarm its excretory functions of the dispensary and healthily. Few physicians even make proper allowances for the excitament in some cases, and the gloom almost amounting to these aberations, but that, on the contrary they should render her the object of a tender sympathy and a fonder care.
