AN UNCERTAIN CAMPAIGN. Managers of Both Political Parties Puzzled as to Possible Results.

BILL-GERRYMANDERING AND TRADING OFF UP-SETTING CONGRESSIONAL CALCULATIONS-NANY DOUBTFUL DISTRICTS. .

A peculiar feature of this campaign, looked at from the standpoint of the congressional headquarters here, is that neither party is particularly confident of victory.

There are so many elements of uncertainty in the canvass that the managers of both parties are puzzled. At the opening of the FOR SALE (MISCELLANEOUS). Page 2

They have on their cyclone suits.

BOTH PARTIES HAVE THEIR TROUBLES. The democrats, believing in their own tariff are perplexed with many uncertainties as to what is coming out of the Farmers' Alliance business in the south. They have no assurance that the alliance will support the regular democratic nominees, who beat them in con-

But the republicans have a few things to annoy them which the democrats are free from. In the first place, at the last election, which was presidential as well as congressional, they put forth all their efforts to get the House and succeeded by a narrow margin. They then did the best they could and they have no especial reason for thinking they can do better now. But since they won that slender victory there has been some redistricting which puts them at a disadvantage. They have more work to do to accomplish the same result they brought about in the last campaign. Again, they are now annoyed in nearly every district by some quarrel over the post office appointments, and in districts where the vote is close disaffection on this account may influence the result. Several districts may be lost to them in this way. SPECULATIONS AS TO SEVERAL STATES.

The general understanding is that the state republican committee of Pennsylvania and Mr. Quay are doing nothing at all to help on the Delamater as governor. The trading off of congressional districts for this purpose is strongly hinted at.

In New York about as bad a state of affairs is said to exist. In fact, the democrats are in danger of not gettting more than eleven out of the fifteen districts made democratic by the last gerrymander. Cosgrove is very popular in the Hocking district, and Bingham, the republican-tarmers' alliance candidate, stands a chance of election in the Boothman district.

> AS TO SCHOOL PROPERTY. Attorney Thomas Construes the Law as to Exemption From Taxation.

An interesting question has just been settled by the attorney for the District relative to the shall be exempt from taxation. The case of Mrs. Susar J. Beveridge, who the occupants of the buildings. requested the cancellation of the general taxes against certain property of hers in this city for the years 1870, 1873 and 1874 on the ground that the property during those years was used for school purposes, and was therefore exempt from taxes, was the case the attorney passed upon. He says it does not appear that the owner of this property during school purposes; but that it is claimed broadly that because it was used for school purposes it is exempt from taxes during the time so used. So far as the law relates to schools, says Mr. Thomas, it was intended to relieve school purposes. The owner he says, must use his property directly and immediately and exclusively for school purposes before it is entitled to exemption under the tax law in force SECRETARY PROCTOR is just now very busy during the time exemption is claimed in this case. Mr. Thomas, therefore, decides that

DAMAGED BY THE STORM. Suffered Greatly.

ASBURY PARK, N.J., Oct. 24.-Long Branch suffered much by the terrific storm. The big cut along Ocean avenue was cut into again by the breakers and still further damages sustained. Scarcely a crab pot or a fisherman's by the government. net was left uninjured between Long Branch and Seabright. In several instances where the owners of the crab pots and fishing pounds set out to take in their traps their boats were capsized and the inmates had a narrow escape from drowning. Noteworthy is the case of John Morrison, whose boat was swamped in his attempt to save his nets. But for his timely theories, are looking for a popular uprising in rescue by a fellow fisherman he would have protest against the McKinley bill, but they are not quite certain that the uprising is going to materialize. In addition to this doubt they same fate as Mr. Morrison. Their boat was same fate as Mr. Morrison. Their boat was swamped and they had to fight hard to reach shore in safety. In each instance the boats were lost. At Asbury Park the patrol of the life saving station No. 6 had a difficult time on their beats. The wind blow the rain with such force as to make progress almost impossible, and added to the rain was the heavy spray from the breakers, which increased the confusion.

At Keyport the storm raged with much severity. Many small oyster sloops were driven ashore and the unusually high tide was the means of doing considerable damage. The high tide caused much delay in travel along the line of the New York and Long Branch railroad. At Eay Way the tracks for half a mile were submerged to a depth of two feet. At the Raritan river draw the storm raged so fiercely that extra guards were placed along the tracks. Guards were also put on from Morgan to South Amboy to watch the WATER IN NEW YORK CELLARS. New York, Oct. 24.—The storm which came down upon New York city yesterday morning at about half-past 10 proved to be one of unusual severity. At 4 o'clock this morning, when the tide was highest, the water at the Battery was on a level with the top of the sea wall, three feet higher than it had been in years. The water began running into the cellars along West street as far up town as Chambers street at about 3:30 o'clock, and it was over the bulkheads along the river front by 4 o'clock.

FLOODING A HOTEL DINING ROOM. A little later West street, in the neighborhood of Vesey street, was covered with water, and, as usual, Everett Hotel, at the foot of Vesey street, was flooded. There was a foot and a half of water on the dining room floor, and waiters were busy all the morning clean-ing it out. The West End Hotel cellar at No. 101 West street was full of water, and at 10 o'clock this morning dozens of men could be seen at work with hand pumps getting the wa-ter out of the celiars of the buildings along the river-front streets, and sometimes 50 or 100 feet back in the side streets.

A PERFECT SEA OF MUD.

At 10 o'clock West street was in a shocking condition. Below Dey street it is torn up and but little pavement is left. The street is a perfect sea of mud, with half floating timbers, while paving blocks and castings are scattered about in every direction. The black and slimy mud ruins everything it touches and few peo-ple care to cross the street unless it is absolutely necessary. The shopkeepers are disconsolate and are looking ahead to this after-noon's tide, which will be highest at about a o'clock, with fear of the consequences. On the taxation of school property. The Hackensack river was higher this morn ing than it has been for a long time, the water covering the floors of the manufacturing es-tablishments at Little Ferry. The meadows were submerged and some of the railroad tracks were under water. Trains on the New York, Susquehanna and Western road ran through water most of the way from Little Ferry to West Eud.

A FIERCE NORTHEASTER. The fierce northeasterly gale drove the heavy rains in almost horizontal sheets, rendering umbrellas of little use, and the wind throughout the night rattled signs and shutters till unbroken sleep became well nigh impossible. The storm was part of the cyclonic disturbance which has hung over the gulf states during the last two days, gathering strength as it moved northward.

ALONG THE COAST. This morning stories of damage along the coast began to come in, but it is feared that the worst will not be known until tomorrow. Along New Jersey's coast wires are reported down and several vessels assore, while others have been driven from their course. Very high tides resulted from the storm. The marine wires that are strung between this city and Sandy Hook parted about midnight and today the members of the maritime exchange had to depend upon a single wire from the quarantine station at Staten Island

THE STORM CONTINUES. ASBURY PARK, Oct. 24, 1 p.m.-The storm continues with much violence. There is a threemasted schooner in distress off Bay Head. The board walk has been damaged and a number of bath houses have been carried away. The beach at Long Branch has been damaged by a washout, MICHAEL BREZELL'S MURDER. Six Men Arrested by the Chicago Police on Suspicion.

Curcago, Oct. 24.—Six men are in custody on suspicion of having been the murderers of Michael Brezell at Desplaines Wednesday night. Three of them have proven apparent alibis, and the others claim to know nothing whatever of the affair. James Farrell, Thomas Costello and Thomas Fowler were arrested yesterday while coming into Chicago on a freight train. The first two claim to have been working for the Northwestern railway at Fairview, Wis. One of them got hurt by the falling of a railway iron, and they started to Chicago. A few miles north of Evanston they fell in with Fewier. He is well dressed and claims to have been working at Appleton, Wis., as a weaver. John Murphy, Frank Burns and Thomas Sye are the other three. They were picked up near Desplaines yesterday and brought to Chicago. Arriving in town, they were all able to prove alibis by a bartender.

The bartender was positive that the three men had been in the saloon at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday night and took a drink. But Mrs. William Hoben identified Burns and Murphy as two of the men who committed the murder. Mrs. Hoben was passing the barn where the murder was committed and saw two men running away. She is positive that her identification of the two is correct, while the bartender is just as positive that he is right.

This is the first time Mr. Balfour has visited the western part of Ireland.

R. G. PETERS' FAILURE, He Can Keep the Wolf From the Door After Paying His Debts.

MANISTEE, MICH., Oct. 24 .- The report sent to Dun's commercial agency distinctly states the direct liabilities of R. G. Peters as being between $750,000 to $800,000 and the indirect about the same amount, bringing the indebtedness to about $1,000,000. The assets are over $7,000,000 and will leave Mr. Peters a millionaire after the business is settled. It also states that Mr. Peters made the assignment on the advice of his friends in order to clear himself from several disastrous concerns which were a burden to him, among which was a Chicago concern, which has sunk $400,000 for him within two years.

Diamonds Smuggled From Ceylon. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.-The custom house officers yesterday seized diamonds, rubies and other jewels valued at $3,000, which they asserted had been smuggled by two merchants from Ceylon, P. A. De Silva and W. A. Amarasasingha, on the steamer Gaelic a few days

Orangemen Fighting Home Rule. LONDON, Oct. 24.-A number of speakers have been sent from Ireland to England and Scotland, under the auspices of the Irish Presbyterians, to advocate the maintainance of union and oppose home rule. The Uister orangemen fully appreciate the gradual change of public sentiment in England and Scotland in layor of Irish home rule that has been going on for some time past and are keenly alive to the importance of checking it ere it be too late. The Eccles election has had a very depressing effect upon the unionist element, both in England and Ireland, who are not so blind as to be unable to see the "handwriting on the wall," and a vigorous anti-home rule campaign is to be maugurated in the English and Scottish constituencies. Towns Flooded by Rains. CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 24.—Terrible rain storms have prevailed in Colima ever since October 19. Many small towns are flooded and all travel and telegraphic communication have been interrupted in that region since Tuesday, The rains as yet show no signs of abating. Rains are also reported throughout the state of Vera Cruz.

Gov. Gomez of the state of Colima is attending personally to the work of remedying the ruin caused by the flood.

May Cause Gladstonians to Secede. London, Oct. 24. - Mr. Gladstone's utterances in favor of an eight-hour system have provoked considerable unfavorable comment among the manufacturing element of the liberal party and aroused mutterings of disap-proval in other circles, inducing the belief that the many politicians of the old Manchester school will secode from the party upon that issue. It is yet too early, however, to note the full effect of the ex-premier's expression of his views or to estimate the strength of the adverse feeling engendered thereby.

Unraveling a Murder Mystery. CHICAGO, Oct. 24.-Norman Wolcott and not O. LONDON, Oct. 24.-The withdrawal of the charges of assault made by the police against Mr. Harrison at Tipperary is commented on by the Daily Times and other liberal newspapers as a virtual confession by the authorities of the truth of Mr. Morley's description of the outrageous conduct of the police and an admission that even a partisan court does not dare to decide in favor of the police on the evidence the Ambitious to Serve in Africa. London, Oct. 24 .- The promotion of a number of German military officers who have served in Africa with Wissmann and Peters has served in Africa with Wissmann and Peters has created a widespread desire among the lower grades of military officers at home to secure appointments in the colonial service. The enlargement of Germany's African possessions by the recent Anglo-German agreement and the invigoration of Germany's colonial policy generally have opened a field for ambitious officers which the government will have no difficulty in filling. Already there are on file for this class of service upward of 300 applications and the number made daily is increasing.
